BIBLE COMMENT:

Parables Are True To Life Even Today

The use of stories to point, or illustrate truths is about as old as man's effort for expression.

In secular as well as sacred literature, the parable is a vital part of man's means of communication with his fellow man.

So, of course, the use of the parable was not unique with Jesus.

There were many parables in the Old Testament.

The parable was a natural incident of oriental imagery.

Unique features of the parables of Jesus are the supreme qualities of the parables as stories and the supremacy of the truths and teachings that the Master used the parables to express.

Moreover, what the parables of Jesus relate might well happen in any time or place.

They are as true to life today as they were to the life of the day when Jesus uttered them.

It is this element of timelessness that has made the parables of Jesus such living expressions of truth.

How different it would have been if Jesus had put in labored philosophical discourses the truths that He put in simple, effective stories.

News 'n' Notes of Camp Fire Girls

The Camp Fire Girls are hoping for good weather on Sunday, June 7; also that the Jet baseball team will be in a nice winning streak. The reason for their extra interest for that particular date is because it will be "Jet Day" for the youth organization.

The girls under the guardianship of Mrs. Walton Barnhart entertained their mothers at a tea not so long ago at Emmanuel Lutheran Church. Pastor Sutorius spoke briefly at that time.

Co-Leaders Win Fourth Straight

South Side Old Timers League registered their fourth straight wins, but two of the clubs had to come from behind to do it, at Southview Field Tuesday.

The Arena was the only top-notcher to win easily. They routed South Side Eagles, 17-1. Freddie's Grill tallied eight runs in the fifth inning to defeat Deibel's Grill, 15-7, and Club 165, with Bill Groezinger hitting two home runs, paced the defending champion to an 11-6 come-from-behind win over Bow-Wow Grill.

In other games, Plank's Grill won its second straight with a 16-13 slugfest victory over Southeast Club and Don's Inn evened its record at 2-2 by defeating winless Gay Timers, 12-3.

Homers were hit by Bob Harper of Club 186, his sixth of the year; Jim Taylor of Freddie's, his fifth; Dick Hardwick of Don's. Don Kirby and Glen Belcher of BowWow also hit homers.

Chick Cullen of Freddie's and Jack Masser of Southeast Club pounded out five hits each.

Three League Marks Set As Old Landmark Wins 25-4

Three new Saturday Independent Slo Pitch League records were set last week as Old Landmark bounced back into the victory column by smashing the Olympian Club 25-4 Saturday at Southwood Field.

In registering the second win in three starts, Landmark blasted out 42 hits, a new team record, and Ted Koetz, veteran third baseman drove in 15 runs to set an individual runs-batted-in mark.

Koetz drove in his 15 runs by blasting three grand-slam home runs, a double and a single. The three bases loaded blasts also went into the books as an individual one game mark.

Layton Boling aided Koetz in the Landmark hit parade with six hits in seven times at bat. Harold "Yogi" Kirby, erstwhile catcher and team sparkplug, proved to be the game's winning pitcher when he shed his catching garb in the fourth inning to relieve the injured Buck Santanich.

Pacing Olympians in their losing cause was Joe Ardner, 46-year-old veteran South Sider, who came out of retirement to manage Olympians this past week.

Ardner, who placed himself in right field, swatted a single, double and triple in his first game as new club mentor.

In other action, Kellys retained their one game hold on first place by downing the Landmark Kids 16-7, and Omars [illegible] Don's Inn their third straight setback of the season, 17-6.

Individual performances in these two games could not be highlighted because of lost score cards.

PLAN TOURNAMENT

The Catholic Order of Foresters Central Chapter will sponsor a bandpin tournament Sunday, May 24, at the Knights of Columbus Lanes from 1 to 5 p. m. Prizes and trophies will be given winners of each of the event's three divisions—men's, women's and juveniles.

At twenty, everyone is a relative.

SWITCH MEETINGS

The Tom and Tandy Association announced this week that their monthly meetings will now and in the future be held at the Columbus Public Library Main Library, State and Grant-sts. The May meeting will be held in the auditorium, May 28, at 7:30 p.m. This will be the last regularly scheduled meeting of the group until fall.

South Side Leader—5 Thursday, May 21, 1959

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Vegetables — greenhouse tomatoes asparagus, celery, lettuce, kale.

Fruits — pineapple, strawberries, rhubarb, canned fruit cocktail.

SPRING TOMATOES READY

The spring crop of greenhouse tomatoes is here! Ohio's greenhouse tomato growers will approach peak harvest periods in late May and early June, so quality tomatoes are available during this time to make beautiful salads. Any way you use tomatoes they will add color, flavor, and zest to your spring-time menus.

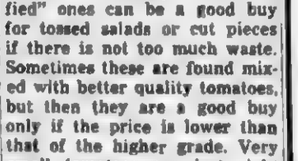
Actually, Ohio consumers are lucky. This state leads the nation in production of greenhouse tomatoes — almost two thirds of the total, based on wholesale value. Ohio growers produce between 500 and 600 acres of tomatoes under glass. Many of the tomatoes you'll buy this weekend were produced in the Columbus area. They are the result of years of scientific breeding and research and are a high-quality vegetable.

How to Identify — The green calyxor stem is the "trademark" of greenhouse tomatoes. However, many Southern field grown tomatoes are also appearing with the green calyx. To be sure of having greenhouse tomatoes; check:

- for freshness and lustrous appearance.
- the label if pre-packaged.
- with the grocer.

The common displays of three to four tomatoes in a cellophane pack — known as tube tomatoes —are not greenhouse tomatoes. These tomatoes are picked green in the South and shipped to this area where they are ripened and packaged.

Greenhouse tomatoes may be purchased in bulk, by the pound, in "window cartons" in cello package, and sometimes in 8-pound baskets. Grocers are usually proud of their display of these high quality tomatoes and will have them clearly marked as such.



Quality Variations — Greenhouse tomatoes are sold according to size and quality and are priced accordingly. "Unclassified" ones can be a good buy for tossed salads or cut pieces if there is not too much waste. Sometimes these are found mixed with better quality tomatoes, but then they are a good buy only if the price is lower than that of the higher grade. Very small tomatoes are just right for luncheon and eating out-of-hand.

Home Care — Tomatoes should not be stored in the refrigerator. Low temperature inhibits the development of full flavor of tomatoes. Storage at temperatures of 50° to 60° F. keeps tomatoes at their best. Remember, greenhouse tomatoes are actually ripe when picked. They are picked in the "pink ripe" stage in order to reach you as a high-quality product. If you purchase them before they are fully colored, ripen them at room temperature, away from direct sunlight. If you prefer tomatoes cold, place them in the refrigerator 2 to 3 hours to chill before serving.

Calorie Counters Note — Tomatoes are low in calories and are a good source of vitamins A and C.

Patriotism is the last refuge of a scoundrel.—Samuel Johnson

Livingston Bus Line May Extend To Country Club Rd.

The first of next year, East Columbus and Whitehall residents living between Rhoads-av and Country Club-rd off Livingston-av, will have bus service.

The extension was announced Thursday by Mayor Sensenbrenner and was to be authorized under the Cost of Service Franchise by legislation passed by City Council Monday night. However, the ordinance was not listed on the May 11 City Clerk's Bulletin.

Oscar R. Hott, Columbus Transit Company president, said the company won't order delivery of 12 ultra-modern motor coaches to serve the new extension until the legislation is passed.

The extended bus service has been sought by residents of the Shady Lane-Leawood Gardens area at Hamilton-rd and Livingston-av for almost two years. By next year, the more than 2000 homes now under construction in this area will probably be occupied.

The Livingston-av line is presently linked with the Long-st trolley. The extended service will include conversion of the Livingston-av coach line to a motor bus route. Approximately three-quarters of a mile of the extension will be in Whitehall.

The proposed route would follow E. Livingston to Hamilton-rd, north on Hamilton to Main-st to Country Club-rd, south on Country Club, back to Livingston and west on Livingston to the downtown Columbus area.

The transit firm has asked the city to consider the possibility of linking the unconverted section of the Livingston-Long line with the Oak-st trolley coach line.

The new coaches will cost $339,000. Utilities Director Ferd M. Pickins, under the franchise with the city, has authority to order $300,000 worth of improvement a year, while City Council has similar rights to order up to $200,000 a year.

According to Pickins, the transit company, in exchange for the extension, will ask Council to relinquish its authority in ordering improvements.

ST. LEO'S CONVENT

OLD CONVENT—The Convent of St. Leo's has housed the Franciscan Sisters of Penance and Charity from Stella Niagara, New York, since its erection in 1905. At that time the teaching staff consisted of four teaching Sisters and one housekeeper. In 1921 the enrollment of St. Leo's School had grown, so that nine Sisters were needed. At that time the back wing consisting of dining room, kitchen and chapel was added. Now 38 years later more room is needed and plans include an enlarged kitchen, a new chapel on the first floor and a general renovation of the convent. This will be made possible by the proceeds realized at the festival at St. Leo's, Hereford and Bruck Sts., on June 5th and 6th. The slogan "Thanks to the Sisters" will bring many an alumni back to the South Side institution to attend the annual "homecoming."

ginning of the Ohio-Erie Canal, "destined to be the first of two Ohio canals to link the two greatest waterway systems in the United States — the Ohio-Mississippi and the Great Lakes." At Licking Summitt near Newark, on July 4, 1825, Governor DeWitt Clinton of New York and Governor Jeremiah Morrow of Ohio turned the first earth for the "big ditch."

The color of the new Franklin County Historical Society marker will be dark green with gold letters. The new historical society seal will show old Memorial Hall, the museum headquarters of the society, set against outline maps of Franklin County and Ohio. The seal will appear in a semi-circular design at the top of the marker.

Battlers Up Averages In Y League

Frebis-av Church of God took over possession of undisputed first place in the Monday Junior Division of the South Side Y Church leagues by defeating Southwood Church of Christ, 9 to 2 behind the fine twirling of John Evans.

In other games in the Monday night circuit, Hungarian E. & R. tasted victory for the first time this season by winning a real slugfast from Gate -Fourth Methodist, 11 to 10.

Batting averages in this game went skyward as several players found the rival pitcher's offerings to their liking and racked up three hits apiece. Livingston Methodisit went hit happy in a seventh inning uprising to down South Congregational in a real thriller until the Methodists broke loose with their barrage of base hits.

With rain and cold weather taking over for the balance of the week, only one game was played in both the girls and Intermediate loops.

South Methodist girls scored their initial victory from Emmanuel Lutheran. Elaine Nicholson proved very effective on the hill for the Methodists by granting only four hits but nine walks plus a couple of errors by team mates kept her in hot water throughout the entire game.

In the only action in the Intermediate boys League, South Methodist opened its season by nosing out St. Paul E&R, 10 to 9. Floyd Lemmon was the hitting star of the fray with four hits and a walk in five appearances at the plate.

SPORTS of SORTS

Compiled By Bob Wilcox

We've managed to get a copy of the "Ten Commandments of Good Play" as drawn up by the Ohio Valley Football League.

They were approved recently after several months of discussion. You can easily see that the commandments can benefit the boys' everyday life and behavior as well as on the football field.

It will take a sincere effort on the part of the boys (or anyone trying these) to follow and live up to these edicts, but nothing that is worthwhile comes easy! We congratulate those who got them up.

1. My opponents are my guest. I owe them every courtesy.

2. Decisions of officials are my Bible. I shall not forget or abuse them.

3. I never address unkind remarks to players, officials or spectators.

4. My sideline language and/or manners shall never be indelicate or in poor taste.

5. I shall applaud my opponent for good sportsmanship and courage in his play.

6. I never rattle an opponent.

7. I win by fair means only.

8. I apply the Golden Rule.

9. I shall be humble in victory; have no excuses in defeat.

10. Fairplay is my watchword, on and off the field.

How many players can say that they actually obey No. 6; and how many modern coaches take time to actually tell their teams to follow the same rule? Bench jockeying is pretty old, and still very popular . . . highly indulged in by many so-called pros.

Number seven's good anywhere, any time . . . think three times before acting once and you may not have to act at all, let alone eat your words or live down your rash actions. This is a fine code to teach your children.

Officials of the loop have this plea to parents, team managers and coaches involved in the league: They realize that this is baseball season, warm weather is here to stay . . . and not too many thoughts are given to football. However, to insure a good league next fall, planning must be carefully worked out now. If you're really interested, and have the boys' and the loops' best interest at heart. Attend the monthly meetings as they are announced.

South Side Man One Of 12 Locals Aided

A 23-year-old hard-of-hearing South Side man has improved his job status, thanks to help given by the Hearing and Speech Center of Columbus and Central Ohio.

Francis Sanderell, 88 W. Frankfort-st, has advanced from helper to a plumber's position with a large supermarket chain. The improvement in his hearing and speech brought about by therapy given at the Center was an important factor in enabling him to move up.

Sanderell is one of 12 South Side people now being helped by the Hearing and Speech Center, supported with help of United Appeal funds

The South Sider started his treatment at the Center with a hearing evaluation four years ago. He was helped in selecting the most proper hearing aid and how to use it. He has also received instruction in speech and lipreading.

To help him show more improvement in hearing and speech, the Center is continuing its weekly sessions with Sanderell.

The Center, in cooperation with United Appeal, is holding a Better Hearing and Speech Observance to encourage better understanding of hearing and speech defects and their treatment. Information can be secured from the Center, 209 S. High-st.

FAVORITE PROJECT — Miss Lucille Murphy, teacher for 49 years, who plans to retire this June, points to a favorite class project . . . murals. Miss Murphy believes in having her students study and then illustrate a subject as "this way you can tell whether the children know it." This mural depicting the founding of Marietta by the Ohio Company was made last year by her seventh graders.

Optimists Take Top Honors Over 62 Clubs In State Wide Contest

Teacher To Wind Up Forty-Nine Years Of Instruction At Roosevelt

Lucille Murphy will dismiss her seventh graders at Roosevelt Junior High, June 12 at 3:30 p.m., and walk out on nearly a half century of teaching.

This 70-year-old "grande dame" of education is retiring this year after 49 years of teaching on the staff of Roosevelt Junior High.

An open house will be held at the school June 7 from 3 to 5 p.m. for all former students.

Miss Murphy came to Roosevelt in 1916, when the school opened. She had previously taught at Livingston-av Elementary for six years and graduated from Columbus Normal School in 1912. She obtained a B.S. in education at OSU in 1942.

She was born in Cambridge and came to Columbus when three years old and has lived in the north end all her life. Her present address is 428 Fallis-rd.

Miss Murphy said she "always wanted to be a teacher ever since I knew what school was." Her father had taught school in his younger days, before he took up law, and "Mother thought it would be nice."

"Mother was my guardian angel—up to her death. She loved this school and always wanted to know what happened each day. Her two sisters were both teachers," she fondly recollected.

Not content to give up her life's work completely, Miss Murphy plans to do substitute teaching after her official "retirement."

In her 49 years of teaching Miss Murphy has helped train many student teacners from Capital, Ohio State University, and St. Marys. "I always tried to stress that each day requires a preparation for that day's work," she said. "The most important single qualification for potential teachers is "a love for boys and girls and people, in general, If they don't have this, they couldn't teach very well."

Miss Murphy has spread a lot of love for her boys and girls throughout the years. This love led her to do "extra" things for her pupils in earlier days, such as taking them fishing at Griggs Dam on Saturdays. The class would cook their catch on the banks of the river. Sometimes she would take them to Alum Creek and have a wiener roast. "We would get a ride out there in a truck or wagon and let our feet dangle out," she reminisced. "All these years have been enjoyable," she said, "not one thing gives me more pleasure than another."

Since she began teaching in 1910, education has changed a great deal, but "always for the better, I think," she said.

Miss Murphy likes the fairly modern concept of grouping and has employed it in her current study of Alaska. "This way, those that want to go far with the subject can," she explained. In her Alaska study, the class was divided into eight groups, each chosing a particular phase to illustrate, study and report. One group chose flowers because they felt that most people have the idea that nohing pretty grows there." She pointed to a map of Alaska the group had made, covered with colorful flowers where they were found to grow. "I prefer to study the subject and then illustrate it," she said, "because this way you can tell whether the children know the subject."

Miss Murphy is a past secretary of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary sorority for women teachers, member of the Women's State Committee, Alumni Club of OSU, Columbus, Central Ohio, and Ohio Educational Associations, and United Presbyterian Church.

Strawberry Festival Wednesday

The guilds of Mercy Hospital will hold their fifth annual strawberry Festival Wednesday evening, June 3, on the north lawn of Mercy Hospital, 1430 S. High-st.

Homegrown strawberries and homemade cakes will again be specialties at this event which will begin at 5 p.m. and continue through 9 p.m.

A special "carry-out" curb service will permit folks who wish to pick up their refreshments without leaving their cars.

According to Mrs. David Eitel, 4596 St. Francis-ln, chairman of the 1959 festival, plans are being made for the largest attendance ever at this year's festival. Included this year will be special entertainment by the McCombo Trio.

Although the event has become a tradition in the South Side, it also attracts people from all parts of town who return each year to take part in this old fashioned social on South High-st.

In the event of rain, the festival will be held the following evening. Tickets may be purchased at Mercy Hospital from Guild members on the grounds the evening of the festival.

SS Parish Festival Saturday

Corpus Christi Catholic Church, a landmark on the South Side since 1925, will hold its annual Spring Festival Saturday, May 30, on the school grounds from 2 to 11 p.m.

Headed by co-chairman Richard J. Castrop and Max Bender, the revival will feature three grand door prizes, a dinner, displays, games, and refreshments.

The main prize drawing, a 1959 Chevrolet Impala, will be held at 11 p.m. The second prize given away will be a two unit stereophonic record player, and the third prize will be a completely installed Ruud glass-lined automatic water heater.

Established 33 years ago on its present site at Deshler and Linwood-avs, the school was officially opened on September 28, 1925, with an enrollment of 78 pupils.

More than three decades later the enrollment of the student body rose to 725 pupils.

In 1956 six additional classrooms were constructed to meet the increased enrollment.

The first pastor of Corpus Christi was Fr. Walter Minder, who headed the church for 13 years before his death in 1938.

Succeeding Fr. Minder was Fr. Albert Kessler, present church pastor, soon to enter his 21st year as the church's head.

Fr. Kessler's assistants currently are Rev. John O'Rourke and Rev. Paul Laurinaitis.

Proceeds from the festival will go toward reducing the church debt.

Juvenile Delinquency Aired By City Panel

Juvenile Delinquency and What Can Be Done About It" will be the topic of a panel discussion by a group of experts on the subject, to be held at Schiller Recreation Center, Tuesday, at 8 p.m.

Law enforcement agencies claim juvenile delinquency is on the increase. This subject will be thoroughly discussed by a group of six panelists all renowned for their work with youth.

Scheduled to appear on the panel are:

Rabbi Nathan Zelizer, of the Broad-st Temple, Advisor to the Columbus Recreation Commission and active in the Urban League. He is primarily concerned with the increasing number of unwed mothers.

Cap't Momberg, head of the Juvenile Bureau of the Columbus Police Department will approach the subject from the angle of law enforcement.

Fr. Francis Schaeffer, assistant pastor of the St. Mary's Catholic Church in Columbus, will speak on the subject of the Juvenile and his family relationship.

Miss Edith Huey, school Psychologist for the Columbus Board of Education, will discuss Child Development and the responsibility of the school in helping him to become a good citizen.

Rev. Walter Peters, pastor of Southwood Methodist Church and youth counselor will consider the effect of Home Life and Environment in its relationship to the juvenile.

Dr. Simon Dinitz, assistant professor of sociology at Ohio State University, feels that "every delinquent should not be considered guilty of criminal behavior." He so stated when appearng recently on Columbus Town Meeting T.V. program.

Dr. Dinitz has just returned from making a study of juvenile problems in Brooklyn, N.Y. His subject will deal with "Gangs and their effect on the Juvenile."

N. J. Barack, superintendent of the Columbus Recreation Department will serve as moderator.

At the close of the discussion by the panel the audience will be given an opportunity to ask questions of various panel members concerning the subject matter which has been discussed during the evenings program.

Slate Installation Of New Club Officers Next Week

The ever-active Optimist Club of South Columbus, riding high on recent international and state recognition, during its first year of existence, will install its newly elected officers Thursday, June 4.

Following in the foot-steps of the club's charter officers will be a challenge to the eight new leaders.

Ray Wharton, 4522 Grimsby-rd, will succeed Jim Kraner as president, and will be aided by a capable staff consisting of Fred Erfurt and Dr. Carl Fillinger, vice-presidents; Marvin Blessing, treasurer; and Robert Grace, secretary.

Rev. G. E. Wick, Willard Bennett, John Miklos, Willard Lowe, Denver Wray, Dr. J. E. Van de-Water and Kraner will serve on the Board of Directors.

Although the installation of officers will take place next week, the new leaders will not assume their duties until July 1.

In starting their second year as a chapter of Optimists' International, the South Side Optimists can look back on a very successful charter year.

Two of the club's most recent of highest honors came when it received state laurels for entering the best scrapbook in the Optimists Buckeye District 24 Convention in Canton two weeks ago.

The book, edited by Walter Lauffer, took top honors over 62 other club's entering books in Ohio.

The Optimists received international recognization earlier in the year for their efforts in providing protective mouthpieces for the South High School football team.

The club's recent Bike Safety Week and License Tag projects also received community-wide recognition.

Kraner, who modestly praised the members of the club for their support in all Optimists activities, pointed out that the club participated in all activities established by Optimist International, during the past year.

The Buckeye Steel Company employe, speaking on behalf of himself and the club members, this week, expressed his thanks to all those "in our community who have helped make the closing year a successful one."

Kraner also praised the South Side schools for helping contribute to the success of the club by participating in Optimist's youth programs.

John Siedel, Past Governor of District 24, is scheduled to be the installing officer at installation ceremonies June 4, with Dr. Eibling, Superintendent of the Columbus Schools the featured speaker.

Community Night Officials Thank South Side Backers

Officials of the First Annual South Side Community Night, held May 20 in Jet Stadium, today thanked all South Side organizations and individuals for helping to make the community's first group venture a success.

Howard Henry and Harry Sells, co-chairmen of the event, also expressed their gratitude to the 2,600 fans who attended the game, which saw the Jets hobbled by the league leading Miami Marlins 3-4.

Proceeds from advance ticket sales totaled $401 Sells stated, with South Side youth getting the entire amount.

Sells said checks of equal denominations will be in the mail this week to youth organizations backing the program.

Despite unfavorable weather up to and during game time, the 2,600 fans who attended the game were provided with their share of thrills.

The nip-and-tuck affair, which saw Miami score its winning run in the ninth inning, was highlighted by a second inning brawl between Jet slugger Joe Christopher and Miami's Johnny Bucha.

Christopher and Marlin third baseman Chuck Oertel started the slugfest in a play at third. Bucha came to the aid of his teammate and attacked the Jet outfielder from behind while Columbus mentor Cal Ermer tried to restore order.

The result in keeping with the weather and outcome of the game, turned in favor of Marlins.

Christopher and Oertel were banished from the game. Ermer was severly choked during the hassel, and Bucha got away scott free only to deliver the games winning blow in the ninth.

TOP DRIVERS—Two top drivers in Capitol City One-Quarter Midget competition this year are Gary Hardy, 8, left, and his sister, Kay, 5, of 1719 Frebis-av. Gary has been racing three years and can account for a trophy case full of prizes for his driving. Kay, in her first year behind the wheel, won her first race last weekend.

New Capitol City Racing Club Enters Sixth Week At Jones

The Capitol City One-Quarter Midget Racing Association will swing into its sixth week of action this week-end with a card of 16 races slated to roll Saturday and Sunday at Jones Park, 3800 Groveport-pk.

Highlight of the two-day, free admission program will be competition from a Huntington, W. Va., quarter midget club slated for both days at the Southeastern track.

The Capitol City club is the third quarter midget association in Columbus, and was founded only this past March by Chuck Hardy, 1719 Frebis-av.

Numbering eight members, association dues run $5 a year for active members and $2.50 a year for non-participating members.

The cars, both manufactured imports and home built jobs, are powered by 2.0 to 2.85 horsepowered engines. Cost is approximately $500 for a manufactured and $400 for a home built kit.

Hardy, association president, was instrumental in forming the first such club in Columbus in 1958.

He became interested in the midgets previous to that year when he saw a drawing of a quarter midget in a popular magazine. Since then, he has built two of his own cars, imported one, and is currently working on the construction of a fourth.

Hardy's two children, Gary, 8, and Kay, 5, are two of the association's leading drivers to date.

Gary, in his third year of quarter midget racing, already has a trophy case full of small honors bestowed upon him for his driving.

Kay, in her first year, has raced three times to date. She won her first race last Sunday in her "Little Outcast" No. 77.

The drivers, aged five to 15, get their midgets up to a top speed of 35 mph on straightaways, Hardy stated, but added that average speed around a full 25 lap track is only about 30 mph.

Drivers race in three different classifications — novice, modified and open.

Contrary to popular opinion that the older boy or girl has a big advantage over his or her younger rivals, Hardy stated that, weight is the big factor in determining a winner.

"The smaller the driver, the less weight in the car," Hardy said. "The lighter car always has the bigger advance."

In regard to injuries, Harry declared that in his three years in quarter midget clubs he's seen only one youngster get hurt. "And that time all that happened was he got a couple of front teeth loosened."

He stated that both his own children have been hurt worse in falls off their bicycles.

The Capitol City Association recently "went into hock", as Hardy puts it, for $1275 to build

The Gadabout

Priscilla LaRue Lenno
HI. 4-1051

Four years old is mighty young to be having one's appendix acting up, but such is the case for little Stevie Cook, 1413 S. Sixth-st. Steve was in Lincoln Memorial last Sunday, but it was hoped to avoid surgery, due to his tender age. The Cooks have had a siege of illness, for daughter Linda had pneumonia the week previously, and tiny Brenda had been sick prior to that. (Brenda was the little one who weighed three pounds at birth last summer. Mama Marie has been ailing herself, so a cheery card might help to do a little spirit-raising for these worried parents.

Birthday Coming

Bob Lehner of Woodrow-av is one who has double reason for celebration in May, on the 18th and 28th. He celebrates a birthday and he and his wife celebrate an anniversary. (Don't ask me which is which. I got the information while eating delicious fried chicken at the Philo banquet last week. Couldn't stop long enough to write it down!)

Our sympathy to Helen Ikehorn, 212 E. Welch-av, who lost her father last week.

Bruce Gischel, 1009 Geers-av, a South High grad, won the William A. Reiter memorial prize at Heidelberg College. This award is given annually to the four highest ranking freshmen in extempore speaking.

Kiddies' birthdays in the "Decoration Day" week are these: Susan Oxendine, 41 Southwood, June 3; Pete Evans, 1274 S. Pearl, May 28; Aaron Rockhold, 1386 S. Third-st, May 29; Herman Ray Smith, 1596 S. Fourth-st, May 28; Joyce Wolfe, 1350 S. High-st, May 28; Barbara Zwilling, 41 W. Markison, June 4; Darla Harlor, 84 E. Moler, May 29; Janet Quidor, 302 Markison, June 2; Saundra Standiford, 405 Jenkins, May 29; Gregory Bailey, 301 Markison, June 2; Jean Straub, 172 E. Welch-av, May 30; Patty Trigg, 1291 S. High-st, June 3, and Donnie Bush, 2041 Studer-av, May 31.

Woodrow Spriggs, 1655 S. Third-st, likes being with his son, but wishes he didn't have to be so near him in Woody Jr.'s working hours! Woody Jr. is an employee of Mercy Hospital, by way of explanation, and his dad is a patient in the hospital. We wish Mr. Spriggs a speedy recovery.

Visits Relatives

H. Fred Nofer, Jr., a South High graduate, with his wife and daughter, were guests of the elder Nofers this past weekend. The residents of Dallas, Tex., were enroute to Fergus Falls, Minn., where Mr. Nofer will teach at Lutheran Bible School and Seminary. A 2-4 p.m. open house was held for the visitors last Sunday.

Mrs. Agnes S. Merritt, 664 Wilson-av, merits congratulations for being elected president of the Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at the recent convention in Cincinnati.

Another South Sider who holds a state office in a woman's organization is Mrs. Audrey Bennett, 644 E. Moler-st, the new state vice-president of the Department Association of Ladies' Auxiliary of Patriarch Militant of Ohio.

Get Awards

Since we're in a congratulatory mood, we'll include Robert Carver of South High. Robert Weber of St. Mary's and Robert White of Marion Franklin.

The three Bobs were recipients of the 1959 Agonis Club athlete-scholar awards given at the 32nd annual banquet last week.

And we mustn't forget Joel Williams of Heidelberg University, who set a conference record with his shot putting ability not so long ago. Joel is no longer a South Sider, but he was once a Cub Scout and we're always proud when one of "our" kids does something special.

Festival Planned

Stewart Avenue PTA will have its spring festival tomorrow night from 5 to 10. A style show will be held during the dinner hour. An 8:30 p.m. auction is another highlight.

Southwood Church of Christ will hold church-wide fellowship supper, honoring all graduates, Friday, May 29, at 6:30 p.m. The supper will be a pot-luck affair, followed by a special program.

While thinking of Southwood Church of Christ, we know they are needing some small items for the Bible School which will be held this summer. Items needed are white dress boxes, scraps of oilcloth or colored plastic, small cottage cheese carton lids, 10 inch or longer bias tape pieces. The women to contact are Rebecca Bailey or Phyllis Donavan, 297 Markison-av. HI. 4-6190.

We've had no opportunity to inquire how Mr. and Mrs. Carey Gray are doing, since the auto accident they were in, but we hope for the best, naturally. The Grays reside at 1386 S. Fifth-st.

Newlyweds Noted

Wedding congratulations to newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roberts, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. John Seidenschmidt. Both marriages took place in St. Leo's on May 23. The Roberts' are honeymooning in Florida and will live in Grove City upon their return to Ohio

Mrs. Seidenschmidt is the former Margaret Ann Heinrich, 486 Frebis-av. Her groom was a resident of 227 E. Hinman-av. Mrs. Roberts is the former Carole Ann Burton, 928 S. Third-st, and Mr. Roberts' home was 573 E. Gates-st.

Mrs. R. S. Arthur, 315 Thurman-av, is the newly-elected recording secretary of the Columbus Lions Auxiliary.

Dinner Slated

Jerry James, 1119 S. High-st, called to tell us about a project he's interested in, and it was a new one to us. The Lockbourne Fellow Craft Club of Lockbourne Lodge F&AM 232 will sponsor a home-cooked meal Saturday, June 6, at Hamilton Township High School, Lockbourne and Rothmell-rd, from 5 p.m. on. This is an annual dinner and a big project it is.

Either ham or chicken will be available, $1.50 for adults, 75c for children. Much of the menu is home-made, such as noodles and pie, and all is prepared home-style. The noodles are on the table, so one may eat as much as he (or she) fancies. Coffee, too, is plentiful.

The rest of the menu is mashed potatoes, gravy, cole slaw and green beans. Tickets may be purchased at the door or by calling Mr. James at HI. 3-5010.

The 25-year reunion of South High's 1934 class was just super! One incident marred it, and that was the fact that Julia Bliss Ingwalsen was involved in a collision on her way to the dinner. She got to South for a brief time only, still under sedation.

Several other out-of-towners got to come also, in addition to those mentioned last week. We saw Florine Marbach Varner, from Ashland, O., Bonnie Jean MacDonald Hartman and husband, Paul, from Washington, D.C., T. Fred Thornton of Rochester, N. Y., and Mardelle Thawl Silverman of Newark, N. J. It was so much fun to see our old classmates and, really, time has dealt lightly with most of them (maybe that same "time" has dimmed my eyesight, huh?).

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ross, 1390 Studer-av, who now have Ross "No. 3" to keep company for Judy and Kenny, their two older children.

South Side Widower Dies Of Burns In House Blaze

A fire estimated at $1000 claimed the life of Lewis Yocke, 77-year-old South Side widower last Friday.

Yocke, of 112 Reinhard-av, suffered second and third degree burns over 70 per cent of his body in the extra-company fire which broke out in his home where he lived alone.

He died late Friday in Mercy Hospital.

Cause of the blaze was not determined.

The fire, which caused damage unofficially estimated at $1000, was believed to have started in a cot in the living room of Yocke's home on the first floor of a duplex frame house.

Fire officials said Walter Stickler, 116 Reinhard-av, a neighbor of Yocke, turned in the alarm at 4:31 p.m. Extra fire fighting equipment from three stations was sent within five minutes after the initial alarm.

Yocke, a frail 135-pound pensioner, was pulled from the burning dwelling by Phil Garrity, 972 Carpenter-st, and Frank Hanway, 120 Reinhard-av, before firemen arrived.

Most of the blaze was confined to the living room area of the home, although some damage was caused in adjoining rooms. The upstairs residence of the duplex was undamaged.

Only fireman injured in the blaze was Leo Shedlock, 28, of 7011 Bartlett-dr, who received a cut finger in the fire.

Dr. Braunlin Craved A Great Southern Office

Shopping the Center, seeing what is happening there and throughout the South-East section, Dr. Will Braunlin, practicing dentist, soon found himself craving to relocate in the midst of it, to serve the people of this fast-growing area. However—

Nothing in Great Southern Shopping Center had been designed for a doctor's office. But that didn't daunt the doctor! There was a business space available, on the Mall, in the southern extension, off the main drag, near the fountain.

"Ideal spot for me!" said Dr. Braunlin. "I'll take it and MAKE it into just what I want it to be."

And he has—although, for a starter, he had to tear up the brand-new concrete floor to get in the special wiring and plumbing facilities he required!

But he's in there now, taking calls over HIckory 3-9795 and working happily between 1 and 7 daily and 11:30 to 5:30 Saturdays.

Next week we hope to picture for you some of the steps in transforming the bleak, barren space shown here into the inviting, ultra-modern offices of Dr. Braunlin, who now has the added distinction now of being "Columbus' Farthest-South Dentist!"

The fabulous offer of the Hartley Newspapers of a 40 percent reduction in price for rides and amusements at Norwood's Amusement Park ends Memorial Day.

Columbus families who haven't picked up their special ticket books for three dollars from one of the Hartley Newspaper offices by then are out of luck.

Norwood's, at 3025 E. Main-st., offers more than a dozen and a half rides for all ages, including a special section for the younger set, old standbys like the Ferris wheel, carrousel, and Dodgems, and the thrilling Sky Ride.

A special feature of Norwood's this summer is a completely rebuilt miniature golf course which has been chosen to conduct a summer tournament to select a Columbus champion to compete in the second annual International Miniature Golf Tournament Sept. 12 and 13 in Asbury Park, N. J.

Winner of the local tournament will receive an expense-paid tour to compete in the finals, while a clock radio awaits the second place finisher

Trust and Obey

Without faith one cannot be saved. "But without faith it is impossible to please Him . . ." Heb. 11:6. It follows that with faith it is possible to please Him.

One is not saved by faith alone. "Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone." James 2:17. Can a dead faith save? Paul said, Gal. 5:6, that "faith which worketh, by love" avails in Christ. One is saved by the faith which results in obedience. In 1 Pet. 1:22, "Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth . . ." This is doing what Christ specified in Mark 16:16, 'He that believed and is baptized shall be saved."

To the many who had become believers in Christ Peter commanded, Acts 2:38, "Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins . . ." They already believed, but were not yet saved.

"Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth . . ."

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE GRADUATES

Congratulation are in order for the 1959 graduates who will soon leave area schools.

They have mastered the problems of life that, at their age, are equal to any that they will meet later on.

The graduates have proved that they can study and learn as well as cooperate with other people. The next and biggest task is to prove that they can apply what they have gained in school to lead to a successful life.

While opportunities for graduates exist, they must be found and exploited by each person seeking to do his best in daily living. We see no reason for pessimism on the part of graduates, but nothing is to be gained by ignoring the stern facts that confront modern civilization.

Hartley Newspapers join with the residents of the area in recognizing the achievement of the graduating seniors. Congratulations to the people who have earned the diplomas they will receive.

The best-known citizen of Amherst was Frank H. Hitchcock, Postmaster-General under President Taft.

BIBLE COMMENTS:

World Needs Many Pauls To Carry Gospel Message

Contrasted with ease of movement in our jet-propelled age, the travels of the early Christians are remarkable because of their difficulty, if for no other reason.

Consider Paul: among the ancient travelers, one of the greatest and most intrepid undoubtedly was this Apostle.

Though we can trace much of Paul's journeyings, the exact number of miles would be difficult to calculate because of the very vagaries of travel in that ancient time.

Other than the vivid account of his sea journey and shipwreck in the Acts, we are left to speculation: did he travel on foot, on horseback, by camel? Or did he often travel in a caravan with other travelers as on the famous journey to Damacus, when he saw the vision that transformed his life?

The important thing is not "how?," of course, but "why?".

The "why" is the purpose, the Gospel urge that sent Paul from place to place, and that brought him through Asia Minor to Europe as the first great missionary to give Christianity its world-wide heritage of truth and grace.

His task is unfinished, even in the Middle East where his greatest achievements were made.

Junior Golfers Compete In Norwood Park Event

A special junior miniature golf contest for the under 16 age group will be staged this summer at Norwood's Amusement Park in addition to competition to choose a local champion to represent Columbus in the second annual International Miniature Golf Tournament.

First prize for the junior contestants will be a Schwinn bicycle and a handsome trophy, according to Raymond Norwood, owner and operator of the familiar E. Main-st. recreation center. A boy's or girl's model will be awarded, according to the identity of the winner.

Registrations are now being accepted for both the junior and senior miniature golf competitions, and those desiring to enter should contact tournament headquarters at the Norwood's layout as soon as possible.

Norwood's all-new miniature golf course has been completely rebuilt to championship standards for the competitions, and offers some of the toughest, most entertaining holes in the area to test the putting skill of contestants.

Top winner in the senior division will be given an all-expense trip to the second International Miniature Golf Tournament Sept. 12 and 13 in Asbury Park, N. J. An imported Fiat 500 auto awaits the winner of this gruelling contest of champions from all parts of the U. S. and other nations.

Winners in both divisions will be determined by the low average of 12 separate rounds at Norwood's 2025 E. Main-st.

In addition more than a dozen and a half exciting rides and amusements are open to delight all members of the family. The amusement park is open from 6:30 p. m. to 11 p. m. Friday and 1 to 11 p. m. Saturday and Sunday.

SOUTH BEATEN

South was knocked out of contention for the City League baseball crown last week. Don Nunn fired a two-hit 5-0 win for Central. The Bulldog batsmen were able to garner only two hits.

Coffman's Story For The Week
An elderly couple asked for a room at one of the leading hotels in a large city. The clerk advised them that the only thing he had left was the bridal suite. The elderly gentleman replied, "Well, we do not want the bridal suite. We have been married for fifty years." And the clerk chirped back, "Just because you go to a night club for dinner you don't have to dance."

Now—Run Your Car Without Spark Plugs—
Get Up to 31 More Horse-Power, 8 More Miles per Gallon
USING ONLY REGULAR GAS!
Yes—this revolutionary new FIRE INJECTION SYSTEM—installed in 15 minutes—must deliver maximum power and economy WITHOUT CHANGING TO HIGH-PRICED PREMIUM GAS—must give you up to 31 more H.P., 8 more miles per gallon for the life of your car! See unprecedented GUARANTEE below!
Your car runs because gasoline is fed into the cylinders where a spark causes it to fire. Now here is the important thing. The larger this spark is the more powerful the explosion. The more powerful the explosion, the more power you get from a given amount of gas. Poor explosion means wasted gas, loss of power, poor getaway, hard starting, a sluggish car. Good explosion means more miles per gallon, more horsepower, blazing pickup; an exciting car to drive!
WHAT CONTROLS ENGINE EFFICIENCY?
Spark plugs control the efficiency of that explosion. And not only do they give a small, weak spark to begin with; but they get worse every mile you drive. And that you can see for yourself. Put a new set of spark plugs in your car and then look at them at 100 miles, at a thousand miles, at 5[illegible] miles. Every time you look you will see more filth and carbon and more of the precious electrode burning away.

Now, read very carefully what I'm going to suggest . . . that you stop using spark plugs! That's right — get rid of them — forever. But . . . if you get rid of your spark plugs, what will ignite the gasoline and make the motor run?
Well, please remember that today you can have gas injection and get far more mileage, efficiency and power from less gas — and in a few years gas injection will have completely replaced the carburetor. In the same way, now is the time for Americans to replace old-fashioned, temporary, inefficient spark plugs with a modern, efficient, permanent fire injection system!
WAYS FOR FIRST 100 OVER MONTH
Now, the SA FIRE INJECTION system is so inexpensive that it can pay for itself in gas savings alone in one month of driving. Forget for the moment about the extra pep, power, performance . . . the savings in wear and tear on valves and cylinders. Just remember this fire injection system will pay for itself in one month of driving! Here's how:
A spark plug jumps a spark across an air gap, limiting the size. A fire injector fires on the surface of a conductor. You get a heavy, powerful flame that will not blow out at pressures far greater than those created by the highest compression engine!
On ordinary spark plugs the air gap is always getting bigger, wasting power and gas. Plugs are constantly accumulating filth and carbon because of inefficient ignition. A fire injector has no air gap and no electrode to burn away. It never needs cleaning or setting: it actually becomes more efficient with use. It will normally outlast any car, delivering maximum efficiency without servicing or replacement.
With ordinary spark plugs you should be using premium gas, which costs from 4 to 8 cents more than regular gas. With fire injectors regular gas will give you up to 8 more miles per gallon, up to 31 more horsepower — plus easier starting in all weather.
These are some of the reasons that the U. S. Air Force pays premium prices for special aircraft fire injectors for the high-powered engines of their jet aircraft.
PROVE IT TO YOURSELF!
If you have automatic transmission, make a note of how fast your car crawls forward when it is in the drive position, with the motor idling. If you have a sports car, a racing car or a boat, make a note of the RPMs as indicated on the tachometer when the engine is idling. If you have regular transmission, put your car in low gear on a level road and notice its speed with the motor idling. Next, take a spark plug wrench (you can procure one of them tools anywhere) and remove your spark plugs. Just screw the injectors right into the spark plug openings. Then — no matter what kind of gas you have been using — fill your tank with the poorest regular gas you can buy. That's all you have to do to see the most amazing results you can imagine!

DRIVE YOUR CAR(S)!
If you have automatic transmission — now put your car in drive and let your engine idle. If your car stood still with spark plugs, it will move forward at from 4 to 6 miles per hour; that means that the amount of gas that just kept your engine turning over will now carry you up to 6 miles at no cost to you!
If you have a racing car, sports car or a boat, your RPMs will increase up to 700 more at idling — up to 300 more at higher speeds. If you have regular transmission, in low gear and with your motor idling your car will move forward 4 to 6 miles per hour faster. In other words, no matter what you drive, here is absolute proof that you can go further, faster and cheaper when you install SA FIRE INJECTORS in your car!
SEND NO MONEY — JUST MAIL THE COUPON!
Up to now these SA FIRE INJECTORS were practically made by hand and would have had to sell for as high as $5 each. But we knew that 30 or 40 dollars for a set of 6 to 8 SA FIRE INJECTORS was more than the average driver could afford — so we decided to get the price down so low that these injectors would pay for themselves 12 times, in one year of driving. So here is my astonishing proposition. If you will check your car's performance carefully before and after you install your SA FIRE INJECTORS and then tell your friends and neighbors about them, here is what I am prepared to do for you.
You can have a set of SA FIRE INJECTORS for the year and model of your car for a fraction of their value . . . that's $1.69 each . . . only $8.94 for a 6-cylinder car or $11.92 for an 8-cylinder car. Now, if your SA FIRE INJECTORS don't meet my GUARANTEE — if they do not continue to deliver maximum performance for the life of your car . . . you get your money back on 10-day no-risk trial.
CHECK THESE DIFFERENCES

SPARK PLUG — FIRE INJECTOR
Fires across air gap — NO air gap required
Wire electrode burns away — NO wire electrode
Carbon ruins firing tip — NO tip deterioration
Needs cleaning and setting — NO cleaning or setting
Needs periodic replacing — NO replacing
Needs premium gas — NO premium gas needed
Must have exact heat — NO heat range
Spark blows out under pressure — NO blowing out even at highest compressions
GUARANTEE OF INSURANCE — INDEMNITY
Make your set of SA FIRE INJECTORS and install them immediately. Watch your new injection system every step you can think of — starting — acceleration — gas mileage — motor pep and smoothness. Try it 10 full days. You must get up to 31 more horsepower — up to 8 more miles per gallon — increased engine RPMs — faster starting — blazing acceleration. Eliminate [illegible] from starter and plugs, except starting in all kinds of weather. AND DO ALL OF THESE THINGS ON REGULAR GRADE GAS OR YOU GET YOUR MONEY BACK.
As long as the SA FIRE INJECTORS are in use we keep you fully covered by a PRODUCTS LIABILITY INSURANCE POLICY underwritten by one of the nationally famous insurance companies. A detailed description of this coverage happens on request.
If any SA FIRE INJECTOR ever needs repair or replacement for the life of your car, we will replace it FREE, as we now replace your present system with a set of improved SA FIRE INJECTORS of the year guaranteed. Simply return your old SA FIRE INJECTORS to the above guarantor.
C. D. Kocher, President

ST. LEO'S CONVENT

The Convent of St. Leo's has housed the Franciscan Sisters of Penance and Charity from Stella Niagara, New York, since its erection in 1905. At that time the teaching staff consisted of four teaching Sisters and one housekeeper. In 1921 the enrollment of St. Leo's School had grown, so that nine Sisters were needed. At that time the back wing consisting of dining room, kitchen and chapel was added. Now 38 years later more room is needed and plans include an enlarged kitchen, a new chapel on the first floor and a general renovation of the convent. This will be made possible by the proceeds realized at the festival at St. Leo's Hanford and Bruck Sts., on June 5th and 6th. The slogan "Thanks to the Sisters" will bring many an alumni back to the South Side institution to attend the annual "homecoming.".

Bulldogs Take Third In City Track Meet

South High's strength in the field events proved far from sufficient to offset the teams overall showing last week as the Bulldogs placed a weak third in the annual City High School Track Meet at Central High School.

Led by Wayne Ocker, Paul Watters and Jerry Daily, South placed third in a field of eight teams by scoring 31 points, 44 fewer than winning East and four less than a second place North.

Ocker took first in the pole vault with a height of 12 feet two and three-quarters inches. His attempt to crack the 1940 meet mark of 12'6¼" set by Ted Hatso fell short.

Watters won the shotput event with a toss of 49'2" and Daily won the discus with a heave of 148' 9".

East's victory marked the seventh championship in eight years for the E. Broad-st school.

Art Angel, East sprinter, took individual scoring honors in the meet with 15¼ points. The fleet Tiger set a new record of 14.9 in the 120-yard high hurdles and also won the 180-yard low hurdles, anchored the winning mile relay team and finished fourth in the broad jump.

Marion-Franklin, the South Side's other entry in the meet, finished last in the field with a total of six points.

St. Paul's Pull Triple Play In "Y"

With the third week of play in the South Side "Y" church softball league now history, the field is starting to spread out in the race for championship honors.

Church of God and Livingston Methodist with 3 and 0 records hold a two game lead in the Monday night Junior League. In last week's play Livingston outlasted a game Gates-Fourth Methodist nine, 17-15 while the Church of God came from behind to beat Hungarian E. & R. In the final game of the set, Southwood Church of Christ overcame a multitude of troubles to edge South Congregational, 7-5.

Action in the popular Girl's loop saw St. John E. & R. score victories over both Emmanuel Lutheran and Livingston Methodist to gain a half game lead over St. Paul E. & R. in the league standing.

In the game against Livingston, Jackie Schoonover gave up only one hit while striking out 15 batters. In other games played by the fairer sex, St. Paul E. & R. continued on undefeated in downing Southwood Church of Christ and Oakwood Methodist eked out a win over Church of God in a slug-fest 17-14. The league highlight was the triple play by St. Paul, their second in two games.

Wednesday night Junior play saw St. Paul Lutheran down St. Paul E. & R. 13-9, Ohio Ave. EUB defeat Emmanuel Lutheran, 8-3, St. John edge Washington EUB, 11-10, and Oakwood enter the winner's circle by nosing out South Methodist, 9-8.

In games that cause coaches ulcers the results of Thursday's Intermediate clashes were South Methodist 19, Oakwood Methodist 18, and a big upset, St. Paul E. & R. 21, Hungarian E. & R. 14.

Harold Welch, newly appointed commissioner for the Great Mohawk District, presented the charter for the coming year.

The Pack, which had already received a blue ribbon and a merit award at the 1958 Scout-o-rama, was presented another blue ribbon for its "Freaks and Fashions skit in the arena.

Still another award was made, this one being a recognition plaque for pack participation in district activities during the past year.

Kellys Nip Omar 5-3 In 40 Minute, 9 Inning Game

A nine inning game played in less than two hours nowa-days is a rarity, but Kellys and Omars of the Saturday Independent Slo Pitch League went through their full game in only 40 minutes.

In a tight defensive duel, the league leading Kellys won their fourth straight game of the season by besting Omars 5-3.

In a league where 20 hits per team each game is an accepted thing, Kellys were able to manage only 11 last Saturday while holding Omars to but five.

Kelly pitcher Sarchel pitched his best game of the year in keeping the league leaders on top. J. Wagenbrenner led the Kelly attack with two hits, including a home run and a single.

Standouts for Omar were Janes, who got two of his team's five hits, and pitcher Hall.

In other action, Old Landmark maintained its hold on second place by coming from behind in the fifth inning to nose out Don's Inn 12-8.

Short Fielder J. Duckworth led the Landmark attack with a single, double and triple good for three rbi's. Ray Ellis, played a sparkling game in center field and also chipped in with three hits.

Don's Center Flieder S. Krigbaum blasted a triple and single and also played a fine defensive game.

The defeat, a heartbreaker for Don's, was the club's fourth straight loss of the season.

The Landmark [illegible] evened up their season record at 2-2 with a 10-5 win over Olympian Club. The victory moved the Kids into a tie for third place in the standings and dropped Olympian into sole possession of fifth place.

No games slated this week due to Memorial Day.

a special black-top track at Jones Park.

To pay for the construction, youngsters "pass the helmet" around after each final event. Because there is no charge for admission, the biggest haul made in donations has been $30.

Winning drivers receive small trophies, medals and prizes donated by the association and local businesses.

In concluding, Hardy stated that "one-quarter midget racing is growing in Columbus. It won't be too much longer until we've got the track paid for and interest aroused."

"It certainly is rewarding to see those kids breeze around the track. There's no other experience in the world that can match it."

Schiller Slates Teen Club's Spring Dance

Tomorrow evening, May 29, Schiller Recreation Center will be the scene of a gala spring dance, sponsored by the Teen Club of the center.

The dance, titled the "Spring Swing," will last from 8:00 to 11:00 p.m. Howard Mauger and his band, furnished through the courtesy of the Columbus Federation of Musicians in cooperation with the Music Performance Trust Fund will supply the music.

The auditorium will be decorated in gay spring colors, lending a true festive atmosphere. Since this is a dress-up type dance, the proper attire will be dresses or skirts and blouses for the girls and dress pants and shirt for the boys. No one wearing jeans or levis will be admitted.

HOW MUCH WOULD YOU STEAL IF YOU HAD THE CHANCE?

Shocked at the thought? Then learn how honest, everyday men and women are stealing years of life from others in highway traffic accidents.

Every day, scores of men and women get into their cars, drive off—and end up with the brutal knowledge that they killed someone in a highway traffic accident!

Chances are, not one of those people would deliberately disobey a "No Trespassing" sign—or open a door marked "No Admittance."

Yet these same honest people consciously ignore stop-signs—and refuse to observe posted speed limits.

The almost unbelievable result is that, this year alone, nearly 42,000 men, women—and children—will be crushed, broken and killed in traffic accidents, according to the present mounting rate!

Is there any way to stop it? Yes.

FIRST—Drive safely and courteously yourself. Observe speed limits and warning-signs.
Where traffic laws are obeyed, deaths go DOWN!

SECOND—Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws. Traffic regulations work for you, not against you.
Where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

THIRD—Work through your church, PTA or civic group for extra policing where needed, better street lights and signals, and a school safety program.
Where people work actively for safety, deaths go DOWN!

FOURTH—Call on your local or state safety council for help in promoting better laws and uniform enforcement.
Where everyone understands the law, deaths go DOWN!

WHERE TRAFFIC LAWS ARE OBEYED—DEATHS GO DOWN!

School-Needs Survey Charts Huge Future City Building Program

Columbus Board of Education, facing the prospect of housing an expected 24 per cent increase in school population within the next few years, took a good long look at "ways and means" Tuesday.

A comprehensive report on building facilities to fulfill the needs of a school enrollment expected to reach 100,000 within the next seven years was submitted to the board by Francis Rudy, administrative assistant and Warren Beers of the survey staff.

There are now 76,000 pupils in Columbus Schools.

Recommendations for meeting enrollment increases in southern Columbus include on the elementary level construction of two new schools and the addition of seven classrooms to existing building.

Secondary schools' needs in the area will call for a new junior high building, expansion of athletic facilities and adding classrooms to an existing school.

It is also recommended that two school sites be increased.

The building-needs survey report reveals that Columbus, in order to keep educational facilities to present standard, must.

- Build 32 new schools, 25 elementary schools containing 288 classrooms and 7 secondary schools with capacities totaling 6350.
- Build additions to at least 11 schools, six elementary additions containing 74 classrooms and five secondary additions.
- Remodel portions of 27 elementary schools and ten secondary schools.
- Purchase sites for 11 elementary schools and three secondary schools not recommended for construction within the next few years but which may be needed in the future.
- Consider expansion of 18 elementary and seven secondary school sites.

Recommendations for new buildings, enlarging and remodeling existing schools, and increasing school sites in southern Columbus include

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

Projected enrollments in the Mohawk, Fulton, Ohio Avenue and Fairwood Elementary areas show a need for 27 elementary classrooms.

Major factors are increased population in the area construction of homes in the Deshler area, planned construction of 28 four and five-bedroom units in the Lincoln Park Housing project and the use of more classrooms at Mohawk Elementary, Junior High for junior high classes.

It is recommended that a new elementary school with seven classrooms and one kindergarten room be built near the intersection of Kenton-av and Gault-st.

Additions of three classrooms to Livingston and four classrooms to Lincoln Park should also be constructed.

A 12-classroom one kindergarten room building should also be built in the Fulton Mohawk area. If future studies show the building is not needed, the locality funds would be re-allocated for other needed school construction.

SECONDARY SCHOOLS

Recommendations for increasing secondary school capacity in south Columbus include assigning additional space at Mohawk for junior high classes and building a second physical education station and four classrooms at Roosevelt Junior High. The site should also be expanded.

A portion of Deshler Elementary School site has been allocated for physical education and athletic activities at Roosevelt.

A secondary school site already owned by the board on Shady Lane-rd should also be expanded for future construction.

A new junior high will be needed in the area located near the intersection of S. High and Southgate-dr. with a student capacity of 500.

The building would house students living west of the C&O Railroad.

Marion Franklin Junior-Senior High and Beery Junior High, located on one site, will be operated under the plan for all

New School Principals Are Named

Promotions and transfers of school administrators, approved by the board Tuesday, will fill principals' posts in several area schools.

Carey Pace, Jr., vice-principal of Mohawk Junior High, has been promoted to the post of school principal.

Robert Wilson, cadet principal, has been assigned vice principal of Mohawk Junior.

Genevieve Miller, principal of Scioto Trail School, will continue in that post and also assume the duties of principal of Courtright School.

Carey Pace, 2159 Edgevale-rd, vice-principal at Mohawk for the past three years, was a member of Starling faculty for 10 years and also taught at Everett.

He joined Columbus Schools in 1945 after receiving BS and MA degrees from Ohio State University.

Robert Wilson, 803 Salisbury-rd, taught at Mohawk Junior High for 13 years before serving a year and a half as cadet principal. He will return to Mohawk next year as vice principal.

A member of Columbus Schools' staff since 1944, he earned BS and MA degrees from Ohio State University.

Genevieve Miller, 436 S. James-rd, principal of Scioto Trail for the past year, will also serve as principal of Courtright next year.

She has taught at Broadleigh and served as resource teacher.

She was graduated from Western Reserve College with a BS degree and received an MA from Ohio State University.

Legion Joins Elks In Flag Observance

Columbus Lodge No. 37 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will be joined by the American Legion for this year's Flag Day observance on Sunday, June 14th.

Exalted Ruler James J. Feidner announced that Paul Herbert will be the honored speaker. Herbert, former lieutenant Governor of the State of Ohio, is a Past Ohio Department Commander of the American Legion and a Past Exalted Ruler of Columbus Lodge of Elks.

Franklin Post American Legion Commander R. J. Chappelear announced that the post band will open the ceremonies with a concert. The Elks Chorus and Elks Patrol will also participate.

The entire program will be held outside the Elks Home at 1045 S. High-st at 3:30 p.m.

Feidner invited the public to attend the Flag Day ceremonies and urged everyone to fly the colors in front of their homes and places of business on June 14.

The addition of a star to Old Glory's Union on July 4th, representing the new State of Alaska, will be the first change in the flag since 1912, when New Mexico and Arizona became the 47th and 48th states. A 50th star for the State of Hawaii is soon to be added.

This year's Flag Day observance will commemorate the 182nd anniversary of the adoption of the design for the flag by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777. Congress resolved then "That the flag of the United States be 13 stripes alternate red and white, that the union be 13 stars white in a blue field representing a new constellation."

"As we raise the flag on June 14 let us remember that it was the proud successor to that first flag under which our gallant forefathers fought and won for us our independence," Feidner said. "Let us remember the brave men who fought under our flag of 48 stars at Chateau Thierry, Omaha Beach and Pork Chop Hill to preserve our heritage of freedom. As we welcome the new stars to Old Glory's firmament, let us resolve to remain faithful to the traditions and principles symbolized by those stars and stripes."

R. J. Chappelear and T. W. Chappelear, Jr., are co-chairmen for the Flag Day observance.

OFFICERS NAMED

New officers of St. Leo's PTA are Mrs. Jack Pope, president, William McLaughlin, vice president, Mrs. Richard Wern, secretary, Robert Sweeney, treasurer, Jack Howard, auditor, and Mother Longina, historian.

South Side Parachutist Hits Wires

A South Side amateur parachutist blacked out a huge section of central Ohio last Sunday as he succeeded in slipping by 40,000 volt high tension wires in Grove City.

The chutist, Frederick Held, 1290 Deshler-av, escaped death when he swung his chute in a wide arc around the wires.

The blackout was caused when the silky chute became tangled on the wires, cutting off power from Grove City southwest through Mt. Sterling.

Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company spokesman said emergency crews restored service an hour and 20 minutes after the blackout.

Held, a member of the Central Ohio Parachute Club, jumped from a Piper Tri-Pacer at 3500 feet over the Reaver Flying Service field in Grove City, club officials said.

President Paul Anderson said Held pulled the rip-cord at 2200 feet after a 13-second free fall and apparently made a slight miscalculation.

Held's chute touched the deadly wires after his person cleared them in a wide arc.

Anderson said 19 jumps were made from rented planes at the Grove City Airport before the mishap.

It stated that members of the club meet regularly to para chute practice free and controlled falls and sky diving.

Met's Mildred Miller Featured By Singers

The world famous Mezzo Soprano, Mildred Miller of the Metropolitan Opera Association will be featured soloist of the Central Ohio Singers District Grand Concert which will be held on Saturday, June 13, at the new Veterans' Memorial Hall.

This concert is the highlight of the two-day song festival for which approximately 700 male and female singers will gather in Columbus.

The Columbus Maennerchor will be official host for 26 German Singing Societies.

Governor Michael DiSalle has proclaimed the week of June 8 Columbus Maennerchor week.

The Cleveland born Miss Miller has sung leading roles in such performances as, "The Marriage of Figaro," "Der Rosenkaleher," "Carmen," "Die Fledermaus," "Tales of Hoffman" and many other operas. She is well known to concert, radio and TV audiences and has recently appeared on ABC's "The Voice of Firestone" and CBS network's "Ed Sullivan Show." Radio fans have heard her with regularity on the famous ABC program "The Telephone Hour."

Mildred Miller made her Metropolitan Opera debut at the end of 1951 and since then has won an enviable position at that august citadel of music.

MILDRED MILLER

The New York Times described her performance as an "event of considerable distinction," and the Herald Tribune pointed out her rare knowledge of the differing requirements of the concert platform and the opera stage."

Tickets for the Grand Concert can be purchased from any member of the Columbus Maennerchor, Ladies Section and Columbus Damenchor at 966 S. High-st, Germania Singing Society, 543 S. Front-st., and Heaton's Music Store.

All seats will be reserved.

OUTSTANDING STUDENTS—Accomplishing difficult things is the criteria by which young people distinguish themselves. The young men shown here compiled outstanding records during their school years at Marion-Franklin High School. High honors and distinctions for 1959 present outstanding objectives to fellow classmates. Left to right, Edwin Gearhart, Marion-Franklin principal, Bob White, a three-sport letter winner and Agonis Athletic awardee; Tracy Soles, senior class president and two-time student council president, and Bob Hysell, who—according to the feelings of many fellow students and teachers—made the most outstanding record of all. Hysell had perfect attendance for 13 years—no lates or tardies. The boys were given recognition last week by Southern Kiwanis Club. Making the presentation is Kenneth Deppler.

South Kiwanians Aid South Side's Future Senior High Schoolers

South Side junior high school students soon will make a choice between more football and basketball—and fewer books, more platter hops—and less homework; easy studies—and studies that make them work.

High school beckons from the far side of swimming pools and camping trips, long weekends and late TV shows.

The time for choosing begins with end of vacation. First comes the schedule of courses. Should the schedule include an elective history course? An English course—at the sacrifice of a missile building science course?

Then comes the unavoidable high school temptations. Freshmen must consort with at least 2 temptations: (1) teenage fun frolics that fill each day with indulgent excitement and promise more and more and more, and (2) strict self-discipline to books and school work in search of answers to all of the world's ills.

These are dangerous temptations and dangerous extremes. The balance is badly tipped in both cases, neither extreme educates very well, doesn't improve individual talents and abilities nor are they good for personality.

High school students can expect an over-burden of advise during the first important weeks and for long after. All will be well intended, and some of it very good.

Educators occasionally draw from the experiences of non-educators when they counsel students on self improvement. Among the non-educator groups who like to help, is Southern Kiwanis Club.

A few weeks ago, three members of Southern Kiwanis Club visited George C. Beery Junior High School classes to describe typical oldster experiences to review their "own right choices" and to admit some of their mistakes.

Dr. Bernd Oser, William Zimmerman, WTVN-TV account executive and Virgil Dean, City Loan Company's Steelton office, told the classes that responsibility for choosing constructive school studies should be levied on the young people themselves.

They said specifically: "Have fun during high school years; make friends; win athletic awards and honors for playing the saxophone; sew a frock; build a hot rod; BUT ALSO—

- Avoid the tempting extremes.
- Choose courses of study that are the most individually suited, and the most constructive.
- Conduct all four years of high school with serious thought for responsibilities ahead; do not waste opportunities for self improvement.
- Buckle down to studies in math, English, history, civics, etc—things that fit people for happy, useful lives.

Decisions, such as these, require moderate amount of dedication and a large measure of persistent endeavor; and both the choice and all that follows must be willingly accepted by youngsters. Oldsters have had their day in school. The large measure of responsibility for doing things well, the homework (while fun tempts), and the stick-at-it spirit must be the youngsters, too. Rewards will not go begging when youngsters can step up to individual responsibility.

What else is important?

Educators say that a correct understanding of the requirements for adulthood often can lead to inevitable "right choices" in school work. They say, too, that career planning influences many student programs. From recent teacher experiences, it seems that at least two major factors are involved:

(1) Far sighted, ambitious students choose "practical" courses that lead in a straight line to universities and business colleges—to careers of choice.

(2) Most students feel that high school is a series of obstacles along a road someplace else—a bump in the road, to be considered, but an interruption nonetheless. (They think of it as a spring board to something else, too).

"Getting ready" is important, educators say. But so are the stops along the way. Each course is loaded with gems of good sense, patiently collected by teachers who confidently hope students will give education a chance.

They say, too, that high school studies—and the self-improvement benefits inherent in them—are relatively more important to students who do not plan to attend college. College grads will have had "another chance"; comparatively more youngsters must get all they can from four high school years.

What are some of the best courses to take?

Educators are currently asking that students consider a few basic courses such as health studies and biology—courses that help everyone lead healthful lives. They also mention courses that help adults manage their business affairs, to live within their incomes, to save a part of their income—and thus spend their earnings most productively.

Educators also plead for English courses, and literature and spelling.

Why English courses?

Educators and non-educators, such as Kiwanis committee members, are unanimously agreed, they let experience give the answer: "Because it is our means of communicating ideas, feelings, and understanding."

We moderns are not cave men who can smile to show pleasure, frown to show displeasure, and scowl to show anger.

We are complex personalities in a complex society, and have abundant sensibilities and considerable knowledge. We are caught between many ideas with rich history, delicate shading of meaning and refined feeling. If we are to be understood (and understanding), we need a great resource of words and word forms to do the job clearly, simply, pointedly, with exact meaning and feeling.

"Give English courses a chance," experience tells us. It's every bit as much fun as chemistry, can be as exciting as an end run, and as challenging as shooting a missile to the moon.

Why Spelling?

Because good spelling teaches accuracy and exactness, and because it, like punctuation and sentence construction, is an excellent discipline. Correctness in anything is important.

Literature courses have value too. Typical high school curriculums offer many fine stories, plays, poems, essays and novels. They teach by example — interesting dramatic examples—and are laden with historical color and exciting personalities.

At various times in history, essays and poems were the chief means of expression. They were the newspapers and magazines of their day. They have had their high and low times, are relatively less useful for study when written during times they were not popular, but the careful selection of choice stories included in most anthologies has definite learning value and it is fun to study them.

In general, students should consider these things when they look over literature course electives:

• Good literature has always been written by men of great religious faith; impious authors do not write good literature and their works do not live long.

• Books and stories that "protest", such as satires and other humor, are generally written by men who have lost faith in human qualities; they point fingers at human frailities—but not the essential qualities of believing or the principles by which we all should live.

• Literature is an artistic, imaginative "reconstruction" of experience—it is NOT an imitation of life. It should not be copied or made a standard for conduct.

What can be learned from literature?

Most of the things taught in high school will show a human struggle of some sort. It will express sympathy or pity while it points out the serious faults of pride. It also may dramatize extravagance, ignorance, immorality; it may also dramatically express kindness, charity, perseverance, happiness, hardwork and sacrifice.

Better still, it offers students opportunities to study human character in a relatively harmless laboratory. It is much better to analyze people between hard covers of books than try it on your classmates; much better to judge fictional characters than neighbors. (And critical analysis and judgment is considered good educational exercises).

Educators and non-educators repeat: "Give English, spelling and literature a chance." It not only teaches, but it provides an open door to much greater pleasure, provides a new and better understanding of TV programs, plays, movies, radio, newspapers and magazines—in fact, everything that exchanges ideas and feelings.

And it inevitably leads to career opportunities, and happy, useful lives—all of the things young people want; and equally as straight to responsibilities oldsters soon must give up.

TALK SLATED

Members of the Columbus Amateur Radio Association will hear a talk on the Windward Islands at its meeting at 8 p.m. Friday in the Central YMCA. The speaker will be Robert E. Lora of McComb.

Repent or Perish

Jesus said, in Lk. 13:3, "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish." For emphasis He said the same words again in verse 5

Repentance is a change of mind. In Mt. 21:28,29 we are told of a man who told his son to go work in his vineyard. The son said, "I will not: but afterward he repented and went." The son changed his mind. A person changes his mind about sin. He decides to quit sinning and be a follower of Christ.

Faith must come before and cause repentence. In Rom. 2:4 Paul says that, "the goodness of God leadeth to repentance." In 2 Cor. 7:10, he says that, "Godly sorrow worketh repentance." In faith one knows of the goodness of God and has sorrow because of sins toward God

God's command is to you Commandeth all men everywhere to repent" is the command of God" Acts 17.30. God also desires you to repent. 2 Pet. 3:9

"Farthest-South Dentist" Gets New Office The Hard Way

The hard way, just for a starter, was the tearing up of thick concrete floor so that Dr. Will Braunlin could have installed he electrical wiring and plumbing his work required. The picture shows what a wreck it was necessary to make of this nice new floor.

For some time, Dr. Will Braunlin, practicing dentist, had been noting the fast development in the south-east area. He decided that there should be a dental office in the Great Southern Shopping Center, where parking space could not be a problem. But the center had been designed and built without any provision for such facilities as he needed.

That, however, didn't down Dr. Braunlin. There was, in the extreme southern part of the Great Southern, a space available that could be converted to become, in an ideal location, theoffice he craved. So the doctor undertook making the place over to suit him and meet his special requirements.

With the floor torn up, the proper wires and pipes were put in place. Then the floor was restored. Then piece by piece, the various items of equipment were put in place and connected All this took a lot of time. Then, finally there was the decorating and furnishing necessary to make the place as pleasant to be in as a dental office can be made.

All this has just recently been completed. The phone has been put in (HI 3-0795) and now Dr. Braunlin is there working from 1 to 7 Mondays through Fridays, and from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

In the interval since Dr. Braunlin first decided to locate, in spite of the difficulties, in the Great Southern Shopping Center, the fact that he has his office there—"Columbus' Farthest-South Dentist"—has become a matter of moment to many more people than it was even that comparatively short time ago. For the number of persons and families living within a few moments drive from the Great Southern Shopping Center has increased almost fabulously, and is continuing to mount very rapidly with each passing month.

Dianne and Donna Cunningham, 838 E. Livingston-av, celebrated their May 15 birthdate in a style that suits teen-age hearts. The twins had nine Roosevelt Jr High classmates in for supper and a slumber party. The girls are now 14.

Mrs. Cunningham is a member of the Mother's of Twins Club, and her girls are the oldest twins represented so far. Mrs. Cunningham is thus able to give lots of pointers to mothers of the younger twins. The membership is looking forward to the picnic they will hold at Blendon Woods, June 14. Their "pride and joys" will be present too, so it should be quite a day!

We shouldn't neglect mentioning that Timmy Cunningham was six on May 29, and rated a family supper for "his" day.

Congratulations to the Columbus Maennerchor, which had a special week proclaimed for it by both Mayor Sensenbrenner and Gov. DiSalle.

June roses and birthday cakes are in store for these youngsters . . . Judith Leo, 320 E. Jenkins-av, June 4; Donald Page, 25 W. Innis-av, June 4; Deborah Blair, 1385 S. 6th-st, June 7; Betty Ramey, 186 Jenkins, June 8; Lisa Edwards, S. 6th-st, June 10; Susan Doyle, 12 E. Reeb-av, June 10; Judith Sickler, 229 E. Markison-av, June 6; Sue Ramey, 186 Jenkins-av, June 7; James Melvin, 60 E. Woodrow-av, June 10; David Dover, 56 E. Jenkins, June 5; Barbara Coleman, 304 E. Morrill, June 6; John Moore, 250 E. Jenkins, June 7, and Ruby Short, 1644 S. Goethe, June 8.

Win Championship

Our congratulations to St. Leo's Jr. Girls CYC Softball team, for winning the championship on May 24. On May 28, they participated in the Athletic banquet held in the school dining room. On Tuesday, June 16, they will go to Jet Stadium and receive the award that admits them to "Columbus Champions." Woody Hayes will make the awards that night; Catholic Youth Night. Mrs. Ollie Winel, of Moler-st, is coach of the team.

It's the busy time for graduates at this stage of the game, naturally. At South High School the seniors have closed their books forever on public school work, and now must think of higher education or entering the work-a-day world. Tonight at 8, there will be a supper, followed by Senior Prom, 9-12. Tomorrow, June 5, will be Class Day. On June 7, the Baccalaureate will be held at 4 p.m., and the big day itself is Tuesday, June 9, at 7 p.m.

Adult birthdays on our list are Geraldine Jackson, 427 Siebert-st, May 31; Rudy Wiegerig, 677 E. Moler-st, June 2. Mary LaRue and Gertrude Hepner, both June 5; Anna Seemueller, Reinhard-av, June 7, and Mrs. Homer Doty, now of California, but still a Leader reader, June 9.

Reunion Set

A reminder to South High's 1949 Class, don't forget your class reunion on June 20, at Lincoln Lodge, from 6:30 p.m. to 2 a.m.

Final meeting (until fall) of the PVA of Orient State Institute will be held Sunday, June 7 at Kirk Hall, at 2 p.m. The group is still saving commemorative and air mail stamps, which should be sent to PVA, Box J, Orient, O.

Russell C. Miller, with his family, were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Miller, over the Decoration Day holiday. Russell's home is in Port Clinton. The senior Miller's reside at 661 E. Gates-st.

Eddie Stewart can now speak "first-hand" about tonsillectomies, since he underwent one.

Ladies of the Fellowship Class, Southwood Church of Christ, will have their husbands as guests at the 6:30 p.m. supper, Saturday, June 6.

Two little cousins joined their family circle just two days apart last week. Young Master Parham made his debut on May 26, and Melody Louise Ward pipcked May 28 to be born. Melody's big sister, Judy, was just about the South Side's proudest youngster, as she delivered her announcements on Memorial Day! The Parhams reside at 73 E. Welch, while the Wards are to be found at 60 Moler-st.

We've been a little negligent in reporting the ill-health of one time South Sider Louis Fleckner, now a resident of 1971 Doren-av. Residents of S. High-st will remember Louis as the genial owner of Paulina's Grocery Store, which was located near the Markham Theater.

Louis was hospitalized, the last news we had of him, but should be home by now.

Wants Flags Displayed

With Memorial Day so recently in the past and Flag Day so imminent, we feel the urge to do a little exhorting. With millions of others, we took a little trip on the holiday, and saw barely 100 flags in Columbus! The rest of Ohio was about the same. With the countries existing who would love nothing better than tearing our flag permanently from display, it would seem our duty to fly it on every occasion. A friend who lived in Canada for several years told us she used to tune in on Buffalo's TV station at sign-off, just to see the flag and to hear the Star Spangled Banner! Her brother, who flew around the world just a few weeks ago, also commented on the fact that all other nation flies their flags from filling stations, homes and nearly every building. The contrast was great when he landed in the USA, and saw no flags except on government buildings.

We like the idea of the E. Broad-st Association, who hope to have a three mile display of flags on that street eventually. Wouldn't it be nice if our beloved South Side would emulate this endeavor!

Don Dicke, 1411 S. 6th-st, has been enjoying the past week as a vacation, since Capital University is out for the summer. He, with his younger brother, sister and parents, was the weekend guest of Mr. Fred Becher, of northern Ohio. Mr. Becher is the father of Lorraine Itskin, 1713 S. 3rd-st, who also spent the weekend on the pleasant farm of his relative. Lana and Darrel Itskin, with Thurman Ramey, made a nice full house for Mr. Becher. Upon Don's return home, he took off the next day for Pennsylvania, with his grandfather G. E. LaRue, of 262 S. Morrill-av. The grandfather and grandson will visit relatives in the Keystone state.

Staff of Southwood School was honored by a May 27 picnic at Southview Shelter House. Hostesses were members of the school executive board. Appreciation gifts were given to the principal, School Clerk and the PTA's retiring president.

Set Memorial Service

Membership committee of Chapter 206 Women of the Moose, will honor their deceased Chaplain, Vera Johnson, on Thursday June 11 at 8 p.m. The memorial service will be commemorated by crowning Irene Brakall as the 1959 Sponsor Queen. Irene attained her title by signing up the most new members for the year. Members of her court will be Bessie Pugh, treasurer; Welma Spring, Hospital Chairman; and Marilyn Young, Publicity Chairman.

Senior Regent Mildred Pierce will preside over the enrollment ceremonies. To further honor Mrs. Johnson who was a dedicated woman, the new candidates will receive white corsages. All members of Chapter 206 are urged to attend this meeting.

Southway Auxiliary Unit 144, will hold its regular meeting at the post home, 874 S. High-st, Friday June 5 at 8 p.m. Buckeye Girl Staters will be introduced. There will be the election of unit officers, and of delegates and alternate delegates to the 1959 department convention to be held in July at Cleveland.

As we promised, Jerry James, 1119 S. High-st, we'll remind you again of the big feast that awaits you at the Hamilton Township High School, Saturday June 6, from 5 p.m. One has a choice of a ham or chicken dinner, $1.50 for adults, 75 cents for children. Home-made noodles are always on the table, so diners can help themselves to as much as they desire. Coffee is also readily available. In addition to the meat and noodles, there will be mashed potatoes, gravy, cole slaw, green beans and home-made pie.

Need Coffee Urn

Normally, this appeal would go into the Camp Fire Girl Column, but we decided to put the item here instead. When the Camp Fire leaders hold city wide training meetings, etc., they naturally enjoy coffee breaks, as we all do. The organization has no large urn to use at these times and would like to be able to get one. The leaders do not feel like dipping into the funds, believing this should be spent on projects for the girls, only. For further information on how you can help them get a 50-cup urn, call HI. 4-1051, or inquire at the Camp Fire Girl Scout office, 718 S. High-st, Columbus.

Beery Junior High School Inaugurates Citizen Award

George C. Beery, Junior High School has inaugurated a good citizen award for Beery students.

The award will be made at the end of this school year and will be made again several times next year if the program proves successful.

The citizenship attention was initiated with posters throughout the school illustrating the six points defining a good citizen; leadership, self control, industry, dependability, respect, and sportsmanship. Candidates for the award will be judged on the above qualities.

Homeroom students and teachers had a chance to nominate candidates they feel are worthy of the award. A boy and girl from the eighth grade and a boy and girl from the seventh grade will be chocen from the nominees as the best school citizens.

They will be honored at a special assembly and will be given medals and certificates.

Eighth grade nominees include Gary Munn, Ronnie Blevins, Robert Knapp; Kritz Stimpfle, Leroy Jakeway, Roger Nisely, Greg Leibbrand, Lawrence Dixon, Jan Wisecarver, Dan Douridas, Susan Kalb, Maureen Kelly, Patricia Baer, Eunice Blankenship, Helen Harlin, Joyce Irick, Jean Ekers, Rosemary Gutridge, Brenda Evers, Darlene Hillman, Veda McCoy, Patricia Stonerock, Sharon Pearell, Dianne Crabtree, Gwen Meadows, Mary Jean Santo, Connie Crabtree, and Linda Wood.

Nurses Slate Institute Day Next Tuesday

Private duty nurses sections of District 12 of the Ohio State Nurses' Association and the Ohio State Nurses' Association are sponsoring an all-day institute for professional registered nurses in Ohio, Tuesday, June 9, at the Pick-Fort Hayes Hotel.

Miss Lucile Pence, R.N., 682 Kelton-av, member-at-large of the executive committee of the state section, will preside at the afternoon session in the Gold Room.

"Hypnosis in Therapeutics" will be the topic presented by Dr. Oscar Rosenow, M.D., Columbus Academy of Medicine.

Miss Marion Burkwall, R.N., 960 S. Roosevelt-av, is chairman of the local district association's private duty nurses section.

Eagles Picnic Slated Sunday

Edgewater Park will be the site of the June 7 South Side Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles Family Picnic. Grounds are located just north of Rt. 33 on Hamilton-rd.

The event, like all Eagle picnics, according to a spokesman, is 100 percent for charity.

Highlight of the festivities, in addition to games, prizes and entertainment, will consist of an Old Timers South Side Eagles baseball game.

Summer Fun For Boys Begins June 19 At Camp Willson

Here's news for boys of this area, 8 to 17 years old and of good character and good physical health, who would like to go to summer camp.

YMCA Camp Alfred L. Willson, located near Bellefontaine, will begin its 47th year of camping this summer. Camp Willson is owned and operated by the Young Men's Christian Association of Columbus. It lies in a natural wooded area of 337 acres and 70-acre Lake Mac-O-Chee which provides excellent swimming and boating. There are adequate camp facilities including recreation lodge, dining hall, medical building craft shop, and 12 cabins to house campers and their counselors.

Recreational facilities include six blacktop courts for volleyball, badminton, tennis, basketball, archery, rifling and horseback riding. The camp staff consists of college students who are experienced in YMCA or camping.

Robert Schmidt, YMCA Metropolitan Youth Director, is executive camp director. Sam Conoway, high school principal, will serve as residence director and will supervise the total camp program.

Camping periods are: first, June 19-26; second, June 26-July 10; third, July 10-24; fourth, July 24-Aug. 7; fifth, Aug. 7-21; sixth, Aug. 21-28.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR

Fruits — strawberries, lemons, pineapple, canned apple-sauce.

Vegetables — asparagus, celery, greenhouse tomatoes, leaf lettuce, green beans, frozen limas.

Protein Foods—fryers, smoked picnics, shoulder cuts of beef, eggs, cheese.

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE TIME!

Do you like the strawberries for your shortcake right out of the patch? If so, you can buy that kind of berries at food markets and roadside stands this week.

Local growers are picking now, and they say more berries will come to market in the next week or ten days if the weather is favorable. Most of these locally grown strawberries will be gone by Mid-June, according to producers' time table. After that the supply will dwindle and prices increase.

It's true, we can have good strawberries out-of-season these days. Rapid transportation and modern refrigeration methods have made it possible for us to have berries since January from the Southern states. But the locally-grown berries usually have something extra in flavor. They get ripe on the vine, since growers don't have to ship them far.

Selecting at the Market

Look for fresh, clean, bright red berries with green caps . . . ones with no white spots or green tips. A glossy appearance means they are freshly picked. Remember that large size and good flavor are not always companions.

Large berries may have excellent flavor, or they may not. Small berries often have the better flavor. If you plan to serve them whole, and eye-appeal is important, big berries may be the better choice. If you want to slice, crush, or make preserves for the berries, the small ones may be best.

Proper Home Care Important — Ripe berries should be used soon after purchasing. They keep best if you roll them into a shallow pan and cover lightly with waxed paper in the refrigerator.

Wash gently in running water, remove caps when you're ready to use them. Strawberries lose vitamins, and become water logged if they stand in water.

Does it pay to make preserves or freeze strawberries at home? — There is no one answer to this question. Consider these factors before deciding whether to make preserves or freeze strawberries at home:

- Family satisfaction from this do-it-yourself project.
- Amount of time and labor involved.
- Skill you have or would enjoy acquiring.
- Flavor and texture of the finished as compared to a similar commercial product.
- Amount of storage space available.
- Cost of doing this at home as compared to cost of the purchased item.

If deciding whether to make strawberry preserves on the basis of cost, determine total cost at which ingredients and supplies can be purchased for your recipe. Compare this cost with the price you may pay for the quality of preserves that you buy.

To determine cost comparison for frozen strawberries, compare cost of fresh berries and other ingredients and supplies with the average price of the same quality commercially frozen.

A quart of fresh berries will yield about one and one-half pints of frozen berries.

Reservations should be sent to Mrs. Elmer J. Loewe, 1316 Laidlaw-av., Cincinnati, 37, O. Cost for five days is $30 per person, or $8.50 per day. For more details call Mrs. James Whalen, TR. 8-5113.

Kiwanis Club Hears Of Modern Miracles

Modern miracles of engineering that compare with the "Seven Wonders of the World" will warm the family living room next winter and help hold cost barriers against the rising cost of comforts.

Miss Jane Macgruder, an information specialist for the Ohio Fuel Gas Company, gave an exceptionally listenable account of a near Columbus miracle this week when she described a vast underground storage development for natural gas recently completed in Siloam, Ky., near Portsmouth.

Speaking before Southern Kiwanis Club, Miss Macgruder associated tradition breaking engineering feats with the pyramids, the Tower of Piza, St. Sophia Church in Istanbul, the Taj Mahal, Washington Monument and Eiffle Tower.

She pointed out that modern recognition is almost entirely given to engineering feats: tombs and temples, the most beautiful, the tallest, and the first of a new kind. Recent engineering, on the other hand, has most often been endeavors that brought increased convenience, more comfort, automation and standards of excellence at lower cost.

Siloam developments, constructed by Columbia Fuel Gas System and Ohio Fuel Gas Company, are vast underground, circular, "rooms" carved out of the natural southern limestone rock—400 feet below the surface. Ten of these storage areas will provide natural gas to heat 800,000 northern Ohio homes next winter.

A miracle? Compared with the Washington Monument, a generally accepted miracle, the reservoirs will store 600,000 times more gas. The Washington Monument holds barely enough gas for one home.

An engineering feat? Miss Macgruder explained that construction of the reservoirs was accomplished at the bottom of shafts only 30 inches in diameter. Bulldozers were dismantled, sent down the shafts, and reassembled at the bottom. The reservoirs are now equipped with automatic telemetric devices which will regulate the pressures of gas delivered to Columbus homes (and electrically wired by the Gustav Hirsch Organization firm of Columbus).

Near Columbus feats should not go unheralded, Miss Macgruder suggested. And even though they occur suddenly—almost overnight between tuck-in time and the alarm clock's morning message—they also occur regularly. The benefits should not be lost in the clamor over speed and big explosions.

Her treatise on behalf of Ohio Fuel Gas is excellent material for thought; it is recommended for groups who have a place for visiting speakers. For example, a few minutes of her address is devoted to explaining the first discoveries of gas that sprang naturally from the earth's surface many years ago.

Greek herdsmen, frightened by the ignited vapors, built a temple on the site. The temple later became known as the famous "Oracle of Delphi."

Many years later, Oklahomans experienced the same phenomena, but far more accustomed to miracles than were the Greek herdsmen, they tapped the fissure and piped the gas into their kitchens.

Library Slates Reading Club

ALASKA BOUND — Miss Margaret Bausch, head of Parsons Branch Library, explains details of the new summer reading club to Dianna Kay Kibler, 10, of 840 E. Whittier-st, and Michael Suttle, 10, of 1224 S. Washington-av. The "Trip to Alaska" Reading Club began enrolling youngsters of all ages on Monday, June 1. After reading 10 books of their own choosing, members receive a three-color diploma bearing a 49-star American Flag. They also get a written record of their summer reading to show to teachers next fall.

What promises to be the biggest club in the history of Columbus will begin enrolling members on Monday, June 1. It is the "Trip to Alaska" summer reading club of the Columbus Public Library and its branches.

Based on past years' experience and the continuing population boom in young people, officials of the library expect some 30,000 youngsters age six to 14 to enroll in this year's reading club.

After reading 10 books of their own choosing, members will receive a three-color certificate of completion bearing a 49-star American Flag. They will also get a written record of their summer reading to show teachers next fall.

There is no charge for membership in the club. Location of all library agencies may be found in both the white and yellow pages of the telephone book.

THE "AMAZING FOUR"—The South Side's "Amazing Four" are shown together for about the last time. These men have been participating together in sports for 35 years, leaving an amazing record behind them. However, Fred Kehlmeier (second from right) has been forced to move because of his health. The others are (left to right) Emmett Madden, Lou Madden and Paul Wemlinger.

South Side's Old Gang To Split Up After Many Years Of Teamwork

That old gang — the South Side's "Amazing Four" — is breaking up.

Emm Madden, 1275 Medford-rd, Lou Madden, 2931 Indianola-av, Fred Kehlmeier, 1630 Elaine-av, and Paul Wemlinger, all originally from the South Side, have been participating together in sports since 1924.

Kehlmeier, a 179 bowler, is moving soon to Phoenix, Ariz., because of his health.

The "Amazing Four," as they are called by their companions at the South Side YMCA, are quitting while they are way ahead. They've set quite a pace together through the years.

In 1924 they joined forces on a church softball team. They stayed in the league until 1947 winning one championship.

Later in the same year they joined a church basketball team. They played on the team for 16 seasons, copping three championships. Lou Madden was once individual scoring champ and runner-up two other [illegible]

They started bowling in the South Y Church League in 1928 and are still at it. Their team, the "Latter Day Saints" was recognized as this year's champion at the league's 34th annual banquet.

In 1935 Lou won the singles championship, Lou and Emmett won the doubles championship, and Emmett won the all-events championship.

Emmett also has a 300 game to his credit.

In 30 seasons of bowling in the South YMCA Church League all four have shared in winning many honors, including: seven team championships, high individual average, high three games and high single game.

Their fellow YMCA members said in a tribute that "over and above all their athletic achievements, we, who have been fortunate enough to have come in contact with them, have found them to be Four Christian Gentlemen."

Students Eye School Again

About 3000 pupils—a record number—are expected to lay aside eight weeks of their summer vacations in order to return to the books when Columbus Public Schools' Summer School opens June 22.

Unparalleled demand for registration blanks at city and county schools has signaled a larger-than-ever enrollment.

One important factor in the popularity of the summer session this year is the addition of special courses in physics and chemistry for the academically talented. These will be held at North High School.

All other senior high school pupils, whether registered for make-up or advanced work, will report to Central High School at 8 a.m. on June 22. Pupils registered from seventh, eighth, or ninth grade classes will report to Mohawk Junior High School at the same time.

Classes will run from one to four hours, depending on whether the student is removing a failure or gaining advanced credit.

Fees for pupils from the Columbus district will be $10 per half unit of advanced credit, $10 per subject for removing a failure, and $20 for a full unit of advanced credit. The fees are doubled for pupils from outside the district.

Playgrounds Open Summer Season Soon

The Columbus Recreation Department's 68 playgrounds will open Wednesday, June 17. The playgrounds are supervised Monday thru Friday from 12:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Pet shows, playdays, track and field meets, lantern parades, drama festivals and pageants are some of the special events that will be offered to the participants.

In addition to the various special events the playgrounds have daily programs in arts and crafts. Junior Jet baseball, basketball, community sings, concerts, dances, doll shows, fishing, games, hiking, hobby shows, horseshoes, movies, nature study, paddle tennis, physical fitness programs, puppet shows, soccer, softball, square dancing, story hour, swimming, tennis, and volleyball.

Indian Village Camp again will operate as a Day Camp and children will be picked up and returned to their playground each day for a one-week period in various sections of the city.

COMPLETES HIGH SCHOOL—As starry-eyed as any other high school graduate, Mrs. Kunud Kothari will receive her diploma Wednesday night at Evening High School. She and her husband, Dr. Kothari and son, Kiron, pose before the state hospital where he has been a resident psychiatrist for the past three years.

Area Girl Scouts To Converge On Big Darby For 10-Day Hike

Girl Scouts—231 strong—from Districts Six, Three and Schiller—will converge on the Big Darby Creek area June 15 to 24, for their annual nature and conservation outing.

The girls, aged seven to 18, will practice outdoor skills, including camping, cooking, and crafts.

Two groups, totaling 35 girls, will pitch tents and stay overnight.

Headed by a staff of 36 Scout Leaders, plus an administrative staff of six, the girls receive the best in outdoor instruction for the annual 10-day trip to Big Darby.

An example of the fine leadership shown the young Girl Scouts is the work of two District Six leaders, Mrs. Lawrence Lane and Mrs. Raymond Stanat.

Mrs. Lane has been a scout leader for three years, becoming interested in activities of Girl Scouting when her daughter, now 10, joined the organization three years ago.

Since becaming a leader, she has devoted both time and patience in instructing scouts in crafts and skills fundamental to outdoor living.

Mrs. Stanat has been a Girl Scout Leader for eight years, three of which were spent overseas in Germany and Italy.

She has two daughters, aged seven and 12, currently in her scout group.

Mrs. Lane resides with her family at 1818 Kent, while Mrs. Stanat lives with her husband and two daughters at 721 Heyl-av.

Diploma Symbol Of American Warmth To Grad From India

by BETTY DAFT

A tiny, dark-haired beauty from Bombay, India, will cover her sari with a graduation gown, perch the cap above her forehead "chandla" mark and join her classmates in commencement exercises at Columbus Evening High School tonight.

Mrs. Kunud Kothari will receive her diploma after more than two years' study at Evening High (in the Central building.)

Her husband, a psychiatrist at Columbus State Hospital and their son, three-year-old Kiron, will watch with pride from the audience.

With expressive eyes reflecting her changing moods, Mrs. Kothari discusses the happiness her family has found in Columbus and their regret at leaving friends and associations.

Transferring Friday

Dr. Kothari, transferred to Danville State Hospital, Pa., has been waiting for his wife's graduation day to report to his new post. The family will leave Friday.

Mrs. Kothari described the worth of her diploma in a letter addressed to the principal, teachers and students of Evening High:

"I am happy and proud to receive my high school diploma, not only because it is an index of my educational qualifications, but mostly because it is a symbol for me of the warmth and friendliness of you nice people.

"This diploma will remain as one of my proudest possessions for all my life, and will always bring sweet memories of my happy days here and of all you warm and affectionate people."

The Kotharis' life in Columbus has been a happy blending of Indian and American ways.

Clinging closely to the teachings of their religion, Jain, they are strict vegetarians. They also prefer spicy, Indian cooking to American food. The exception is young Kiron's fondness for "Coca-Cola."

Mrs. Kothari dresses only in the graceful sari and wears the symbolic forehead "chandla" or "kum kum," and bracelets, meaning that she is a married woman.

Braids A 'Problem'

Her graduation cap and gown will be the first ensemble other than traditional Indian dress she has ever worn. In true feminine fashion, her only concern is "however will I fit the cap over my braids?"

They have incorporated many American customs into their daily life, with young Kiron growing up as a living bond between the two cultures. He is learning to speak in English, and when they finally return to India, will be educated in English schools

Dr. Kothari earned his medical degree in Bombay, and is

Six Beery Junior High School Students Receive First Good Citizenship Awards

Six students were chosen as the winners of the good citizenship award and were honored at an outstanding assembly at George C. Beery Junior High School last Friday.

Helen Madden, Donald Bess, and Bruce Bell won the honor from the seventh grade, and Linda Wood, Rosemary Gutridge, and Leroy Jakeway were given the award in the eighth grade. The winners were presented certificates of honor and will later receive gold pins.

Principal Michael Lower first introduced the committee of teachers who have worked since February planning the awards. The committee, Vera Secrist, Glenn Bittner, Elizabeth Ebersbach, and Ann Lilly, took their places on the stage. Lower next called to the stage the 62 students who had been nominated by their classmates and teachers for the citizenship awards.

Lower spoke a few words, stressing the point that it does not take superior ability to win the good citizenship award — that all had a chance to win and should strive for it next year. He expressed the hope that this effort for good citizenship would carry over in the students' actions out of school as well as in school.

The parents of the nominees, many of whom were present, were congratulated because of the training and good example that they must have given to their children that they be honored.

Mrs. Secrist, as chairman of the citizenship committee, told the assembly that all were not top winners but that all were in some way winners.

She said, "You who have won top honors in citizenship are winners in having won the respect of the faculty, the citizenship committee, and your classmates. You who were nominated are also winners in that you have set good examples in citizenship or you wouldn't have been nominated, and you have won the challenge to work for top awards next time. You who were not nominated are winners, for you have won respect by picking out the good traits of others. You, too, have won the challenge to work for top honors next time."

The six winners were then pointed out, in turn, from the 62 nominees, who like the audience, were waiting in suspense. Georgeia Bowen, guardian of Leroy Jakeway, received the award in his behalf, since Leroy has been in Children's Hospital and therefore unable to be present.

It is hoped that next year four good citizenship awards be made each six weeks. This year six awards were made since there was a tie in the award for the outstanding seventh grade boy and also for the eighth grade girl.

South Side Twins Complete College Careers This Week

Two South Side sisters, Marie and Regina Skunza, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. Skunza, 511 Hinman-av this week successfully completed their academic course of studies for four college years, both receiving Bachelor of Science degrees.

Regina graduated magna cum laude from the College of St. Mary of the Springs, Columbus. She is an addition to the columns of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities for 1958-59." Regina is one of the six senior girls at her college honored with the privilege. She also received the Degree of Excellence from the Student Education Association on campus. Regina was [illegible] active member of Press [illegible]oard (Secretary-Treasurer [illegible] her sophomore year, vice [illegible]sident last year); Spring T[illegible]es reporter and past business and circulation manager, and business manager of the Tower, '58-'59, a literary publication.

Majoring in Elementary Education, she was this year's president of the SEA, and a member of Literary Club, Social Service, French Club, Confraternity, NFCCS, and the Association of Off-Campus Students.

Marie graduated from the University of Dayton, Dayton, O., majoring in Elementary Education. During part of her four years, she was a member of the U.D. Players Dramatic Group, Catholic Student Mission Crusade, Women's Rifle Team, Columbus Club, and Mixed Chorus.

Small Riot Highlights Jones Park Wrestling

A small riot by high spirited wrestling fans highlighted the first weekend of bouts last Saturday at Jones Park, 3800 Groveport-pk.

Fans, perturbed over "unconventional tactics" by Jack Lamont, stormed the Jones Park office breaking chairs and windows in an attempt to get to the huge French Canadian wrestler.

Police brought order to the crowd 30 minutes after the flare-up, which occurred during the card's final four-man tag team event.

The fracas started when Chuck Stanley and Indian Ray Fleetfoot were pitted against Lamont and Chest Brennemen. Fleetfoot and Lamont, arch rivals in the ring, displayed ill feeling toward each other throughout the bout, which was finally climaxed with Lamont illegally entering the ring and throwing the Indian from Obetz, into the crowd.

Lamont then chased Fleetfoot through the crowd, only to have the fans turn against him and come to the Indian's defense.

Following the restoration of order, Lamont was treated for a broken rib. Fleetfoot for a severly cut mouth and bruised knee, and a woman spectator was given first aid for a cut hand.

In other action Saturday, Lamont defeated Fleetfoot and Brennemen bested Stanley in one fall feature events.

Friday night, Jack Smithers downed Fleetfoot in 15'30" of a one-fall event with a deadly Boston Crab, while Lamont knocked out Stanley in 10'18" in the semi-final one-fall event.

In Friday's tag-team action, Fleetfoot and Stanley took the team of Lamont and Smithers two falls to one.

This week's cards pit Stanley against Brennemen and Ralph Wahley against Gentleman Rocky Mingo on Friday, and Lamont against Fleetfoot and Glen Redman against Stanley on Saturday.

A four-man tag-team event will conclude both nights' Admission is 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for children.

'Beat The Pro' Golf Event Set To Open Friday

"Beat the Pro," annual charity golf sweepstakes sponsored by Wing 65 of Nightingale Cottage, will open a 10-day run Friday, June 19, at the South Golf Range, 2980 S. High-st.

An outstanding list of prizes, including a top award of $1000 in cash from Big Bear Stores, will again be available. Proceeds will go to Nightingale Cottage's work with convalescent children.

Big Bear will give the $1000 bonus to the first golfer who makes two holes-in-one and will also present $100 in cash to each golfer scoring an ace.

South Golf Range will award a $250 set of golf clubs. An array of nightly merchandise prizes will also be awarded.

Ten top Central Ohio professionals will serve as guest pros for the event to be held each evening including Saturdays and Sundays until June 28, from 7 until 11 p.m.

Each night the guest pro takes five shots at the pin with his best effort setting the standard for the evening. Each golfer beating the pro will received a signed certificate.

Members of Wing 65 will serve as hostesses at the range.

Garden Clubs Sponsoring Four Clinics

Ohio Association of Garden Clubs is sponsoring a series of four clinics to be held in June and July. Designed to meet needs of the association, they are also open to the public.

Clinic No. 1 will be held at Wagnall's Memorial Lithopolis, on Thursday, June 18 from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Hostess club will be the Lithopolis Garden Club, serving a box lunch and beverage for $1.

Cost of the four clinics will be $4 or $1.25 for a single attendance. Checks may be sent in advance to the Region director, Mrs. John Woodrow, 1862 Ridgecliff-rd, Columbus, 21.

Instructors for these clinics will be prominent OAGC judges.

Clinic 1 will be devoted to the study of: What an exhibitor should know — reading schedules; producing a flower show; basic design and arranging—mechanics.

Clinic No. 2 will be held June 25 in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Derby. Basic color will be studied along with a workshop on arrangements.

Clinics No. 3 and No. 4 at OSU on July 2 and 9 and will be devoted to horticulture. Chairman is Mrs. J. R. Shank.

If it's such a small world, why is it taking so much of our taxes to run it.

MAENNERCHOR HOSTS BIG SONG FESTIVAL

On Saturday, June 13, at 8:05 p.m., 24 German singing societies from various sections of Ohio will participate in a grand concert at the New Veterans Memorial Hall, 250 W. Broad-st.

Mildred Miller, mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, will be guest soloist.

Tickets are available from members of the Columbus Maennerchor, Damenchor, Ladies Section, Heaton's Music Store, and at the ticket office of the auditorium the night of performance.

A grand performance has been assured by Andy Holzapfel, president of Columbus Maennerchor, and Albert Bauer, vice-president and general chairmen of the festival.

SURPRISE — At last a dentist's chair has been made that looks like something you'd like to get into! Here's its picture, taken in the newly opened office of Dr. Will Braunlin, "Columbus' Farthest South Dentist," at the southern end of the Great Southern Shopping Center.

Most dentists themselves haven't yet seen a chair like this —it's that new! Dr. Braunlin has the first one installed in this area—and it's in a dental office designed and space engineered by Dr. Braunlin himself and different from any other dental office anywhere. It is complete with various dental cubicles, an X-ray room, a laboratory—even with a "recovery room" ready, if needed.

With his inviting new office now opened, although his phone number is too new to be listed in the phone book, in one way or another people are discovering that it is HIckory 3-9795 and are calling in for appointments. —Adv.

Congratulations to the young ladies who will be installed in their new offices of Job's Daughters, Bethel 5, this Saturday, June 13, at Southgate Temple, 850 Studer-av, at 8 p.m. The installation is an open ceremony. Elected officers are Joy Fischer, honored queen; Linda Junk, senior princess; Bonnie Brown, junior princess; Judy Noble, guide, and Becky Miller, marshal. A reception will follow the installation ceremony.

Our ailing list includes Emma Gray, who had an appendectomy but is now at home, 1380 Parsons-av. Betty Murphy, 978 Jaeger-st, is another one of our community members who has been ill, so a cheery card might help to perk her up.

Miss Harriet Dieter, whom many folks remember from her Barrett Junior High "tour of duty," is now the newly appointed principal of Kingswood Elementary School.

Mia Slavenska, well-known ballerina, with her husband, Kurt Neumann, and daughter, will be weekend guests of Jorg Fasting, 780 S. High-st.

Vacations

The Leist family, 1204 Oakwood-av, will enjoy the vacation offerings of Lake Erie for the next two weeks. Other vacationers in our part of town are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Green, 973 Seymour-av, who are visiting their daughter and son-in-law in Watertown, N.Y. The host and hostess are Pauline and James Botting. The Greens traveled with their other daughter and family, Ruth and Carl Gomber, and 17-year-old twins, of Fairborn, O. The family planned a week's visit.

A dream of many years' duration will see realization tomorrow at Ohio State University, for Bob Dunham, a South High graduate, who was a South Sider for many years. Bob, who has been an assistant professor at OSU, will receive his Ph.D. in speech at the commencement exercises. At the end of the month he and his little family will move to Pennsylvania, where he will assume a professorship at Penn State University.

Janet Gaye Wells, 1320 Studer-av, will be a young lady of seven on Wednesday, June 7, and the event will be marked by a birthday party, given by her aunt and uncle, Dorothy and William Wells. June is a big month for Dorothy also, for her birthday is June 12, and she and Bill attain their 27th year of wedded happiness today, June 11. Mr. and Mrs. Wells reside at 1943 S. Ohio-av.

Plan Potluck

The losers of the sales tax stamps contest will furnish the food at the planned potluck, when Trudeau Guild 10 meets Wednesday, June 17; in the home of Mrs. Wallace Oakley, 333 Frebis-av, at 6:30 p.m. Hannah Circle, Oakwood Methodist Church, will meet Friday, June 12, at 7:45 p.m., with hostess, Mrs. Mary Brittain, 1128 E. Columbus-st.

Congratulations to the Baughman family of 1575 S. Sixth-st. A new grandson arrived (we presume in Dayton) on May 27. The little one is the son of Dick and Pat Baughman. Little Mark chose his Uncle Don's birth date, so that's a nice coincidence. It will be quite a while before Don sees his nephew, however, for he is in Africa, as a missionary.

Weddings

One recent wedding and three that will soon take place are on our list of today's items. Patricia Virginia Carsilli, 975 Hartford, became Mrs. Ronald Dennis Poole, on June 6, in Southwood Church of Christ. On June 13 these young ladies will exchange their names in separate ceremonies: Carolyn Klein, 371 Sycamore-st; Barbara Lou Moore, 989 Reeb-av, and Barbara Ann DeWeese, 379 Welch-av. Miss Klein will wed Adam High, 2485 Brookwood-rd, in First English Lutheran Church. Miss Moore exchanges her vows with Robert Franklin Maier of Obetz. Miss DeWeese and Robert C. Cloud will repeat their vows in Hilltonia EUB Church.

A reminder that the Mothers of Twins Club will hold a picnic Sunday, June 14, at Blendon Woods. Too, St. Leo's Jr. Girls' CYC softball team will be one of the honor groups at Jet Stadium, Tuesday, June 16, which has been designated as Catholic Youth Night.

Two big events for these youngsters this week — school lets out and it's their birthday time: Katharina Sells, 398 Hanford, June 14; Mickie Branhan, 33 Innis, June 15; Sharon Bailey, 39 W. Moler, June 15; Pamela Passante, 334 Welch, June 14; K. Wayne Fussnecker, 1542 S. Fourth-st, June 16. Steve Stewart, 1721 S. Third-st, June 10; Theresa Stephens, 1595 S. Fourth-st, June 13; Frank Childers, 1284 S. High-st, June 15; Anita Van Fossen, June 16; William Bennett, 130 Hinman, June 15; William Burton, 1725 S. Sixth-st, June 15; Doris Oursler, 42 W. Markison, June 17; Douglas Wilkinson, 1623 S. Eighth-st, June 14; Alex Binder, 349 Sheldon, June 13; Ronnie Prater, 330 E. Markison, June 13; Otis Pritt, 1372 S. Fourth-st, June 14; and David Walters, 50 Southwood, June 16.

Happy Birthday

It seems that quite a few adults are having birthdays too, which we want to acknowledge. A nephew, Bryon LaRue, will be 19 years old tomorrow. He's now in Columbus after completing his first year of college in Chicago. Dorothy Kite, to be commended for an all-A grade card for this past quarter at college, has a June 13 birth date. Jim Coslett also has a June 13 natal day. Margaret Krause, 578 E. Gates-st, has a June 14 birthday, following her June 11 wedding anniversary she celebrated with August, her spouse. The father-son duo of Dave and "Buss" Leonard will come in for a family celebration this week at 515 Forest-st. Mrs. James Colegrove, 1077 Bruck-st, will have a June 15 birthday, as will Norris "Dad" Dean, 33 E. Jenkins-av. Mr. Dean will be celebrating his birthday in Florida, where he is vacationing.

We're so glad that John Colvill's trip to the hospital for tests revealed no serious illness present.

Armour To Stop Slaughtering During Summer

Columbus' plant of Armour and Co. will lay off about 450 workers this summer when the slaughtering of livestock is discontinued, L. R. Wells, local plant manager, announced Monday.

At the same time, Armour will also discontinue slaughtering in Chicago, East St. Louis, Ill.; Denver, Tifton, Ga., and West Fargo, N.D., effecting some 5,000 workers.

Persons made unemployed by the firm's decision will be given an opportunity to transfer wherever work is available, plant officials said.

While reducing livestock slaughtering, the Columbus plant plans to expand sales and buying operations.

Curtailment of the activity was made to realign meat production facilities to balance the sales and production facilities, a company spokesman said.

South Side 'Day Camp' Slated Soon

The swimming pool proves to be a very popular part of the camp program. Classes are conducted daily for non-swimmers.

The days for camp for South Side children will be the week beginning July 6.

SOUND AS A DOLLAR

We've all heard the old expression, "As sound as a dollar." However, as a leaflet issued by the Manufacturers Trust Company of New York points out, few of us have asked, "How sound is a dollar?" And the answer, obviously enough, is that the dollar is as sound as our national economy.

So the booklet observes: "Our national economy is sound. But there is no assurance that it will remain that way unless we think and act to make it so. A nation, like a person, must live within its means', or it will soon be in trouble."

There is endless discussion about the federal budget—whether it will be balanced, unbalanced, or whatever. No doubt a great many people think this is a matter far removed from their own milieu, and a problem which can be left to the people in high office whose duty is to deal with great affairs.

But the truth is that the federal budget is of the most direct personal interest to everyone in this country. Deficit spending—which follows unbalanced budgets—is the primary cause of inflation.

So decifit spending—the failure of the nation to live within its means—reduces the value of every dollar you earn, and erodes your life insurance, your retirement pension, and all other savings.

The government is a reflection of the desires of the people. If the people want and demand economical government—government living within its means—and make their wishes known, they will get it. If they want spendthrift government, and a further degraded money, they will get that. These are the only choices. The political spenders will destroy the dollar unless stopped by the voters.

BIBLE COMMENT

That Built With Faith Never Lost

The familiar saying, "the blood of martyrs is the seed of the church," is true to all periods of Christianity, even through the present and on toward the future.

The seed being sown in martyrdoms of today will bear fruit in lands that have virtually blacked out Christianity.

Of recent and bitter memory are the intense persecutions in Communist China. While they have fallen heavily, especially, on the courageous and devoted Maryknoll missionaries, the yokes of persecution have been borne by Protestant and Roman Catholic, alike.

Christian colleges have been disrupted and noble enterprises like that of Yale, in China, which enlisted the voluntary service of many of the finest of college graduates, have had to abandon their work.

Will there be a restoration? From the blood of martyrs will the seed of Christianity receive ultimate nourishment in Red China?

That which is built on faith and courage is never lost. It is not inconceivable that, in the vastness of China, there may come a transformation as remarkable in a positive way as the transformation of that ancient empire, within so brief a time, to a Communist instrument of violence and persecution.

Man counts time in units adapted to his brief span upon this earth. God's measurement of time is on a scale more vast in nature. We might not see the transformation, but the pendulum, in God's good time, will swing away from communism.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

Western Fans Get 'Fast Draw' Safety

Sportsmen, to whom firearm safety is as natural as tying their shoe laces, have been a bit concerned over some unfavorable reports from the new sport of "fast draw." Drawing a gun from a holster is ingrained in our American heritage, and has been popularized the last season or two on television—but a few accidents have marred the picture.

A couple of dads, with teenagers at home who want to learn fast draw, have brought their problems to me — should they say no to fast draw, or should they encourage it with adult supervision? By all means, I told them, encourage this all-year sport under proper supervision.

Now, the ultimate in fast draw safety has been introduced with the Hahn "45" BB revolver and matching holster. The holster is a fast draw type on a Buscadero belt with ammo pouch. The fast draw combination is manufactured by Crosman Arms Co., Fairport, New York.

This Hahn "45" outfit is just the thing for practicing in your basement. The revolver is an exact replica for frontier America's famous Peacemaker. Identical in length (10 5/16 inches) with perfect balance and pointability, it rips off 18 shots, without reloading, as fast as you can fan the authentic "45" knurled spur hammer.

Western fans will appreciate the holster and belt—top grain cowhide curried leather, edged, and with tight grain backing. Tie-down thong is included for anchoring holster to your leg. The ammo pouch holds two Crosman Powr-Ammo Packs—BB kit and giant CO2 gas powerlet—or will accommodate .22 caliber and other powder cartridges. The holster, incidentally, fits firearm revolvers of similar design of the "45."

Expect About 75 Shots

Carbon dioxide furnishes the power in the Hahn "45," and one powerlet will fire as many as 75 shots. The gun gives tight grouping of shots at regulation BB range of 15 feet, and consistent bullseyes at 25 feet.

If you have a youngster who is itching to fire a gun, or who is intent on learning fast draw, a BB revolver would be the safest gun you could give him. But you'd better watch out dad, lest you catch the fever. Making like Matt Dillon is for young and old alike.

Now, which way did that hombre go?

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits — pineapple, strawberries, lemons, frozen lemonade.

Vegetables — asparagus, cabbage, celery, green house tomatoes, leaf lettuce, canned tomato products.

Other Foods — eggs, fryers, bacon, fresh callas.

IT'S NEVER TOO LATE

When we hear about the tremendous importance of milk to good health, we're inclined to say, "It's too late to do any good, it's the young people who should learn about this."

Nothing could be farther from the truth. True, if Junior plans on being a well developed man, there isn't any way but the milk way. At least a quart a day is needed when shoulders are broadening, bones are stretching, and muscles are hardening.

And milk is a beauty base for growing girls. It has just about everything—essential minerals, vitamins, and protein—all needed for smooth skin, healthy teeth, bright eyes, and beautiful hair, but Grown Men and Women need milk, too. Even though it may be too late to save their teeth or their hair, good wholesome milk is a "must" if calcium is to be obtained in the abundance needed. Calcium helps control such vital functions as the beat of the heart, the normal contractions of body muscles, and the coagulation of the blood. Nutritionists say adults need three glasses of milk daily for vim and vigor and to lessen nervous irritability.

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH

June is the month when milk production is at a peak of supply, making all dairy products plentiful. Luckily so, for now that the children are at home all day, more milk, cheese and ice cream are needed for in-between-meal snacks. These products make the best of snacks because they have real lasting food value.

Do the children say they are tired of "just plain milk?" If so, flavored milk drinks provide a refreshing lift on a hot day. Fruits and fruit juices add vitamin C, and molasses adds iron to the long list of nutrients already found in milk.

Bananas, strawberries and raspberries mix well with milk, as do grape and pineapple juice. For a syrup taste try chocolate, maple or molasses. An almond flavor also combines well for a nutritious beverage.

WISE-BUY REFRESHMENTS

Honey nog uses two plentiful —milk and eggs.

Recipe

1 egg
3 tablespoons honey
1/16 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk

Beat egg slightly. Add honey and salt and blend thoroughly. Add milk and chill. A dash of cinnamon or nutmeg may be added if desired.

Fish At Delaware Keeping Way Ahead Of Fishermen

Calling all fishermen! Delaware Reservior, about 10 miles north of Delaware, has too many fish and too few fishermen.

This was revealed jointly Tuesday by these Ohio Divisions of Parks and Wildlife. George Mortimer, park manager, said the lower two-thirds of the lake is heavily used by boaters; but the fishing zone in the upper third, where six-miles-an-hour limit exists, receives little fishing pressure.

Clayton Lakes, fish management agent for the Wildlife Division, said recent test netting at Delaware shows a good population of crappies, largemouth bass in average numbers and an improving catfish population. Lakes said additional fishing pressure would tend to improve the lake by reducing the surplus pan fish population.

Delaware Lake is a flood control reservoir built by the U. S. Corps of Engineers. The Ohio Division of Parks administers the lake and a park area on the west side under lease agreement with the Federal government.

Land on the east side of the lake was purchased by the Division of Wildlife. It serves as a public hunting area, public access to Delaware Lake and affords some fishing in small wildlife ponds.

Pond No. 14 has been heavily stocked with carp and quillback, Lakes said. The purchase of the stocking is to provide additional rough-fish to bow and arrow anglers, giggers and snaggers. Carp and quillback used for stocking were taken from the nearby reservoir which has a surplus.

Pond 14 is about one and one half miles southwest of the Delaware Wildlife headquarters across the road from the duck pen. A map showing the specific location of all ponds at Delaware is available free by writing to Publication Section, 1500 Dublin-rd, Columbus 12.

Numerous launching sites are available at Delaware. Boats presently are not available for rent. Parks officials have attempted to obtain bids for a boat concession but there have been no takers.

"There are so few psychiatrists in India they could almost be counted on your fingers," he commented. "It's quite true that there is much less need for psychiatric treatment in my country.

"Differences in the people and their tempo of living is the reason. Here, people are always dissatisfied, always pushing farther ahead, wanting more and more.

"Contentment means happiness.

"But," he continued thoughtfully, "there are two sides. When a people becomes too contented, too satisfied, there is no progress."

A frustrated motorist had been trying to pass a huge truck for many miles, but each time he tried to go around, the truck driver either increased his speed or swerved toward the middle of the road. Finally at a stop light the motorist pulled alongside the truck driver's window.

"Well?" growled the truck driver, glaring viciously.

"It's nothing important," replied the motorist. "I know what you are—I merely wanted to see what one looks like."

TRANQUILIZERS

A woman whose doctor had prescribed one of the new tranquilizing drugs for her was telling a man about it at a party.

"I take one pill a day," she said. "It soothes me, chases all the jitters away, improves my appetite and makes me really feel like living."

The man shook his head in wonder, then turned to the other guests and shouted: "Hey, gang, guess what they have on the market now; Instant Martinis."

Two Confessions

In Acts 8:37 the eunuch made this confession, "I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God." This confession was made just before Philip baptized the eunuch. It is the scriptural confession and cannot possibly be wrong.

Another confession is, "I believe that God for Christ's sake has pardoned my sins."

Have you made one of these confessions? One is right and the other is not. One is scriptural and the other is not. One has a part in gaining forgiveness of sins and the other does not. The eunuch made one of the two, but no one in the Bible ever made the other one.

You can't be wrong to confess as the eunuch did. Have you done so? Will you?

Mrs. James Schashausen will be the nurse, and Mrs. Robert Nicholson the business manager. This district will have the first day camp session—June 15, 16, 17, 18 and 22, 23, 24 and 25.

Several neighborhood troops will be busy working on their second class requirements during the summer months.

District Workshop was held at Schiller Park on Tuesday, June 2 under the direction of Mrs. James Gatwood, Arts and Crafts director. Program was on Leaf Prints. Hostess neighborhood was the West Jefferson neighborhood. The July 7 Workshop will be devoted to Basketry and the hostess neighborhood will be Hazelwood.

Nearly all neighborhood troops will be concluding their activities for the season during the next two weeks; the Heyl-av. neighborhood troops had their last meeting on Wednesday and Thursday.

Troop 770

This troop under the leadership of Mrs. Kay Lane and Mrs. Lot Smith, assistant leader will hold Fly-Up service on June 11 at the Hope Lutheran Church starting at 7:30 p.m. There are eighteen girls who are troop members and who will be in the ceremony. All parents are cordially invited to attend.

GUILD HAS PICNIC

Women's Guild of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church will hold its annual Pot-luck picnic at Southview Park, Wednesday, June 17. All those attending will meet at the church at 11 a.m. Mrs. Louis Buel and Mrs. Ralph Donley will be in charge of the entertainment.

South Side Bible School Begins Soon

The Trinity Lutheran Church, 404 South Third-st, will sponsor its annual Summer Bible School from June 15 to 26, Pastor Harold Gores announced this week.

Registration for the school ends Sunday, June 14. All youngsters, aged five to 15, are urged to attend.

Pastor Gores announced a staff of 10 to head the program, which will be broken down into four Bible classifications.

Mrs. Emmerson Herrel and Mrs. Robert Steffens will lead the beginning class; Mrs. Leroy Park and Mrs. Virginia Bachman will head the primary section; and Mrs. Elwood Distelhorst will be in charge of the intermediate class.

Mrs. Herman Noter will lead the junior section and will be assisted by Mrs. Gus Autenrieth, Miss Virginia Morrison and Miss Mary Ann Wiegerig.

Jan Ross Preps For Big Showing Of Small Cars

The big news in small cars this week is the big formal opening of Jan Ross' International Salon at Broad and Third-sts.

Jan Ross

Jan's formal opening, set for this coming Friday and Saturday, June 12 and 13, will be an auto show in itself.

Jan Ross' International Salon peddles 25 different kinds of economy and sports car imports, and is the franchised dealer for 18 different makes.

He's rated one of the biggest mall car dealers in these parts—if not the whole of the U.S. His sales and service facilities are second to none, he says.

Renault, Rolls Royce, Peugot, Bentley, Facil, Vega, Peerless, Triumph, Alpha Romeo, Jaguar, Lancia, Morgan (4x4), Citroen, Panhard, Isetta, NSU Prinz, BMW, Borgward, Bristol and Damlier Benz are all to be seen at his salesrooms.

Jan has some 50 people working at the international Salon, and more than 100 at his other locations, selling used cars, etc., at 380 E. Broad, 424 E. Broad, 2280 Cleveland-av, and Salon at 257 E. Broad and a wholesale facility in Detroit

A preview of Jan's big opening comes off Wednesday at a cocktail party for the press, radio, TV and advertising fraternities. This, like the two-day openings, will be anything but an ordinary affair.

Invitations, for example, will be mailed from Paris, France, in cooperation with the makers of the Renault car which is Jan's leading seller.

The opening ceremonies get underway at 4 p.m. with Mayor Sensenbrenner and other city and state officials participating in a ribbon cutting ceremony.

Ray Cincione's orchestra will play Friday evening as the big show formally opens.

Kellys Cop First Round Title With 14-10 Win

Kellys won the first round of the Saturday Independent Slo Pitch League last week by winning their fifth straight game of the season, 14-10 from Don's Inn.

Big guns in the Kelly attack were J. Wagenbrenner and Ray Berry who banged out eight hits good for 21 bases.

Wagenbrenner collected two home runs, a triple and a single, while Berry blasted a homer, two doubles and a single.

Don's, in suffering their fifth straight loss, hit into four rally killing double plays.

Burchfield and J. Fallon led the Don's attack by each banging out five hits.

In other action, the Landmark Kids finished in a deadlock for second place with Old Landmark by drubbing their neighborhood buddies 13 - 9. Henry led the Kids with a homer, double and single, while J. T. Duckworth chipped in with a double and two singles in the Old Landmark cause.

Olympian Club bested Omar's 14-10 in the day's final contest as Harry Sells, Don Kraft, Jim Constosta and John Maloney divided 12 hits among them.

Sells, 52-year-old South Side veteran, enjoyed his best day at the plate this season by slashing out three singles and also played steller ball on the Olympian hot corner.

Wilbanks got four singles and Balum three in Omar's losing cause. Both teams now stand even in the race with identical 2-3 won-lost records.

The league swings into its second of three rounds Saturday with Kellys meeting Olympian Club, Old Landmark pitted against the Omar's and Don's against the Landmark Kids.

Originally the 15-game schedule was to be played straight through the season, but a recent change in policy by league officials established a three-round, round robin system.

Winners of each five-game round will playoff for the league championship at the conclusion of the season in August.

Livingston Methodist Ties For First In 'Y'

Livingston Methodist, sparked by the defensive play of Mike Filbin, nosed out Frebis Church of God 3 to 2 in the feature game of the South Side "Y" Church softball leagues last week. Livingston's victory threw the two teams into a tie for first round honors. Other games in the Monday's Junior play saw Gates-Fourth Method'st top South Congregational 3 to 2 and Hungarian F & R. outslug Southwood Church of Christ 13 to 12. In the later contest Andy Poenik, Mike Beach and Gene Moore had four hits apiece to lead the hit parade.

In the girls' league on Tuesday evening, league leading St. John E. & R. continued his winning ways by defeating Southwood Church of Christ while power packed St. Paul E. & R. remained one half game behind, and also undefeated, by outclassing the lassies from the Church of God.

Livingston overpowered Oakwood Methodist and Hungarian E. & R. shut out South Methodist in other games played by the fairer sex. Mary Komives, Hungarian's ace hurler, struck out 18 batters, allowed only three hits and got herself three hits in as many plate appearances. Hats. off to a great performance and a salute to the player of the week — Miss Komives.

Wednesday's Junior League also had its share of thrills. Ohio Ave. E.U.B. behind 9 to 3 made a thrilling comeback to whip St John E. & R. 13 to 9 and run their winning streak to four and thus continue their drive for first round honors. St. Paul Lutheran found their battin geyes and remained one game behind the league leaders, following their victory over Oakwood.

In other action, Jack Stephen's St. Paul E. & R. tasted victroy for the first time this season by downing South Methodist and Washington Ave. E.U.B. clicked on all nine to upset Emmanuel Lutheran.

WORK HOBBY ONLY—Mrs. Gail Shrapshire stands behind one of the many plants she busies herself with while at work at a neighborhood cleaners. The plants, totaling 74 in number, are only a "work hobby." She collects antiques at home.

Thousands Share Woman's Hobby

Thousands of people share the hobby-away-from-home of Mrs. Gail Shrapshire, 1258 S. High-st.

Mrs. Shrapshire has turned the First National Cleaners, 1336 Parsons-av, into a kind of greenhouse, with her 74 plants decorating windows, shelves and the floor.

She says there is a big turnover in plants since she gives them away to anyone who really likes them. In turn, the customers are always on the lookout for strange plants that they can add to her collection.

Included in the greenery are an airplane plant, philodendron, polar ivy, lace fern, a cotton plant, amerilla, avocado, a pineapple plant, a tomato plant, a cigar plant, a prayer plant, an original Joseph's Coat and a creeping Jerry.

She has also grown rhubarb and lettuce at the plant.

"I love nature," she says. "If you like something it comes naturally; you don't have to work at it." That explains the rare green thumb of this woman who has never read a "How To Do It" book on gardening.

Mrs. Shrapshire began her hobby two years ago when she took charge of the dry cleaning shop. People started bringing in plants from everywhere to add to her collection.

She has brightened up the plants by adding miniature bugs, birds and insects to the leaves. She has decorated her grand hedge apple with gumdrops.

But at home Mrs. Shrapshire has only two plants. Her hobby there is antiques. Although she tries to keep these two hobbies separate, she does have a couple of 90-year-old kettles in the shop as flower pots.

At home she just tinkers with her antiques, does housework and loves to cook.

She was born on a farm near Jackson, O., and has worked with soil and plants all her life. She came to Columbus in January, 1956.

Marion Area Resident Blasts City

Wind blown weeds in the South Side's old Marion area last week brought sharp criticism from a local resident against the city of Columbus.

Maurice Andersen, 1076 Rumsey-rd, saw weeds piled two feet high in some sections of his garden as winds spread weeds from a city-owned field near Andersen's house over gardens and lawns on the north side of the 1000 block of Rumsey-rd in the city's Marion Township addition.

The city purchased the land near Andersen for a new school, Stockbridge Elementary, currently under construction.

Andersen is pleased with the school's progress, but not with the way the city has let the weeds grow in the field.

"This is just another of the problems we've had since we were annexed to the city a couple of years ago," Andersen stated.

"When they came around with annexation petitions, the city promised we would have sewers and water within a year. That was two years ago and we still don't have them."

Andersen said a farmer had owned the property currently used to construct the school and that "he took good care of it." He added that "We've never had anything like this."

ROBBERY THWARTED

Two youths were routed from an attempt to rob a cash register in David's barber shop, 785 S. High-st, as proprietor David Rochman grabbed one of the boys. They escaped without taking anything, except perhaps a small amount of change police said.

South Side Girl Vies For Title

Dotti Dietlin, 430 E. Stewart-av is one of five Columbus girls who will vie for the title of 1959 "Miss Firefighter" at the Firemen's Ball Saturday at the Buckeye Bldg., Ohio State Fairgrounds.

The winner will receive a trophy sponsored by Shirley MacLaine, star of "Ask Any Girl" which starts June 25 at Loew's Broad, plus a week's vacation for two at the Surfcomber, Miami Beach.

Tickets are on sale at Columbus fire stations. Proceeds go to the firemen's Benefit and Athletic Associations.

St. Ann's Backs College Fund Bake Sales

St. Ann's Infant Home and Hospital Guilds will conduct a series of Bake Sales Saturday, June 20, in five areas, including the Albers Super Market on Livingston-av.

Mrs. W. Seipel and Mrs. William Grannan, of Guild No. 38, will assist in the affair.

Proceeds will go to the Sisters of St. Francis College Fund.

HONOR PASTOR

A reception honoring the Rev. and Mrs. Walter C. Peters upon their eleventh return to South Methodist Church will be held Sunday, June 21, 1959, immediately following the close of the 10:30 a.m. worship service.

June Collection Due Soon

Your Hartley newscarrier will call on you soon for his monthly collections.

He must collect from every customer before paying his bill. Your prompt payment will help the boy, as well as his parents, who are trying to teach him to take care of his paper route in a business-like way.

He will give you a receipt for June. Thank you!

Delinquency Aired By City Police Head

Only Three To Five Percent Of All Youths Cause Crime

A serious wrong deed committed by a teenage boy and girl generally draws storms of attention that gives "juvenile delinquency" an importance alongside the baseball scores, taxes, and East-West Berlin.

The cry "juvenile delinquency" is usually short lived, but loud — always loud. And while it lasts it dims the quiet recital of lessons in classrooms and psalms in church—and even the pretty loud sound of fun in football stands and gymnasiums.

Out of a sense of fairness, and for the good of all concerned, the record must be set right from time to time. The indictments must set fairly, too. Just who are juvenile delinquents? Does the South Side have more than its share of them? Is there really a problem, or no problem at all?

Captain Phillip Momburg, Columbus Police Department Juvenile Bureau, has some of the answers for Columbus and the South Side. In an address to Southern Kiwanis Club, Momburg dug five-year-old police files for the following statistics: 51 per cent of all crimes committed in Columbus (not including traffic violations) are committed by juveniles (approximately unchanged each year during the five years 1952-1957).

Who are juveniles? Momburg's records were compiled for six to 17-year-olds (18 and 19-year-olds are minors by law, but also classed as adults if they get into trouble).

And who are the delinquents?

The 15-year-old who overstays a coke date or football game and arrives home a bit late and thereby earns family discipline?

The 11-year-old who makes a big thing of rough play in the community swimming pool and thereby earns the guard's reprimand or warning?

The 14-year-old who prefers gang buster and dragnet TV shows to science movies and TV westerns?

The answer is plain and simple: none of these. The reason is equally plain:

(1) Columbus Police Department has no jurisdictional interest unless there have been charges preferred by a complainant (and, of course, a law must have been broken), and (2) most kids enjoy a temporary lapse from good behavior, but will NOT "grow" into serious trouble makers.

Is there a problem, or no problem at all? Police department records again point up the problem. That 51 per cent of all crimes should be committed by juveniles is indeed a problem. But here's the key to the matter: the 51 per cent crimes (2663 arrests in 1957) were committed by only three to five per cent of the total youth population. A few kids gone "haywire" are responsible for most of the troubles.

"We have a great number of repeaters," Momburg pointed out in his talk to Kiwanians. And South Side boys and girls are no better nor worse than most of their neighbors.

Troubles reach their peak at about age 15, Momburg said. Some kids get into trouble by

Red Devil Boosters Start Drive

Marion-Franklin Booster Club President Jack Schoonover and president-elect Lamonte White this week announced the "kick-off" of a drive to provide a new football scoreboard for Marion-Franklin High School.

The students of the Southeastern school, through their clubs and organizations, have already contributed $500 to make the beginning of the Booster Club's new activity a healthy one.

During the next 30 days, members of the club will call on business establishments for advertisements and will wind up the drive with a house-to-house canvass on Monday, July 13.

Approximately 10,000 special programs containing advertisements and names of all contributors will be distributed free at Red Devil's six home football games next fall.

"The old scoreboard has seen its days," general chairman Ralph Ruh stated. "We need a new scoreboard if our fans are really to enjoy and appreciate the games."

Total cost of the new scoreboard is estimated to be approximately $1800.

Ruhl, who resides at 2426 S. High-st, will head the campaign which has divided the South Side

City's Playground Season Opens With Instructor Training Program

The Columbus summer playground program opened yesterday as about 175 instructors completed a two-day training program at Schiller Recreation Center.

Attendance was divided equally by teachers, college students and permanent recreation staff members. The program was directed by Tom Crawshaw.

There will be additional training each Saturday from 9 a.m to noon at the various playgrounds until Aug 28, the close of the program season.

Instructors must be 21 years old or have two years of college, or they must pass a civil service test.

Two to five supervisors are located at each playground to train their share of the city's 200,000 to 300,000 children.

A season of many and varied special events will culminate Aug. 20 with a city-wide pageant at Central High School. Last year 1200 children participated in the affair.

The events will include everything from arts and crafts to volleyball.

Dean Lewis, popular WBNS disc jockey, and a local beverage company are cooperating with the recreation department to sponsor Hi-Fi Club dances weekly at the playgrounds.

The recreation department was established in 1910.

The following parks are located on the South Side: Schiller, Blackburn, Fornof School, Karns, Lincoln, Livingston, Mohawk School, Smith Road School, Southeast Lions and Southview

FISHING FAN—Terry Leach, stricken with polio seven years ago, practices casting his new fishing rod in the back yard of his home in hopes of landing that "big one" at Schiller Park. Terry's proficiency with the rod and reel have caused him to move back into the yard after recent efforts from his front porch tied up traffic on Reeb-av.

Youthful Fisherman Likes Casting, Cars And Baseball

Terry Leach, 12, 99 Reeb-av, loves to fish. And he's good at casting, too.

As a matter of fact he became so good that his practice casts from the front porch went across the street and he had to go to the back yard. Now his problem is casting over the garage and snagging the plug in the weeds and debris behind the garage.

Like most boys, he also likes to build model cars and play baseball.

Unlike most boys, Terry has polio.

One day in 1952 Terry romped vigorously with the neighborhood kids. When he awoke the next morning his legs ached and he had a temperature.

His mother, Mrs. Gladys Leach, became worried. On the next day when he got out of bed his legs didn't function properly. His knees buckled after he went a few feet.

Mrs. Leach's suspicions of polio were confirmed when Terry was taken to Children's Hospital.

Since that time Terry has had two operations, one in 1955, and one three months ago. Due to these operations both his leg braces are gone.

The original cast from the second operation was taken off a few days ago. Although doctors won't know definite results of the operation for a few months they said the scars are healing well.

Terry attended Reeb Avenue Elementary School until the recent operation. Next September he will enter the fifth grade at Reeb.

Mrs. Leach says the Polie foundation and the family's insurance have taken care of all the hospital expenses, which have amounted to "several thousand dollars." The recent operation cost $6-700.

"Other kids in the neighborhood treat him as equal," says Mrs. Leach. "As a result he tries to do everything they do. He is even too brave sometimes."

He plays a stumbling game of baseball, she says. But he's determined. He gets up and keeps running.

Terry's sister, Diana, 16, and brother, Larry, 14, "don't favor him at all," according to Mrs. Leach. "They worry about him and look after him but they fight all the time. It's a very typical situation. We wouldn't have it any other way."

She praises the polio foundation as "really wonderful—just great." She says that all the good things she and her husband, Oscar, had heard about it "are certainly true. We really don't know what we would have done without them."

Terry attends the Sunshine Mission Sunday School.

This game young man has followed his first love and entered the second annual Southeast Lions Fishing Contest to be held at Schiller Park, June 17 to Aug. 20.

The contest is open to all boys and girls 14 and under. All fish will be tagged and prizes will be offered by number. The grand prize will be a bicycle.

Other features will be a casting contest, movies and parties.

Entry blanks are available at the following locations: Neubeck's Confectionery, Hoermle's Appliances, Schiller Park, Howard's Sales and Services and the Corner Food Market.

'Vapor-Locked' Tax Money Freed For Gasoline Dealers

Ohio's gasoline dealers have won themselves a tax rebate victory "out of thin air."

A bill signed two weeks ago by Governor Michael V. DiSalle will give station operators a one percent gasoline tax rebate as an evaporation allowance, beginning Aug. 21

The Central Ohio Gasoline Dealers Association, along with like groups from other Ohio cities, have finally won an eight-year crusade to get the rebate. I. L. Snider, who operates a station with Clarence Fladt at Sullivant and Hague-avs, is president of the group and Vernon Kertzinger, attorney at 3060½ W. Broad-st, is executive secretary.

Snider explained that Ohio Dealers have always suffered "short measure" when it comes to handling the state's gas tax money. As a transport filled his tanks, he pointed to the "shimmer" around the filler pipe. "See that," he said, "I know you can smell it. It's gasoline evaporating . . . money wasted."

"This gas pre-shrunk?"

"It might not amount to much to the customer," he continued, "but to one dealer who handles thousands of gallons a year it's a real loss. We can't prevent all that waste, but we sure shouldn't pay a tax on it."

Attorney Kertzinger explained that under past Ohio law the state tax (recently hiked to eight cents a gallon) was collected from the manufacturer. The tax, in turn, was billed to the retailer at the time of delivery, who finally charged it to the customer. The manufacturer, alone, got a three percent rebate for "shrinkage."

Gasoline, being the volatile stuff it is, was cheating the dealer most. Under the new amendment to the Ohio State Code, the manufacturer gets a two percent rebate, the dealer one. This amounts to a 57 return to the corner station for every 10,000 gallons sold.

Association president Snider said dealers also keep a sizeable amount of money tied up in tax pre-paid gas stored in reserve tanks

Attorney Kertzinger, who has carried the banner for local dealers in Blue Law matters and other cases, said the state actually stands to gain a little under the new setup. Dealers will be required to apply for their rebates within 60 days, twice yearly. A few will forget and lose their refunds, he predicted.

MORE MILEAGE FROM MIKE—Present at the signing of a tax rebate amendment by Gov. Michael DiSalle are (left to right) J. X. Schwartz, Cincinnati; I. L. Snider, dealer at Hagus and Sullivant-avs, who is president of the Central Ohio Gasoline Dealers Association; Ohio Senator John Smith and V. J. Kertzinger, attorney and executive secretary of the group. The new law will return 57 to the dealers for every 10,000 gallons he sells.

DO BROWN EGGS BUG THE SOUTH?

It can be arugred seriously that if the Deep South's intellectual wastelands didn't exist, they'd have to be invented.

The habit patterns of some of the quaint, Faubus-like fauna infesting the region have a weird, antic charm as delightful as a trip to the zoo.

Now they're sweating and snorting in fear over the "menace" of nursery books. Scared stiff.

Seems a dastardly volume (for kiddies 3 to 6) shows a black bunny holding hands with a white bunny. And a new edition of "Three Little Pigs" depicts varicolored piglets gamboling together.

This, the segregationists yawp, is a subversive plot to destroy the United States. They mean it seriously. The bunny book was banned in Alabama libraries.

This time, however, the addled white supremacists have become merely burlesque figures in their gibbering terror of nursery rhymes.

An honest zealot can still be a creature of dignity. However wrong, you can pity such a one. Not so these eye-rolling hinds and bumpkins, yelping when a big, bad bunny confronts them in a baby book.

Based on their recent action, you can now chart the course of their hysteric paranoia.

Sometime soon a fanatic segregationist will discover that no'the'n plotters are shipping brown eggs into Dixie. State troopers will man the borders to turn back all but white eggs. Only White Leghorns will be allowed on Dixie farms. (Rhode Island Reds are obviously subversive.)

Of course, 100% White Citizens Councilmen will only eat the whites of eggs — until the day when a horror-stricken KKK kleagle becomes aware that egg whites were in the same desegregated shells as colored yolks.

Eggs will be banned forthwith.

Some gallused crossroads oracle will proclaim that blue eyes are a purer kind of pure than brown eyes — and families will be sundered as blue-eyed husbands rush to divorce brown-eyed wives.

Farfetched? Look out, man! There's a wicked wabbit wight behind you!

This is logic, segregationist style, in the Year of Our Lord, 1959.

Cancer Survey Spots 400 Cases In This County

The 400th case of cancer of the uterus has been detected in the cancer survey project now entering the fourth (and final) year in Franklin County.

The project's office reported that 90,279 women over 20 years of age, in the county, have cooperated in the survey through examinations in the office of their own physician.

Of the number more than 29,000 have returned for the second test, and 5,600 for the third time.

Each of the 400 cases has either been clinically cured or is now under treatment, the office reported.

The screening is being done under a grant from the U. S. Public Health Service, and it has the cooperation of the Columbus Academy of Medicine, the Ohio State University, the Columbus Health Department and the American Cancer Society.

Paul's Spirit Was Never Imprisoned

Imprisoned in body, but free in spirit—that was the experience of the Apostle Paul.

Imprisoned at Philippi; a prisoner in his own house in Rome; a prisoner aboard ship; through it all, he was the indominable man of the free spirit.

Each apart from actual detention, Paul in many ways was not a free agent. His course was set by persecution, and by the course of events.

It was evidence of the masterful, free spirit that he turned everything to advantage, making the most outwardly discouraging circumstances the occasions and scenes of Christian triumph.

We are all, in a sense, prisoners of circumstance, we are subject to limitations and frustrations over which we have no control.

Nothing but decisions and actions of the free spirit can turn them, like Paul's adversities, into occasions of triumph.

What moved Paul was a sense of destiny, a will of God. The full attainment of this spirit-deep urge he sought above all else, allowing nothing to swerve him from his purpose.

Even lesser souls can make life victorious. They can, if a free spirit and a sense of God's purpose dominate their lives as they did the life of Saint Peter.

Arthur Cooley, 144 Whitethorne-av, largemouth bass; Donald Riddlebarger, 1989 Myrtle-av, walleye; Agnes Melvin, 4300 Yearling Circle, walleye; Alfred Davidson, 147 Woodcliff-dr, walleye; and Ray Henderson, 893 Friye-av, walleye.

The catfish entered by Robert Wiley weighed over 12 pounds, and was checked at the B and Z Live Bait. The big fish came from Big Darby Creek.

Catfish Are Biting

When hot weather sets in to stay until September, it stirs the catfisherman into activity. At least that's the way hot weather affects Buck Lightle, Mt. Sterling, and he's had terrific success so far this year. Recently, he and two buddies, Dan Dover and Dick Wilson, took 61 catfish on a trotline in Deer Creek, using leeches for bait. The largest fish scaled a few ounces over 13 pounds.

Buck has also been catching some man-sized carp. More than once, he says, the trotline was jumping up and down wildly, and he anticipated a grand-daddy catfish. When the line was lifted it revealed a carp.

One good thing about catfishing is that you don't have to stop when the water gets muddy. It is an accepted fact among fish catfishermen, and among fish technicians too, that catfish find their food largely by scent. With highly developed sense organs it is easy for catfish to find food or your bait, in muddy water. Many old timers wait for a good shower before they go out for "Mr. Whiskers."

Entries in the Fishing Derby are reflecting that catfishin' time in here. Fish caught either on rod and reel or on trotline are eligible for the Derby. The catfish division is loaded with prizes: First—Johnson Century reel and 100 yards of Cortland Heart. O-Gold Co., and 110 yards Sun-Tapatco Wood-Stream creel and tackle bag; and Third—Williams Wablers, Williams Bold Co., and 110 yards Sunset Coral King casting-line.

The Grand Award in the Fishing Derby this year is a week's vacation at Timberlane Acres—a beautiful fishing resort in the Kawartha Lakes district of Ontario, Canada. This resort is operated by Maurley E. Sutton, 155 Binns-blvd. The walleye season is open right now in Ontario, and fishermen are really taking limits according to the Suttons who returned recently from Timberlane Acres.

The cabins are located on Pigeon Lake, a familiar name to northern fishermen. On June 27 the bass and muskellunge season opens there, and we'll keep you posted on fishing conditions and results.

FISHING REPORT

Bernard Fluhart, 520 Morrill-av, reports that fishing is good at Jackson Lake, a new pay-lake below Lithopolis on County Route 6. He recently caught three catfish, and a northern pike there. The pike was 26 inches long.

Mayor Urges War On Weeds

Property owners should 'lower the boom' on noxious weeds growing in vacant lots, Mayor Sensenbrenner warned this week.

The mayor said there are many cases of negligence in the city. A 1957 ordinance established a fine of $5 to $50 for persons who permit weeds to grow taller than 12 inches.

On the black list are thistles, burdocks, jimson weeds, ragweed, milkweed, mullein, and poison ivy and oak.

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

EGGS ROLLING YOUR WAY

When the nation's hens began laying eggs this year, they meant business. Working overtime, they've turned in a production job that hasn't been equaled in a long, long time. Because of the large number of eggs being produced, egg prices have dropped to pre-world War II levels. You certainly can balance your budget by using eggs to full advantage in these days of great abundance and reasonable prices.

Eggs fill the bill for all-around good eating every day. They are truly the "health and ecomony" food. Nutritionally, they are unexcelled; in cost they can hardly be matched—one and one-half pounds of high-quality food per dozen eggs. They are "naturally" packaged for convenience and easy storage. Eggs are easy to prepare in many different kinds of dishes. In addition to fried, scrambled, boiled or poached for breakfast, eggs add richness to casseroles, breads, cakes, custards, puddings and dozens of other favorite foods.

Grade Tells the Quality: No one can tell the quality of an egg by just looking at it, but there is a guide to interior quality. Federal-state grade standards indicated by the familiar shield with the letters "U.S.D.A." and the classification "A," "B," or "C" provide this guide.

U.S. Grade A eggs are top quality. They have a large proportion of thick white that stands up around the high firm yolk. Grade A eggs are tops in appearance and flavor and are especially good for frying, poaching and cooking in the shell. U. S. Grade B and C eggs have a thinner white and a flatter yolk that breaks more easily than the Grade A ones. These grades serve you well for baking and cooking where appearance is not of primary importance—as for baking or to thicken foods as custards or pie fillings.

Size Tells the Quality — Eggs are sized according to weight. The most frequently found egg sizes and their minimum weight per dozen are: Large-24 ounces; medium-21 ounces; and small-18 ounces. During the spring months the large size eggs are the economical buy on a price-per-pound basis. During the late summer and early fall the small and medium sizes are the better values.

Color Tells Little — Shell color is not an indicator of flavor, food value, or cooking performance. Should you find a price difference between a dozen brown or mixed colored eggs and a dozen white of the same size and grade, the "economy buy" is the one with the lower price tag.

Eggs Require Proper Handling — Eggs kept at room temperature for three days lose as much quality as those kept in the refrigerator for two weeks. Buy from refrigerated cases. To maintain quality, store in the refrigerator away from strong flavored foods. Store covered with the small end down. Remove from the refrigerator only the number of eggs you plan to use at one time. The term "fresh eggs" has meaning only if storage has been maintained from poultry farm to the table.

GUIDE FOR SUBSTITUTING

Most standard recipes call for medium size eggs. You may be able to save money in baking or cooking by using the most economical size. The following is a guide for substituting various sizes of eggs in recipes. Number to fill a cup:

	L.	M.	L.
Whole eggs	6	5	4
Egg whites	9	8	7
Egg yolks	19	17	14

Once again we are in the time of year that columnists find to be "rough" in the way of finding news. So we do implore the readers to remember us when "company comes" or vacation trips are made. Actually we like to hear from the readers 52 weeks in the year but dislike making a weekly plea for news. In the summer, though, we find it necessary, for our contacts with friends and co-workers in organizations are less. PLEASE include ye old Gadabout in your plans! She's not as spry as she usta be! (If any of our offspring are reading, we're only kidding.) Just call us at HI. 4-1051, or send your news to 1411 S. Sixth-st. Thanks!

Upsets Mark 'Y' Ball Games

Because of graduation and rain only two sets of games were completed in the South Side Y Church softball leagues last week. Despite the abbreviated program, two previously undefeated teams were upset and a first round champion was crowned.

In the Monday Junior League, Frehis Church of God had on its hitting togs and, coupled with the fine twirling of John Evans, scored a victory over Livingston Methodist to win the loop's first round laurels. Other washday games saw Gates-Fourth upset Hungarian E and R and Southwood Church of Christ overpower South Congregational.

In a girls' make-up game St. Paul E and R took over temporary possession of first place by edging the previously leading St. John E and R ten. 4 to 2.

Thrills, spills and upsets were also on the agenda in the Wednesday night Junior League. Ohio Avenue EUB bit the dust when it was defeated by the Washington EUB, 5 to 3, but St Paul Lutheran failed to take advantage of the opportunity and lost to the St. John E and R.

Emmanuel Lutheran, along with the last three named teams, is now in second place, just one game behind Ohio Avenue EUB. Emmanuel kept in the pennant fight with a last inning victory over a fighting South Methodist crew while St. Paul E and R continued to improve and scored its latest win over Oakwood Steve Tuth, Tommy Lutz and Bruce Harris paced the hitters last week.

South Side Man Retires After 37 Years

Ervin Moehrman, Sr., 454 Frankfort-st, retired last month following 37 years continuous service with the Timken Roller Bearing Company. He held the position of shift superintendent.

Moehrman started as a tool maker in the tool room, 18 months later was promoted to foreman in roller gage. He received other promotions, including being named shift superintendent in 1943.

Ervin was born May 26, 1894, in Columbus.

His family includes his wife, Rose, and their two sons, Ervin, Jr., Robert, and five grandchildren.

Retirement plans include more time for enjoying his grandchildren, gardening and traveling to eastern United States if health permits.

Nazarene Camp Schedule Planned

Boys and girls, aged nine to 13, from area Nazarene churches are scheduled for week-long outings at the central Ohio district Nazarene camp grounds, Morse-rd. Boys' camp will be June 22 to 27; girls' camp, June 29 to July 4.

Rev. Ernest B. Marsh, Columbus, will be camp director. Rev. James L. Honaker, New Lexington, will assist.

District assembly will be July 13 to 17 with three daily preaching services. Evangelists will be Rev. B. V. Seals, Seattle, and Rev. John S. Logan London.

The White Company in Cleveland turns out almost 400 hand-built, precision tested, brass musical instruments every week which are used in bands all over the world.

South Sider Cited With Drunk Charge

A South Side city construction inspector will appear in Municipal Court today on charges of drunk driving.

Frank B. Shuter, 53, of 794 Ebner-st, was cited by police last week after his city-owned car crashed into another car on E. Livingston-av, at Alum Creek-dr.

Police said Shuter will also face two other charges — reckless operation of a motor vehicle and failure to keep an assured clear distance ahead.

The front of the city sedan driven by Shuter was smashed when it hit the rear of a car stopped for a traffic light at the intersection, police said.

David Morrison, 44, of 1438 Lilley-av, driver of the other car, said he was stopped behind two others at the lights

Shuter, who received a cut lip in the accident, was assigned to new street inspection. He told police he was driving east about 20 to 30 miles per hour.

Fourth Of July Nearing; Heed Fireworks Law

Independence Day and all of its festivities are just ahead and now is the time to think about the dangers of fireworks.

According to the law, "Fireworks" is defined as any combustible or explosive compound, or any substances or combination of substances, or article or device prepared for the purpose of causing a visible effect, an audible effect, or ascension into the air by combustion, explosion, deflagration, or detonation.

No person within the city limits of Columbus shall manufacture, have, keep, store, discharge, ignite, explode, sell, offer for sale, give or deliver any "fireworks" to any person.

But children can still have their fun with toy cap shooting devices in which paper caps containing no more than twenty-five hundredths grains of explosive compound are used, and provided that those devices are made so as not to allow the hands to come in contact with the exploding caps.

Everyone can enjoy fireworks since permits are issued by the chief of the fire department to organizations that hold public fireworks displays in many places throughout the city on the 4th of July.

Observe the law and enjoy a safe and sane holiday.

Lamberson Help Lead Swan Team

Lamberson

Harry Lamberson, president of the Swan Club, has a full schedule for the coming summer months. In addition to directing the club's activities he is collaborating with Carl Haag in coaching the club's Babe Ruth baseball team.

For the past several years Lamberson has donated much of his time to coaching young ball players and giving them the finer points that he acquired in his professional ball-playing days.

Frank Howard, Los Angeles Dodger prospect, and Paul Ebert, former Ohio State University pitcher, are two of the better ball players that he has worked with.

The Swan Club Babe Ruth team, which is made up of 13, 14 and 15-year-olds, has won its first two games and prospects look good for another successful season.

In 1957 the team advanced to the state finals and in 1958 it won the local American League championship.

The 40-member Swan Club and the merchants who are helping back the team are pleased to have such men as Lamberson and Haag handling the Babe Ruth activities again this year.

"Why do blonde men marry the earliest?"

"Cause they're light-headed."

Referees Attacked In Jones Park Feature

Jones Park's third week of professional wrestling was highlighted by a double disqualification last Saturday when opponents in the cards four-man tag team event attacked referees following a minor dispute.

With each team registering one fall each, the team of Glen Redman and Jack Lamont attacked referees Mike Duffey and Lee Burton following their decision to make one of the two men leave the ring.

Both contestants entered the squared circle, thereby disqualifying each other until such time as one would have left the ring.

Ray Fleetfoot and Jack Stanley, favorites of the crowd, protested the double action by Lamont and Redman thus bringing on action by the two referees.

In other action Saturday, Lamont was disqualified in his bout with Fleetfoot and Stanley and Redman fought to a 30-minute draw.

Friday night's action saw Stanley beat Chest Breanemen and a rough 30-minute draw between Mingo and Ralph Wahley.

In the tag-team feature, the team of Stanley and Wahley beat the team of Mingo and Brennemen two falls to one.

Jones Park's fourth week of wrestling will feature a six-man "battle royal" with Stanley, Fleetfoot and Lee Burton pitted against the trio of Lamont, Breanemen, and Redman.

The feature, hoped to be an annual Saturday night event, will be preceded by 30-minute one-fall bouts between Burton and Redman, Stanley and Lamont and Fleetfoot and Brennemen.

Friday night's card will pit Jack Smithers against Sonny Boy Karnes and Rocky Mingo against Ralph Whaley, with a best of two falls tag team event to follow.

Promoter Bob Rogers this week invited the public to the weekly Saturday afternoon workouts at the park. Wrestlers featured in weekend clashes hold their practice sessions at 2 p.m. every Saturday, giving exhibitions and explaining holds and various techniques.

There is no charge for attending the practice sessions.

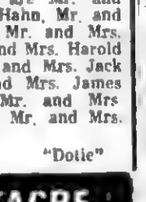
Bible Baptism

The Bible says much on the subject of baptism. No one can afford to ignore the Bible!

In Mark 16:16 Jesus said, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." In Acts 2:38 Peter said that one must repent and be baptized "for remission of sins." In Acts 22:16 Ananias told Saul, "arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins."

Many other passages could be given, but these should be sufficient to show that salvation comes after one has obeyed the command of baptism.



Before one can obey the command of baptism he must first believe in Christ — Mark 16:16, repent of his sins—Acts 2:38, and confess his faith — Acts 8:36, 37. Then, he can be baptized for remission of sins and come forth from baptism to "walk in newness of life" —Rom. 6:4. Baptism is the beginning of the new life in Christ!

playing a bad game of follow the leader, but delinquents are most often "loners," he said; or, at least, they're on the outskirts of youth society.

Records show, too, that most trouble makers are really "juveniles" who seldom act their ages. They accomplish few good things in their homes, school and play, and, unless helped, build nothing more than a bad individual record leading nowhere except to more serious adult troubles.

The problem, as Momburg pointed out, is reaching these hard to reach kids. There is no panacea, no "one shot," Momburg said. Forces affecting youth behavior spring from many facets of environment from many facets of human nature.

There are several generalities that seem to apply, however:

Most boys and girls are not potential delinquents; will not go "haywire."

Boys' clubs, churches, Scouts, and other groups interested in young people provide many constructive activities and interests and, in fact, play an important part.

Mothers and dads can solve a lot of the problems in the home —even neighborhood squabbles and bad reports sent home by life guards, teachers and playground leaders.

Giving a boy or girl a police record (an arrest) does not provide the best basis for straightening him or her out.

Established standards of excellence are good goals for all youngsters — much better than following unprincipled leadership casually attempted by their friends.

Twigs Sponsor Productions

A group of Children's Hospital Twigs will sponsor an opening night at Playhouse on the Green on Monday, June 22. The production "Say, Darling" will be sponsored by Twigs 66, 72, 76, 83, and 113. On Monday, June 29, Twigs 56, 69, 81, 87, 90 and 128 will sponsor "Mr. Roberts."

Tickets are priced at $1.50, $2.25 and $2.50 and reservations can be made by calling the group project chairman, Mrs. Paul Shoaf, HI. 3-1893.

These are the first two in a series of P.O.G. opening nights that will be sponsored by Children's Hospital Twigs this summer. The slogan for this Twig project is "Fun for Funds" and all proceeds will benefit Children's Hospital.

"Beat the Pro" the annual charity golf sweepstakes sponsored by Wing 65 of Nightingale Cottage, will open a 10-day run on Friday, June 19, at the South Golf Range, 2980 S. High-st.

Big Bear will give the $1000 bonus to the first golfer who makes two holes-in-one and will also present $100 in cash to every golfer scoring an ace. South Golf Range will award a $250 set of golf clubs as a door prize. An array of nightly merchandise prizes will also be handed out.

Ten top Central Ohio professionals will serve as guest pros for the event, which will be held each evening including Saturdays and Sundays until June 28, from 7 until 11 p.m.

The event works this way: Each night the guest pro takes five shots at the pin, with his best effort setting the standard for the evening. Every golfer beating the pro will receive a signed certificate.

Members of Wing 65 will serve as hostesses at the range.

Ohio farm prices in April averaged 11 percent below those of a year ago. This was due primarily, say OSU extension economists, to the break in the prices of eggs and chickens and the seasonal drop in milk prices.

Barrett Closes With Orientation Of New Pupils

Barret Junior High School completed the school year of 1958-59 with a welcome and orientation of new pupils from the elementary sixth grades Friday morning, June 12, a final distribution of grade cards Friday morning, and a final teachers' meeting Friday afternoon.

The Barrett building will be open with the office staff on duty through June 26. This is especially important for pupils who should register for summer school, whether for advance credit or for make-up.

Many pupils have been urged to use this summer school to get themselves into regular class standing for the coming school year. Summer school classes for Barrett and its neighboring jun, for high schools will be held in the Mohawk Junior High School building from June 22 to August 14.

This is within walking distance of some part of the Barrett community. Pupils can register in their own school through tomorrow.

The Barrett Junior High School building will reopen with a full staff on Aug. 17, and will remain open during office hours through the next school year.

The two weeks before the opening of school for classes are the best time of the year for registering of new pupils—those who were in other places last year who will go to Barrett this coming year. Those who register early gain a better start for themselves and save time and convenience for themselves and the school.

Girl Scout News

Camp Wyandot, the Camp Fire Girls' resident camp, will open its 34th season on June 21. Ten one-week sessions are planned for the coming summer. Girls eight through 14 may attend, and it is not necessary to be a member of a Camp Fire group to take advantage of Camp Wyandot's facilities.

Applications are being taken now at Camp Fire office, 718 S. High-st. The camp accommodates 120 girls each session.

Campers live in small groups, six girls, a counselor and a junior counselor to a cabin. The camp has rustic-type buildings with a large dining hall, nature cabin, hospital building and a new bath house.

The camp has a large swimming pool. American Red Cross lessons are used for swimming instruction. Campers have one period of instructional swim each day and one time to just have fun in the water.

The girls have a program in outdoor adventure, cookouts, nature hikes, crafts and singing. The last night of camp a large council fire is held.

A new advanced camp unit is set up for girls 12 through 14 who want "real outdoor living." These campers live in tents and do all of their own cooking.

Camp Wyandot has a counselor-in-training program for girls 16 and 17 years of age. Thirty girls attend this training each summer for five weeks. Four girls from the Southeast district are taking this training this summer. The girls are Nancy Buller, Cheryl Suter, Lydia Oursler and Fay Coleman.

Wyandot is directed by Norma Dusi. Counselors must be high school graduates or college girls. Four girls from this area who will counsel at Wyandot are Connie Barber, Monica Mote, Cathe Igel and Judy Spurgeon.

Vacation Bible School Set At Oakwood Church

Vacation Bible School will be held at Oakwood Methodist Church June 15-26.

Congregation To Honor South Methodist Pastor

The congregation of South Methodist Church will honor The Rev. and Mrs. Walter C. Peters with a reception immediately following the 10:30 worship service Sunday, June 21.

Rev. Peters is returning for his 11th consecutive year and all the congregation members are urged to attend.

The oxygen-assisted steel-making process, which now does the same work as the open-hearth furnace in processing pig iron into steel, turns out about 100 tons per hour as compared to about 40 tons per hour by the open-hearth furnace. A fairly new development, it may make the nearly-century-old open-hearth process obsolete in time.

Barrett Band Gets New Horns For School Use

Three musical instruments have recently been donated to Barrett Junior High by friends of the school.

Ronald Smith, a former member of the Barrett Orchestra, gave a violin to the school; Dewey Thompson, a retired fireman and former member of the Aladdin Shrine Band, gave his tuba for student use; and a clarinet was given by Andrew Denman, vocal music instructor at Barrett.

These instruments will be loaned to students unable to purchase their own. Free lessons are provided by the school.

According to H. L. Germain, instrumental teacher at Barret, the school needs more instruments of all kinds to put in student hands. He urges former students and friends of the school, who have no further use for their musical instruments, to contact him at HI. 4-7634.

Sight Program Teacher Aids Blind Pupils In City Schools

Bringing light, in the form of inspiration and knowledge, to children who are surrounded by a world of darkness is a little publicized facet of the Special Education Department of the city of Columbus.

One teacher, Mrs. Virginia Becker, is in charge of this sight conservation program. She has the job of instructing the blind and near-blind in all city schools, from elementary through 12th grade.

"It must be remembered that a blind child is first of all a child, and secondly a child with a handicap," she contends. "They do not learn in spite of their handicap, but because of their ability."

Most of her pupils are located in the elementary group. She has two who are partially blind who attend junior high.

All of her charges go to braille classes until the third grade. "They also learn the touch-typing system when they are in their first year," she pointed out.

Mrs. Becker took basic training for her present position at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N.Y. This summer she has a $500 grant to further her studies at San Francisco State College in California.

She expects to do some clinical work there, counseling of parents and treating the blind.

Many of the children she has aided thus far have been blind since birth, a result of being born prematurely and administered too much oxygen, she says. "Although that situation has been pretty much remedied now."

Her job consists of coordinating blind children's instruction with that of the classroom teacher.

"For instance, if the class is asked to point out and name various drawings, such as a flower, then I prepare for the blind children in the group third-dimensional training-aids so that they might recognize a flower."

As part of her background the personable teacher includes two years of teaching children of American dependents in Japan. She also taught conversational English to Japanese adults.

To Mrs. Becker, it is important that blind children are brought up in a "seeing" world, through the use of their abilities.

INTRODUCTORY REMARKS—Young Holly Reed, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reed, 1405 Severn-dr, arrives on the last day of school to meet her kindergarten teacher for next year, Mrs. Annabelle Snyder. Introductions are supplied by Mrs. Virginia Becker, right, itinerant teacher for Sight Conservation Program of all Columbus Schools. Holly, blind since birth, eagerly awaits the fall term at Berwick Elementary.

This year's frog - jumping champ, "Two-Snap," hails from Stockton, Calif. The frog-jumping contest is held annually at Angeles Camp, Calif., in commemoration of Mark Twain's story, the "Jumping Frog of Calaveras County." Distance: 16 feet, 1½ inches.

CAPTIVATED AUDIENCE—Miss Suzanne Ott, assistant at Parsons Branch Library, 845 Parsons-av, had 18 youngsters "eating out of her hands" moments after they met at the summer Wednesday morning first story-craft session last week. Here the "story teller lady" reads from a book, "Mister Ferguson of the Fire Department." Oh yes, there's plenty of room for more children to take part and the sessions are held at 10 a.m. each Wednesday in the library basement.

South Side Youngsters Open Local Library Summer Season

An even dozen youngsters showed up for the first weekly 10 a.m. Wednesday storycraft session at the Parsons Branch Library, 845 Parsons-av. this past week.

Some were tall and some were short. Six were girls and six were boys. And their ages ranged from six to 12. Stragglers, too, brought the total head-count to 18.

The one thing they had in common were eager expectations about the talents, pliability and surprises of their young "story teller lady," Miss Suzanne Ott, summer library assistant and sophomore at Ohio State University. This is her first season working with these children.

One pint-sized lad made the mistake of raising his hand and asking, "Teacher, can we have it a little warmer in here?" He was hooted down for calling her teacher by his compatriots, but all agreed that it was a trifle chilly in the special children's story room of the branch. The same air-conditioning that produced the brief chill will be among the attractions of the sessions once summer's heat has descended on the community.

There was a little bit of FUTURE UNDECIDED?

ON ITS WAY OUT?—Marion-Franklin High School's ancient scoreboard may not be long for this world if the school's Booster Club is successful in its drive to purchase a new, up-up-to-date scoreboard for the Red Devil field. If successful in their drive, the "old relic" of the Red Devil Field will be no more.

July Fourth Program Announced

The Council of South Side Organizations this week announced its tentative program for its annual Fourth of July Celebration a week from Saturday at Schiller Park.

Howard Henry, council president, said a capacity crowd of approximately 10,000 is expected to attend the day's festivities which will get underway at 2 p.m. with flag raising ceremonies conducted by Southway American Legion Post No. 144.

Three ball games will highlight the afternoon section of the program, with Dan Rohyans meeting Heart of Ohio Supply at 2:30; a junior all-star game made up of local youngsters getting underway at 5:30 and St. Paul's E&R meeting South Methodist Church at 7 in a South Side YMCA Church League.

Highlight of the program will be the annual fireworks display at 9 p.m. More than $500 worth of displays have been ordered by the South Side Council, with local mrchants and businessmen contributing to the fireworks fund.

Pony rides will begin at 2 p.m. and will continue throughout the day. The park's concession stand will also be open to the public at 2.

In striving to make the holiday a "safe and sane stay at home" Fourth of July, the council and Tom Cranshaw, Schiller director, have scheduled a dance at the park for Friday, July 3, beginning at 8 p.m.

Sunday, the 5th, Schiller will host its weekly Sunday Band Concert plus its regularly scheduled Heart of Ohio baseball game.

The annual July 4 celebration is open to the public at no cost. Approximately 10,000 persons attended last year's program, according to Henry.

A more complete list of activities for the gala Independence Day celebration will be announced next week.

Schiller's Recreation Director Denies Local Vandalism Charges

Crawshaw Sees Delinquency As Lowest On South Side

Delinquency and vandalism charges toward the South Side's Schiller Park drew bitter denials this week from Tom Crawshaw, director of the local recreation center.

Carl Gibson, an engineer for the Division of City Parks and Forests, Monday declared that both juvenile delinquency and teenage vandalism were flourishing at Schiller.

"I'm not attacking the park or its directors," Gibson said, "but there is definitely a problem in the area. Crap games and poker playing go on right out in the open."

"It's the larger children with nothing to do that cause the trouble," the engineer stated. "They've broken windows, thrown benches into the lake, and brought the problem of idle youth right out in the open."

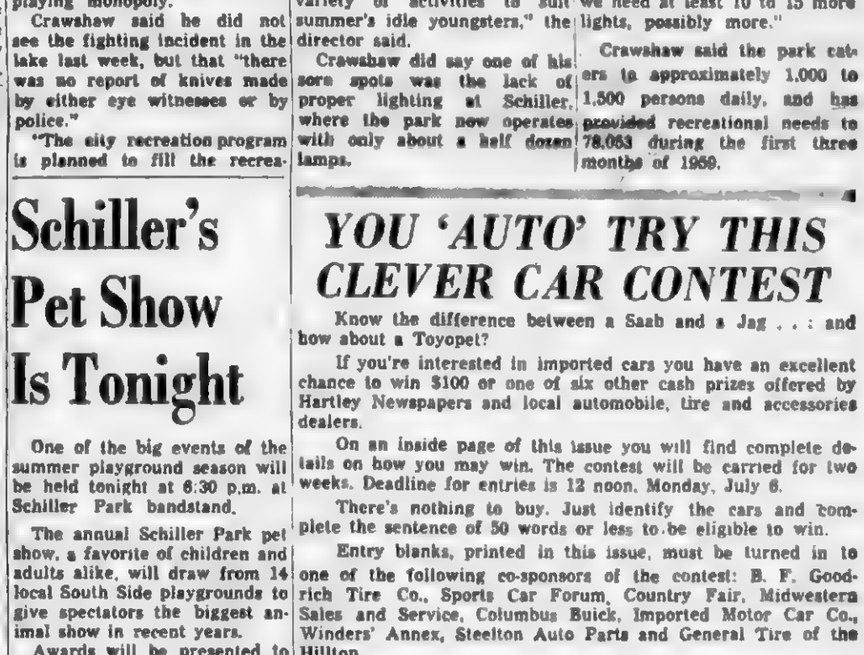
Gibson sighted the park's latest outbreaks with the ripping out of electrical cord covers in the park's open air theater and a recent fight between two teenage fishermen at the Schiller lake.

"Although it was never mentioned publicly," Gibson stated, "the two boys involved in the fight over tangled fishing lines were actually going at it in the water with knives."

An employe for the past two and a half years with the Parks and Forestry Division, Gibson said he advocated a more involved recreation program for the older teenager.

"We can't expect a growing boy too young to work to play baseball or basketball 12 hours a day," the youthful engineer declared.

Crawshaw, when told of Gibson's statements, vigorously denied that delinquency and vandalism were flourishing at his South Side park.



"Vandalism and delinquency both are on a lower scale here on the South Side than any place else in the city," Crawshaw stated.

"Gibson's statements might have been true four or five years ago, but not since 1956 have we had any real outbreaks of vandalism."

"I'm not saying that the problem doesn't exist here," the director declared, "but this is being blown way out of proportion. We have acts of vandalism here, but it isn't any worse than any other section of the city."

"I don't think its 'out in the open' here more so than any place else either."

In regard to gambling in the park, Crawshaw said that some of the older youths do play cards, but never for money.

SCHILLER DIRECTOR — Tom Crawshaw, director of the South Side's Schiller Recreation Center, sits behind his desk in his park office after answering a city engineers' charges that delinquency and vandalism is flourishing in Schiller Park. The recreation leader denied accusations, stating that "delinquency and vandalism is lower on the South Side than any place else in the city."

Any dice and money floating around the tables is of the play variety, the director stated, and is usually used in playing monopoly.

Crawshaw said he did not see the fighting incident in the lake last week, but that "there was no report of knives made by either eye witnesses or by police."

"The city recreation program is planned to fill the recreational needs of all ages—from five to 90, Crawshaw stated.

"Our centers offer crafts, industrial arts, sports, and a variety of activities to suit summer's idle youngsters," the director said.

Crawshaw did say one of his sore spots was the lack of proper lighting at Schiller, where the park now operates with only about a half dozen lamps.

"You can ask them whatever happened to the new lights promised the park two years ago," he stated. "I would guess we need at least 10 to 15 more lights, possibly more."

Crawshaw said the park caters to approximately 1,000 to 1,500 persons daily, and has provided recreational needs to 78,063 during the first three months of 1959.

MAN'S BEST FRIENDS—In this case are Nicky, his 35-year-old horse, and his great-great-nephew and great-great-niece perched high atop the old plowing buddy. Henry Schmidt, 90-year-old Lockbourne-rd resident, likes all three. The horse, because "it does what it's told;" and the youngsters, because "I love 'em even though they do cry too much." David Smith, 4, and his sister, Diane, 1, love their great-great-uncle, too, even if his horse does make them cry.

Bachelor Credits Old Age To A Single Life

A 90-year-old bachelor this week credited his old age to remaining single.

Henry Schmidt ,3315 Lockbourne-rd, single and full of pep despite his years, declared he was better off being a bachelor all these years because all his old friends, everyone of whom got married, died and were buried long ago.

"If I would have got married I'd have been under the sod long ago too," Schmidt stated.

"Besides," the retired farmer said, "I never found anyone I thought would suit me."

Schmidt, who never has been more than 60 miles away from his present home in his whole life, credited "hard work, three cups of coffee and two cigars a day" to his long life.

Born and raised in the old Marion Township area, Schmidt rebunked the townships being annexed to Columbus two years ago.

"The township commissioners did more for us than the city has," the sharp ex-farmer stated. All the city has done is raised our taxes and given us plenty of promises. We still don't have any water or gas yet, and that was part of their annexation deal."

Schiller's Pet Show Is Tonight

One of the big events of the summer playground season will be held tonight at 6:30 p.m. at Schiller Park bandstand.

The annual Schiller Park pet show, a favorite of children and adults alike, will draw from 14 local South Side playgrounds to give spectators the biggest animal show in recent years.

Awards will be presented to children and their pets in the following classifications:

Pretties, best costumed, most obedient, best groomed, smallest, largest, most affectonate, most unusual, best performer and cutest.

Youngsters who have not already done so should register their pets at the playground nearest their home. A registration card will be given each entrant, which is to be taken to Schiller tonight for the grand parade of pets.

At Schiller a number will be given each child as a means of identification.

It is asked that no insects be entered in the show this year.

Judges for the event are William Hoermle, city councilman; Mrs. Henry Maser, Siebert School teacher; and Edward Brand of the Schiller Advisory Council.

Pat Phalen, newscaster of WTVN-TV will act as master of ceremonies.

Six-Man Battle Royal Ends In 'No Contest' As Burton Bashes Opponents At Jones Park

The highly publicised Six-Man Battle Royal ended in a "no contest" ruling last Saturday night at Jones Park when special police were forced to squelch a small riot and escort contestants from the park.

With the three man teams of Lynn Redman, Jack Lamont, and Chest Brennemen pitted against the trio of Chuck Stanley, Ray Fleetfoot and Lee Burton going at it hot and heavy, referee Tom Upperman was forced to disqualify Redman, Brennemen and Stanley for "deliberate attempts to harm."

With Lamont facing both Burton and Fleetfoot, the huge French Canadian proceeded to kayo both opponents in a real pier nine brawl fashion.

Lamont first threw Burton out of the ring after twirling him over his head, then proceeded to pound Fleetfoot to a pulp with his fists (legal in this event) until the local favorite from Obetz passed out on the ropes.

Following his kayo of Fleetfoot, Lamont went into the crowd after Burton and proceeded to pour abuse upon his semi-conscious rival.

The three disqualified contestants came to Burton's aid, along with approximately a dozen or so avid fans. Burton warded off his foes until police came and escorted him to his dressing room and finally out of the park.

In Saturday's semi-final events, Lee Burton won over Lynn Redman in two quick falls, Fleetfoot beat Brennemen in 18 minutes with his special Indian leg lock, and Lamont was disqualified for deliberately choking Chuck Stanley.

Saturday's crowd of upwards to 200 persons was the biggest night of the season at Jones.

In Friday's action, Jack Smithers defeated Sonny Boy Karnes and Ralph Whaley decisioned Rocky Mingo in consolation bouts.

In the nights featured tag-team event, the team of Smithers and Mingo defeated Karnes and Whaley by a rough and tumble crowd pleasing bout.

Smithers and Mingo won the first fall to go ahead of their opponents early in the bout when Karnes became entangled in a full Nelson applied by Mingo.

Smithers, in a display of unsportsmanlike conduct, illegally entered the ring and uppercutted Karnes, knocking him cold. Immediately after the blow, Mingo dropped the unconscious Karnes, only to have his partner (Smithers) pounce upon the body and slam it repeatedly to the floor.

The foul tactics displayed by Smithers so alarmed Whaley that he entered the ring and took on both opponents at the same time.

After putting up a brilliant battle for roughly 20 minutes, Whaley tired and was easily decisioned by his two opponents.

This week's card will pit Karnes against Mingo and Whaley against Smithers in Friday's semi-final events, with the four again teaming up for a rematch in the tag-team feature.

Saturday's card will feature a gala six-man tag-team bout with Stanley, Burton and Fleetfoot taking on Redman, Lamont and Brennemen.

Semi-final events will pit Fleetfoot against his arch rival Jack "Blondie" Lamont, Stanley against Brennemen, and Burton against Redman.

MY ACHIN' BACK—Indian Ray Fleetfoot, left, applies an old-fashioned back-breaker hold on Lynn Redman in Saturday night's six-man, no holds barred, free-for-all at Jones Park. Redman eventually broke the hold by using "unconventional" tactics on the Indian from Obetz and was disqualified. The bout was called a "no contest" event when a small riot ensued, requiring police to aid several gladiators escape from the crowd.

Koontz Enrolled In J.C. Penney Training Course

Now enrolled in the manager trainee program of the J. C. Penney Co. is Gary Koontz, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Koontz, 169 S. Sylvan-av.

Gary Koontz

Since qualifying for the course, Koontz has been assigned to the Penney store at Great Southern Shopping Center. According to Earl Wilson, manager, the new trainee has made rapid progress in his management and merchandising studies.

Koontz is one of less than a dozen graduates of the College of Commerce, Ohio State University, to be selected by the company since 1957. After two years of sales and study, suitable trainees become department managers, then assistant managers and some become store managers.

Koontz, a graduate of West High, was a part-time employe at Nationwide Insurance during his college years. He also served six months active duty in the army under the Reserve Officers' Training program.

Elected To Head Printing Club

A. E. McNulty

A. E. "Al" McNulty, classified ad manager of the Hartley Newspapers, was elected president of the Columbus Club of Printing House Craftsmen at their meeting, June 12, at the Columbus Maennerchor.

McNulty, who has been in the Graphic Arts for 19 years, has served in all phases of printing, including ad layout and design for the last six years. He will be the Columbus voting delegate to the 40th International Convention to be held in New York City from Sept. 5 through 9 and will attend the 7th International Graphic Arts Exposition at that time.

Alex Yoe, 759 S. Ogden-av, who is associated with the Burba Kern Printing Co., was elected treasurer. Other new officers are: Lee Colley, F. J. Heer Printing Co., first vice-president; Eugene King, Viking Engraving, second vice-president; Gordon Vandiver, Warner P. Simpson Co., secretary and Robert Nelson, Cincinnati Cordage and Paper Co., recording secretary.

WVKO Boosts Programming Of 'Good Music'

On Jan. 1, WVKO radio here in Columbus (1580 on the dial) put into effect, a policy of "Good Music." This was prompted by a growing concern of the radio industry for the "state of music" that had crept into just about about every station in the country.

What does WVKO consider "good music?" Under the station's standards it is composed of . . . standards, million sellers (without rock-n-roll); nostalgic tunes; hymns; show tunes; great bands; commercial jazz; current popular hits, with a melody; and semi-classics.

This music, WVKO feels, is the kind to please the housewife at home, the salesman on the road, and the business man at work.

Radio Hams Take Field Saturday

Radio operators of the Columbus Amateur Radio Association will take to the field Saturday, June 27, for a 24 hour demonstration of their ability to handle communications under actual field conditions, cut off from commercial power mains, in the 1959 Annual Field Day sponsored by the American Radio Relay League, national association of amateur radiomen.

Members of the local club will meet at the WRFD picnic grounds early Saturday morning to erect tents, set up equipment and string antennas.

The club has planned to erect four separate transmitting stations, all within one thousand feet of a central point. The stations will be completely powered by emergency power equipment including the clubs large gasoline motor generator which delivers enough power to maintain several of the stations.

Field Day is a test of self-powered equipment and is participated in by hundreds of clubs and thousands of individual amateurs throughout the nation.

The portable stations attempt to contact as many other stations throughout the nation as they can in the allotted time. Any of the amateur bands may be used; the more used, the wider the coverage and the more convincing the demonstration of the value and versatility of the Field Day undertaking.

This activity is open to the public without charge.

Serving The South Side For Over 30 Years

LITTLE CHAMP—Kay Hardy, five-year-old, one-quarter midget auto racer displays her checkered flag after winning her second straight race in the novice classification at Jones Park, June 14. Kay, only girl in Capitol City one-Quarter Midget Racing Association competition this year, had her string broken at two last Sunday by Jerry Crowell.

Lenny Waldo Cops Jones Park's Feature Race Event

Little Lenny Waldo of Columbus was the feature winner last Sunday at the Capitol City One-Quarter Midget Racing Association races at Jones Park, 3800 Groveport-pk.

Waldo nosed out Gary Hardy and Johnny Butler to cop the featured attraction.

In heat races, Waldo took top honors in the day's first event, again bettering Hardy and Butler.

Hardy took the second heat for his only victory of the day, while Butler's only win came during the third heat.

Johnny Jones copped the semi-final event to add another trophy to his mounting collection since coming to the Jones Park track.

Jerry Crowell upset little Kay Hardy, only girl racer in competition at the park, in the card's novice race. Kay, five-year-old daughter of South Sider Chuck Hardy, association president, had won the association's last two featured novice events.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Protein Foods—fryers, eggs, sausage meats, smoked picnics, canned tuna.

Vegetables — cabbage, green beans, leaf lettuce, spinach, dry onions.

Fruits—bananas, cantaloupe, lemons, frozen lemonade.

CHICKEN FOR PICNICS

Weekends in summertime mean picnics and outdoor meals for most families. Whether you choose the backyard, a lakeshore, or a park for your holiday outing, choose chicken for the main dish.

Broiler-Fryers (you probably call them fryers)—are in good supply at local markets. It is anticipated that current prices will remain about the same well into the summer. These 2½ to 3 pound birds are especially suitable for a chicken barbecue.

It's easy to have a barbecue. Just follow these steps:

1. Build a pit of cement blocks or brick. Set the grill (your own oven rack works fine) 12 to 20 inches above the heat.

2. Start the fire. It takes about ½ to 1 pound of charcoal briquets per serving. hWen the briquets show white ash all over, the fire is ready.

3. Make the sauce. An easy but good sauce is: 1 pint vinegar, 1 pint water, ½ pint cooking oil or ½ pound melted butter, and 2 tablespoons salt. It is enough sauce for ten halves. (This is the recipe used for chicken barbecue at Ohio State University.)

4. Put the ready-to-cook chicken on the grill. You'll need to allow one broiler half (1 to 1¼ pounds) per person. Baste and turn the halves every 4 to 8 minutes. It takes 60 to 80 minutes for the chicken to cook well done. To test for doneness, twist the drumstick. When it breaks loose easily from the thigh bone at the joint, it's done.

5. Last, but not least, eat hearty!

For the rest of the meal, add fresh fruit, vegetables, salad items, and milk products, from the abundant foods listed above, to the menu, and you have an easy, tasty meal.

Care of Cooked Chicken — If you prepare the picnic chicken ahead of time, plan to serve it cold. Chicken that is kept warm for some time spoils easily and is not safe to eat. Cool fried chicken thoroughly after cooking and refrigerate. To keep it cold en route to the picnic, wrap it with an insulating material such as newspaper. If chicken salad is the main dish, wait until serving time to combine the dressing with the meat. Keep both very cold until time to mix and serve. When serving chicken any time or anywhere, serve it hot or cold, but not lukewarm!

LIBRARY TRADING POST

ENROLLMENT ROLLS ON—The "Trip to Alaska Summer Reading Club" at Parsons Branch Library has already enrolled several hundred South Side youngsters from grade one through junior high age, according to Miss Margaret Bausch, head librarian. Here Miss Bausch sits in the Trading Post where all business of the reading club is conducted. She holds one of the animal skulls loaned by a Ohio State University zoology instructor to give "atmosphere" to the trading post. There's still plenty of time to join in the fun and earn a diploma, Miss Bausch said, inviting all local youngsters to "meet me at the trading post."

First Day Of The Week

The early Christians worshipped on the first day of the week. In Acts 20:7, "Upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them." Paul had waited in Troas for the day of worship to come.

The first day of the week stands out in the New Testament as a very important day. Christ was resurrected on a first day of the week. (Lk. 24:1) The New Testament church was established on a first day of the week. (Acts 2) This was on a day of Pentecost and it always was on a first day of week.

As the law of Moses ended at the cross (Col. 2:14) the rules and regulations of the Sabbath do not apply to the first day of he week.

South Siders ServedbyOhi MS Society

Thirty Multiple Sclerosis patients in the South Side area are being served by the Central Ohio Chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Society, a United Appeal agency.

Other area MS patients, however, may be missing out on help because they aren't known to the agency.

These facts were reported this week by the MS Society which is seeking to get all MS sufferers registered.

According to C. Dale Cook, executive director, about 400 MS patients in the 11-county area are known to the agency. But, it is estimated that possibly an equal number are not.

All MS patients not yet registered are urged to phone CA. 4-8209, and become eligible for service. The agency office is at 12 North Third-st, Columbus.

Depending upon individual need and circumstances, the MS Society offers such services as family counselling, transportation, clinic, physical therapy, and orthopedic devices.

Agency officials explain that MS is a disease which strikes the central nervous system, causing a chronic crippling condition which keeps progressing. It hits primarily at young adults in the 20-to-40 age range.

Part of the United Appeal's allocation to MS Society goes for research which it is hoped can eventually find a cure. Rest of the funds go for local program aimed at helping patients.

Arena, Freddies End Up In First Round Tie

The Arena and Freddies Grill finished the first round in the Southside Old-Timers League in a tie for top laurels as they registered their eighth wins in nine starts Tuesday night at Southview Field.

Freddies, who suffered its first loss of the season last week, bounced back to drub South... Club, 19-8, and Arena barely got by defending champion, Club 185, 13-11, in a real thriller.

Plank's Cafe, the hottest team in the league, finished in third place. They picked up their seventh straight win by humbling Don's Inn, 13-6, and Bow-Wow Cafe defeated Deibel's Grill, 10-6, to move into a tie for fourth place.

Hitting honors for the set went to Don's Inn's Bob Burchfield, with a perfect five for five night. This included a home run.

Bill Jacobs, the home run leader, added another to his total that reached 10, and also picked up three other hits. Two Arena lads, Ted Rector and Dwain Phelps, had four hits also.

Other homers were hit by Jim Taylor of Freddie's, who hit his seventh of the year; Ted Rector of Arena (1); Bill Schwall of Deibel's (2); Ted Koetz (1) and Don Kirby of Bow-Wow (3); Jack Stout of Southeast (1); and Ray Beery of Plank's (2).

Bill Groesinger of Club 185 is the first round batting champion with an average of .649. His nearest competitor is Freddie's Grill's Pat Purcell with a .620.

Top game next Tuesday will find Plank's Grill (7-2) playing Club 185 (5-4) in the feature game. Freddie's (6-1) meets Southside Eagles (0-9), Bow-Wow (5-4) playing Gaytimers (3-6), Deibel's (4-5) against Arena (6-1) and Southeast Club (3-7) going against Don's Inn.

Methodists Beaten In ChurchPlay

Livingston Methodist's thrilling victory over South Methodist in the intermediate division was the highlight in last week's South Side "Y" Church League action.

The defeat sent the previously undefeated South team into a tie for the first round honors with St. Paul E&R. The playoff game will take place as part of the community's fourth of July celebration program at Southview field.

Monday Juniors: Frebis Church of God, with first round honors safely tuckey away, opened the second round with a win over the much improved Gates-Fourth Methodist nine. Terry Osborne and Clarence Bowens led the Frebis attack. Hungarian E&R and Southwood Church of Christ both looked very impressive in their wins over South Congregational and Livingston and Livingston Methodist each respectively.

Girl's League: Hungarian E&R scored two victories during the past week to draw closer to the league leading St. Paul E&R. Hungarian defeated Oakwood Methodist and St. John E&R in a real thriller—a pitchers' battle all the way, while Livingston was topping South Methodist and Southwood Church of Christ.

In other games St. Paul E&R eked out a close one against South Methodist and Emmanuel Lutheran continued to stay among the leaders by downing Church of God.

Wednesday Juniors: In a league race that is hotter than a pepper patch, Ohio Avenue EUB continued to hold on to first place by downing the clever aggregation from St. Paul Lutheran. In other games St. Paul E&R continued to improve as they upset Bill Reiner's St. John warriors. Emmanuel Lutheran sprayed hits to all fields in outclassing Oakwood Methodist, and Washington EUB kept on the heels of the league leaders with a victory over South Methodist. Hemmerly's pitching and hitting earned him the vote for player of the week honors.

A tip of the hat also goes to the men and women of the community who give of their time and talents in serving as managers and coaches and umpires in this worthwhile program.

Safecrackers Gross $2600 In Local Job

Experienced safecrackers hit the South Side for the fifth time in three weeks last weekend, collecting an estimated $2600 in cash and checks from the Bluebird Baking Co., 116 E. Moler-st.

Lt. Herman Beck, assistant chief of detectives, said all five crimes apparently were committed by the same persons.

The safecrackers gained entrance to the bakery through a window, rolled the safe to a rear room and battered it open with a sledge hammer.

Other jobs believed committed by the same ring in recent weeks occurred at the Boston Grill, 69 Hosack-st; Morrill-Hi Grill, 1586 S. High-st; Herb's Cafe, 1348 Parsons-av; and the Hey-Hey Grill, 368 E. Whittier-st.

Three other South Side burglaries were reported to police over the weekend, all on Moler-st, with one occurring at the same time as the safecracking.

Burglarized were the Minute Market, 126 E. Moler-st; Curlette Beauty Salon, 12 E. Moler-st; and the Hi-Moler Barber Shop, 6 E. Moler-st.

A fifth local burglary occurred at the Markham Theater, 1320 S. High-st.

water or gas yet, and that was part of their annexation deal."

The oldest confirmed member of the Obetz Lutheran Church, Schmidt passes his days by rising early, puttering in the garden and by hitching up "Ol 'Nick," his 35-year-old plow horse.

"Nick's the best horse I ever had," the Marion area native contended. "He does what he's told, never talks back and is a plenty hard worker. More people should take after horses. The world would be a better place to live in."

Schmidt's daily visitors are his great niece, Doris Smith, who lives next door, and her two children, David 4, and Diane 1.

The old country farmer enjoys the company of his young great, great nephew and niece, and often lets them sit atop Ol'Nick for a stroll through the garden.

"I like kids, Schmidt maintained, "and these two little ones are just about the best. But I never missed not having any of my own. Kids cry too much."

Old Landmark Upsets Kellys In 10 Innings

Landmark Cafe pulled the upset of the season Saturday by knocking off previously undefeated Kellys 7-6 in 10 innings at Southwood Field.

The win, Landmark's first in second round play, moved the team's neighborhood buddies, the Landmark Kids, into undisputed possession of first place.

The defeat was the first by Kellys in seven games this year. The team won the first round championship with a perfect 5-0 record.

Don Kirby starred in Landmark's winning cause by driving in the winning run in the top of the 10th. His hit was his fifth in five trips to the plate.

Ted Koetz and Buff Haeley also proved potent at the plate for Landmark. Koetz hit four singles and a double in five at bats while Haeley made three one-baggers and a double.

Ray Berry led the Kelly attack with two doubles and two singles. Craycraft hit three singles and a double and Benbow, the team's fleet center fielder, got two singles and a triple.

In other action Saturday, the Landmark Kids jumped into the second round lead by banging out five home runs in a 19-6 win over Omars. Woodyard, Butler, Meier and Sekinger hit round trippers for the winners, with Woodyard, the team's short fielder, chipping in with two and a pair of singles.

Stewart led the Omar attack with two singles and a homer.

Olympian Club squeaked out a tight 17-16 win over winless Dons in the day's final contest as first baseman Reese blasted a double and two singles and second baseman Mileusnich hit four singles in five at bats.

Don's B. Grigbaum went five for six for the day in the losing cause. Fallon and P. Krigbaum each hit home runs for the losers.

In last week's games which started the league's second round, Landmark Kids blasted Dons 13-5, Omar bested Landmark 16-15 and Kellys clobbered Olympian Club 12-4.

With Kellys the winner of the league's first round, standings to date will only include games played during the five-game second round.

The Landmark Kids currently occupy the league's top spot with a 2-0 record, while a mad, four-team scramble goes on for the second, third, fourth and fifth places among Omar, Kellys, Olympian Club and Landmark.

Dons, the round's only team without a victory, occupy last place.

negative reaction, too, when Miss Ott read from a children's encyclopedia a brief explanation of Father's Day. ("We'll try to make these get-togethers timely," she said.)

"We're on vacation and don't want nothing like school," one curly-head youth piped up. He was joined by the whole group and the consensus was that "School's out. Teacher let us monkeys out!"

But, surprisingly enough, they were attentive, and even a few questions arose about Father's Day.

By now it was time for introduction of all those taking part, a process that went smoothly until one girl ruined it by trying to make it a guessing game.

The day's craft project was the making of a breast pocket liner to hold pens and pencils as a gift for Father's Day. The youngsters followed Miss Ott's advice about using "plenty of paste" to join together the blue and yellow cardboard strips. In fact, cleaning up paste promises to be one of the major jobs for the branch janitress, if this keeps up.

The youngsters had their choice of two stories to have read to them and the selection was made democratically. Only two of the participants remained opponents of the selection and scowled nearly halfway through the reading of "Mister Ferguson of the Fire Department." And they all enjoyed the pictures and the aside comments from the story-teller lady.

Next came a period of announcements by Miss Ott about future plans for the story hour group. But first she made certain that all youngsters had at least applied for library cards and urged them to enroll in the "Trip to Alaska" summer reading club program for more fun.

She told them of a huge wall mural they would make later in the season and eyes glittered in anticipation of the painting and coloring and the very vastness of the project. One lad claimed his finger-painting to be out of this world and offered to do most of the mural himself.

When Miss Ott said that the group would plan one picnic in July and another in August, there were loads of suggestions as to where they should go. Lake Erie was quickly vetoed as being "too far away, Silly!" and the group decided that Schiller Park would be the site of at least one.

Other plans in store for the group include the annual pet show and a staff-produced puppet show. All events will be preceded by colorful posters "so everyone can join us," Miss Ott promised.

"Oh yes," said Miss Ott as the group broke up, "We've got chairs for 50 or more. So, bring your friends next week and every week. The more who take part, the more fun!"

Service Stations Cut Gas Stamps

Some 35 South Side service stations last week cut the number of trading stamps given on gasoline one stamp less a gallon due to the two cents a gallon state tax increase.

Dealers normally give three stamps per gallon but have decided not to give stamps on state and federal taxes which total to 10 cents per gallon.

Most stations favor dropping trading stamps entirely, according to Carl Spohn, field secretary of the Independent Service Station Dealers Assn.

Spohn said he hopes "this is a step toward having all service stations abolish the stamps practice."

Uncle Charley says:

By Charley Grant

Jr. Hinch says his mom is on the ouch with all the neighbors.

There's a whale of a difference between candid preachin' and candied preachin'.

Tubby Tyler who always says what he thinks, seldom talks.

Lots of fellers grow old who never grow up.

Some women wake up with a grouch, others sleep alone.

Sophia Binger has goin' pains when she has to stay home.

You can't live a high class life if you're a low grade moron.

Yep, a good life means pleasant memories when you git old.

One thing that always jars are the folks who slur their R's.

The chap that's really on the beam kin always see where he's goin'.

Yep, dirty thinkers all need brain washin'.

Love leaves some folks battered, splattered and scattered.

If only our neighbors didn't have more than we got we'd be happier.

Jr. Hinch thinks that a zephyr is a her cow.

Some folks who sell brains don't seem to carry any samples.

Tubby Tyler thinks he would really be a prize if he was gift wrapped.

Lots of folks think babies should be seen but not had.

When some deals are wrapped up they make a lousy package.

To live longer stay verticle all day and horizontal all night.

For folks who keep yakin' it's hard to git backin'.

Gals well dressed are doubly blessed.

Tubby Tyler carries a lot of weight in Ridge Corners, nearly 300 pounds.

BIBLE COMMENT:

Moral Progress Important When Reading Bible

A century of effort, intense effort, in distribution of the Bible by various Bible societies has not been accompanied by as great a moral and spiritual revolution as one might expect from such distribution of the Good Book.

One of the many reasons may well be that it is not read in the right fashion.

Distribution falls far short of its intended purpose if the Bible is not read CORRECTLY.

Too often do we assume that, once the Bible is read, it produces the character and life that ought to follow.

What we forget so often, and what is so very important is the "how" of the reading.

Recall: the Bible is not one book, actually.

It is many books; 66 in the King James version, for example.

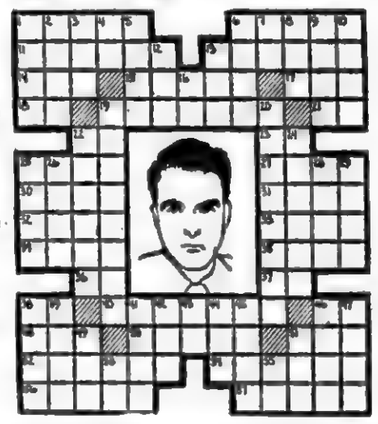
Moreover, those 66 books come out of a wide range of time.

The writers span possibly as much as 1,000 years in their writings.

When Jesus said His "I say unto you," against what was "said by them of old time," He was setting higher truth in the Bible against what had been said in the Bible earlier.

He was declaring the reality of a progressive revelation in moral and spiritual ideas, and in the quality of human relationships.

To read the Bible without taking into account the progression in moral and spiritual conceptions is not only to misread it.



It is to miss its highest revelation of God's message for man.

SOUTH SIDER AWAITS TURN

SIGHTS BLACKENED—Marine reservist Pfc. James L. Cole (center), has his M-1 Rifle sights blackened by Range Coach Acting Sgt. D. D. Courtwright, before firing on the rifle range at a Parris Island, S. C., Marine Corps Recruit Depot. The rifle sights are blackened with a carbide lamp to lessen sun-glare when the shooter aims in on his target. Awaiting his turn behind Cole is Pfc. Joseph E. Richmond, son of Mrs. Dora Horn, 184 S. Sixth-st, Columbus. Both Cole and Richmond are members of the 27th Infantry Company, USMCR, from Columbus. The unit is now attending two-weeks of annual summer training. Pfc. Cole is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cole, 457 Miller-av, Columbus.

Schiller Plans Semi-Weekly Teen Dances

Each week during the summer months there will be two teenage dances held at Schiller Recreation Center, on Tuesday and Friday nights frim 7:30 to 9:45 p.m. These dances will continue in the same vein as that used during the winter months, with the use of dance passes being required.

The age limits are 13 thru 18.

The proper dress for these dances will be dresses or skirts and blauses for the girls and shirt and dress pants for the boys. No levis or blue jeans will be permitted.

Also, during the summer there will be two Hi-Fi dances held at the center co-sponsored by the Coca-Cola Co. and WBNS radio station with Dean Lewis, disc-jockey at the station acting as master of ceremonies.

To be admitted to these dances, one must be a member of the Hi-Fi Club and present a membership card in the club for admission. Membership cards are available at Schiller Recreation Center, and any one interested may inquire of the summer staff.

Ages for these affairs are 13 thru high school. Dress for these dances is the same as the regular Tuesday and Friday dances.

The first Hi-Fi dance will be held at Schiller on Friday, July 3, from 8 to 10:30 p.m.

Bass Island Has Three Cottages With Vacancies

There are three cottages that have vacancies of a total of 27 rooms at South Bass Island.

Kenneth Landon, Ohio Division of Parks manager for both Bass Island and Catawba Island State Parks, would like to fill them. The season ends after Labor Day.

Landon urges any who wish to reserve any of the three cottages to write him at R. R. No. 1, Port Clinton. One of the cottages has 12 rooms, another eight and the third seven. The minimum period is one week.

One of the features at Bass Island available this season, according to Landon is the $80,000 dock for limited parking of boats. There also are plenty of camping facilities, he says. The limit stay is two weeks.

Speaking of Catawba State Park, Landon says there are facilities for picnicking, fishing and boating. "They are catching perch like crazy," he boasts.

News 'n' Notes of Camp Fire Girls

For the first time in Camp Wyandot history, non-Camp Fire Girls may avail themselves of the camping privileges to be had at the lovely Hocking County Camp. This was made possible by limiting attendance for all to a one-week period. Full information may be had by calling the Camp Fire office, HI 3-9713.

The call is still out for the winding bands of Folger coffee cans, to help secure coffee urns for the use of Camp Fire Girl leaders. These bands may be sent to the Camp Fire office, at 716 S. High-st.

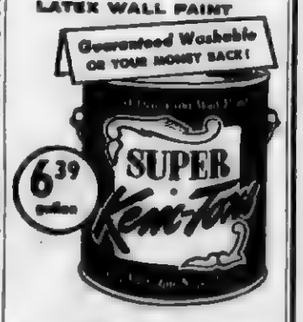
Home Painting Campaign Starts Through Nation

Painting and decorating whether it is done by a home owner, an apartment building owner, or tenant, is done for two purposes. One, to preserve the property and the other is to decorate, beautify and make lovely an abode.

Whether beauty comes first and protection afterwards is purely academic. Even exterior painting, although chiefly applied for preservation leans to the aesthetic and the decorative as more and more color planning enters the thinking.

One marked change has taken place in the decorating and painting industry and that is the tremendous swing to Decorator Credit—Installment Payments—"Paint Now-Pay Later."



Because credit has assumed tremendous importance in our daily lives, it is conceivable that nowhere else has the use of credit done so much to increase comfort, happiness, security as in the field of home financing.

It's good news for all the Columbus friends of Lu and Wilda Davis, transplanted Southsiders now making their home in California. The Davises, with son, Paul, should be in Columbus by now, leaving the coastal state last Saturday. Paul will have to make his visits in four days, then will fly to his "dude ranch" job in Wyoming. His parents will have an additional week to visit their friends.

Art Display

June brides and grooms of 1909 deserve special recognition of the fiftieth anniversary of their weddings. Three local couples achieved this distinction within the past week. Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kramer, 324 Mithoff-st, were honor guests at a family dinner Tuesday, June 23, in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Raymond Dempsey. The Dempseys reside at 495 Wetmore-rd. The couple has a son, William, and two grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. William Gerhardt Bode, 807 Fairwood-av, whose half-century of wedded life was achieved June 16, were feted at a reception June 21. The reception was held at Grace Lutheran Church. A son, Carlton, a daughter, Mrs. Mollenauer, four grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren comprise the family circle. An open house on June 21, marked the celebration for Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Koby, 1482 E. Whittier-st.

New Home

We rejoice with the Jack Green family in living in a spanking new home, but dogone, the South Side is the loser when such things happen. The Greens, who had lived on Stanley-av, now receive their mail and friends on Dundee-av.

Young Sharon Winel, 352 Moler-av, is having a glorious time on her vacation trip to New York City and Washington, D. C. The guest of her aunt, Jane Wolfe Woolman, the young lass has had luncheon with Sam Devine and no less a personage than President Eisenhower. The aunt, Mrs. Allen Woolman, had been in Columbus to attend the 25-year reunion of her class at St. Mary's of the Springs. (We remember her from the one year she spent at South High School, in the tenth grade.) We understand that Mrs. Woolman has a fabulous apartment overlooking Central Park. Mrs. Woolman's son is spending a fine vacation too. The young teen-ager, with others of his age, are on a supervised cruise down the east coast. The cruise will be a leisurely one, not ended until Labor Day. To return to Sharon, who had such a delightful introduction into the eastern way of doing things, she was expected home last Sunday, June 21.

Youth Rally

Many local teen-agers will be attending the Columbus Youth Rally on June 30. The Rally will be a picnic at Blendon Woods from 6 to 9:30 p.m.

Terrie Ellen Wells, 1320 Studer-av, will be a two-year old young lady Sunday, June 28. A birthday party will be the big event for the little one, given in her honor by her aunt Dorothy and Uncle Bill Wells. Other birthdays that will take place before the next Leader rolls off the press are these: Bonita Metzger, Peggy Grady, Ann Wiegerig, Danny Claffey, Harold Clark, Gerry Baughman and Virgie Dean. Mac and Virgie have an anniversary on Virgie's June 29 birthday. The Jenkins-av couple should be arriving home from their Florida vacation most any time now.

Members of the Jolly Joe Club were hostesses for the 25th anniversary open house held for Clara and Jake Frohnhoefer, 726 Thurman-av last Sunday. The Irishman and ye gadabout stoppped in to pay our respects to the celebrants and can testify that a large percentage of the South Side was there! Dr. and Mrs. Dick Jauch were there, among others.

Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cunningham, 836 E. Livingston-av, celebrated their fifteenth wedding anniversary yesterday, June 24, by going to the Everglades. A nice vacation is in the immediate future for the Cunninghams, and we hope they'll be kind enough to tell us about it later. (That goes for all our readers too!)

A real special person, in our book, will be having a birthday next Monday, June 29. Lillian Ryan is the wonderful person who will be having a natal day, and we hope it's nothing but wonderful from start to finish.

Wedding congratulations to newly-wedded Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brenner. Before their June 20 ceremony, Mrs. Brenner was Emma Teele.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Meiers, of Jenkins-av, are currently in Florida, on vacation. Accompanying them on the flying trip is Mary Agnes Eberts, 266 Sheldon-av, daughter of pharmacist Howard. We got a large chuckle when Howard told us what the Meiers sent to his employes, Fred Bier and "Dicky" Moore. Seems the two had asked the Meiers to send them each an alligator, so they did . . . as charms on a key chain! The note says "Here's the alligator we promised to send." Another Eberts rates an item today, a little belated however. Bill reached the final "teen" age possible on June 22.

Lake Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yunker, 74 E. Gates-st, are vacationing at nearby Buckeye Lake. A grandson, Bobby Yunker, is with them at the summer resort. Bob lives at 158 E. Morrill-av. July is a big month for the senior Yunkers but we'll wait until the proper weeks arrive before mentioning dates, etc.

Cloverleaf two will meet at 8 p.m., June 30, with hostess Mrs. Herman Kaiser, 1399 Studer-av.

A voluntary group with a South Side origin, the Cheerful Workers, met yesterday for a picnic. Hostess for the group was Marie Priest, now a resident of 1138 Acton-rd, who had been a Southwood-av resident previously.

The third annual Bennett Reunion was held this past Sunday, June 21, at the Palmer-rd home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bennett, Reynoldsburg. Seventy-two folks were in attendance. These South Siders were among those present: Wilson D. Bennett, Mary Otter, Helen Engberg and Lucy Belcher, all with their families. A sumptious dinner and games provided the usual type of afternoon, but ducking the raindrops was a game furnished by the weatherman. It was decided to have the reunion annually on Mather's Day.

Two of the girls attending the Girls State at Capital University are personal "younger friends," so congratulations to Kay Chambers and Betty Skobrak.

When In Doubt--Troll

Trolling is one of the "fish-gettingest" techniques you'll ever use.

Trolling doubles the amount of time actually spent in fishing. Unless you dangle a worm or some other form of live bait, about half of your fish effort is non-productive. Fish seldom strike lures in that time-consuming interval between casts. And plugs lying in the bottom of a boat while anglers change location are not known for catching lunkers.

The advantages of trolling are many, especially on a large body of water. Your lure is in the water constantly and you're on the move. While you're looking for fish, you are also fishing. A long shoreline can be covered in a short period of time, and you'll discover those hard-to-locate underwater weed beds and brush piles where game fish congregate. When you get a strike, stop and start casting.

Drift fishing, the method of angling that is so effective in taking walleyes at Hoover Dam, is a modified form of trolling. Instead of using a motor or oars to move a boat, the wind and current are utilized to cover good fishing territory. Artificials should not be used when drifting, because in most instances you will not be moving fast enough to give the lures proper action in the water. When a drift fisherman lands a fish, he will anchor there and fish the spot thoroughly.

Motors Don't Scare Fish

When using a motor to troll, do not be afraid that the noise will scare fish. Old-time trollers always have known that a turning propeller does not bother fish, and recent scientific experiments have verified this. Several independent studies came to the same conclusion—a boat passing overhead does not disturb a school of fish nor does it stop them from feeding. In at least two of the studies skin divers were sent down repeatedly to watch fish behavior.

An exception to this, would be fish feeding on the surface of the water. When a school of white bass, for instance, is located on Lake Erie, you should not troll directly through the school. Even through you would probably catch two or three fish, the boat would send the school to deep water. In a case like this, you should troll around the school.

The first rule to observe in trolling under ordinary circumstances is to get your lure down on the bottom and keep it there. Normally, bottom foods such as crayfish and aquatic insects make up an important part of the fish's diet. It makes sense, therefore, to fish this food zone. Some periods of the day or season will prove to be exceptions, but generally deep fishing with terminal gear bouncing off rocks and slipping through vegetation pays off.

Choosing the right trolling speed can be boiled down to one word . . . slow. Again, this is not always the case, but it usually proves correct. Change speeds occasionally if you're not getting any action; fish respond in a highly unpredictable fashion.

Crank up your outboard, throttle down to a snail's pace and settle back for some rewarding fishing. When in doubt — troll!

Fising Is Good

Jim McComas, W. Jefferson, entered a dandy smallmouth bass last week in the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Derby. He caught the fish at Middle Bass Island in Lake Erie, and it was weighed at R. W. Recob Supplies, W. Jefferson. The smallmouth measured 16½ inches in length, and was part of a catch of 12 bass.

NOW WHAT? Instead of buzzing around the lake looking for a good fishing spot, these anglers should be trolling. When nothing else seems to work, try trolling.

Marion Area Ignored By City?

Township Residents Query Old Annexation Promises

A few rumblings of unrest appeared in the Old Marion Township area this week as two local Lockbourne-rd residents expressed feelings on being "forgotten" by Columbus.

The city's annexation of the former Marion Township area two years ago brought blasts by Mrs. Donald Hinson, 2566 Lockbourne-rd, and an area merchant who prefered to remain anonymous.

"In no way whatever, have we been benefited by being in the city," Mrs .Hinson stated. "They seem to have forgotten all about us."

The Lockbourne-rd housewife and merchant said they did not stand alone in their feelings of being "ignored" by Columbus. "The consensus out here seems to be that the city has done nothing since the annexation," the merchant stated.

Sore spots voiced by the pair entailed the lack of streetlights, heavy traffic, and "those sewers promised us two years ago."

Carl Schoene, city sewerage division superintendent, said his department has a petition on file and is giving the Marion area situation "serious consideration."

He said the city has considered several locations for the sewer, but added "we just haven't decided on the best place to put it."

Robert Mott, of the Development Committee for Greater Columbus stated that the Marion Township area was an "immediate need" area, but added that the section will be served on a priority basis.

A rough estimate for the time a sewer would be laid would be about 10 years Mott said.

The Lockbourne-rd merchant also stated that petitions have been raised to obtain a traffic light on the corner of Koebel and Lockbourne-rds. "These were turned down on the grounds that there was not enough traffic to warrant a new light," he added.

The city's Traffic Bureau said surveys have been made of the area with results under those warranting additional lights.

Mrs. Hinson said it was the opinion of residents in the area that two schools, (Marion-Franklin and George C. Beery plus the outlying Lockbourne Air Force Base were cause enough to have additional lights erected.

She also stated that the lack of sidewalks bordering Lockbourne-rd added to the traffic problem since pedestrians must walk facing the traffic.

"I would be happy if a traffic light was the only thing we got from the city," she concluded.

McCormick Services Are Today

Former assistant city attorney Elba W. McCormick, 88, died Monday following an extended illness at his home at 1359 Cole-st.

McCormick held his post for 49 years before retiring in 1954. Funeral services will be today at 11 a.m. at the Wilson Avenue Church.

Only two weeks ago, on June 17, McCormick and his wife, Alta, were honored on their 65th wedding anniversary at the church, where he had been a member 59 years.

His duties as first assistant in the city attorney's office included acquisition of land for such civic projects as O'Shaughnessy Dam, City Hall, the Police Station and many high schools.

He will be buried in East Lawn Cemetery by the Schoedinger Funeral Home.

Masonic services were held Wednesday evening by the Capital City Lodge, No. 656, F&AM, of which McCormick was a founder and first master

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ray Stewart 1366 Cole-st; and Doris, at home; a granddaughter, and three great-grandchildren.

A son, Vaughn, a lieutenant, was killed in action in World War I.

McCormick received his law degree from Ohio Northern University in 1899 and moved to Columbus with his wife the following year.

He was elected as a justice in one of four City Courts, forerunner of Municipal Court, in 1904.

Born in Ray, a village in Jackson County, McCormick also served as master of Mineral Lodge, in Hamden, O., in 1896, high priest of Temple Chapter, RAM, and master of Young Council, and was a life member of the Scottish Rite.

TOP DRIVER—Dick Klamfoth, nationally renowned motorcycle king, strikes an unfamiliar pose atop his No. 1 competition BSA bike Monday at a victory party celebrating the winning of the 10-Mile Charity Newsies National Championship at the Ohio State Fairgrounds Sunday. Relaxed and taking it easy for a while, Klamfoth will don his goggles and boots again on July 10 for national races in California. Pictured near Klamfoth's leg is the trophy he won for winning his second straight Charity Newsies championship.

South Side Race Track Ready Soon

Charles D. Hill, president of Scioto Downs, Inc., last week promised that the new modern harness racing track will be in operation this fall. The 14-night racing meet will begin Oct 9.

Included in the $2 million 140-acre plant is a 2600-seat grandstand, clubhouse, five eighths-mile track, milling area for 7800 spectators, parking space for 5000 cars, and barn area with 600 stables

Slow down lanes are also to be constructed along Rt 23 (S High-st.) to aid in turning off to the parking lot safely. These will be done by Connolly Construction Co., Marysville

Starting in early summer, they hope to next year obtain dates for a 44-night program

"If we can average $140,000 a night in mutual betting we will make a profit," said Hill Management gets a percentage of the gross wages.

After a three year study the present site along Rt. 23, nine miles south of Broad and High st, was chosen because of accessibility, proximity to populated areas, and the probability of the outerbelt expressway passing within two miles to the north of the track

Construction costs will be financed by a stock issue, offered by the Commonwealth Securities Corp., 30 E. Town-st Surplus, if any, will be used as operating capital, officials said.

Scioto Downs is authorized to issue 1,800,000 shares of Class A common stock (par value $1) and 1,800,000 shares of Class B common stock (par value 5 cents). They are sold in conjunction for $5.10 and each unit entitles the holder to two votes. Only 500,000 shares of each will be sold at this time, it was stated.

Class A shares can be liquidated at $5 a share and is also preferred as to dividends, although Class B shares will participate in profits over and above the maximum 37 cents dividend declared on Class A stock.

Construction architects for the project are Kellam & Foley 1621 W First-av, and the Sheaf Mason-Reeb Construction Co

Southview's July Fourth Plans Ready

Throng Of 10,000 Expected To Witness Celebration

The Council of South Side Organizations annual Fourth of July Celebration at Southview Park this Saturday will host a throng of "10,000 or more" Independence Day observers, Howard Henry, council president declared Tuesday.

With last minute preparations all but complete, Henry and Celebration Chairman Paul Stecker this week announced a 10-event program planned for the South Side's biggest July Fourth outing.

Highlight of the day will be the giant fireworks display at 9 p.m., with more than $500 worth of sky-shattering rockets, bombs and displays lighting up the area between Greenlawn and S. High-st.

As part of the special entertainment planned for the event, the council has solicited the services of the Trends, local singing group, to lead the crowd in mass singing.

For the sports fans, three ball games during the middle afternoon hours will provide viewers a chance to catch local products in action.

Dan Rohyans will meet Heart of Ohio in a regularly scheduled Mark Stephens Memorial League game at 2:30 to kickoff the trio of games, followed at 5:30 by an all-star contest between members of the South Side YMCA's Church Leagues Monday night and Wednesday night junior teams.

A championship playoff game will conclude the sports activity at 7 p.m. when St. Paul Evangelical and Reform tangles with South Methodist to decide the winner of the South Side Y's intermediate league.

For the young fry, pony rides will begin at 2 p.m. and will continue throughout the day. The park's concession stand will also be open to the public beginning at 2 p.m.

Also slated throughout the afternoon will be special Boy Scout demonstrations under the direction of James Gerlach

Rev. Walter Peters of South Methodist Church will give the prayer prior to the singing of the Star Spangled Banner

Opening the program at 2 p.m. will be the annual flag raising by members of Southway American Legion Post No. 144

Legion members will attend their own flag raising ceremonies at the Legion home at Whittier and High-st at 1 p.m. prior to the start of festivities at Southview.

In striving to make the holiday a "safe and sane, stay at home" Fourth of July, the council, in conjunction with Schiller Park and its director, Tom Crawshaw, have scheduled a dance at Schiller for Friday, July 3, at 8 p.m.

Sunday, July 5, Schiller will host its weekly Sunday Band Concert, plus its regularly scheduled Heart of Ohio baseball game

Both the council and Crawshaw this week urged South Siders to make this Independence Day a "community affair" by staying off the highways and attending the facilities made possible for their holiday enjoyment by local organizations and groups

The Schiller dance on the 3rd, the Southview July Fourth celebration, Sunday Band Concert and Sunday ball game are all open to the public at no cost.

The chronological time-table of events slated for Southview's celebration follows

2:00 p.m.—Flag raising

2:30 p.m.—Baseball, Dan Rohyans vs Heart of Ohio Supply

5:30 p.m.—Softball, South Side YMCA all-star game.

7:30 p.m.—Softball, Intermediate Boys' Church championship game.

9:00 p.m.—Prayer, musical program, reading of sponsors, fireworks.

Kiwanis Club Told To 'Be On God's Side'

Persons who hold high public office and other community prominence will deliver speeches this week-end and will admit — as have many predecessors, on July 4 occasions—that God has been on the side of democratic nations in their many wars for freedom.

Within recent years, and as it becomes increasingly apparent that enemies of freedom remain less respectful of history than are the victors, thoughtful public personalities have taken fewer and fewer chances.

God's part in victory will not be host this week-end in credits given air power, bombs, fuel, food and abundance in general. Quiet, educative, clerical voices may be

A few weeks ago, on the occasion of "Prayers For Peace Week," the clergy set the keynote for peace and freedom in most South Side churches and other assemblies.

The Rev Robert Long, Christ Lutheran Church, Bexley, visited Southern Kiwanis Club to deliver a brief reminder that men everywhere should acknowledge their blessings whenever and wherever they are experienced. His remind

"While God is customarily enlisted on the side of people already free, we might do better to enlist on His side"

Abraham Lincoln is considered an authority for this thoughtful change of responsibilities. Said Lincoln: "Be not concerned that God is on our side, but that we are on His side."

Rev. Long believes this feeling was relatively more apparent, and demonstrated, in World War II, than it was in World War I. His second suggestion: that Divine Guidance works a miracle on men in responsive position, induces a self-creative betterment, and a broader sense of the humanities.

What is peace? (And shou'd we not admit to ourselves that Independence Day celebrations have been seriously threatened several times?)

According to the clergy, peace is clear thinking, settled decision—an intangible, quiet acceptance of the human condition as it is experienced within ourselves. It must frequently survive disappointments, be developed without selfish goals and foolish standards, and persist in the face of abuse and competition.

"There can be no peace until people discover it within

Klamfoth Wins 2nd Straight Bike Title

Nationally renowned motorcyclist Dick Klamfoth, part time Groveport farmer, Sunday won his second straight Charity Newsies 10-mile national championship at the Ohio State Fairgrounds — a fete never before accomplished by an Ohio rider until last year.

The blond, 30-year-old bike king sped the 20-lap distance before 17,000 fans in 19 minutes 14.48 seconds to beat out Carroll Resweber, of Cedarburg, Wis., the 1957 winner, by three seconds.

"I felt pretty good to win it two years in a row," Klamforth stated at a victory party in his rural home Monday. "It's always a thrill to win the big ones."

Klamfoth has always managed to win the "big ones" too in the 12 years he's been racing the personable beef cattle farmer has claimed 15 national championships, including the Daytona Beach National three times, the 200-mile National three times, and the LaConea N.H. twice.

Klamfoth, who claims his racing is "just a partial occupation that started out as a hobby" is in partnership with his father in the Angus beef cattle business.

"I enter about 30 of the big races each year," the slim champion stated. "Dad looks after the farm when I'm gone and does a darn good job of it too — after all he owns it."

A terror on the track, Klamfoth said the motion picture "The Wild One" of a few years ago has stereotyped today's motorcycle rider. "The picture was not typical," he stated. "only a small minority of the riders fit the type Marlon Brando played in that picture."

"It takes only a few to ruin it for the rest of the riders."

One of the top money winners in the country, Klamfoth maintained his win at Daytona Beach this year was his biggest thrill in racing to date. "Winning Sunday was a thrill, but at Daytona you compete for $2,000 in top prize money against the best drivers in the world," he stated

The Groveport native buys about one new bike a year," but sticks to the reliable BSA

STAY SAFE ON JULY FOURTH

Independence Day and all its festivities are just ahead and now is the time to think about the dangers of fireworks.

According to the law, "fireworks" is defined as any combustible or explosive compound, or any substance or combination of substances, or article or device prepared for the purpose of causing a visible effect, an audible effect, or ascension into the air by combustion, explosion, deflagration, or detonation.

No person within the state shall manufacture, have, keep, store, discharge, ignite, explode, sell, offer for sale, give, or deliver any "fireworks" to any person.

But children can still have their fun with toy cap shooting devices in which paper caps containing not more than twenty-five hundredths grains of explosive compound are used, and provided that those devices are made so as not to allow the hands to come in contact with the exploding caps.

Everyone can enjoy fireworks since permits are issued to organizations that hold public fireworks displays in many places throughout the area on the 4th of July.

Observe the law, and enjoy a safe and sane holiday.

Ivywood Lake Restocks Fish

Ivywood Lake, owned and operated by Jack and Ivy Linamen, yesterday restocked their original supply of 3000 pounds of fish for an anticipated heavy holiday of fishing.

The new fishing spot, opened last month, is located 17 miles from Columbus. It is on Perrill-rd. seven miles southeast of Groveport and four miles southwest of Lithopolis.

The fishing resort actually consists of two lakes, one stocked with catfish, bass, crappies and bluegills, and the other with strictly catfish

Like many private lakes stocked heavily to provide quality fishing, the admission is $1 per person with a four-pound limit. Angles may take more than four pounds, but there is an added fee for doing so

Children are admitted free when accompanied by parents.

Bait is sold on the premises.

As is the case on weekends and holidays, the lake will be open all night Friday and Saturday. During the week hours are from 6 a.m. to 12 midnight

BIBLE COMMENT

Jesus' Humanity Told In New Testament Story

It is noteworthy that the Gospel of John, which proclaims the divine nature of Jesus of Nazareth as the Eternal Christ, the Word which was in the beginning with God, and which was God — doctrinal facts which it is hard for the human mind to comprehend — presents the human Jesus, the man among men, in incidents as vivid as and even more revealing than anything in the former three synoptic Gospels.

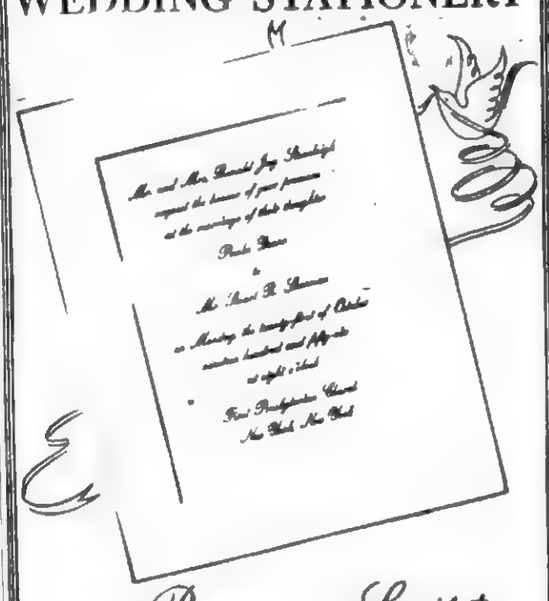
Perhaps the most striking incident in the human contacts of Jesus, is the long story of the meeting of Jesus with the Woman of Samaria.

The most significant point of the story in what Jesus said concerning true worship — words that unfortunately are all too much neglected in emphasis upon places:

"Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, or yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father. God is a Spirit: and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." That is a very high point of all that the New Testament contains.

But the minor incidents of the story also are interesting and revealing in a very human way.

The Divine Man is revealed in all the wonderment of His life among men.



They give us true insight into the earthly life of Jesus.

Farm Bureau Conference Starts Today

The five-month-long project of developing next year's policies in the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation gets underway with the fourth annual Presidents' Conference today, according to D. R. Stanfield, executive vice president of the farm organization.

"More than 200 county presidents, policy development committee chairmen and county Farm Bureau Directors are expected to discuss farm issues and problems of their areas," Stanfield said.

James Lantz of Fairfield County, Speaker of the Ohio House of Representatives, will speak to the group at its luncheon session on, "Ohio Farm Problems and Opportunities."

Stanfield said the group's discussions will be summarized and sent to county Farm Bureau members as possible problems on which they might need policies in 1960.

"The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's policy is developed by the farmer in the field," Stanfield said. "After the Presidents' Conference kick-off, thousands of farmers from 86 of Ohio's 88 counties will meet in hundreds of meetings and through their policy development committees will submit policy recommendations eventually to be forwarded and voted upon by the membership at county and state annual meeting time this fall."

Thousands of policy suggestions will be organized into an action program, Stanfield said, by this 10-member state Policy Development Committee, five of whom are county Farm Bureau presidents, chosen geographically and their different farm operations, and five trustees of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation:

Chairman James Lewis of Butler County, Lewis Hay of Pickaway County, Ralph Littler of Ashtabula County, Sumner Palmer of Summit County and Mrs. Jay Lawrence of Coshocton County. County Presidents Herbert Barrett of Hardin County, Galen Greenlees of Columbiana County, James O. Stevenson of Logan County, Wayne Power of Holmes County and James Rush of Fairfield County.

Symbols, rather than worded signs, were used when the populace of a country was largely illiterate. In many countries, to this day, a pretzel indicates a bakery; teapot a tearoom; golden horn, a post office, from days when postmen used such a horn to announce arrival of the mail courier or wagon.

Nursing Home Cornerstone Laid Sunday

Expansion of charitable work by individual Christian Scientists in Columbus will get underway Sunday, June 28, with the laying of the cornerstone of the new 22-room East Wing of Glenmont Home, 72 Woodland-av.

The ceremony will be at 3 p.m., and will be followed by open house until 4:30 p.m. Staff members, guests, and hundreds of friends will attend.

The home provides Christian Science nursing care for patients relying wholly on Christian Science for treatment. "Demand for facilities has increased considerably in the past few years," according to Hurley Martin, President of Glenmont and Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Voluntary contributions from Christian Scientists and their friends will pay for the new wing.

Glenmont was opened in 1934. Although it has no formal connections with the Christian Science Church, its trustees and most of its staff are members of local Christian Science Churches.

Glenmont also provides living facilities for Christian Scientists who have retired or who wish temporary homes, but the 22 new rooms primarily will be for those who need nursing care. Glenmont will have a total of 48 beds. The staff consists of seven nurses and 25 other staff members. Mrs. Mayme E. Butcher is superintendent.

Architect of the new building is John Quincy Adams, A.I.C. of Columbus.

Church Group To Attend Convention

Dean G. Bourne, presiding minister of the South Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, has announced that the congregation has been invited to attend a four-day convention July 16 to 19, at Cincinnati Gardens in Cincinnati. Bourne will head the delegation of 135 persons.

The convention is arranged by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, Inc., located in Brooklyn, N. Y., for Jehovah's Witnesses. A total attendance of 18,000 is anticipated.

"The purpose of the meeting," said Bourne, "is to provide additional Bible instruction for the Witnesses and to enable them to apply Bible principles more fully to their everyday lives and activities.

For this reason the program carries the theme of 'Awake Ministers'." There will be morning, afternoon and evening sessions devoted to Bible talks, discussions and practical demonstrations, he explained.

Bourne further reported that F. W. Franz, vice-president of the Watchtower Society, will be the principal speaker at the Cincinnati Gardens. Highlight of the convention will be the public address by Franz at 3 p.m. Sunday, July 19, on "When God Speaks Peace to All Nations."

Among those attending from this area are Mr. and Mrs. George Ollam, 355 Crow St., Groveport.

Police juvenile bureau investigators reported the boys burglarized businesses on the West Side. Police recovered radios, televisions, jewelry and other articles taken from the stores and stashed in the boys' homes.

Detectives estimated the value of the merchandise stolen at approximately $3000.

Join Forces To Help Employ Armour Workers

The Ohio State Employment Service, Armour & Company and the Meat Cutters Union joined forces last week in an effort to find jobs for some 450 packing company workers who will be laid off when the firm ceases operations on July 10.

Placement assistance plans have been drawn in the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation to aid workers in locating new jobs.

All BUC offices have been instructed to check firms in allied fields for openings.

Employers interested in interviews may contact Carl Snyder, Ohio State Employment Service representative.

Hartley Newspapers Join Select Audit Body

Circulation Will Be Verified By National Auditing Group

Hartley Newspapers have joined with other community weekly newspapers throughout the United States in subscribing to an audit to be made by the Newspaper Division of the Verified Audit Circulation Company (VAC), it was announced today by C. Carlton Hartley, publisher.

The audit of the circulation of community newspapers by VAC, as Verified Audit Circulation Company is known, is a great step forward because for the first time advertisers will have audited circulation figures put on a standard form by a nationally recognized circulation auditing firm.

"We feel that in time VAC's audits will bring us the same recognition that ABC has brought to the wholly paid publishing field," said Hartley.

VAC members will issue an audit report on VAC forms once a year. At least once per year VAC, without warning, will send in a team of skilled circulation auditors to observe distribution from newsprint rolls to delivered newspapers and make a scientifically controlled field audit with the people in the area served. VAC will then issue a newspaper audit report for that year, and will permit the VAC symbol to be used by subscribing newspapers only after the audit report is released.

Operation of VAC's controlled circulation division is directed by four Boards of Governors: National, (Western) Regional (Middle Atlantic) Regional and New England Regional. Each board consists of four members who are representatives of controlled circulation newspapers, three are representatives of regional advertisers and three are representatives of advertising agencies.

National Board of Governor members include: Alfred S. Gussin, Director of Advertising, Karastan Rug Mills, New York.

Raymond A. Muldoon, National Advertising Manager, Whirlpool Corporation, St. Joseph, Mich.

Robert C. Wayne, Sales Manager, Jensen Industries, Los Angeles, Calif.

William E. Matthews, V. P. Media Relations, Young and Rubicam, Inc., New York.

C. Stuart Siebert, Jr., Vice President, Keyon and Eckhardt, Inc., Illinois.

Fred Olsen, Media Director, Hixson and Jorgensen Adv., California.

William Stouffer, Co-Publisher, American Laundry Digest, Ill.

Paul Amundsen, Editor, World Ports and The Mariner, Washington, D. C.

Frank Howatt, Publisher, Western Grower and Shipper, California.

Representing regional advertisers: Leonard Jick, Advertising Manager, Thrifty Drugs; R. L. Kokkelenberg, Advertising Manager of Sears, Roebuck and Company, Donald Conroy of Thriftimart-Fitzsimmons.

Newspaper representatives on the Board: Gerald Deal, Deal Publications, Chairman; Oran T. Ass, News Herald and Bulletin News Publications; Maurice Markham, Van Nuys News; C. Deane Funk, West Los Angeles Independent, Westwood Hills Press and The Roberts News.

VAC is operated by The John B. Knight Company, a marketing research organization since 1937. VAC has been in existence for seven years in the business paper field, and two years in the community weekly newspaper field.

Drivers Told To Use Extra Safety Care

An Ohio Trucking Association safety expert last week entered a plea for the safety of children now that school is out for summer.

"Defensive drivers know that a rolling ball is always followed by a running child," said Myron Willison, Chairman of the Ohio Council of Safety Supervisors. OTA's safety organization.

Willison defined a "defensive" driver as one who is ready to avoid an accident no matter what happens. "You might say he drives as if the other fellow always has the right-of-way," he said.

With several million school children free for the summer, Willison emphasized that motorists should be prepared for anything whenever they see children near streets or highways. Almost anything can prompt a child to dart into the street completely heedless of traffic, he said.

"It's up to the motorists to protect the lives of these kids," he said.

According to Willison, great effort is being made by schools, and safety organizations, such as the Ohio Council, to teach safety to children of all ages. Parents are being reminded constantly to see that their children play in safe areas.

"But in the excitement of play, children are prone to forget safety rules, so it becomes the responsibility of the motorist to be sure his vehicle is under control to avoid hitting a child," he said.

Willison pointed out the greatest care should be taken in residential areas and near schools where summer playground programs may be underway. "Avoid a tragedy, drive carefully," he said.

OBTAIN BUILDING PERMIT

Hannibal and Ethel Lester, 1243 Faber-av, have been issued a permit to remodel a frame building.

Witnesses Denied Rights In Argentina

The Columbus South Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses learned last week that Jehovah's Witnesses in Argentina have been denied their constitutional rights of free assembly and worship. A vote of protest was taken and plans discussed to petition the Argentine Republic to correct the restrictions laid on the Christian group's activities.

Dean G. Bourne, the congregation's presiding minister, said that in spite of many liberal advancements made by the present Argentine government that ousted the dictatorial Peron regime, a few non-Catholic religious groups that were declared illegal by Peron have yet to be recognized by Argentina's constitutional president, Arturo Frondizi.

According to Bourne, two different applications for recognition were denied by the "Ministry of Worship," a department of the government formed by Peron to control the registry of all non-Catholic religions in the country. Furthermore, two futile appeals have been made to the present government to rescind the order denying Jehovah's Witnesses the right to register.

The latest appeal was made following a new decree signed by Frondizi on Feb. 6, 1959, giving non-Catholic religions full right to worship God as guaranteed by Article 14 of the Argentine Constitution.

Bourne said the more than 6,000 Jehovah's Witnesses in Argentina began circulation of a petition addressed to the president of the Argentine Republic requesting recognition under the new, liberal provision of his government.

The neighboring countries of Bolivia, Chile, Paraguay and Uruguay are circulating similar petitions to acquaint the people of those countries, as well as Frondizi, with the condition that exists in Argentina.

Club 185 'Snaps' Plank Win Streak At Seven

The second round of play got under way Tuesday night in the South Side Old-Timers League at Southview with an upset and the longest winning streak of the year being broken.

Club 185, defending champion of the circuit, stopped the seven game winning streak of Plank's Cafe, 13-6, and first round co-leader, Arena, was a 4-1 upset victim of Deibel's Grill.

Freddie's Grill, the other co-leader, had little trouble in winning from South Side Eagles, 15-3. Bow-Wow Cafe came from behind to defeat Gay Timers, 9-8, and Southeast Club won over Don's Inn, 10-8.

Hitting honors for the night went to Plank's Ray Beery, who had a perfect day at the plate in five appearances.

However, the most damaging blows were struck by Bow-Wow's Don Kirby and Club 185's Bruno DelCol. Kirby had four hits, two of these being homers. Both of DelCol's hits were two-run homers.

Wes Nolan and Joe Bendelli had four hits apiece for Freddie's and Jack Embleton of Bow-Wow did likewise.

Prayer

Prayer is a blessing for those who are children of God. "For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil." I Pet. 3:12.

The sinner can hardly be saved by prayer, since it is a blessing for those who are saved. The sinner can be saved by: Believing—Heb. 11:6, Repending—Lk. 13:3, Confessing—Rom. 10-10 and by being baptized in water for the remission of sins—Acts 2:38. Then, that person is a child of God and can enjoy all the spiritual blessings God has prepared for his children. "And whatsoever we askw, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight." I John 3.22.

Simon obeyed the gospel and became a child of God. He sinned and Peter told him to repent and pray for forgiveness. Acts [illegible]

Truly, prayer is a blessing for God's children. Have you obeyed the gospel of Christ? (Rom. 1:16)

George Shadwill Starts Eighth Year With Swan

George Shadwill

George Shadwill is now in his eighth straight year as secretary of the Swan Club. During that time his work record has brought the other members to insist that he stay in office.

Shadwill unselfishly takes on the task, year after year, and his records and minutes are considered beyond reproach. He has always been the strong right hand of the president in office, and his experience is considered a fine asset.

He is now working on arrangements for the Swan Club family picnic with President Harry Lamberson and picnic chairman, Newt Hahn. The picnic will be held Aug. 16 at Catalpa Park.

Whenever action is required on any club activity the byword is "call George" and things happen fast.

Karns Begins 1959 Summer Play Season

Karns playground began its summer season on June 17. The park is open Monday through Friday from 12:30-8:30 p.m. under the direction of Phil Courtad and Barbara Friedberg.

Daily programs include arts and crafts, stories, group games, softball, Jr. Jet ball, and other activities.

A pet show was held Thursday, June 25 in the afternoon. Later the children were taken to Schiller Park for the sectional pet show.

The 18 Junior Jet teams will soon begin their season. Their schedule is being arranged by Cathy Sergo, Barb Epperson, Dorothy Davis, and Pat McCoy.

Little League Opens Fifth Year Of Play

This summer opens the fifth year of operation for the Southern Independent Little League.

All games are played on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week at Marion Franklin High School and Smith Road School. Game time is 6 p.m.

The league has received full cooperation from the Columbus Board of Education and has been granted the use of all diamonds in the area for the past five years.

The league receives no support from the City Recreation Department but operates on donations from firms in the community.

The boys, as well as all managers and coaches, get necessary money for equipment by operating scrap drives, paper drives and candy sales.

All players, as well as manager and coaches are protected by an accident insurance policy which protects them during all games as well as going to and from practice. This expense is paid by the individual boys' families.

Highlight of the first week of action was a two-hitter tossed by Fritz Eckert of the Splashers, against the Sabres, who were on the short end of the count 3 to 1. Mark Miller, pitching for the Sabres gave up three hits.

Four Way Tie For First

Kellys Edges Kids 5-2 In Independent Action

Kellys Inn threw the Saturday Independent Slo Pitch League into fourway tie for first place last Saturday by nudging previously undefeated Landmark Kids 5-2 in nine innings.

Kellys, who lost their first game of the season last week, bounced back in their victory over the Kids to record their seventh win in eight outings this year.

In other action, Old Landmark trounced Olympian Club 20-4 behind the heavy club work of Ike Boling, Buck Santanich, Ralph Mouser and Jack Embelton.

Boling and Santanich each collected four hits in six at bats, with Buck contributing a home run and double among his blows. Mouser went three-for-five for the day while Embelton chipped in with a long homer.

Harry Sells, Bob Bender and Bob Reese led the futile Olympian attack, with Sells rapping a triple and single in four trips, Bender collecting three-for-four, and Reese adding a double and single.

Omar stayed in contention in second round play by besting Don's Inn 19-11 in the day's final contest. Leading the hit parade for Omar were Nixon (homer and three singles), Janes (homer and three singles), Hall (three singles), and Stewart (single, double and a triple).

The Kreigbaum brothers again led Dons attack by raping out six hits between them. Bill Kreigbaum slashed out two hits, a homer and double, while George accounted for a triple and three singles.

Burchfield, Fallon and Rowlins also homered in the losing cause.

With the half-way mark now passed, the standings show Omar, the Landmark Kids, Old Landmark and Kellys sharing first place honors with identical 2-1 records. Olympian Club (1-2) remains in fifth place, followed by winless Don's (0-3).

The league will play three five-game rounds with the winners of each session playing a round-robin schedule for the league championship.

Kellys took first place honors during the first round with a perfect 5-0 record.

'Y' Church Play

Ohio-av EUB Takes Honors

Ohio-Av EUB scored a close victory over Oakwood Methodist to take first round honors in the Wednesday Junior division of the South Side "Y" Church Leagues last week. Other results in the mid-week loop saw Washington EUB nose out St. Paul E&R, St. John E&R outlast South Methodist, and Emmanuel Lutheran overpowered the lads from St. Paul Lutheran. Joe Middendorf hit a homer and Fred Huston and Bob West each collected four hits apiece to lead the Emmanuel attack.

In the Girl's League South Methodist scored two victories and Hungarian E&R edged into a first place tie with St. Paul E&R to highlight last weeks play. South beat Frebis Church of God and Southwood Church of Christ with Hungarian also beating Southwood.

In other games played by the fairer sex, St. John E&R scored at will to defeat Oakwood, and Livingston Methodist upset the gals from Emmanuel. Both St. John and Livingston are one game off the pace of the league leaders with five and two records.

In the unpredictable Intermediate circuit, St. Paul E&R, first round co-champion with South Methodist, lost to Oakwood via the forfeit route and Hungarian E&R upset the dope bucket by outclassing Livingston's nine.

In an exhibition game played at Ostrander, the Junior All Stars defeated Ostrander in a game that featured sportsmanship at its highest level.

Refs Thrown From Ring

Officials Roughed Up In Six-Man Tag-Team

Lynn Redman

A crowd pleasing free-for-all following the main event highlighted Saturday nights three-bout card at popular Jones Park, 3800 Groveport-pk.

Six wrestlers, two referees and spectators joined in the fracus which followed an official's decision to award three-man tag-team event to the team of Lee Burton, Ray Fleetfoot and Church Stanley.

The team of Chest Brennemen, Lynn Redman and Jack Lamont disputed the decision by referees Jerry Reeb and Jack Karnes and showed their disapproval by roughing up the two officials.

Burton, Fleetfoot and Stanley came to the aid of the officials, as did several spectators, to finally squelch the uprising.

The losers protested the decision on the grounds that Reeb and Karnes "played favorites" with their opponents following roughing up of the officials by both sides during the bout.

Burton had thrown Redman at the officials during the event and succeeded in knocking Karnes completely out of the ring. Fleetfoot then joined his partner in the melee by throwing Reed from the ring.

Upon their return to the squared circle, both officials forfeited the match to Burton, Fleetfoot and Stanley on the grounds that their opponents purposely aided in knocking the referees from the ring.

In other action Saturday, Burton decisioned Redman and Fleetfoot and Lamont fought to a "no contest" decision.

The Fleetfoot-Lamont affair was climaxed by both contestants continuing their fight after they had succeeded in throwing each other from the ring.

In Friday night's action, Karnes substituted for the injured Jack Smithers and fought a 30-minute draw with Lamont. Smithers and Ralph Whaley, also scheduled on the card, were injured in an automobile accident early Friday and could not carry out their individual bouts.

In Friday's other semi-final event Gentleman Rocky Mingo defeated Stanley.

The tag-team event highlighted Friday's card when Lamont, teaming with Mingo, knocked out referee Rex Rose, causing spectators to come out of the crowd and into the ring to avenge the foul play dealt the official.

Fleetfoot, from near-by Obetz, was a spectator at the bout along with Randy Birchem, and the two entered the ring and squared-off with Lamont following this display of unsportsmanlike tactics aainst Rose.

Following the restoration of order, Rose awarded the bout to the team of Karnes and Stanley. The verdict marked the third straight week the foul, unsportsmanshiplike and deliberately illegal tactics by Lamont have caused the disqualification of his team in Jones Park bouts.

This week's action will feature two newcomers to Jones Park this season..

In Friday night's bouts, Irish Ken Kelsey will be pitted against Chuck Stanley, Lucky Lambert will go against Jack Smithers, and Jack Karnes will square-off against Lynn Redman. A four-man tag-team event will follow.

Kelsey and Lambert, experienced pros with eight years' ring experience between them have appeared at the Groveport-pk area in past years, but will be making their 1959 debuts this Friday night.

Saturday evening's card will also mark the professional debut of Jerry Reed, young Marion-Franklin High School graduate who has looked sensational in workouts the past two weeks.

Reed will be pitted against Randy Birchem in one of the evening's semi-final events, and will team with veteran Ralph Whaley against Birchem and Burton in the four-man tag event.

Special feature of the card will be a one-hour, best two out of three falls contest between arch-rivals Ray Fleetfoot and Jack Lamont. This final, "one-and-for-all" event was especially promoted to draw to an end the mounting ill feeling that has existed between the two men since early in the season.

Baker Leads In Norwood Golf Tourney

A 42 average, two under par, has landed Lester L. Baker in first place after the third week of play in the local qualifier for the International Miniature Golf Tournament being held at Norwood's Amusement Park.

Baker's score puts him ahead in the competition to represent Columbus at the international event in September at Asbury Park, N.J.

Pressing Baker for the coveted honor, according to averages released by tournament headquarters at 2025 E. Main-st, are Don Jagerski, 685 Jenkins-av, 43 average; Charles Kiefer, 674 S. Champion-av, 44; Bill Turner, 667 Fairwood-av, 44; Chuck Goble, 181 West-st, Groveport, 45.5; Tom Noble, 290 Sheldon-av, 46.

In the junior division for those under 16, Marv Lackritz, 175 S. Merkle-rd, posted a 42.6 average to lead in the race for a Schwinn bicycle. Right behind him in the scoring are Dave Tucker, 1436 Madison-av, 43; Steve Ervin, 804 Vernon-rd, 43; Frank Theibert, 2868 Columbus-av, 43.5; Robert Tidwell, 710 S. Ohio-av, 44; Jim Siders, 3796 Dehner-dr, 45.5; and Jack Spiers, 601 Rhodes-pl, 45.6.

Winners of both divisions will be determined by the low average for 12 rounds at the championship miniature golf course especially designed for this competition. The course and amusement park, with 19 rides and amusements for the entire family, is open at 1 p.m. daily.

The convention is arranged by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, Inc., located in Brooklyn, N.Y. for Jehovah's Witnesses. A total attendance of 18,000 is anticipated.

"The purpose of the meeting," said Bourne "is to provide additional Bible instruction for the Witnesses and to enable them to apply Bible principles more fully to their everyday lives and activities. For this reason the program carries the theme of 'Awake Ministers'."

There will be morning, afternoon and evening sessions devoted to Bible talks, discussions and practical demonstrations, he explained.

Bourne further reported that F. W. Franz, vice-president of the Watchtower Society, will be the principal speaker at the Cincinnati Gardens. Highlight of the convention will be the public address by Franz at 3 p.m. Sunday, July 19, on "When God Speaks To All Nations."

The fire started in a pile of oil soaked metal shavings, firemen said.

The Gadabout

Priscilla LaRue Lenox

HI. 4-1651

It was so nice to hear from Alice Kusan, 321 Reeb-av, and hearing all about her recent Pennsylvania trip. Alice, Mike and the two young Kusans visited Alice's sister, Clara Hirschmann in Roenova, 400 miles away.

We've always counted Clara a pretty special friend, so was delighted to hear she's feeling better again, after a period of illness. To get an idea of how "back to nature" that section of the Keystone state is, Alice counted 100 deer, plus porcupines, eagles, owls and whippoorwills.

Roenova is in the heart of great hunting country, according to a pamphlet Clara once sent me. (Just added that to appeal to any readers of the stronger sex!)

New Profession?

Mrs. Gordon Jameson, a former kindergarten teacher of Southwood School, is now learning a new profession . . . that of motherhood. Her South Side well-wishers will be happy to know that her new little one is doing fine.

Little Gregory Alan was born June 15. Congratulations for the happy mom and dad may be sent to 835 Clairmont-av, Napoleon, O. (The Jamesons had lost their first infant, so the healthiness of little Greg is a cause for thankfulness).

Margaret and Walter Miller, 1400 S. 6th-st, enjoyed the facilities of Indian Lake, for their annual summer outing. Son Steve's birthday and imminent entrance into Uncle Sam's "employ" (Navy, I believe) are the most important things to the S. 6th-st residents at this time, however.

The new home of Bob and Marian Schroeder, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Albrecht just sound "super" to ye Gadabout, and you can rest assured we'll avail ourselves of Marian's kind invitation to visit her, as soon as she's "settled."

The two couples, both formerly of S. 3rd-st, have built their dream homes on Bixby-rd, each home on a half acre of land.

Sympathy is extended to Joseph Albert, 317 Reeb-av who lost his brother, Steve, just recently, in Pennsylvania. Also we send condolences to the Leslein family, at the loss of their loved one.

Happy Birthday

Birthday cakes for these youngsters could very well be adorned with the Roman variety of candle . . . George James, 150 Hanford-st, July 4; William Sayre, 1417 Bruck-st, July 2; Beverly Morton, 1408½ S. High-st, July 4; Debora Dover, July 3; Garry Cassady, 17 E. Innis-av, July 4; Mary Milligan, 1659 S. 4th-st, July 4; Kathy Whittaker, 48 Innis, July 4.

Pamela Buchanan, 49 E. Moler, July 3; Beverly Sherman, 1578 S. 3rd-st, July 8; Gregory Stamper, 270 Sheldon, July 5; Donna Smalley, 34 Woodrow, July 7; Judy Ward, 60 E. Moler, July 5; Richard Pyle, July 2; Larry Gregory, 322 Southwood, July 2.

Lewis Harrold, 52 Hanford, July 4; Terry Darst, 367 Morrill, July 3; Pamela Knore, 499 E. Gates, July 4; Marsha Houston, 167 E. Mithoff-st, July 3 and Scott Snyder, 175 Deshler-av, July 1.

Gary Grissom, 493 Basswood-rd, was home on leave in the recent past. He is now stationed in Pensacola. The Grissoms had company from California at the same time, so their cute little home was really bulging for awhile.

Moose Install

New offficers for Women of the Moose, Chapter 206, were installed at the June 25 meeting. Guiding the Chapter for the coming year will be these women: Senior Regent, Mrs. Mabel Gregory; Junior Regent, Mrs. Marilyn Young; Chaplain, Mrs. Helen Sailer; Recorder, Mrs. Anna Anderson; Treasurer, Mrs. Bessie Pugh; Graduate Regent, Mrs. Mildred Pierce; Sentinel, Mrs. Dianne Kline; Argus, Mrs. Maxine Braley; Guide, Mrs. Alexina Ritchie. Assisting in the installation were Mrs. Mary Winegar, Mrs. Dorothy Jolly, Mrs. Julia Schnieder, Mrs. Anne Regner and Mrs. Nellie Begien.

Our adult birthday section has only two names for this week, so our best wishes are sent to Nan Buchan and Shirley McCaffrey, on July 6 and 7 respectively.

We imagine the Netherland-Hilton, in Ohio's Queen City, was a beehive of young feminine pulchritude last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The Job's Daughter Convention was held in Cincinnati, by way of explanation. Bethel 8, which meets at South Gate Temple was represented by the new honor queen, Joyce Fischer, past honor queen, Bonnie Bowers, Joan Crabtree, Donna Dixon, Bonnie Husse, Sharon Hahn, Bonnie Brown and Sherri Montoney. Mrs. Montoney and Mrs. Fischer attended as chaperones.

Mr. Fischer also made the trip. (Were the Ciney Red Legs in town, Don?) Our young informant told us that a trip to Coney Island, a tour of the city, and a Hawaiian luau were on the docket for the weekend. (Anent the luau . . . we probably have misspelled it, but it's a Hawaiian form of an outdoor "cook-out."

If our proposed state's language is used very extensively, ye old Gadabout will have to enroll in a Hawaiian course to learn it!)

Sleepy Heads

Ardis and Dick Chambers probably had two sleepy daughters last Sunday and little wonder! Kay was averaging six hours of sleep at the Girls' State nine-day conclave, and younger daughter Lynn, had a slumber party for some of her school friends last Friday.

Lynn's friends call themselves "The Sloppy Painters" and get together frequently. Lynn's guests were Carla Jividen, Jeri Hampton, Sheila Carver, and Florida guest, Pammy Haynes. Now there's a bevy of beauty and brains, let me tell you!

Diamond milkman Johnny Johnson, of 523 Frebis-av, had the misfortune of hurting his back recently, so is now recuperating at home. The mishap occurred just before his vacation, too.

Fred and Faye Grace, 737 Hanford-st, spent part of their vacation visiting relatives in Missouri.

Mary Thomson, who has been so active in church, PTA and social groups around town, is quite ill at this time. Won't you help to cheer a wonderful woman by sending her a card? The home address is 771 S. 22nd-st, but she will be in Room 402, Mt. Carmel, for quite awhile.

Relations Settle

The LaRue "boys" are both vacationing this week, if you'd like to call it that . . . Don and Mary are getting settled in their new home at 1443 Mulford, with a break to go to Lake Erie to pick up their two daughters who've been guests of their Aunt Doris for a week. Frank and Jean are at "E-Duz-It", their Fairfield Beach cottage at Buckeye Lake.

Frank is recuperating from his dentist's efforts, so it's not all "vacation-time" for either of ye Gadabout's relatives.

One of our telephone friends called last Monday and told us about the New York trip that she and her family made a short while back.

Mrs. Oberkonz, 80 E. Jenkins-av, was the thoughtful neighbor who called. She, Mr. and Mrs. George Oberkonz and their two daughters, Sarah Ann and Frances Kay, were the Columbus contingent who spent two delightful weeks divided between New York City and Long Island. Mrs. Oberkonz has many relatives in the East, so it was a busy time for the visitors. Visiting Chinatown, the Statue of Liberty, riding the subways and als proved very interesting to Mrs. George Oberkonz, for it was her first New York trip. The younger Oberkonzes are residents of 1391 S. 3rd-st.

Tommy Wilson had a July 1 celebrate in Columbus this birthday, which he was able to year. Tom had been living in California previously.

The big news at the Wilson household, 1624 S. 8th-st, is the June 13 wedding of Bob Wilson and the former Judy Purcell. The newly-weds are living at 1009 S. Washington-av.

We know another young couple who exchanged their vows in mid-June, but will wait until next week to write of their plans . . . we had to have such a brief conversation with Gene's mother that we're not sure of some of the details. (Nothing like a good old cliff-hanger for suspense, eh?)

Have a happy but safe July 4th weekend.

Schiller Recreation Center Slates Hi-Fi Club Dance

Schiller Recreation Center tomorrow night will be host to the Hi-Fi Club dance. The dance, to be held in the Schiller gym from 8 to 10:30 p.m., is open to all South Side students, ages 13-18 inclusive. Each participant must be a member of the Hi-Fi Club and all students of the area, within the age limits, can secure membership cards, free of cost, at any of the playgrounds of the South Side or at Schiller. Cards will also be available at the dance on Friday night.

Dean Lewis, popular WBNS disc jockey, will be the master of ceremonies at the dance and will have with him all the latest records to be played for the enjoyment of all who attend.

High quality prizes will be given away at the affair, including an RCA high fidelity "Victrola," Westinghouse six-tube radio, hi-fi dance box and other items. To be eligible to win one of these prizes, each participant must deposit the stub from the membership card in the hopper from which winners' names will be drawn. These drawings each week give the teenagers the opportunity to acquire valuable personal equipment.

The dress for this dance will be the same as the regular Friday night dances. Girls are to wear skirts and blouses or dresses. Boys are to wear dress pants and sport shirts or coats. No levis (overall type) or any kind of shorts will be permitted.

The dance is being held in cooperation with the South Side celebration of a safe and sane Fourth of July.

themselves," Rev. Long said. "And when we discover it, we also are at peace with God." Our individual responsibility is to approach other persons with the same life-giving blessing, he suggested.

Prayer is the mightiest force in the world, Rev. Long said. And regularly practiced by millions. (according to a recent Gallup poll, 100 million Americans claim to be occasional church goers, and 50 million said they attended last week).

Whether or not the freedoms, and peace, that we enjoy are some day washed out by tides of ambition and vindictiveness will depend largely on the guidance intuitively accepted by our political leaders, Rev. Long suggested. Some of the finest and most able leaders in Washington are praying people, he said. Democracies need them; and party affiliations have no bearing.

"Think, practice, and pray," he said — on the eve of our customary Independence Day observances.

bike manufactured in Nutley, N.J. "Each new bike costs about $1,000," he stated, "but although my year-old ones are still in good shape I still feel like it's time for a change about every 12 months. I know the constant driving, wear and team and fatigue affect me, so even though a bike may not show it I figure the same things are bound to have affected it too."

Generally recognized as the top driver in the country, Klamfoth credits his success to "playing it safe all the time."

"When you come right down to it, it's a combination of skill, a good bike and being careful," Klamfoth said. "I've never taken chances and as a result I've never been hurt or in a serious crackup."

Married three years ago, Klamfoth and his wife, Beverly, have two small children, Cheryl Ann, 21-months, and Karen Kay, 11-months.

Beverly accompanies her husband on all his trips around the country, and is currently readying their next move, July 10, to California for the 25-mile and eight-mile National Championships.

"We go by car on our trips," Klamfoth concluded. "People now-a-days just don't give a motorcyclist very much room on the highways."

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Relatives and friends of Mrs. Lou Thontson, 71 Reeb-av, will celebrate Mrs. Thontson's 90th birthday Friday, July 3, with an open house at the Reeb-av residence. Five generations of well-wishers are expected to attend the event.

Separate eggs as soon as you remove them from the refrigerator. Cold yolks are less likely to break, say Ohio State University specialists.

Bible School Ends; Report Well Attended

South Side Church of Christ, which meets at the Scioto Trail School, 2951 S. High-st, concluded a two-week long vacation Bible school, June 26.

According to Rev. Donald Hicks, pastor, the sessions were very successful. Enrollment amounted to 178 and the average daily attendance was 155. Women of the congregation served as teachers.

Another school will be arranged next summer, Rev. Hicks said.

Donald Adcock Given Army Promotion

Donald L. Adcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Adcock, 857 Heyl-av, recently was promoted to private first class in Germany where he is assigned as a mechanic in the 48th Ordnance Company.

Adcock entered the Army in Aug. 1958 and received basic combat training at Fort Knox, Ky. He arrived in Europe last January.

Before entering the Army, the 22-year-old soldier was employed by Westinghouse Electric Company. He attended South High School.

SNUG SHELTER — Don Weber, Route 1, Galloway, displays the ease with which he sets up his truck tent. He collaborated on the invention with a friend, Richard Bock, 556 Westphall-rd, Whitehall, who actually built it.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Dale Hollow Exciting --Except For Fishing

Don Weber, Route 1, Galloway, reports that everything was fine down at Dale Hollow Lake for the past two weeks but the fishing. The Webers just returned from a vacation at the famous Tennessee lake, where they camped in a remote area along a scenic sandy beach.

With the Webers were the Francis Bakers, W. Jefferson, and the Lewis Traubs, 481 Wrexham-av.

Nationally known for its smallmouth bass and walleye fishing, Dale Hollow just hasn't lived up to its reputation this spring. While the area campers were there they heard of just one walleye, a 17-pounder, being caught on the lake. Only a few bass were caught, and these were small.

About the only action, according to Weber, was from crappies and white bass. Don caught crappies using a spinner, and others in the party took them with live bait. The white bass, called strippers down there, were being caught in the same manner.

"The biggest fish I saw," said Don, "was a pet bass at one of the boat docks. He lived around the minnow tanks right out in the lake, and could always be observed there. The people have named him Jimmy, and reported that he had been caught several times. Since he is tagged, fishermen always return him to the lake. Jimmy looked like he would weigh about five pounds."

Try New Camping Rig

One of the exciting features of the trip for Weber, his wife, Ginny, and daughter, Pam, was the trial of their new camping rig built on a Goliath truck. A bed, complete with mattress, comes out of the truck like a bureau drawer. This leaves the entire truck bed as living area. Sleeping area and living space are, of course, under canvas.

When in transit, the top of the tent acts as a protective cover for gear loaded on the truck bed. When a campsite is reached, the "tent" is set up in a matter of minutes. One of the TVA officials at Dale Hollow told the Webers that it was one of the snappiest camping rigs he had ever seen — and he'd seen plenty.

"This first trip was a trial run," says Don Weber, "and we found a couple of things we want to change. There are some additions we want to make, too. But on the whole we were very well pleased. The first night there our rig was put to a severe test in a hard rainstorm, but we were high and dry the whole time."

Even though fishing was a bit disappointing, the campers had a wonderful trip. The three camps were set up on a narrow spit of land that jutted out in the water. They were in a wilderness section, and no other campers were encountered. Water and other supplies were obtained at boat docks. The nearest town was five miles away. Practically the whole area surrounding the large lake is available to campers. The land is owned by the U. S. Army Engineers, and much of it is really wild.

When fish weren't bitting, time was spent in boating and swimming. It is only a nine-hour trip from here, and the Webers are looking forward to the day they can return in their "camping truck."

SAUSAGES FOR SUMMER

Are you looking for quick and easy foods for meals during the holiday weekend? More than 100 different sausage meats are available to offer good flavor and food value to summer meals. These relatively inexpensive "buy a pound—serve a pound" meats may be served hot or cold, alone or combined with other foods.

What Is Sausage Meat? — While sausage is usually thought of a fresh ground pork, any meat that has been ground or chopped is called sausage. Beef, pork, and veal usually are used. Thinner carcasses, trimmings, and edible by-products are used. The meat used for most varieties is given a light cure, ground or chopped, and mixed with different spices for flavor.

A binder of corn flour, potato flour, rice flour, crackers, or dry skim milk is used to hold the sausage together, improve texture, and absorb water. Sausage made under government inspection can have up to 3.5 percent binder.

Chipped ice is also added to most sausage to prevent "heating." The limits on this under government inspection is three percent for uncooked sausage, and up to 10 percent for cooked sausage.

After it is made the sausage is stuffed into natural or artificial casings. The natural casing is eaten, while the artificial kind is peeled off after processing.

Kinds Available — fresh, cooked and dry sausages are the three major types available.

Fresh sausages made of uncured meat have not been cooked when purchased. They usually are not smoked. Keep this kind as any fresh meat—covered in the refrigerator. Pork sausage and hamburger are the most popular of this kind. These need to be cooked before eating.

Cooked sausages are made of lightly cured meat, are cooked, and usually are smoked. The frankfurter and bologna are the most popular of these. These can be cooked, or eaten as purchased.

Dry sausages are mostly made of cured beef and pork. Most are cooked, some are smoked, and all are dried to some extent. Thus, their keeping quality is excellent. Salami, cervelat, thuringer are examples of this kind.

The three best guides to quality are:

- the Federal Inspection Stamp
- the label
- the brand name.

The Federal Inspection Stamp shows the sausage has been made of wholesome food under sanitary conditions. The label gives a list of ingredients (in the order of pre-dominance), the name and address of the manufacturer, and weight of the package. The brand name is important because manufacturers try to maintain consistent quality.

Did You Know — that more than 12 percent of all the meat produced is sausage? In a 1955 Food Consumption Survey, about half of the meat used was in a processed form — hamburger, sausages, frankfurters, canned meats, etc. And farm families ate almost as much of these kinds of meat as city families did.

Witnesses Plan Petition Asking Free Worship

The Columbus South Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses recently learned that Jehovah's Witnesses in Argentina have been denied their constitutional rights of free assembly and worship. A vote of protest was taken and plans discussed to petition the Argentine Republic to correct the restrictions laid on the Christian group's activities.

Dean G. Bourne, the congregation's presiding minister, said that in spite of many liberal advancements made by the present Argentine government that ousted the dictatorial Peron regime, a few non-Catholic religious groups that were declared illegal by Peron have yet to be recognized by Argentina's constitutional president, Arturo Frondizi.

According to Bourne, two different applications for recognition were denied by the "Ministry of Worship," a department of the government formed by Peron to control the registry of all non-Catholic religions in the country.

Two futile appeals have been made to the present government to rescind the order denying Jehovah's Witnesses the right to register. The latest appeal was made following a new decree signed by Frondizi on Feb. 6, 1959, giving non-Catholic religions full right to worship God as guaranteed by Article 14 of the Argentine Constitution.

Bourne said the more than 6,000 Jehovah's Witnesses in Argentina began circulation of a petition addressed to the president of the Argentine Republic requesting recognition under the new, liberal provision of his government. The neighboring countries of Bolivia, Chile, Paraguay and Uruguay are circulating similar petitions to acquaint the people of those countries, as well as Frondizi, with the condition that exists in Argentina.

Smith Road Playground Opens Season

The Smith Road Playground opened last week with an attendance of almost 200 children. Playground leaders for this summer season will be Jerry Robison and Barbara Hill, both students at Ohio State University.

Softball teams for boys and girls of all ages have been formed. Games will be scheduled with other playgrounds in the south section of Columbus.

Plans for the lantern parade and the pageant are also under way. The children will make costumes and props for both events to be held later in the season.

The annual pet show was held at Schiller Park Thursday, June 25, at 6:30 p.m. Prizes were given in many categories such as the largest, smallest, most obedient, cutest, etc.

Teen dances are planned for Friday evenings beginning this Friday at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria of the Smith Road School.

Ohio State University home furnishings specialists say that extremely tall vases, candlesticks or figurines are most pleasing when placed on or below eye level.

Local Woman Admits Hoax

A young mother reported to police last week that she had been criminally assaulted only to admit it was a hoax the next day.

The 21year-old wife of a Lockbourne Air Force base serviceman had earlier told police that a man forced his way into her Oak-st apartment and threatened to kill her three-month-old son unless she submitted to him.

Police said she admitted that she submitted voluntarily and refused to identify the man.

She told police she lied because she feared her husband would find out about it. He was on duty at the time of the incident.

Y-Park Crowds Soar

Year's Attendance Is 1,000 Over 1958 Six-Month Mark

"A perfect example of community unity."

This was the phrase used this week by Miles "Cap" Hoover, executive secretary of the South Side YMCA to describe Y-Park, Rohr-rd's popular year around community camp.

Founded in 1928 on 10 acres near its present site one-half mile east of Lockbourne-rd, the park has flourished throughout the years till today it covers over 34 acres.

Attendence too has mounted. In summerizing his monthly reports, Hoover stated that as of July 1 of this year, park attendence is over 1,000 more than for the corresponding period in 1958.

For the first six months of 1959 the park has seen 12,457 persons pass through its broad gates. May accounted for the highest monthly figure (5,732) with June a close second (5,300).

"The park is booked solid for every weekend through September," Hoover stated. "May and June are our heaviest months, but as far as weekends go, every month excepting those in the winter season are heavy."

Bordering on Big Walnut Creek, approximately three miles south of Columbus, the park is operated by the South Side Branch YMCA as a non-profit, semi-public community service.

The park is divided into a Camp and Conference Area for organized youth groups, high school age and younger; and a Picnic Area, available to membership and group use.

Park facilities in the picnic area include a large shelter, small shelter, picnic tables, fireplaces, swings, teeters, slide, sandbox, volleyball, horseshoes, shuffleboard and parking area.

Included in the camp and conference area are the Optimist Lodge and basement, Back Home Cabin, Hoover Haven Cabin, shuffleboard, fireplaces, the administration building, and the Right Angle Cabin.

The park's spacious athletic field includes facilities for both softball and football playing.

The picnic area, with its two shelter houses, is the income area of Y-Park. It must, through memberships and shelter house reservation fees, finance operation, supervision, maintenance and improvements of the park.

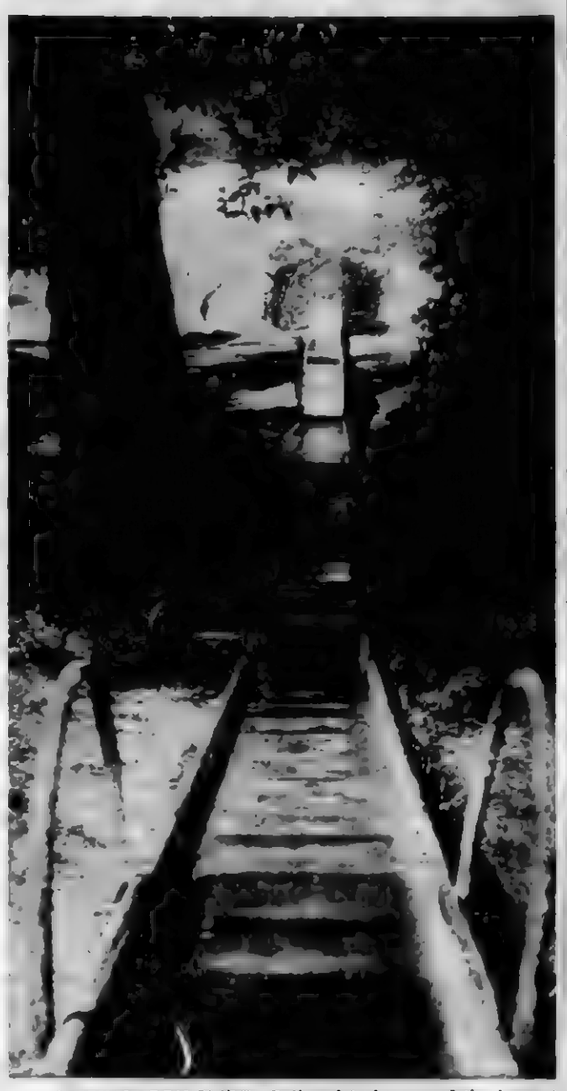
"Persons using the park must leave it in as good a shape as when they entered," Hoover declared. "Our prices, which average $4 per group, would have to be more than doubled if we couldn't demand the responsibility of those who use it."

The park was founded in July, 1928, as an outgrowth of general community need. At that time, the Amerigo Club of the YMCA, a group composed of South Side young men, together with the Y staff, selected 10 acres of bottom land in Hamilton Township, along the Big Walnut Creek.

The park, with limited facilities, was opened to the public in 1929. From that date until 1941, approximately 10,000 children and adults used the park annually.

Some major problems hindering the development and growth of the old park site were floods from Big Walnut and the depression of the 1930's. In spite of these handicaps, the leaders and organizations of the community were impressed with the fact that thousands of young people were attending the park annually.

The need for a better and permanent site had become apparent.



In 1943 community leaders, interested in expanding their service to youth, expressed a desire to participate in the development of a new Y-Park site.

After considerable searching, a new site was located and its development was recommended by the Board of Mangement of the South Side YMCA.

The Community Chest of Columbus and Franklin County were aware of the merits of the project and, upon request, appropriated funds to move the park to its present location.

After two and one-half years of devoted effort on the part of community leaders, the Y-Park was officially dedicated on Sunday, Sept. 29, 1946, for, and by the youth of South Columbus and southeastern Franklin County.

The park, since dedication, has served close to 300,000 youth and adults.

Clay Heads Resemble Men Needing Haircut

Expressions "Bone Head," "Head Shrinker" and "Knuckle Head" are terms used commonly in the average run-of-the-mill work day.

But "Clay Head" and "Grass Head" are two expressions one seldom hears.

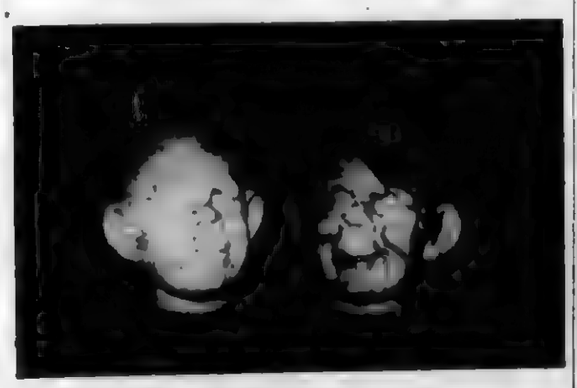
Gail Russell, manager of the First National Cleaners on Parsons-av, however, not only uses these terms, but actually sees clay heads and grass heads every day on her job as First National manager.

Miss Russell has a hobby—plants. Although she calls her hobby "only a work time amusement," her local cleaning shop sports over 75 varieties of plants, ranging from philodendrons and polar ivy to creeping Jerrys and amaryllis.

Included in her assortment of potted plants are two clay heads, miniature in size, yet life-like in feature and appearance.

The heads, given to her "years ago" by her sister, are about five inches high and approximately four inches wide. Although identical in appearance, the "skin" of each skull is arranged in an assortment of grooves which represent wrinkles.

The heads are unique in that live grass can be grown from the wrinkles in the skull. No soil is used—just water.



As Miss Russell explains it, "grass seed is planted, or rather laid, in the grooves of the skull. Water is poured through the hole on the top of the head, thus filling the hollow inside of the skull.

"As the water gradually soaks through the clay the seeds begin to sprout. It takes a good week before the first growth appears, but after about two weeks the skulls usually are full of hair-like grass."

Miss Russell went on to explain that although she has two such clay heads in her store, she keeps only one full of grass. "It gives you a fuller understanding of what nature can do," she stated. "The before and after appearance of the two heads never fails to fascinate me."

"The trick to the fast growth

Symphony Orchestra To Play At Schiller

Schiller Park's regular Sunday Band concerts will feature a new twist in entertainment to South Side music lovers this Sunday with the replacement of the band by a symphony orchestra.

D. Talmadge (Tom) Crawshaw, director of Schiller Recreation Center will be the conductor of the evening. He has planned a program of music with popular appeal, ranging from musical comedy selections through light classical and symphonic literature, including "Tales from Vienna Woods" and a special arrangement of "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers."

The Glenwood Methodist Choir, which Mr. Crawshaw also directs, will be the guest artists on the program singing the famous "Hallelujah" from Handel's Messiah and a choral setting of the "Hungarian Rhapsody II" by Liszt as well as the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" for which they have had many requests.

These concerts each Sunday evening are free to the public and are co-sponsored by the Columbus Federation of Musicians and the Columbus Recreation Department.

Program

"Tannhauser March" by Wagner.

"Andante Cantabile" Symphony V) by Tschaikowsky.

"Midsummer Night's Dream Music," by Mendelssohn. 1. Overture, 2. Scherzo, 3, Wedding March.

Choir and orchestra—"Romany Life," by Liszt.

"The Glow-Worm" by Lincke.

"Panamericana" by Herbert.

"New Moon" selections by Romberg.

"Contra Dances" I and II, by Beethoven.

"The Moldau" by Smetana.

"Tales from the Vienna Woods" by Strauss.

Choir and Orchestra — 1. "Hallelujah" from Messiah, by Handel. 2. "Battle Hymn of the Republic" arr. by Ringwald.

South Siders Seen Giving To New Drives

South Side homemakers will be asked to give to fewer drives next year as a result of the inclusion of five new organizations into this fall's United Appeal campaign.

The new agencies will be included as part of the $3,374,007 campaign target as recommended by the Citizens Screening Committee.

Eight percent over the amount raised in last year's undersubscribed drive, the major portion of the increase will go to help restore crippling cutbacks in agency services resulting from last year's shortage.

Some of the increase will also provide for some expansion in programs serving the growing number of youth, older people, broken families and the chronically ill.

Largest of the new agencies coming in for the first time is United Cerebral Palsy. The others are Buckeye Ranch for Boys, Poison Control Center of Children's Hospital, Ohio Committee on Delinquency and Crime and International Social Service.

John M. Caren, Screening Committee Chairman, said the goal is/ "the irreducible minimum if the functioning of agencies is not to be seriously impaired to the point of depriving Franklin County citizens of vitally needed services."

South Sider Wins $600 Heart Grant

Two young Columbus men, attending medical school at Ohio State University, have been awarded the Central Ohio Heart Association's Business and Professional Women's Scholarship for the summer quarter, it was announced this week.

The scholarships, of $600 each, went to Fred T. Moore, 159 E. Morrill-av, and James Q. Dorgan, 1861 Cambridge-blvd.

Dorgan is conducting an investigation of the medical principle that the heart output per beat is directly proportional to the filling of the heart as it dilates. His study is being supervised by Joseph M. Ryan, M.D., at the OSU Heart Station. A junior in medical school, Dorgan graduated from OSU in 1957.

Moore, a sophomore in medicine, is applying his scholarship to a study of the effects of certain inotropes on the rat heart under the supervision of Eric Ogden, M.D., in the Department of Physiology.

He received his B.S. degree from OSU in 1956.

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Columbus annually contributes toward scholarships awarded each quarter by the COHA.

Southview Celebration Hosts 10,000 Viewers

Council President Thanks Community's Fine Support

Howard Henry, president of the Council of South Side Organizations, this week expressed his thanks to all who took part in the councils' annual Fourth of July Celebration at Southview Park Saturday.

"There are just too many people to thank individually," Henry stated, "so I'd like to extend my sincere thanks to everyone who took part in making the event the biggest and best that Southview has ever hosted."

The celebration, witnessed by a record throng of over 10,000 Independence Day viewers, hosted an assortment of games, rides and fireworks that contributed to make the holiday "one of the most successful we've ever had," according to Henry.

Proceeds from the event will go into the council fund for use on such community projects as the annual South Side Halloween Party in October and the annual Easter Egg Hunt next April.

Highlight of the evening was the gigantic fireworks display which saw over $500 worth of sky-shattering rockets, bombs and displays light up the park area between Greenlawn and S. High-st.

A special fireworks display of a lighted 49-star flag signaled the beginning of the evenings song fest, during which time the National Anthem was sung while the special flag display blazed away.

Because of the extremely hot weather during the afternoon, the Columbus Fire Department wetted down the display areas prior to the setting off of the fireworks.

Southway American Legion Post No. 144 started off the day's events with flag raising ceremonies at the legion post at 1 p.m., then at Southview at 2 p.m.

Sandwiched in between the flag raising and fireworks were three ball games, special Boy Scout demonstrations, pony rides, games and the song fest.

Dan Rohyans, tough Mark Stephens Memorial League team, blasted their Heart of Ohio Supply rivals in the day's top game, while the South Methodist YMCA Church League team edged St. Paul Evangelical and Reform 15-11 in a Church League championship contest.

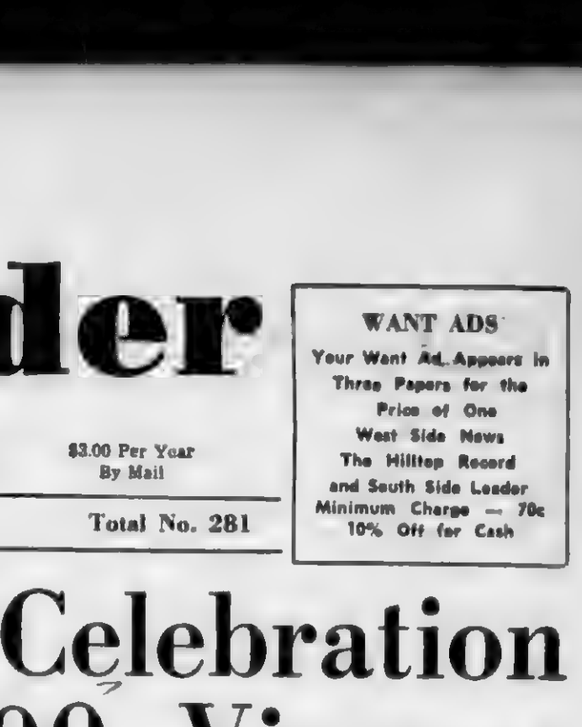
An intermediate game between the Wednesday All-Stars and the Monday All-Stars saw the Wednesday group slash out a 13-3 victory over their opponents.

The weekend, aimed at making the Independence Day Celebration a "community affair," also saw South Siders take advantage of their community facilities by sporting good attendance at both the Schiller Park Dance, July 3, and the weekly Schiller Band Concert, on the 5th.

Both Schiller events, along with the Southview celebration, were open to the public at no charge.

The Flag used by Southway American Legion Post 144 during its flag raising was later presented by the post to Southview for permanent display.

Contributions to the celebration were made by local merchants and groups, without whose efforts the day would not have been possible.



Included among the list of those who donated to the annual celebration are:

Scioto Fish and Game Club, Bob's Carry Out, Steelton Auto Parts, Mohawk Grill, Schottenstein Department Store, J. E. Powell, Hartley Printing and Publishing Company, Falters Packing Company, South Hi Wee Wash It Laundry, Schmidt Packing Company, A. South High Hosts City Track Meet

More than 1100 youths from over half the city's playgrounds will meet today for the annual South Sectional Track and Field Meet at South High School.

The 26 events for boys and girls, aged 17 and under, will be held for playgrounds that are closer to South High than they are to Linden McKinley High School.

North Side playgrounds will compete at Linden McKinley July 23 for the North Sectional phase of the event.

The South sectional meet will begin at 1 p.m. for boys and girls, 13 years of age and under. The 14 through 17-year-olds will compete at 5:30 p.m.

Whitehall playground's track and field team placed 156½ points to take the 1958 version of the South Sectional meet, and is considered the team to beat again this year.

Livingston led the South Side playgrounds in the 26-team race last year by finishing a distant second to Whitehall with 110½ points.

Other local groups who participated in the event last year were Fairwood, which placed fifth; Karns, seventh; Southeast Lions, 10th; Schiller, 14th; Lincoln Park, 17th; Mohawk, 23rd, and Smith Road, 24th.

Individual stars from the South Side who are expected to return for today's action are Linda Grinstead, Schiller; Scott French, Fairwood; Patty Ryan, Fairwood; Edileen Janisch, Fairwood; Marianna Spohn, Karns; Ron Bell, Lincoln Park; Rita Straub, Fairwood, and Barb Neugebauer, Karns.

Also slated to return in an attempt to repeat last year's winning performance in the boys' 220-yard relay is the Southeast Lions team of Banks, Bonner, Jackson and Banks, which established a record in the event for boys aged 12 and 13 by winning with a time of 28.4 seconds.

South Side Boy Drowning Victim On Wednesday

A quarry behind WBNS-TV studio along Twin River-dr was the scene of the drowning of a 12-year-old South Side boy, tentatively identified as Robert Martin, of a S. 6th-st address.

Just learning to swim, the boy swung from a rope to the middle of the 35 foot deep quarry. Panic stricken, he fought off all efforts of other youths to save him.

The boy was accompanied by two others, James Wallace, 14, of 121 Cleveland-av, and Jerry Viers, 13, of 710 Franklin-av.

Firemen searched within 15 feet of the shore for his body, which was recovered an hour later.

PLAN PARTY

Southway American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 144, will sponsor a euchre party at the Post Home, 874 S. High-st, Tuesday, July 14, at 1 p.m. Mrs. Walton Barnhart is chairman.

Schiller Park Lantern Parade Plans Underway

Lanterns of every color and shape are being made in preparation for the gala Lantern Parade to be held at Schiller Recreation Center, July 16, 8 p.m.

The children are painting, cutting, pasting and wiring, in hopes that their lantern will be the most effective at this annual event. Each child executes and carries his own lantern. Parents and friends are all invited to come and watch.

There is still time for your youngster to make a lantern. Contact any of the staff at Schiller if he is interested.

WADER'S DELIGHT

SCHILLER POOL—Schiller Park's popular wading pool gets a workout from local South Side youngsters during the current heat wave the past week. The pool, cool and refreshing during the summer heat, attracts an estimated 300 youngsters per day, who release their energy by splashing and paddling about in the park's popular landmark.

Marilyn Flovin Makes September Wedding Plans

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Skiver, 71 Woodrow-av, this week announced the engagement and pending marriage of their daughter, Marilyn Jean Flovin, to Mr. Robert Eugene Schrader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edward Schrader, 1698 S. High-st.

A Sept. 5 wedding is planned at South Methodist Church.

Miss Flovin is a South High graduate.

Mr. Schrader, a graduate of South High School, is associated with the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company.

Sally Poeschel Wins Top Prize At Hi-Fi Dance

Sally Poeschel won the hi-fi record player at the Hi-Fi Dance held last Friday evening at Schiller Recreation Center. Judy and Sandy Thompson won the dance contest held during the evening; their prize was a radio. Linda Stevens held the lucky number drawn for a camera. Twenty-four pairs of Hi-Fi socks found 24 happy winners. Also given as prizes was 24 cartons of coca-cola.

This dance was sponsored by the Hi-Fi Club, a teenage nation-wide organization.

The next Hi-Fi Dance at the Schiller Center will be held on Aug. 7, 8 to 10:30 p.m.

Knitting Class Being Taught At Schiller Park

Knitting is popular even in the summertime at Schiller Recreation Center. Many of the women who were attending the classes this past winter have continued to come, and are looking forward to new members for the group. Mrs. Emily Ocker, guest instructor, is still with the class.

So, come, have fun and prepare for the cooler months by making yourself a hand-knit sweater.

This class meets at 1:30 each Wednesday afternoon, in the craft room.

Woman Injured In Knife Fight; Suspect Held

A South Side woman suffered deep cuts from a straight edge razor on her face in a fight with another woman Saturday afternoon.

Vivian Belcher, 24, of 291 S. Champion-av, was in fair condition at St. Anthony Hospital, police reported Saturday.

Police arrested Frances Marie White, 27, of 148½ Mink-st, as a suspect, holding her for investigation of cutting to kill.

Don't forget to call in that news item—BR. 4-1155.

The Gadabout

Priscilla LaRue Lenox

HI. 4-1051

Deanna Brewer, 526 Sheldon-av, young South High School co-ed, was able to see a portion of the country she hadn't yet seen, when she travelled to Michigan for a few days not so long ago.

Deanna travelled with Mr. and Mrs. William Morrison to the Wolverine State. The Morrisons, who live out west, while Mr. Morrison is stationed there, were visitors in our fair city for a short while.

Herbert Markham, hurt badly in an auto accident on June 27, would certainly be cheered by thoughtful cards at this time, as he is not allowed to have visitors. His lung was pierced so his doctors allow no talking or undue exertion of any kind. The injured man is in Lincoln Memorial Hospital.

Visiting Columbus from Los Angeles, Calif., are Thelma (Burke) Grehl and her daughter. The Grehls are visiting relatives and friends. Miss Grehl just graduated from high school, prior to their departure from the west coast.

Harry and Maureen Ruden, Lew and Helen Ruden, were four Columbusites who spent their vacation in Michigan. For the men, fishing was the big attraction, natch.

This sort of item always saddens us when we hear of it. Nancy Bope Kiefhaber, who had resided in Michigan in recent years, died of leukemia last week. The young, 28-year-old mother of two, had been an active student while in South High School.

She had been homecoming queen in 1951, an honor student, etc. To her parents, who now live ond Wellesely-rd, our sympathy is extended, and of course to her bereaved husband and children also.

Two friends of the Gadabout lost loved ones, so condolences to Dorothy Husse and to Wally Dean. Both lost their mothers.

Sponsor Sale

Sunday, July 12, after all the Masses, the ladies of St. Ladislas parish whose family name begins with the letters N to Z, will sponsor a bake sale for the benefit of the church. Nut roles and Kefli will be featured plus other home baked goods.

Special orders may be had by calling Mrs. Albert Maciocc, chairman, at HI. 2-8210, or co-chairman, Mrs. Albert Santo, at HI. 4-2466.

It's time to wish Happy Birthday to these youngsters . . . Cheryl Barnett, 97 Woodrow, July 15; Darlene Sanson, 8 Reeb, July 11; Brenda Kirby, 123 E. Woodrow, July 15; Arthur Budd, 366 Hanford, July 11; Bonnie Wellman, 1586 S. 4th-st, July 15; Frank Bateman, 388 Morrill, July 11; Timmy Thompson, 229 Frebis, July 11; Diana Jacobs, 1607 Parsons, July 15; Karen Taylor, 151 E. Hinman, July 9; Karen Hiser, 28 W. Welch, July 12; Gary Brown, 44 W. Neff, July 9; Stephen Ullman, 1445 S. High-st, July 14; Marsha Houston, 167 E. Mithoff-st, July 3.

Our ailing list includes Laurene Drinkwater, mother of Paul Baughman; Bus Hetenhouser, 577 Kossuth-st, who was scheduled to undergo surgery at Grant Hospital, and Roger Brown, 552 Southwood-av.

Pamela Knore, 499 E. Gates-st, and Steve Miller, 494 E. Hanford-st, are at Round Lake Camp for this week.

Wins on TV

Virginia Leonard, 515 Forest-st, was one of the lucky winners in the "Music Bingo" TV show. Her prize purportedly is to come from England. To quote her, it's a "brass thing-a-majig for the wall." Maybe she can buy a brass watchmacallit to match, do you suppose?

Adrian, Mich., was the city that Gene Speakman and Pat Soulsby chose to exchange their wedding vows, on Thursday, June 11. Gene, stationed at Norfolk, Va., is once again back at his Navy base.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Speakmore are South High graduates. Gene's twin brother, Jack, is a busy lad these days, musicwise. The resident of 820 S. 3rd-st is a member of The Trends, a quintet of local boys who have a record that's doing well locally. "Class Ring" and "I'll Be True" are the two sides of the platter.

Margie and Ray Speakman had some proud moments at the Southview Fourth of July Celebration, when they were able to hear the Trends as part of the entertainment and to watch another son, Raymie, participate in the "All-Star" baseball game.

Late Postcard

The colorful postal card we received from Rose and Ted Day, 489 Southwood-av, reached us about the time the vacationers returned home, apparently. Our postal was marked Colorado and from all indications, the Days found the western part of the country a beautiful place. (And unless Ted has a "spittin" image twin" we're sure we saw him pass us, wearing a ten-gallon hat! Was that you, Ted?)

St. Ann's Guild 38 is scheduled to meet this evening at 8 p.m., in the home of Mrs. A. Nicolini, 919 Reeb-av.

Trudeau Guild members will recognize the name of the new president of Soroptimist Club quite readily. Miss Eileen Downey, of Benjamin Franklin's staff, is the newly-installed president of the professional women's club. Two other names were quite familiar too, of those participating in the installation meeting. Dr. Ray Bethel spoke on "Hawaii, our 50th State." Mrs. Ray Bethel, known professionally as Nita Hutch, was the toastmistress for the occasion.

New Capacity

Being present at a wedding is nothing new to Rev. Musslander, but we imagine the one that's to take place on July 11 will find the Thurman-av Methodist minister experiencing a new sensation . . . that of "father of the bride." Adele Musslander, 429 Thurman-av, will become Mrs. James R. Weaver. Miss Musslander is a graduate of Williams Preparatory School, Huntingdon College, and the University of New Mexico.

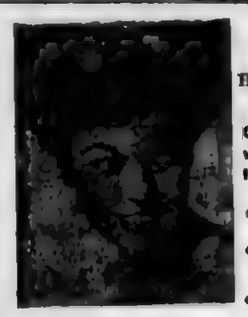
Cadet Weaver, whose home is in Lima, was a member of the first graduating class of the United States Air Force Academy.

Visiting five brothers, one a day, plus all their friends, kept Lu, Willa and Paul Davis, of California, "hopping" busy while in Central Ohio. A peek at Willa's schedule convinced us that the Temple City visitors won't get to rest until they're back home once more! The Davises were guests of Sammy Grossman, owner of the Shoe Box, and of the Lenoxes, plus being honor guests at a reception held at St. Paul's E. and R., to name a few of the "extras."

We didn't like to hear that Mrs. Homer Doty, Willa's mother, has been ailing again. It was so good to see our long-time friends, and that's for sure!

Unique Fourth

The Itskin family, 1713 S. 3rd-st, observed the Fourth in a unique way for the close-knit threesome. Lorraine was in Texas, while Lara and Darrel were fishing in Lake Erie. Lorraine was visiting his father in the USA's second largest state. The elder Mr. Itskin has not been too well this past year.



Our adult birthday list for the week includes these good neighbors: Angelo Felice, Patricia Kuson, Betty Drugan, all July 10; Virg Lenox, July 11 and Betty Dean, July 12.

Next Sunday p.m., why not come on over to Schiller Park and listen to the outdoor concert? Tom Crawshaw is the director for the evening. Randal Near, South High School's band and orchestra director, will be playing in the group, as will South High grad Frank LaRue. If the female bass player looks familiar, it's because you've seen her picture at the top of this column.

Big Month Ahead

July is "celebrating" month for Kate and Charles Yunker, 74 E. Gates-st. On July 14, Mrs. Yunker will celebrate her birthday. On July 15, the couple will attain their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary, and on July 30, Mr. Yunker will have his natal day. To both of them, our very best.

Since our column will have to be sent by mail from now on, that means our deadline will be moved up. Thursday or Friday, two weeks ahead, will probably be about right. We haven't checked with our editor, but it seems logical. Do keep that in mind, when giving us news now, won't you? We will get adjusted, but it will take a little time.

Trophy Catches Seen In Fishing Derby

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Recent entries in the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Derby include a whopping-big crappie, weighing one pound, 15 ounces, caught in the Scioto River by Charles Fisher, 121 Fernhill, New Rome. R. W. Recob, of Recob Supplies in West Jefferson, weighed the fish, and claims it the largest crappie he's seen in a lifetime of fishing in this area.

Others: Bum Orders, 1240 Michigan-av, 15-ounce crappie; Berlin Little, Jr., 1791 Kenworth-rd, 17-ounce crappie; Eddie Friend, 2483 Gardner-rd, Galloway, two pound, three-ounce smallmouth bass; Donald K. Blake, 1089 Piedmont-rd, two and one-fourth pound smallmouth; Allen Messer, 326 Buena Vista, three-pound smallmouth; Kenneth Clemmons, 2411 Velma-av, one and three-fourths pound smallmouth; John B. Zak, 3849 Eisenhower-rd, three-pound smallmouth.

Joe Pritchard, 1923 Republic-av, two-pound, three-ounce largemouth bass; Harry French, 701 Gates-st, two-pound, five-ounce largemouth; Warren Johnson, 224 N. Monroe, six and one-half pound catfish; Jay Pots, Reese Station, six-pound catfish; William W. White, 346 Clark-ct, Groveport, 20-pound catfish; Thomas Rogers, 2976 E. Moreland, two-pound walleye; Herb Kroninger, Rt. 1, Sunbury, two and one-half pound walleye; William Harderick, Noe-Bixby-rd, Canal Winchester, 17-pound, 13-ounce carp.

John Devore, 383 S. Ohio-av, three-pound, nine-ounce walleye; Bill Fletcher, 3154 Watkins-rd, four-pound, one-ounce catfish; James Yates, 130 Thurman-av, nine and one-half pound carp (caught in Schiller Park Lake in the city of Columbus); and Don Partsch, 884 College-av, 14-ounce crappie.

Well, there you are. Anglers are reporting that fishing success has tapered off during the hot weather, but Fishing Derby entries keep rolling in. R. W. Recob, official weighmaster in West Jefferson, reports that he has seen several good smallmouth bass catches lately from Lake Erie. Soft craws fished around Middle Bass Island seem to be doing the trick.

Catfish At Madison

Madison Lake, a catfish hotspot last year, is again producing. Several dandies have been weighed at the boat dock there in recent weeks. Last Sunday a six-pounder was caught by William Jones, Rt. 4, London. The fish fell for a soft craw.

Hot weather brings on fishing doldrums. This time of year separates the men from the boys in the fishing department. But the serious angler will cover himself with insect dope, and continue to catch fish. He will often fish only in mornings and evenings, and once in a while at night.

As the Fishig Derby progresses, the race for the week's vacation in Canada and all the fishing tackle prizes will tighten. But right now the contest is wide open—the next fish you catch may bring home the bacon for you. Check over the list of prizes elsewhere on this page, and enter your fish in the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Derby!

Scouts Urged To Consider Colorado Jamboree In 1960

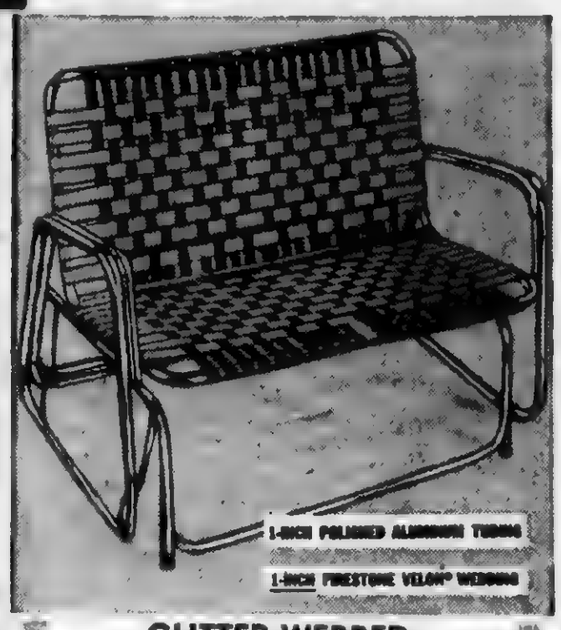
Boy Scouts and Explorers of this area should set their sights now on attending the 1960 Jubilee Jamboree at Colorado Springs for the "thrill of a lifetime," said Robert G. Meade of the Central Ohio District staff.

As part of Scouting's 50th-year celebration, 50,000 Scouts and their leaders will camp in Colorado from July 19 to 28, 1960. Travel will be in units, and by rail, with possible side trips by bus.

Total cost per person—man or boy — has been established by a local committee at $225, which covers all costs except personal equipment and uniforms. Money not used will be refunded.

Any troop or post may register one or more boys now by submitting an initial registration fee of $25 per head, with names of candidates, before Dec. 31, 1959. A monthly payment plan is available.

Any Scout 12 or older by Jan. 1, or any Explorer of three months is eligible.



For further details visit or call the Scout office at 1428 E. Broad-st. (CL. 3-5513).

BECOME A PART OF THE COUNTY FAIR

With summer already well underway, youngsters and others who already know the thrill are looking forward to the approaching Ohio fair season.

The Annual Franklin County Fair will be held at the Hilliard fairgrounds Aug. 19th through the 22nd. Actually, the affair will get underway the night before the official opening with a western rodeo in front of the grandstand.

Its' no dark secret that the annual fair is anticipated eagerly by farm and city youths alike. And there is no reason why adults should lose their interest in the event.

Few people realize how easy it is to be a part of the fair by becoming a member of the Franklin County Agricultural Society.

Any resident of Franklin County 21 years-of-age or older may join by simply purchasing a three-dollar membership ticket.

Holding of the membership card not only gives the purchaser free admission to the grounds during the fair, but also the right to vote at the society's annual election. Balloting on seven director's posts will take place on the fairgrounds from 4 to 8 p.m. Friday of this year's fair.

Membership tickets will be on sale at the secretary's office during the fair or may be purchased in advance by contacting Findley DeWolfe, 302 Avery-rd, Hilliard, at TR. 6-7848.

Nurses Schools Give Opportunity To Area Women

A dignified profession in the time-honored field of nursing is now within the reach of many who once were denied the opportunity.

Practical Nurse School, 1414 S. High-st, accepting women from 18 to 50, has the endorsement of hospitals and physicians.

Operated by the Columbus Board of Education in cooperation with affiliating hospitals, the school accepts any woman who qualifies with its standards.

Columbus' tremendous hospital expansion program and the resulting demand for more and more trained nurses opens an unlimited field of opportunity for trained practical nurses.

Demand for their services by hospitals, clinics, and physicians is far ahead of the school's supply of graduates.

HOMESTRETCH DRIVE—This field of five one-quarter midget autos enters the homestretch Sunday with Bobby Butler and Gary Hardy battling it out for the lead in the third heat of the card's seven-race program. Hardy won the heat and went on to cop the day's second semi-final event to run his victory string to 12 during the two-month running of the Capital City Racing Association's season at Jones Park.

Gary Hardy Takes Two Jones Park Races; Feature Event Rescheduled For Sunday

Little Gary Hardy continued his fast riding pace this weekend by taking two of seven events in the weekly Capitol City One-Quarter Midget Racing Association card at Jones Park.

Hardy ran his victory string to 11 during the two-month season by taking the third heat race early in the afternoon and notched his 12th win of the campaign by coming back to take the card's second semi-final event.

The day's feature race was called after three laps because of rain.

Bobby Butler copped the day's first heat event, while his brother, Johnny, took first place honors in the fourth heat. Sandwiched in between were Chuck Bennett's win in the second heat and Hardy's triumph in the third.

John Crowell, an up-coming race enthusiast, took top laurals in the card's first semi-final event, while Hardy came from behind to notch the second semi-final race.

Jerry Crowell, John's younger brother, took top honors in the Novice Division by nosing out Kay Hardy in a close race.

Sunday's races hosted the biggest field of cars to date, with an estimated 20 one-quarter midgets entering the Jones Park competition.

Little Renae Craig, 10-year-old Charleston, W. Va., driver became the second girl to enter competition this season. Previously Kay Hardy, 8-year-old sister of Gary Hardy, was the only female to enter the usually segregated events.

This coming Sunday's card will be highlighted by a special double feature event, due to the rain-out of last weekends major race.

Besides the two features the card will show four heat races, two semi-final events, and the regularly scheduled novice race.

Starting time for the first heat is 2 p.m., with the trials beginning at 1 p.m.

Sunday's Results:
First Heat: Bobby Butler.
Second Heat: Chuck Bennett.
Third Heat: Gary Hardy.
Fourth Heat: John Butler.
First Semi: John Crowell.
Second Semi: Gary Hardy.
Novice: Jerry Crowell.

Opponents Crack Skulls

Lamont-Fleetfoot End Feud With Double Kayo

The long-awaited "grudge match" between arch rivals Jack Lamont and Indian Ray Fleetfoot ended in confusing "no contest" ruling Saturday night when both contestants sprawled unconscious on the mat of Jones Park Arena.

Ray Fleetfoot

Scheduled as a special 30-minute one-fall feature, the two grapplers tore at each other for 15 minutes before scoring their double knockout before a capacity weekend crowd.

Both Fleetfoot, a local product from Obetz, and Lamont engaged in bodyslams from the ropes prior to the knockout, when both simultaneously met head-on and cracked skulls together in a sickening meshing of bone heard throughout the open-air park.

Officials ruled the bout a "no contest" since both contestants were counted out before regaining their feet.

Fans, however, claimed Fleetfoot had managed to pull himself up to one knee at the count of nine and therefore should be declared the winner.

Following a discussion between officials and Bob Rogers, Jones Park promoter, Fleetfoot was given the decision. The Indian, however, refused to be awarded the winner and instead demanded a rematch.

Rogers stated Tuesday that he would again pit Fleetfoot and Lamont in a rematch in the near future, and cleared up the official ruling of their double knockout by recording the bout a "no contest."

In other action Saturday, the Marion-Franklin Wonder, Jerry Reed, made a sensational professional debute by decisioning Randy Birchem. Reed won the bout by cracking two of Birchem's ribs, thus rendering Dandy Randy useless for the remainder of the evening.

Ralph Whaley and Lee Burton fought to a 30-minute draw in the card's final feature attraction, with the officials decision going to Burton. Referees can declare a winner in the event of a draw in wrestling, and although they do not usually exercise this power, Saturday night proved the exception.

In Saturday's tag-team event Whaley and Reed defeated the team of Birchem and the Dark Secret, mysterious masked marvel who entered the contest at the last minute by driving up in his car and asking to be allowed to wrestle.

Friday night's action saw Lucky Lambert down Jack Smithers, Irish Ken Kelsey decision Chuck Stanley and Lynn Redman beat Sonny Boy Karnes in one-fall events.

The evening's tag match pitted Lambert and Karnes against Redman and Kelsey, with the former pair taking the decision.

This weekend's action will again feature two four-bout cards on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Special attraction Friday will be a handicap tag-team bout with the two-man team of Reed and Karnes facing the trio of Lamont, Chest Brennemen and Redman.

Individual one-fall bouts will pit Whaley against Burton, Lambert against Kelsey, and Reed against Brennemen, with a tag-team event featuring Whaley and Reed against the team of Brennemen and Kelsey.

Jack Smithers will referee the evening's events.

Kimives Pitches 3-Hitter In Hungarian E&R Victory

Mary Kimives, Hungarian E. and R., pitcher, continues to grab the headlines in the South Side "Y" Church Leagues with her effective twirling and tremendous batting power week after week.

Last week was no exception as she pitched a nifty three hit victory over Emmanuel Lutheran and aided her own cause with a home run, two triples and two singles in five times at bat to enable Hungarian to stay in a first place tie with St. Paul E. and R., who also looked very impressive in their victory over the strong Livingston Methodist lassies.

Other games in the girl's league saw Wanda Brown's improving South Methodist ten overpower Oakwood Methodist and third place St. John E. and R. prove just too much for the young ladies representing Church of God. Misses S. Hahn Leupp and Paulus had a field day for the saints with five hits apiece.

With John Evans and Clarence Bowens showing tremendous power at the plate, the Church of God continued to roll on in grand style in the Monday Junior loop with a convincing victory over Southwood Church of Christ. Bob Castle, Church of Christ catcher had three of his team's six hits.

Hungarian kept pace with Church of God in second round play by upsetting Gates-Fourth Methodist. Andy Poczik starred for the winners while Bruce Trott continued to look good around the initial sack for the Methodists.

In the final game of the card, Livingston Methodist nosed out South Congregational in a real thriller. Steve Bukey and Larry Cook led the hit parade for Livingston while Ray Speakmon hit a round tripper and Poeschel had a perfect night for the Stewart Avenue Angels.

In the Intermediate division St. Paul E. and R. defeated South Methodist in a real slugging bee 24 to 19, while Livingston entered the win column with an easy win over Oakwood Methodist. The Wednesday night Junior League was idled because of rain.

Deshler-av Playground Readies Season

Deshler Playground has now been in operation for three weeks. Daily activities are directed by Morrie Gilbert and Jane Van de Walle, and consist of six softball teams for both boys and girls, arts and craft classes, group games and physical fitness exercises.

The first Junior Jet games were played July 6. There are 15 teams in the program this year.

Weekly bicycle races are held Friday at 4 p.m. On July 9 the playground will participate in the annual south sectional track meet at South High School.

Winners from Deshler in the sectional pet show at Schiller two weeks ago were Donna Sager, Jim Lamp and Bill Gregory.

The craft classes are now working to complete lanterns for the lantern parade at Schiller Park on July 16. The idea for this year's lantern parade comes from Dave Painter. "Houses at Night" is his theme. Parents will be asked to help transport children and lanterns to the annual event.

Playground Youngsters Kept Busy

Southview Girls' Junior Softball team won its game with Schiller Park by forfeit.

The Boys' Intermediate Softball team defeated the S.E. Lions by a score of 17 to 4.

The schedule for this week's games included:

- Girls' Junior vs. Fornof, Wednesday, July 8, 1:30 p.m.
- Boys' Junior vs. Karns II, Tuesday, July 7, 1:00 p.m.
- Boys' Intermediate vs. Fornof, Wednesday, July 8, 1 p.m.

Eleven children from Southview attended day camp at Indian Village Camp. They were Laverne Davis, Linda Baker, Jim Dixon, Jack Dixon, Linda Herbert, Virginia Herbert, Beverly Turner, Debra Ware, Randy Lowe, Jane and Jimmy Stavens, and Lewis Moore.

Schiller Park was the scene of a Play Day on Friday, July 3. Fifty-two children from Southview went and participated in the contest and games.

A song-fest around the campfire wound up the wiener roast held at Southview Playground on June 30. The event started at 6:30 p.m. when the food was quickly consumed.

Twenty-one girls participated in the Doll Parade which was held at the park on Thursday, July 2, at 3:30 p.m. Judges Mike Baker, Donna Smith, and Carol Baillie chose the following as first prize winners: cutest, Carolyn Jones; prettiest, Rosa Bridgeforth; best costumed, Vickie Saul and Bonnie Jones.

Southview, along with all the other playgrounds, is busily preparing for the lantern parade to be held at Schiller Park on Thursday evening, July 16. Anyone interested in helping with the preparations is asked to come to the shelter house from 2 to 4 p.m. any day.

The advisory council for Southview has been named. They are Mrs. Ann Sweiss, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Saul, Mr. and Mrs. William Herbert, Mrs Edgar Albrecht, and Mrs. Bessa Turner.

Parents are reminded that children under six years of age must be accompanied by an adult before they are permitted on the playground. The supervisors of Southview ask for the cooperation of the parents in enforcing this rule so that the playground will be safe for all.

Karns Team Scores Win Over Schiller

The Intermediate Girls' Softball team recently won its first game of the season with Deshler. Final score was 8 to 5. The team includes Joan Hennis, Dorothy Davies, Pat McCoy, Sharon Pharr, Judy Hall, Dianne and Donna Cunningham, Priscilla and Lannette Sparks, Mary Gannon, Rose Tapia, Cathy Sergio and Karen Berry.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Fruits — cantaloupe, peaches, lemons, raspberries, watermelon

Vegetables — green beans, cabbage, summer squash, cucumbers

Other Foods — fryers, turkey, sausage meats, eggs, cottage cheese

SUMMER FRUITS ARE HERE

It's summertime — the time when fruit counters are piled high with a wide variety of long-awaited fresh fruits. Too, many of these fresh delicacies have a brief season in Ohio; then another year passes before we see them again. It's a good idea to take advantage of the good supply and eat our fill, and consider preserving them for future use.

July brings raspberries, blackberries, boysenberries, loganberries, blueberries, and lots of cherries. Have you made a gooseberry pie lately? Try one using the new variety—the berries are huge and not so tart. From distant areas come apricots, nectarines and mangoes. Cantaloupe, Thompson seedless grapes, Santa Rosa plums, limes and lemons reach their peak of production during July. Watermelons are plentiful.

Cherry pie lovers note that the sour cherry harvest gets under way this week in North Central Ohio—the principal commercial area in the state. It's time to engage your supply for freezing and canning. Good quality is indicated by bright, fresh appearance, plumpness, and good color.

Raspberries — another short season crop, should be enjoyed now. Prices continue at somewhat luxory levels, but remember that there is little waste in a quart of raspberries.

Peaches — You've probably noticed the abundance of peaches — white and yellow, Freestone and Cling at reasonable prices. Their flavor is exceptionally good this year for early peaches. Producers say the nation's peach crop will be a bumper one again this year.

Transparent apples, for sauce and pies, are in most markets. Quality is variable but should improve with an increase in supply. When the Transparents finish, you can look forward to good supplies of other summer apples this year as Duchess, Wealthy and Lodi.

Vegetables from local farms are increasing in supply each week. The first iced locally-grown sweet corn appeared on the market last week. The field-grown tomato season has started. Supplies are expected to increase rapidly in the next few weeks. Quality is variable due to recent weather conditions. Also, you can expect good greenhouse tomatoes throughout July. Local supplies of cabbage, green beans and cucumbers are abundant.

Egg prices are moving up slowly but eggs are still a protein bargain. How long will this great bargain last? Not too long, according to the folks who feed chickens. Feeders say they simply can't afford to keep so many chickens to lay so many eggs to keep prices this low. By the end of August egg prices will probably be about 10c a dozen higher than they are now . . . and from there prices are likely to go on a fairly normal level again. So, if you like a bargain . . . it's at the egg counter now.

"And I thought I was a good driver..."

A really good driver never takes anything for granted! Every driver should expect the unexpected and be prepared to react fast. Quick thinking in a pinch is a lifesaver. So don't take anything for granted. Overconfidence can dull the sharpest reflexes. Many of the 37,000 people killed on our highways last year might still be alive if good drivers never relied on chance. Drive as though your life depended on it—it does!

'Everbody's Battle To Keep Mosquitoes Away' - Goodloe

In an effort to prevent repetition of last summer's bumper crop of mosquitoes, Dr. Ollie M. Goodloe, city health commissioner, has urged a city-wide yard clean-up program to eliminate all possible breeding grounds.

"Tall grass and weeds sheltered by trees or fences, dense shrubs and hedges, piles of lumber or rubbish that contribute to dampness and darkness, as well as stagnant pools, ditches and ponds, all make potential breeding grounds for the pests," he said.

Dr. Goodloe explained that the annual health department insect control program already has begun (as of June 15), but the jeep-bourne "foggers" are confined to public property, alleyways, parks, playgrounds, picnic areas, city dumps, around packing houses, swampy areas, hospitals, institutions, along banks of streams and other places where insects breed.

"We're not empowered to invade private property," Dr. Goodloe said. "That's up to the occupant. He's only protecting himself and his family because the mosquito is not a migrant. Seldom does he travel as far as 100 yards in his lifetime."

"Clean up your yard and encourage your neighbors to do the same and we'll have few mosquitoes here this summer."

Examiners To Aid Vendors In Computing Tax Returns

Examiners will be stationed throughout the county in July to assist persons having Ohio vendors' licenses in filing their semi-annual sales tax returns due July 31.

Returns must be mailed to the treasurer of state, postmarked not later than July 31, to avoid a $1 a day charge for delinquent filing.

Examiners are scheduled to be available at:

Hayes Drug Store, Reynoldsburg, Wednesday afternoon, July 29; Groveport Hardware, Groveport, Thursday afternoon, July 30; Broadway Restaurant, Grove City, Friday afternoon, July 31; Shade's Restaurant, Canal Winchester, Friday morning, July 31; Gahanna Drug Store, Gahanna, Wednesday morning, July 29; Williams Grill, Westerville, Thursday morning, July 30.

Examiners are also available at the First District Post Office, 240 Parsons-av, and the Central Office, 68 E. Gay-st, daily, from 8 a.m. until 5.

of the grass lies in the pre-soaking of the head in water for 24 to 48 hours before grooving the seeds," she added. "I don't know whether my little clay heads are unique or not, but I can honestly say I've never seen them before my sister gave me mine."

The unruly grass on her present head gives one the appearance that a pair of scissors, when applied in the proper places, could give the weird looking skull a collegiate-looking flat-top haircut.

"I've thought of that," Miss Russell concluded, "and although I grant that a good grass cutting would improve the appearance of the head, I just can't bring myself to cut it.

"It's like taking a child to the barber shop for his first haircut — you just keep putting it off as long as possible until the day comes when you know it must be done, but it breaks your heart to do it."

GETS PERMISSION

Permission has been granted Joe Gallione, 644 Stanley-av, to remodel his frame dwelling.

The Restoration Plea

The restoration plea is a plea for a complete return to the Christianity taught in the New Testament. The gradual falling away from the original teaching and practice of the church of Christ established in A.D. 33 resulted in apostacy, as had been foretold by the Apostle Paul (2 Thes. 2:3-9; 1 Tim. 4:1-3). The unsuccessful effort to reform the apostate church by those within merely resulted in the formation of various other religious organizations or denominations. These in turn produced their own distinct creeds, thus resulting in the divided state of the religious world.

In the early 19th century, disciples in various parts of the world despaired of the hopelessly divided conditions resulting from the reformation effort, and came forth with the plea of COMPLETE RESTORATION of Christianity as taught by the apostles, and practiced by the church in the first century, under the divine guidance of the holy spirit.

Marion Area Family Hosts One Of 68 Foreign Exchange Students

HELLO—Some 68 international students wave a hearty greeting as they disembark from buses Saturday to visit homes of local residents. The students, representing 16 countries, stopped off at the Red Cross Center, 995 E. Broad-st, as part of a country-wide tour to learn about the United States.

Holland Teenager Reviews Year's Trip As 'Wonderful'

"We should learn to appreciate what we have."

These are the words of Ellen Holle, 18-year-old international exchange student from the Netherlands.

Ellen, along with 66 other European students, motored into Columbus late Saturday evening—spent two days with friends—and then motored out early Monday.

During her brief visit she stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, 300 Williams-rd, in the old Marion Township area.

Today Ellen is in Washington, D.C., tomorrow she'll be in New York City, and a week from today she'll be on a ship sailing for her native Holland.

After nearly 12 months in the United States this friendly, good natured Dutch girl gave the entire Smith family some idea of how foreigners view Americans in their own native habitat.

"The people in the U.S. are very friendly," Ellen related. "The vast amount of space that you have here is really immense. In Holland there is no place one can move to. Here, there is always room to expand."

"Americans should all appreciate what they have here," the personable high school graduate stated. "In Europe we do not have the opportunities to educate ourselves, travel and move about as freely as you do here."

Ellen said she also found the standard of living in the U.S. "very high," and pointed out that we take for granted such luxuries as television, record players, and one or more automobiles in a family.

"We must do our traveling by bicycle in Holland because of the crowded conditions one finds everywhere in Europe," she added. "The auto in the U.S. is used much the same as the bike in the Netherlands in that you take it wherever you go.

"We do not have the room for autos in Holland, and even if we did the majority of the people could not afford one."

Ellen, one of 1200 international students studying in the U.S. spent the majority of her time the past year in Long Beach, Calif. During her nine-month stay on the coast she attended a co-educational high school, lived with a family selected to parallel in every way possible her own family back home, joined an honorary sorority and graduated — American style—from Long Beach high school.

She speaks four languages—German, Dutch, French and English—and plans to enter college upon her return home. Her major interest at present is in social work, which she hopes to continue as a course of study once in college.

In explaining how she happened to be chosen to represent her country as an exchange student, Ellen said that at first she had

Deshler Playground Wins Annual City South Sectional Track Meet

Desler-av Playground rallied for 87 points last Thursday to win the annual South Sectional Track and Field Meet at South High School.

Deshler's point total was only four greater than that of second place St. Rose Playground, and only eight higher than third place Palsgrove.

Over 870 boys and girls from 30 south, southeast, east and west side city playgrounds participated in the yearly Columbus Recreation Department event.

Eleven South Side playgrounds scored high in the event, with Southeast Lions (5th place), Lincoln Park (7th place), and Schiller (10th), following the three South Side leaders to round out the top 10 scorers.

Deshler pulled ahead of St Rose during the fourth and fifth final events of the day when Eileen Janisch took a first in the Girls Standing Broad Jump and Patty Ryan followed by copping the Girls Softball Throw.

Prior to the two straight wins, St Rose had pulled ahead of Deshler by grabbing firsts in both the Boys 100-yard Dash and the Girls 75-yard Dash.

Jeff Morehead copped the 100 with a time of 10.7, while Dianne edged Gloria Carter of

Everything Is Big In the Big West

Big is the best description of about everything in the West. Big wide open space, big mountains, big spectacles, big gamblers—you name it and it is big!

The day we drove into Zion National Park we were skeptical about anything being any more impressive than Bryce or Grand Canyon. But in my opinion Zion is even more beautiful.

Maybe I was awestruck because we were down at the bottom of the canyon and looked up to the heavens to see the towering mountains above us. The insignificance of man must surely be impressed on one in Zion.

It was quite a switch when we came from the beauty of nature as we found it in the mountains and drove for miles across hot desert country and came down into Las Vegas.

This was an experience in another kind of bigness . . . little people who had made a big town in the desert and a big reputation as about the country's widest open town . . .

We were in Las Vegas on Memorial weekend and some 30 thousand people had swarmed into the oasis for relaxation of a type that perhaps cost them as much as a million dollars. The motels,

Glee Club At Y-Park

Jack Edmonds, chairman of the Junior Optimists Boy's Work Activities, this week announced that plans are well under way toward the completion of the week-long program for the 14th annual Downtown Optimist Junior Boys' Glee Club Camp at Y-Park.

The camp, slated for Aug. 3 to 7, is held free of charge for South Side YMCA Glee Club members who are selected on merit by the Optimists.

Of the 42 boys in the club, approximately 35 are eligible to attend camp. Attitude and attendance at Glee Club functions are the prime criteria on which eligibility is based for selection to camp.

The club meets every Monday night at the South Side YMCA, and performs whenever asked by local church groups and organizations.

Boys selected to attend camp will leave Monday, Aug. 3, and will stay for five days and four nights before returning home Friday, Aug. 7.

During their stay at the park, a program of activities including swimming sessions at Lockbourne Air Force Base, nature hikes, sports and crafts, will occupy the boy's time.

Climax of the week's activities will be a special program for parents. Included in the evening's entertainment will be a song fest especially planned for parents.

While at camp, the boys will be under the direction of camp councilors Bill Warren, Dan Mitchell, Wally Rueckel and Tom Reich.

Sixteen Playgrounds Entered In Annual Lantern Parade Tonight At Schiller Park

Scenic Schiller Park Lake tonight will form the backdrop for the Columbus Recreation annual Lantern Parade, scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m.

Sixteen playgrounds from the city's south and southeast areas will be represented in the yearly lantern festival, with an estimated 400 children scheduled to participate in the grand march around the lake and across the Schiller bandstand.

All lanterns entered in the parade are currently under completion at each individual playground slated to enter this evening's march.

Lanterns, which will be lighted during the parade, have been constructed from boxes, cartons, chicken wire frames and other assorted odds and ends collected during the past month's preparation for the event.

Each playground entering has selected a theme for its decorative lamps, with such titles as Around the World in Eighty Days, Noah's Ark, Pages from Storyland, and Houses By Night included in the vast display of assorted sizes and shapes of lanterns under construction.

Each individual lantern will be lighted by a candle prior to the start of the march so that decorations on the windows of each display will glow in the dark.

The parade will form in the Livingston Park

"Hey Skinny, wait up! Sure I'm going over to 'Ole Livingston'. Yes, of course it opened on time at the beginning of the season, along with all the other 57 playgrounds."

You haven't heard from us before but that doesn't mean things haven't been happening. We had a pet show and then a play day.

Mohawk, Fairmoor and Palsgrove joined us to share in the fun of the various competitive contests and games for boys and girls. The leaders from each playground shared in the responsibility of play day by seeing that all children had a full measure of fun the entire afternoon.

The lantern parade at Schiller will be held tonight and we'll all be there.

We have over 300 boys engaged in Little Junior Jet and softball activities. Leo Morgan heads up this phase of our program of sports.

A very good intermediate girls' team is developing under his guidance also. Tennis, basketball, volleyball and horseshoes are all very popular around here now.

Crafts, drama, story-telling and group games are under the leadership of Carolyn Thornhill and Lydia I. Burkes.

Come on over to Livingston where safety and fun are the order of the day, all day, every day.

Palsgrove . . .

Palsgrove playground has four teams in the summer city recreation department softball league. The junior boys and intermediate girls shared the winners' circle last week.

The junior boys beat Livingston playground 17 to 16. The intermediate girls won over Smith Road School 19 to 1. The junior girls lost to Deshler 0 to 5 and the intermediate boys dropped one to Schiller 5 to 15.

This week's schedule of games is as follows:

Junior boys vs. Fairwood, junior girls vs. Krumm, intermediate boys vs. Mohawk, and the intermediate girls vs. Fornof. All these games will be played away from home.

Many beautiful lanterns will be on parade July 16 at Schiller Park. Palsgrove will be well represented. Lantern construction is well under way. This year's theme will be "A Summer Garden." Mrs. Hampton has urged more boys to participate.

YOU AND INFLATION

A recent survey indicates that most Americans — about 72 per cent — are opposed to inflation and to the excessive government spending which causes it. Yet congressmen still get most of their mail from the few who urge more spending

By undermining the dollar, inflation hurts the individual and weakens the nation. It means that your income buys less for you and your taxes buy less for your government.

You can help stop inflation simply by asking your congressman to see that the government operates within its income.

BIBLE COMMENTS

Bible's Truths Not Available If Book Becomes Ornament

The American Bible Society alone has distributed in its 150-plus years of existence Bibles to the number of some half-billion.

Add to those: Bibles issued by the British and other overseas Bible societies; add Bibles distributed from other societies; add Bibles for sale in the retail market.

Consider, too that portions of the Bible have been published in over a thousand languages and dialects, the complete Bible in over 200 of those languages. And the Bible has been reproduced for the blind in over 40 languages.

The total publication of the Good Book is, therefore, nothing short of stupenduous.

Why, therefore, the prevalence of evil, despite the universal availability of this source book for the truly good life?

Perhaps part of the answer lies in the way the Bible is read, in how deeply and sincerely the Bible's great truths are truly heeded.

True, too, is the fact that many Bibles are purchased and hardly opened enough to break in the bindings; they become mere ornaments in the home.

Therefore, it would seem that the Bible has not failed in its purpose; the fault lies in the Christian peoples who have failed to use properly this prime instrument for good.

It might be a good time to take stock of our use of the Bible.

How long has it been since YOU so much as glanced at the Scriptures?

Farm Safety Week Slated For 7-Day Run July 19-25

"Reduce speed, farm equipment ahead."

Because it's impossible to post this warning near every tractor on the road, both Ohio highway safety director, J. Grant Keys and W. E. Stuckey, safety extension specialist at the Ohio State University, urge everyone who drives in rural areas to watch carefully for farm vehicles this summer.

Keys and Stuckey today jointly announced Ohio's participation in National Farm Safety Week, July 19 to 25, with the thema "Safety Makes Sense." The program is sponsored by the National Safety Council and the United States Department of Agriculture with the cooperation of many other organizations interested in promoting safety.

Farm equipment vehicles were involved in 348 traffic accidents last year, a 4 per cent increase above the 1957 number, Keys said. This increase contrasts with the overall decrease in traffic accidents in 1958 below 1957 figures.

Stuckey reminded farm vehicle operators of seven rules for safer road travel:

(1) Good planning can avoid much unnecessary movement of farm equipment on heavily traveled roads.

(2) Keep the tractor under control. Slow down for turns and leave the tractor in gear on downgrades.

(3) Only experienced operators with mature judgment should handle farm machinery on public roads. Permit no extra riders on the tractor.

(4) Well-located entrances to fields and farm yards allow good visibility for operators of farm machinery and motor vehicles.

(5) Pull off the pavement to let faster traffic pass. It takes only minutes — and may save lives.

(6) Red flags by day, approved lighting by night call attention to the dangers of slow-moving farm machinery to motorists.

(7) Know and conform with local traffic laws.

Both Keys and Stuckey stressed that Ohio wants no harvest of traffic accidents involving farm vehicles this year. They added that careful, cautious motorists and farm vehicle operators who avoid traffic collisions can help reap highway safety benefits for everyone.

Hilltoppers Plan Annual Bean Fete

The Hilltop Bean Dinner, an annual event sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association, will be held next Tuesday and Wednesday, July 21 and 22, at Westgate Park, S. Westgate-av and Wicklow.

Two full afternoons and evenings of entertainment have been scheduled, with dinner—free beans being the principal portion of the bill of fare — being served both Tuesday and Wednesday between 5 and 7 p.m.

A football clinic for youngsters will be held Tuesday morning at 11 a.m., with coaches and players from various colleges in this area assisting, and on Wednesday morning at the same time several members of the Columbus Jets will be on hand to teach potential big leaguers some of the tricks of the game. Contests for boys of all age groups will be held throughout both afternoons, with the popular pony tail competition between little gals with long tresses slated for Tuesday at 2 p.m.

Tuesday evening's entertainment will include a boat race on Lake Harder between squads representing the West Franklin Kiwanis Club and the Hilltop Y's Men's Club, who will use ping-pong paddles instead of oars, a water battle between two groups of Columbus firemen and a trampolene exhibition by a group from the Lockbourne Air Base.

The annual tug-o-war between the Hilltop Lions Club and the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, which ends when one team is pulled into Lake Harder, will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30. The "Dog Patchers," well known in this area, will provide musical entertainment, beginning at 8:30, and the Columbus Folk Dancers, introducing various nationality dances, will perform during the entire evening Wednesday, with public participation invited.

"The Price Is Right" panels will be assembled at various times during the two-day event, at which merchandise will be awarded to the best bidders, under rules similar to that of the television program of the same name. Merchandise will be contributed by Hilltop merchants. Other awards will also be given at the conclusion of the program each evening.

In addition to the scheduled activities, numerous rides and the customary refreshment stands will be available to the visitors.

Lockbourne AFB Couple 'Kidnapped'

A Lockbourne AFB lieutenant and his bride of a few days were kidnapped June 25 while honeymooning on the Massachusetts coast.

The newlyweds, Lt. Edward J. Kelly, navigator in the 91st Air Refueling Squadron, and the former Miss Joyce O. Turney, were abducted by a well-organized gang of kidnappers who held the couple hostage four days in the town of Dennis, Mass., near Cape Cod.

It was reported that the kidnapping was the second, most daring of its kind perpetrated in the town of Dennis.

When the couple were released unharmed, they were reportedly the happiest hostages ever to experience such luxurious captivity.

In Dennis, it turns out, June is open season on honeymooners. The annual affair to honor one couple was declared last year by the Dennis Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the town's leading merchants.

Gilbert S. Kelley, looking very much like the Police Chief of Dennis, was ringleader for the "gang of Kidnappers" who were "doing the job" for the local Chamber. Chief Kelley (no relation) bagged Lt. and Mrs. Kelly on the Mid-Cape Highway as they drove blissfully along, unaware that keys to the city and several hundred dollars worth of entertainment would be their ransom for a never-to-be-forgotten honeymoon.

Their captivity included four whirlwind days "on the town," complete with meals, sleeping accommodations (the bridal suite) and a long succession of fabulous entertainment donated by the town. It was, as Lt. Kelly described it, an almost-endless array of niceties that were showered upon the willing hostages.

After the initial excitement of the surprise charivari, Mrs. Kelly exclaimed, "I thought we were going to spend the night in jail when the police stopped us!"

Mrs. Kelly was graduated as a nurse from the Samaritan Hospital in Troy, N.Y., June 8.

4-H Clubs Seek Many Top Honors

Hundreds of local 4-H Club boys and girls are among more than a third of a million club members in about 3,000 counties across the nation who are tallying their records in two useful home projects. Scores will be singled out for honors.

As many as eight club members in the county can win handsome glod-filled medals for doing an extra good job in either "beautification of home grounds" or "home improvements" purogram, the Extension Service reports.

In addition to an estimated 10,000 county medal winners throughout the 49 states, individual state winners will be selected and 16 national winners will be named. Club members will be judged not only on excellence in project work, but also as all-around 4-H'ers demonstrating good citizenship and leadership.

To be eligible for the two top awards members must be over 14 years of age and have satisfactorily completed three years of 4-H Club activities.

While the 4-H program is conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, United States Department of Agriculture, funds for awards are provided by private citizens, business, industry and educational foundations through arrangements made by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

Awards in home grounds beautification have been given for the past 22 years by Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Chicago, noted horticulturist and 4-H benefactor.

Besides medals, she provides engraved wristwatches and trips to the National 4-H Club Congress held right after Thanksgiving at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

Home improvement awards are made possible by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation. They consist of medals, congress trips, and $400 college scholarships for national winners. The foundation also supplies up-to-date training material designed for use by leaders in this project.

All national winners will be announced during the Congress where they will be saluted at the annual 4-H banquet for more than 2,000 delegates, leaders, award donors, and special guests.

Wheat Quota Vote Slated Next Week

Franklin County farmers will ballot July 23 on marketing quotas for the 1960 wheat crop.

Two-thirds of the growers must approve the quotas if they are to remain in effect for the 1960 crop wheat. If quotas are retained, price support will continue to farmers who comply with their farm wheat allotments at at least 75 percent of parity.

If the quotas are not approved, the allotments and penalties will not be in effect and price support will be available to farmers who comply with their farm wheat allotments at 50 percent of parity. At current parity levels, that would be about $1.18 per bushel.

All those who in 1960 will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain on a farm, except those who are participating in the 1959 feed program, are eligible to vote.

Under the feed wheat program, farmers may arrange with the county office to grow up to 30 acres of wheat for use only on the farm where grown

Turtle Traps Springing Up Through Area

Now is turtle time in Ohio. Turtle hunters are in action using their pet method of taking the creatures Both snapping and the soft-shelled turtle are sought.

There are several methods of taking turtles. Some hunters build traps which must conform to Division of Wildlife specifications. Others use set lines with big hooks baited with raw beef neck. A hardy few walk the streams and feel under banks and in muskrat roles for the hard shell of the snappers. Once located they find the tail and pull out the turtle.

A surprisingly large number of snappers are captured while crossing the highway about this time of the year and end up in turtle soup or in a frying pan.

Small turtles of ten pounds or less are usually fried. Larger ones are made into turtle soup, a traditional item among sportsmen everywhere.

The uninitiated may find turtles hard to dress. The main idea is to cut the bottom shell away from the top one. Once it is removed the meat of the turtle is exposed and may be cut out. The best meat is the neck, the four legs and the tail. Skilled turtle hunters claim that there are seven kinds of meat in a turtle and all are good. Farm ponds are a favored habitat of snappers.

Boy Scout Troop 31, sponsored by South Methodist Church, will be well represented at Camp Lazarus this coming week, July 19 to 25. Thirteen scouts and two leaders will be making the jaunt to the well-known camp.

The campers will be leaders Dick Luzader and Morris Jordan; Scouts Larry Milligan, Bob Rice, David Blair, Frank Godorhazy, Tom Luzader, Larry Luzader, Gary Holmes, Tom Flocken, Ronnie Chenault, Bill Gaulke, David Loudin, Andy Poczik and Bill Bennett.

This active troop is to be commended for winning the Unit Achievement Award at a recent Mohawk District Regional meeting. A lot of hard work went into that award, rest assured! The troop was also one of the participating units at the Southview July Fourth celebration.

Niagara Falls was the goal of vacationing Virg and Vivian Lenox last week.

Special Birthday

A Siebert Street School pupil, Linda Hunter, had extra reasons for thinking her July 7 birthday was pretty special. She was celebrating her seventh birthday on the seventh day of the seventh month of the year! To make "her" day even nicer, it was the first day she was free to come and go as she pleased, after scorlet fever had caused her to be in quarantine. The young miss, of 271 Siebert-st, was to have her ice cream and cake with the neighborhood youngsters.

WBNS Announcer Russ Canter and his wife, Cleo, are proud grandparents again with the arrival of Bonnie Sue Sengle on July 2. New mamma, Barb, and infant were staying at the Canter household for a week or so, following their departure from the hospital. Papa Bob Sengle has surrounded himself with the female of the species, looks like!

Two-days late birthday greetings to 16-year-old Gene Clark 1041 Lockbourne-av.

Happy Birthday

Approaching birthdays are the "big thing" for the youngsters this week . . . Karin Pinter, 119 Hinman, July 21; Linda Hannah, 232 E. Markison, July 16; William Rice, 1741 S. Sixth-st, July 22; Linda Van Fossen, July 22; Larry Milligan, 1659 S. Fourth-st, July 21.

Mothers of youngsters who are "Flippo" fans might be interested to learn that the drapes given to the clown on his return from his vacation were finished by a South Side Woman, Irene Clark of 1041 Lockbourne-av.

Irene was kind enough to bring some of the finished strips down to let the Gadabout see . . . what a conglomeration. Every kind of material is included, cotton nylon, silk, wool, flannel, corduroy, gabardine, etc.

Prints, checks, plaids, polka dots (and any we may have missed!) make a kaleidoscope of color. Kiddies sent wash cloths, ribbons sewed together, embroidered pieces, painted pieces, hankies, pieces of draperies, p.j.'s, underwear . . . name it and you'll find a twin in the draperies.

The youngest contributor was seven months old, the oldest 11 years old.

We asked Irene her estimate of the number of pieces in the huge project. She suggested that ye Gadabout count them, which we declined to do.

One thing we know, there are hundreds and hundreds and hundreds of pieces of material in the surprisable gift for the lovable buffoon. Mrs. Clark is responsible for any sewing needed by the TV station.

Wins Prize

One of her costumes, a Flash Gordon, won a first prize in a national contest some time ago. She is currently working on a personal appearance costume for Flippo, in addition to his draperies. We learned that the active gentleman "goes through" a costume in pretty quick order, with help from his exuberant souvenir-seeking small-fry fans.

A former South High athletic star, Art Thompson, has been appointed the new baseball coach at Linden-McKinley. He may be assigned to the junior high squad.

Those lucky Burklands, Marvin and Dorothy, 775 Stanley-av, have been enjoying a month's vacation in the Northwest Country, visiting in North Dakota, Yellowstone Park, Salt Lake City, et al. Bottineau, N. Dak., from whence Dorothy had mailed her postal, was celebrating its 75th "diamond" anniversary.

The International Peace Garden is located at this spot. We only wish there were more such areas in the world that use the Cairn's pledge, "As long as men shall live we will not take up arms against one another."

First Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sabo of celebrate their first year of 1107 S. Washington-av, will wedded life Sunday, July 19. Bob is currently in Granite City, Ill., on army reserve duty. His winsome young wife will make the trip to Illinois alone, then make the return trip with him.

We wonder which Newman was the television "Maverick" fan? One of them had to be for their twin boys born July 1, are named Bart and Bret. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. John R. Newman, 609 Reinhard. The proud grandma is Hazel Erb, 296 Whittier-st. We wonder what "big" sister Adina must think of her two little brothers, since she herself won't be two years old until Aug. 9.

Issy Moves

Summer, 1959, has been a hectic one for Isabelle Coslett, a fellow employe of the Hartley Papers. Not only will she have to give a new address as her place of business, but she has a new home address as well. Jim, Isabelle and Roberta are now residing at 261 E. Welch-av after moving from 504 E. Morrill-av.

The Welch-av house was the home of Carol and Harold Bauer prior to the Coslett occupancy.

The near-South was the destination of the Ward family, 60 E. Moler-st, last weekend. Visiting relatives in West Virginia and Virginia was included in the quintet's plans. The youngest Ward, Melody Louise, will be seen for the first time by many of her relatives, since she arrived late this spring.

Exchange Vows

Since this young couple are both South High grads of a few years ago, their former classmates will be interested to learn that their nuptials will be performed this Saturday, July 18, at St. John's E&R Church. Ronald Noble of the U.S. Navy, will bestow his name upon Jane Prentice, now living in Grandview, who had been a Gates-st resident for years. Ronnie had also had a Gates-st address before his folks moved to 170 Thurman-av. The sailor has been in the navy for seven years, five of those years overseas.

Nine members of the Southwood Church of Christ will have a busy weekend coming up. On Saturday, July 18, they will be numbered among those attending the church picnic at the "Y" Park. (The picnic features a ball game between the men and women, a pie-eating contest, among other attractions.) On Sunday, following church services, these members will leave for Camp Round Lake for a week. The busy South Siders are Rev. and Mrs. Ellis Wesner with kiddies, Mark and Marla, David Coffman, Carol and Jimmy Doran, Tom and Judy Lenox.

Hotel Prince Charles was the "home away home" for the Houston family when they were on their vacation at Virginia Beach, Va. The Columbusites live at 167 E. Mithoff-st.

Tall Tale

Move over, you tellers of tall tales with fins on them: Lora Itskin, 1713 S. Third-st, is now a new member, since her fishing trip to Lake Erie last week. Two of them (outstretched arm size) got away from our tosseted friend. And we always thought Lora to be the epitome of truthfulness!

Saturday Nite Card Canceled

Karns And Jones Win Jones Park Handicap; Sonny Boy Karnes' Injury Requires Surgery

GRAPPLERS TANGLE—Indian Ray Fleetfoot, left, and Lynn Redman engage in a brief encounter during a special workout Saturday afternoon at Jones Park arena. The two wrestlers, featured weekly at the popular Groveport-pk park, will face each other this coming weekend during the regular series of four-bout cards promoted every Friday and Saturday night by local sportsman Bob Rogers.

It was a bang-up weekend for wrestling.

Saturday night's matches were rained out at Jones Park, 3800 Groveport-pk, but Friday night provided fans with enough excitement for both nights.

In the first event, Jerry Reed (the Marion Franklin Wonder Boy) defeated Lynn Redman in a one-fall 30-minute time limit match. Two more bouts of the same duration took place with Chuck Stanley defeating Jack Lamont and Sonny Boy Karnes whipping Chess Brenneman.

The contestants were plagued with injuries, however. Lamont gave up his mate hby using illegal techniques, injuring his left knee severely in the process He is expected to be watching from the sidelines for several weeks to come.

Also on the ticket Friday night was a special tag-team event which was a handicap match between the team of Karnes and Reed and the trio of Redman, Brenneman and Jim Storm. The duo out-did the trio in rough and tumble tassel which saw Reed kayo Brenneman almost immediately. The rest of the match consisted of Reed and Karnes slowly but surely beating down Redman and Storm to take the bout.

Lamont was originally scheduled to wrestle in the place of Storm, but his injury forced his withdrawal. Many fans who had favored the trio, felt that if Lamont had seen action it would have been a different story altogether. Lamont, by employing his infamous tactics, could have used his unethical talents to his team's advantage.

Jones Park promoter Bob Rogers took Karnes and Stanley with him to put on an exhibition at Georgesville Homecoming Saturday evening. It turned out to be a bad night for both boys. Karnes dislocated his left shoulder and will undergo surgery sometime this week, Rodgers said it is a bad break and will keep Sonny Boy out of the ring indefinitely, possibly permanently. Having become one of the most popular wrestlers in Central Ohio, he will be missed greatly by his many fans.

Stanley also suffered consequences at the Georgesville event. He wrecked three of his ribs. They are currently hurting him but he expects to see action again this weekend.

The open-air park will again feature a full card this weekend. Friday night finds Gentleman Rocky Mingo pitted against Larry Daniels, Indian Ray Fleetfoot tangling with Randy Birchem and Chuck Stanley going against Lynn Redman. A tag-team match will feature the team of Daniels and Fleetfoot fighting Mingo and Birchem.

Saturday night's matches will find Brenneman seeing action against Reed, Ken Kelsey pitted against Lucky Lambert and Ralph Whaley slated to take on Jack Smithers. A tag-event will also follow.

BUTLER STARS

Landmark Kids Blast Olympian Club 21-12

The Saturday Independent Slo-Pitch League swung into a full slate of games Saturday following a two-week lay-off because of the Fourth of July holiday.

Old Landmark Cafe, Kellys and the Landmark Kids recorded victories to remain in a three-way tie for the league's top spot by blasting out over 75 hits good for 60 runs in registering their third win in four outings in the second round of play.

Landmark dumped Dons 15-10 in the day's closest contest, with two pairs of brother acts banging out 13 hits to spark the victory.

Iver Bolling had a perfect day at the plate (4 for 4) while his brother Lanton connected on three out of five. Tom and Jay Duckworth each polled three for five in the day's action.

Bill Krigbaum's homerun and two singles and Bob Woodyard's three hits led the Dons' attack.

In other games, Landmark Kids blasted Olympian Club 21-12 and Kellys socked Omar 14-7.

Player-manager Fred Butler of the Kids showed his charges how to do it by having the best day at the plate this season. Butler rapped three singles and a triple in five trips to spark the Kids' bid to tay in contention for top honors.

Other heavy bats in the Kids' attack were supplied by Kette (three singles and two doubles), Woodruff (single, double and triple) and Hackett (homerun, double and single).

Olympian Club's keystone combination proved potent at the plate with Craft collecting two homers and Ardner blasting a homer, triple and single in their team's losing cause.

In the day's final game, Kelly pitcher Bill Heinmiller rapped three singles and a double in recording his second straight win over the Omar nine.

Aiding Heinmiller in the Kelly attack were Ray Berry (two doubles, a single and homerun), Jay Conley (homer and double), Claycraft (homer and single), and Jack Kelly (single, double and triple).

Omar's big bats were supplied by Taylor and Willbanks who homered in the losing cause. Prendle collected two long triples to also aid the attack.

This week's game, slated for 2 p.m. Saturday, will find neighborhood rivals Landmark Cafe and Landmark Kids pitted against each other in the day's big game at Deshler Field.

In games at Southwood, Kellys will take on the last place Dons, and Olympian Club will battle Omar.

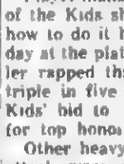
Kiefer Holds First Place In Tourney

Charles Kiefer, 874 S. Champion-av, has edged into first place after the fifth week of play in the Columbus qualifier for the International Miniature Golf Tournament.

Kiefer has averaged an even par 44 in his rounds at the championship Norwood's Amusement Park course, site of the local competition. Trailing Kiefer in the official averages released by tournament headquarters are Bill Turner, 667 Fairwood-av, 44.4; Marv Crosten, 2205 Wickliffe-rd, 44.6; Chuck Goble, 181 West-st, Groveport, 45.5; Dick Guyer, 1585 Fairwood-av, 46.5.

In the junior division, for those under 16, Marc Lackritz, 175 S. Merkle-rd, has carded an average 42.6 score to maintain his leadership in the race for a Schwinn bicycle.

Pursuing Lackritz closely are Fergus Thelbert, 2668 Columbus-av, average 43.2; Larry Franz, 1585 Kent-st, 44.3; Jack Spiers, 601 Rhoads-pl, 44.6; Jerry Dolph, 707 Linwood-av, 44.7.



Tournament play is continuing over the completely rebuilt Norwood's course, with the winners to be determined by the low average score for 12 rounds of miniature golf. The international competition is scheduled Sept. 12 and 13 at Asbury Park, N.J.

Chico Howard On All-Stars

Frank "Chico" Howard, former South High School and Ohio State athlete, this week was awarded a berth on the Pacific League All Star team as an outfielder.

This is somewhat surprising since Chico has played only 12 games with the squad since he was sent down from the parent Los Angeles Dodgers two weeks ago.

Hungarian E&R Squads Take Over Three Top Spots

Thrills were a dime a dozen in the South Y Church Leagues last week as teams representing Hungarian E&R took over the top spot in three of the four leagues.

Steve Butsko's Junior boys took the lead in the Monday night circuit by scoring a close decision over first round winner Frebis Church of God. Andy Poczik was the big man with the bat for the Woodrow Avenue Warriors while Terry Ferrell and Rick Pierce hit well for Frebis.

In other wash day action Southwood C. of C. gave a tremendous display of batting power in downing a game but outclassed South Congregational team, and Livingston Methodist kept on the heels of the leaders by outscoring Gates-Fourth Methodist in a game that proved a real nightmare for the moundsmen.

GIRL LEAGUE ACTION

In the game of the week Hungarian's Classy Lassies defeated St. Paul's power packed aggregation 8 to 6 to win first round honors. Hungarian's battery of Mary and Sharon Komives starred for the winners while Misses Metzger, Park and Sexton paced the Saints' attack. Another game in the girls' division saw Emmanuel cop a real thriller from Oakwood, 15 to 12. Linda West was the hitting star for the Lutherans with four singles in five trips to the plate.

In make-up games in the powder puff class Hungarian and St. Paul scored victories over Church of God and Emmanuel respectively, to round out their week of play.

In the red hot Wednesday Junior loop St. John upset Washington EUB and Emmanuel took care of the first round champion Ohio Avenue EUB in games that proved Class "A" champion will not be known until the final out of the season. Karns, Hunter, J. Ellis and Middendorf paced the hitters for the week. In the Class B section heavily favored St. Paul E. & R. won from South Methodist and St. Paul Lutheran entered the win column by downing Oakwood.

In the only game played by the Intermediates, Hungarian's green wave proved too much for St. Paul E. & R. as Harold Barton settled down after a shaky start to silence the bats of St. Paul's power laden crew. Brilliant defensive play by Paul Barton and Steve Butsko and timely hitting by Norman Woods also played a very important part in the victory. Groezinger, Marshall and Robinson with two hits apiece highlighted St. Paul's efforts.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

Lessons In Smallmouth Fishing Are Suggested

"The streams haven't been real good for fishing for two summers now," said R. W. Recob, West Jefferson. He was speaking about the two Darbys, Walnut, Alum and Deer Creeks —the prime smallmouth bass water in this area.

"Not that fish haven't been caught," he added, "but the creeks just don't look right to go fishing — too muddy." Mr Recob operates a live bait and sporting goods store, and pretty well keeps his finger on the fishing pulse in these parts. After a lifetime of bass fishing, with a flyrod by the way, he knows what he's talking about when it comes to central Ohio streams.

The importance of his observation is that smallmouth bass will bite when the water is cloudy. If you wait until the water is perfect you will catch mighty few fish.

Clear Water Sharpens Vision

Sure, it's a lot of fun to go fishing during that brief period in spring when the streams are like sparkling mountain brooks. You can wade in to the top of hip boots, and still see crayfish crawling along the bottom and count the pebbles if you want to. But the fish's vision is improved too, and bass are extrawary in sparkling water.

For most of the year our streams are various shades of muddy brown. After heavy rains, of course, the mud is so heavy that it is not practical to go fishing except for catfish. But after a couple of days the "yellowish" cast disappears and bass will start hitting again.

I've never been able to get any information direct from the fish, but it seems to me that they have to eat fairly regularly even though the water is not clear.

This line of thought brings up the subject of fish eyesight. A lot of time has been spent in trying to find out how fish can distinguish colors. But I do not know of a study to determine how well a fish can see. It is my opinion that a fish can see better than we think. We probably overestimate a fish's intelligence and underestimate its eyesight.

Relates Hatchery Incident

For example, take the experience of Al Staffan, Rt. 1, Galloway, when he caught a smallmouth bass in a hatchery tank. He was up at South Bass Island in Lake Erie to do some fishing, and while a wind storm was whipping the lake to whitecaps he inspected the state fish hatchery there. There were several long wooden troughs in the hatchery about four feet high and three feet wide. Someone had put a couple of bass in a trough—entirely wild bass just caught from the lake. Al wondered if these fish, supposedly scared from being caught and placed in strange surroundings, would fall for another artificial lure.

So he crawled on his hands and knees up to the tank. Flipped a lure to the other end—whammo. You guessed it, he caught a bass. Al believes the whole answer is that the fish did not see him. Walking boldly up to the tank would have put the wild fish to flight.

So here are two lessons from two bass fishing authorities: go fishing when the streams aren't in perfect condition, and do not underestimate a fish's vision.

Winners in the smallmouth bass division of the Hartley News paper Fishing Derby will take these prizes: First—Garcia Companion fiberglass spin rod and 200 yards of Cortland Plion spin line; Second—Pflueger casting rod; and Third—L&S bass lures, selection of 12. Grand Award is a week's vacation at Timberlane Acres, Pigeon Lake, Ontario, Canada, a fishing resort operated by Maurley E. Sutton, 155 Binns-blvd.

Camping Exhibit Carded

A camping equipment display will be held at Blendon Woods Metropolitan Park July 18-19, according to Walter A. Tucker, 728 S. Remington-rd, director-secretary of the Columbus Metropolitan Park Board.

"We've asked the Columbus Chapter of the National Campers and Hikers Association to cooperate in this," said Tucker. "and quite a lot of camping gear will be exhibited. This will be an educational effort of the park board to initiate beginning campers to the outdoors, even though there are no camping areas in Metropolitan Parks."

Taulbee Frye, 1009 Joss-av, a charter member of the NCHA reports that nine or 10 different types of tents will be set up by association members, and perhaps two types tent trailers will be on display. In addition, everything from cooking gear to sleeping bags will be exhibited.

Tucker hopes that as many campers as possible will visit the display on Saturday, because the parks are ordinarily filled to capacity on Sundays.

Blendon Woods Park is on Route 161 east of Columbus.

Camp Fun Is Offered To Crippled

Special education health and welfare workers from Pickaway and Franklin counties have been requested to screen all crippled children in the area to make certain that every child who needs to go to camp this summer has the chance, according to Walter B. Underwood, executive director of The Ohio Society for Crippled Children.

The Ohio Easter Seal camping sessions will be held at Camp Pittenger near Tiffin, for two 2-week sessions — the first period from August 2 to August 14 — the second period from August 16 to August 28. Camp Pittenger will accomodate 200 school-age boys and girls who are so severly handicapped that they cannot adjust to camps for physically normal children.

"Campership are available from county societies for crippled children, other Easter Seal units, individuals and service clubs, for crippled children whose parents are unable to pay the $72.50 fee", Mr. Underwood pointed out.

Under the direction of C. H. Klippel, Columbus, a team of counselors from colleges througout the state will carry out a program of swimming, softball, croquet, hiking, nature study, crafts, archery, boating, shuffleboard, story telling and campfire programs.

"Camping provides the opportunity for boys and girls to live, work, and play in small groups, close to nature in a simple environment where the campers have a chance to assume the responsibilities for some of the basic functions of day to day living," Mr. Klippel states.

Requests for applications should be directed to The Ohio Society for Crippled Children, 311 Kendall Place, Columbus 5, Ohio. Boys and girls from the ages of seven to 17 are eligible.

Old railroad stations don't just fade away—they're put to many uses. Model train clubs, residences, businesses of all sorts, including a newspaper's printing plant, now occupy stations sold by railroads as they consolidate their passenger operations.

OUT-OF-DOORS MEATS

If your family goes for outdoor eating it can be fun. You'll keep them liking cook-outs all summer if you offer a different meat on the menu each time. There's more than wieners and hamburgers. You can fix many other meats as different beef cuts, lamb, pork and poultry.

Much of the success of the outdoor "chef" depends upon his method. Even the best cut of steak can be ruined by improper cooking. The right method, on the other hand, can produce delightfully appetizing grilled meat using any of several different cuts. Here are some suggestions on "how-to-do-it" from D. B. Van Stavern, Ohio State University, Department of Animal Science.

• Remember that outdoor grilling is a dry-meat method of cooking. Be sure to select meat suitable for this method. Meat cooked by dry heat needs some fat in it for basting, to keep the meat moist.

• Remember that good quality beef is bright red in color. Good pork is different. It should be grayish-pink to delicate rose. Good quality lamb is pinkish-red. For best results on the grill, all these meats should be well marbled with fat.

• For dry heat cookery, beef steaks—club, T-bone, porterhouse are favorites. But you can use rib, sirloin, or rib-eye. Round and chuck steaks can be used if properly tenderized. Don't overlook bacon, Canadian bacon, sausage links or patties, or ham slices ½ to 1 inch thick. Be sure all pork cuts are cooked "well done." Or lamb chops and lamb patties make a delightful change of menu.

• Some cuts that require slow cooking may be used. Leg of lamb and lamb shoulders, boneless rib and boneless rump roasts of beef are in this category. They may be cooked satisfactorily on a rotisserie. They also make excellent kabobs.

Van Stavern offers these additional tips for cooking outdoors:

(1) Season chops, steaks, or patties after turning the first time. Turn only once, if possible, to retain juices in the meat.

(2) Turn and baste kabobs often. Baste meat with your favorite barbecue sauce, and vegetables with melted butter or margarine.

(3) When using the rotisserie, baste often, and season just before meat is done.

Work on the lantern parade to be held at Schiller Park on Thursday, July 16, at 7:30 p.m., is progressing nicely. Anyone interested in making a lantern and entering the parade should come to the Southview Shelter house any day between the hours of two and four. Any parent who would like to help drive some of the children to the lantern parade is asked to come to the playground that evening at 7 p.m. and see Jim or Carol.

Another wiener roast will be held on the playground Tuesday, July 14 at 6:30 p.m. Bring your own hot dogs.

A record dance was held at the Southview shelter house on Friday, July 10. Almost 100 children were in attendance from the Southview, Schiller and Fornof playgrounds. Refreshments were served and two dance contests were held. The jitterbug contest was won by two girls from Southview and the "Freeze" dance was won by two girls from Fornof.

Because of the success of this dance the supervisors are planning on holding another dance this Friday, July 17, from seven to nine p.m. Any child from 11 years on up is welcome to attend. They are reminded to come dressed up and to bring along their favorite records to dance to. All parents are also invited to attend.

South Side Sectional Track Meet was held Tuesday, July 9, at South High School. Those who participated from Southview were: Mike Baker, Sue Saul, Vickie Saul, Ronnie Glick, Shelby Glick, Roger Evans and Mary Jane Welsch.

A Dads versus Sons game is being planned for the future at Southview. Any dad interested in getting up a softball team to play the sons is to write on a piece of paper his name, address, position he would like to play and when he can play. Have your son bring this slip of paper to Jim Zepernick, supervisor, within the next two weeks.

At the end of its second week of play the Little Jet League is proving to be quite a close race. The standings are as follows.

Team	W	L	T
Giants	1	1	1
Tigers	1	1	1
Pirates	0	0	2

The schedule for the coming week is:

Wednesday, July 15, 4 p.m.—Tigers vs. Pirates

Friday, July 15, 4 p.m.—Pirates vs. Giants.

Fairwood . . .

The children at the playground are now making lanterns for the lantern parade on Thursday, July 16.

The junior boys played Palsgrove in a softball game on Monday. The boys played hard but lost by a score of 7 to 0. Fairwood team members are John Brennan, catcher; Mike Hemmelspach, pitcher; Gary Bauman, first base; Frank Braeuer, second base; Jack Dayo, third base; Mike Schwartz, shortstop; Bill Schwartz, left field; Roble Hoffmann, center field; and Sam Hart, right field.

On Friday, July 24, Fairwood will have a play day with a pet show, bike decorating contest, doll parade, softball game, and end the evening with a dance.

The traveling zoo is to be at Fairwood on Monday, July 20, at 5 p.m.

Smith-rd . . .

A doll show held at Smith Road playground last Friday evening was attended by the boys as well as the girls. Several boys were judges of the 40 dolls entered.

Prizes were awarded in such categories as largest doll, smallest doll, prettiest doll, etc. Winners were Susan Wilcox, Maureen Mileusnich, Sherry Falter, Gail Kalten and Maureen Plank.

Plans for the lantern parade at Schiller Park Thursday are almost completed. Twenty children from Smith Road will carry lanterns based on the theme "Round the World in 80 Days." Individual lanterns represent various countries and a large center piece depicts the globe.

Last Friday the senior boys' softball team lost to Deshler by a score of 16 to 5. This was their first defeat.

area east of the lake and will follow a line of march along the south side of the lake and over the bridge and through the park to the bandstand.

Once on the bandstand, lanterns will be judged on the basis of construction and theme.

Judges for the event are Clovis Nogawick of the Columbus Board of Purchase; William P. Hoermle, city councilman; and "Ollie" Ollgoetz, of the City Recreation Commission.

Master of ceremonies for the gala affair will be Bill Drenton, WBNS-TV news analyst.

Last year's program saw an assortment of purple people eaters — South Side variety — with Livingston Avenue Playground's thunderous group of spacemen taking top honors.

Tom Crawshaw, Schiller director, disclosed Wednesday that arrangements for making tonight's parade the biggest ever have been completed.

In inviting the public to this admission free, non-profit event, Crawshaw pointed out that there will be plenty of seats available near the bandstand so that all viewers will have an opportunity to see the lanterns as they pass the judge's stand.

Sewage System Being Planned In South Side

H. G. Dill Consulting Engineers were awarded a contract to make a detailed study and plan for a new sewage system in the South Side area at Monday night's council meeting

The area will cover the Greenhill Acres tract and run east to Parsons-av where a subtrunk will be located

Sewage department officials said that another project will be looked into in the near future. This area would cover N. Watkins-rd to Fairwood-av and out to Refugee-rd.

Glee Club—

Also assisting will be Miles "Cap" Hoover, executive secretary of the South Side YMCA; Jim Wagner, assistant executive secretary of the Y; and Roger Dumaree, South Side Y instructor.

Paul Ward, director of music at Central High School, is also director of the Glee Club but will not be able to join his boys for their five day outing.

Members of Edmonds' committee who are sponsoring the camp are Harry Moeller, Adam Pataky, Harry Anthony, and Miles Hoover.

Annual SSBIA Auction Slated Saturday, Aug. 21

Joe Ronson, secretary of the South Side Business and Industrial Association announced this week that the first collection of items for the annual SSBIA auction will be held on July 29th.

This annual event will be held on Aug. 21 and is the only way the merchants' association raises money for its charitable work.

If you have any items that you care to donate please call HI. 4-2195 and arrangements will be made to pick it up. Persons wishing to donate may also contact Ronsons Barber Shop at Whittier and Parsons. Further details of the auction will be announced later in this paper.

Council Thanks Fete Sponsors

The Southview Park July Fourth celebration saw many elaborate events—among them, the $500 display of fireworks. All these were available only because of the sponsorship of local merchants.

Howard Henry, president of the Council of South Side Organizations, openly thanked all the merchants by a public statement in last week's paper. At that time, the merchants' names were run. Unfortunately, some names were left out. Contributors not mentioned to date are:

Leitwein Shoe Store, Parkview Pharmacy, Seaman Auto Supply, Diebel's Grill, Koch Hardware, Dave Wood Service Station, Walter's Carry Out, Southwood Carry Out and Restaurant, Emerson Electric, Majestic Paint Center, Moose Lodge 11, Ohio Bedding Company, Neubeck Confectionery, DeVany Cleaners, Columbus Grove 10-Druids, St. Leo's Court 1475 and Lockbourne Innis Trailer Rental.

South High PTA Program Planned

Planning the program for the coming year was the main order of business at the South High School PTA meeting, held at the school, July 1. Mrs. Paul Barton, president, said that an interesting, but educational, program was planned

Attending the meeting were: Mr. H. Delbert Swain, principal; Mrs. C. A. Magnuson, co-chairman of hospitality; Mrs. William Paulus, co-chairman of hospitality; Mrs. John Michel, vice-president and program chairman; Mrs. Ted Pherson, co-chairman of program; Mrs. N. J. Heiser, character and spiritual chairman;; Mrs. John Komives, social chairman; Mrs. Robert Karrer, health chairman; and Mrs. Richard R. Chambers, publicity chairman

Women Of The Moose To Hold Open Meeting

hotels, entertainment spots and their slot machines, gambling tables and bars were doing a land office business.

If you haven't been to Vegas you owe it to yourself to see how a part of the world lives. A prominent local minister even suggested this point before our trip.

High spot of our evening entertainment was dinner at the Thunderbird Motel with the accompanying personal appearance of Cowboy Dale Robertson of TV "Wells Fargo" fame. We were impressed with his clean show and the fact that he didn't appear to be near so fictitious or unreal as a lot of characters who were watching him.

Hoover Dam was our next stop and worth the time it takes.

Uncle Sam has a pile of dough invested here in a pile of concrete wedged in between a pile of mountains. The result is that a big hand has been given to western cities to progress industrially because of the water and electric energy produced.

Our guide reminded us that the project cost about 170 million in 1931 and today would cost about 900 million. "But I worked on this job at $4 per day and had saved enough money to build a nice little home in Boulder City. Today prices have gone up so much I can't make enough to paint my house," he said.

Our next stop was Bakersfield where we visited my aunt, Mrs. Goldie Moore, who has lived there many years. We had been told that Bakersfield would be a "hot spot."

But again, we were pleasantly surprised. The nicest weather of our trip was found there. In checking the papers we found the temperatures lower than they were back in Columbus. It still is a fact that this isn't always true!

The earthquake of a few years ago has been a God-send to Bakersfield. Enough of the town was heaved up to inspire the townspeople to practically rebuild their business area and today it is among the nicest in the West.

Oil wells, some industry and farming in great proportions have made Bakersfield a wealthy community.

OFF TO CAMP— Nineteen local youths selected to attend this week's Camp St. Joseph and Camp St. Rita peer from their bus as John Mileusnich, treasurer of the Olympian Club, presents Buck Santanich, of St. Stephens Community House, a check for $150 to aid the youngsters during their stay at camp. Shown viewing the transaction are, in the usual order, Jim Contosta, Tony Baduring, Joe Ardner, Mileusnich, Santanich, and John Maloney.

Olympian Club Sponsors Nineteen Needy Youths To Week-Long Camps

Nineten needy local youngsters today are spending a week in camp, compliments of the Olympian Club.

The youths, aged eight to 13, left for Camp St. Joseph, in Lockbourne, and Camp St. Rita, near Groveport, for seven funfilled days last Sunday. Normally none of the 19 would have dreamed of going to camp this summer. Thanks to the Olympian Club, all are in camp today.

As one of their many community services, the Olympians raised money to send the youths to camp through club projects. The Olympians, formed as a combination athletic-social club organization two years ago, operates as a nonprofit organization with a motto of "Helping Both Our Community and the Youth In It."

Started originally by nine former South Side athletes, the club has steadily grown until today it numbers 24 members. The charter members all came from the St. Stephens Community House area.

In selecting the 19 youths to go to camp this week, club members narrowed their choices down to local children who seemed to be the least likely to go to camp on their own.

Boys selected to attend the week-long sessions were Ronny and David Minehart, Bobby and Steve Gray, Tom and Steve Bendure, Edward and William Holliday, John and Mike Tanner, Mike Somar and Tom Hill.

Girls named to camp were Joyce Somar, Diane, Sandra and Pat Tanner, Helen Hill, Jean VanHoose and Bertha Gray.

While at the two Southeast sites, the youngsters will partake in crafts, nature hikes, swimming, boating, camping, and activities planned and formulated by the 15 counselors assigned permanently to the two camps.

The girls are staying at Camp St. Rita, while the boys are spending their week at Camp St. Joseph.

Following their seven days of outdoor fun, the youngsters will return home at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Olympian Club's eight remaining charter members are Clarence Huskey, Felix Pedon, Tony Yoli, Jim Contosta, Jack Zubovich, Bob Bender, John Maloney and Phil Chevallard.

The civic minded group is headed this year by Dick Kane, president; Bob Bender, vice-president; Dick Hummell, secretary; and John Mileusnich, treasurer.

Club projects in the past have included sending youths to camp last year, giving baskets and toys to youths and needy families at Christmas, supporting the first annual South Side Community Night at Jet Stadium last May, and aiding in projects sponsored by other local service groups.

Budget Hike Is Approved For Schools

Columbus School Board, Tuesday gave its approval of the 1960 budget of $28,909,722.09, an increase of four per cent over 1959 appropriations.

The larger budget is called necessary to cover an expected increase of 3500 to 4000 in enrollment next year.

No rise in tax rate will be needed to produce the increase in funds.

Additional revenue from tax duplicates, growing each year from new homes and businesses and more money expected from the state of Ohio will cover the increase.

The budget figure includes operating funds of $24,312,625 to pay for textbooks, salaries, supplies and operating expenses; a bond and interest fund of $3,697,097.09 which retires bonds and pays interest on out-

Five South Side Teenagers Cop State Bike Racing Championships

Local Youths Eye Advance To Nationals Next Month

Five South Side teenagers swept Ohio bicycle racing honors Sunday at Franklin Park to advance as the state's representatives to the National Bicycle Races, August 21-23 in Kenosha, Wis.

Mike Crary, 15, of 256 Deshler-av; Jim Rogers, 16, and Terry Swingle, 15, placed first, second and third, respectively, in the men's junior division to pace the South Side attack.

Bonnie Husse, 16, of 95 E. Deshler-av, and Sue Sager, 696 E. Moler-st, placed one-two, respectively, in the girls' division to give Columbus, in general, and the South Side, in particular, five of the top nine places in the state's top bicycle race.

Only division in which local entries did not place was the senior men's division where three Greater Cleveland riders swept all three places. Ann Shy, of Dayton, rounded out the select circle of winners by finishing third in the girls' division.

The Ohio championship race was run under the auspices of the Amateur Bicycle League of America.

Men race in the junior division until they are 16, then graduate to the senior class. All women, regardless of age, are placed in the girls' division.

Crary, Rogers and Swingle all belong to the same local Franklin Bicycle Club, Inc., which numbers approximately 15 members.

All three boys have been racing between 12 to 16 months under the tutorship of Gus Husse, president of the Franklin Club.

Although a spectator may think a bike racer's garb skimpy and inexpensive, the boys were quick to point out that equipment, including bike and clothing, costs each rider approximately $200.

Cost of each bike runs about $155, with accepted, custom-built six-day bike racers running much more. Special shoes for riding average about $12, with helmet, jersey and shorts making up the remainder of the total.

Because riders can get their slender, two-wheeled machines up to 50 m.p.h., each bike must be equipped with special hand-made silk cord and thin rubber tires. Each tire costs approximately $25 and is filled with between 80 to 90 pounds of air pressure.

Crary pointed out that the rider's feet are strapped into the bike's pedals, that the machine has no brakes, can't coast, has no fenders, and operates with a stiff gear.

Despite this noticeable lack of anything but wheels and frame, the boys made clear that accidents are few and far between in racing. Spills resulting in nothing more than skinned elbows and knees and loss of time are another story.

"Spectators and photographers give us the most trouble," Rogers stated. "No matter how hard the officials try, it seems they just can't keep people off the track."

In backing up his buddy's statement, Crary added that all riders crouch when riding their bikes, with the head in a low position. "This makes visibility poor for the rider," the new champ added, "in that all the racer can see is the immediate area in front of his bike."

Needless to say, all three boys and both girls are eagerly looking forward to the National Races in Wisconsin next month. Crary attended the event last year as a spectator, but for Rogers and Swingle it will be their first look at the "big time."

Following their return to Columbus after the nationals, Crary and Rogers will report for football practice on Bob Duncan's South High Bulldog team. Both boys will enter the 11th grade at South this September.

Swingle, the youngster of the group, will practice more bike racing upon his return before entering his final year at Barrett Junior High School.

TOP BIKE TRIO — Ohio's top three junior division bike racers pose for an informal shot before taking a practice run to tune up for the National Bicycle Races they'll enter in Wisconsin Aug. 21-23. Shown in the usual order are Jim Rogers, Mike Crary and Terry Swingle, the South Side neighborhood trio that finished second, first and third, respectively, in Ohio Championship Races at Franklin Park Sunday.

City Considers Southview Expansion

Land south of the border is under the eye of Columbus city officials who want to expand Southview Park.

Council Monday night passed a resolution of intent to appropriate about 33 acres south of Stimmel-rd, east of the proposed State Route 1 and west of the Scioto River.

City attorney's aides said the county properties desired are owned by Leon Schottenstein, William and Ruth Edsell and Allen B. Caskey, trailer park operator.

N. J. Barack, city recreation chief, said Southview Park is vitally needed to serve the increasing populations of the West and South Sides. Some of its 72-acres have been used since World War II for "emergency housing," known as Greenlawn project. Called sub-standard, the homes are to be torn down as fast as families can be relocated.

More recently the park has been bisected by the construction of the North-South Freeway, shutting off some of the accesses. Because of this the Council of South Side Organizations has spoken loudly for more park space.

Mel Dodge, city recreation supervisor, said Southview is being used to capacity. It now consists of 14 softball and two baseball fields, and to the east are two lighted ball diamonds and three football fields.

South Optimists Again Back South High School's Football Mouthpiece Campaign

MOUTHPIECE FITTED — Tom Noble, South High School football player, this week was one of over 30 Bulldog gridders having impressions made for mouthpieces for the coming football season. A community service backed by the South Optimist Club and local dentists, the mouthpiece project is a continuation of last year's successful campaign carried out for South gridders. Eyeing Tom and his new impression with interest are, in the usual order, Bob Duncan, South football coach; Dr. J. E. Van DerWater and Dr. Carl N. Fillinger.

The Optimist Club of South Columbus entered its second year of serving the community recently by following up a club project that brought the South Side Optimists national recognition in 1953.

Approximately one year ago, the Optimists, in conjunction with the South Side YMCA and faculty of South Side High School, laid the groundwork for providing over 60 South High football players with individual form fitted mouth protectors.

South was the only city school ever provided such mouthpieces, a distinction the Ann-st school still holds today.

Following a rugged nine-game schedule, only one Bulldog player received any sort of mouth injury. "Tiny" Walters broke a tooth. Why? Because he took his mouthpiece out prior to receiving a jolt in the face in mid-season.

This year, for the second straight season, the Optimists have arranged for the fitting of mouth protectors. Boys returning to the team from last year's squad will use the protectors furnished them in 1958. New members of both the reserve and varsity squads are currently being fitted with their new teeth gear.

Teh Optimists are again supplying the money for materials used in making the mouthpieces, with local dentists donating their time and talents.

Garcia At Large!

Schiller Fish Derby Beckons Youngsters

Wait till Zorro hears this!

Sargeant Garcia is still at large!

Garcia, in this case, is the long-sought after channel catfish that has been eluding Schiller Park fishermen for nearly two years.

Unlike his television counterpart, this Garcia has a price on his head. Dead or alive, the elusive channel cat will bring $10 cash for the lucky angler who brings him in.

Placed in the park lake last year for the 1958 Fishing Derby, the tagged catfish this year again looms as top prize among the 60-odd contest entries which have been stocked in Schiller to do battle with local youngsters, aged 14 and under.

The derby, co-sponsored by the Southeast Lions Club and the Columbus Recreation Department, will run through August 20.

Stuart Jones, Southeast Lions Club member, stated this week that an additional 50 tagged fish will be added to the lake, bringing to total over 110 gilled vertebrate.

Any fish caught with one of last year's tags, notably Sgt. Garcia, will be good for a prize this year, Jones added.

Any boy or girl who catches one of the tagged eligibles can take it to one of the park supervisors on the playground and

BIBLE COMMENT:

Bible Shows Man Striving Toward God

The history of religon among the Jews, which produced the Bible; the Old Testament in its entirety, and the New Testament in its beginnings, is the story of the search for God, the truth concerning man himself, his relations with his fellow men, his responsibilities and destiny in a world of right and wrong, and all the mysteries of life, suffering, and death.

Revelation did not come all at once. The Bible in its many books offers the surest evidence that, as the Bible itself says, "holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

The evidence is of the Bible growing out of human experience. The writers of the Bible had to experience it, before they could write it

The experience began, as the Bible itself shows, in a dim apprehension of the nature of God, far removed from the vision of God in the face of Jesus Christ, or from the visions of the great Hebrew prophets.

No view of the Bible is true to the Bible itself that does not take into account the factor of progressive revelation, of progress in the search for God and the knowledge of Him

But, having said that, the nature and meaning of that progression must not be misunderstood. It does not mean that earlier perceptions were untrue; only that they were partial and inadequate.

They were way-points in man's quest of God, glimmerings toward the full realization of the "Light of the World" in Jesus

'Y' Church Softball League In Turmoil

Ye old dope bucket took a tremendous beating in the South Side "Y" Church softball leagues last week as the loop races resembled a promoter's dream.

A study of the standings reveal that only Hungarian E & R of the Girls' League and Emmanuel Lutheran of Class "A" in Wednesday's Junior group escaped the upset plague that hit Southwood field.

It all started in the Monday Junior circuit when Hungarian E & R's winning streak ended with a 13 to 9 loss to Livingston Methodist, sending these two teams into a top spot tie with Frebis Church of God and Southwood Church of Christ who were victorious over South Congregational and Gates-Fourth Methodist respectively.

Bobby Hedrig's homerun and triple played a big part in Livingston's victory as did Walter Steffen's hitting and effective twirling. Ray and Ed Speakmon, Howard Henry, Bruce Trott and Blair took hitting honors in other games on the agenda.

Play in the distaff class saw Hungarian's pennant bound aggregation score victories over Livingston and St. John E & R to run their victory string to ten straight. The two wins also gave the Woodrow Avenue gals a half-game lead in the Class "A" set. St. Paul E & R remains in second on the strength of their impressive win over St. John.

In opening night play in Class "B", South Methodist outlasted Church of God and Emmanuel Lutheran clipped the wings of the Southwood Angels. Kay Hussy, Diane Humes, Sharon Burton, Jeanie Dailey, and Joyce Komives took hitting honors for the week with Mary Komives continuing to prove that she deserves the spotlight as the league's outstanding hurler.

In the Wednesday Junior League Emmanuel Lutheran scored an important victory over Washington EUB, thanks to an excellent job of relief pitching by Joe Middendorf, and a never say die attitude by his teammates. Ohio Avenue EUB, first round champs, helped Emmanuel's cause by upsetting St. John in a well played game.

In the Class "B", Oakwood Methodist showed unexpected power downing St. Paul E & R in a game where the score looked more like a football result (21-14) and Tommy Lutz, making his first appearance as a pitcher, hurled South Methodist to a surprise win over St. Paul Lutheran. These two upsets sent the league into a four way tie with just one week of the regular schedule remaining.

Thursday's Intermediate Boys saw another tie for first place develop when South Methodist's nine upset the previous week's undisputed leaders, Hungarian E & R, 7 to 4. Charles Washburn's base clearing double in the fifth was the deciding blow for the Morrill Avenue boys. Gordon Ball allowed only two hits, but his wildness kept him in hot water throughout the entire game.

Harold Kromer's St. Paul E & R nine scored an easy victory over Livingston Methodist, with Wally Rueckel leading the hit parade with three singles and a home run in four official trips to the plate. The Saints helped their cause by playing errorless ball afield.

Thom Opens New AAA Home Builders Firm

Jack Thom

Native South Sider Jack Thom this week invited all his old Columbus friends to visit him at his new AAA Home Builders Company, 1542 Par-

(OVER)

Reason for the invitation is Thom's "Open Door Policy" — a feature initiated when he opened the doors of his new firm two weeks ago.

Serving the south and southeast sections of Columbus, AAA offers the newest in equipment for new area homes.

Thom, a resident of 291 N. Roosevelt-av, was formerly general manager of a local Chrysler agency and was also associated with Sun Television.

He attended Ohio State University and is a member of Southgate Lodge of Masons, Scottish Rite, and Aladdin Temple Shrine.

The father of two children, Thom has been married the past 13 years to the former Jeri Foreman — also a native South Sider.

Optimists—

Thurman-av D.D.S., will head the list of South Side dentists cooperating in the venture.

Thus far, according to Fillinger, approximately 30 to 40 mouthpieces have been fitted for new members of this year's Bulldog squad.

With only 28 days remaining until Bulldog Coach Bob Duncan leads his charges through their first workout August 20, the Optimists project is all but complete. All that remains is the specialized fitting, if necessary, of protectors which prove uncomfortable or off-size once in a player's mouth.

register the catch. If the young fisherman is a registered member of the Southeast Lions Junior Fishing Club of 1959 he will be entitled to receive a prize which will be awarded on the final day of the contest.

Many other prizes are slated to be awarded to club members on the final day, also, regardless of whether the member has made a catch of a prize fish or not.

To become a member of the club, boys and girls under 14 as of June 1 of this year should register and receive their official membership card. Registration blanks can be had at Schiller Park Recreation Center or at a number of stores and businesses on the South Side.

Plans are being made for a special event to be held for members of the club in the near future, so all boys and girls interested should register and become members as soon as possible in order to get in on the fun.

Ray "Lefty" Henderson, 14, an eighth grader at Roosevelt Junior High School, copped the contest last year by bagging a total of seven tagged fish.

standing bonds, and a rotating fund of $900,000 used to operate school lunchrooms.

Columbus School Board Tuesday approved an increased budget for 1960, purchased a tract of land adjacent to Stockbridge School to provide a walking access for students, and awarded contracts to modernize Barrett Junior High's fire escapes.

A strip of land 50 feet wide and 485 feet long, adjacent to Stockbridge School was purchased to provide walking access to the school from Hillock-av.

The board also awarded a contract for $11,610 to J. T. Edwards Co. to remove two cylindrical fire escape chutes at Barrett Junior High, and replace them with two new escapes.

The move was made on the recommendation of the Bureau of Fire Prevention, who said the old chutes would be, "extremely dangerous as a means of egress in a fire emergency," of escape in a fire emergency."

South Sider Drowns While In Michigan

Michael Edward, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jones of 785 Ann-st, drowned last Thursday at Lake Charlevoix, near East Jordan, Mich.

Charlevoix County sheriff's deputies said Michael had been swimming with his family. No one witnessed the accident.

The boy's body was found about 20-feet from shore after he was discovered missing.

The youngster is survived by two sisters, Kathy and Leeanne; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Sharp, of Bremen. Michael's mother, Katherine, is a nurse at St. Anthony Hospital.

Summertime Hunting Is Fun

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Summer months are a time when many central Ohio sportsmen concentrate on rod and reel and let Old Betsy, the favorite firearm, stand idle in the gun rack or lay snugged away in a gun case in some neglected corner.

There is no good reason for this, because summertime offers many opportunities for shooting practice on both live and inanimate targets.

By this time most of the young crows are out of their nests and flying around—adding to the crow population that provides such fine hunting sport. Woodchucks offer a lot of shooting thrills, and are found most often in rolling terrain.

Decoy Attracts Crows

Farmers or landowners almost always have the welcome sign out for the careful gunner whose shooting sport deals with the 'chuck and crow—potential pests. Early in the spring crows cause some damage in the cornfields, and most farmers don't like to see too many of the black rascals around. Crows are wary birds, and test the stalking ability and marksmanship of the most experienced and seasoned gunner. Flight patterns of the birds are erratic, and their actions are generally unpredictable. One of the best ways to attract them for sporty shooting is to use either a live or artificial owl decoy. Crows do not like hawks or owls, and will swarm around one in a noisy attempt to scare it away

'Chucks Are Challenge

Woodchuck hunting is a pleasurable sport for the rifleman. It is not, however, to be taken lightly by even an expert rifle shot, for it requires knowledge of habit and habitat, and great skill in stalking and shooting.

Ordinarily, 'chucks are hunted in hay fields during mornings and evenings—when they feed. From a vantage point the hunter scans the field, usually with binoculars. When a woodchuck is spotted, then the stalk begins. After much belly-crawling, hiding behind rocks, etc, the good hunter will find himself within range of his quarry. Now a well-placed shot finishes the hunt.

Woodchucks make for good summertime eating, too, as many have found. Properly prepared, the meat of this alert little vegetarian is delicious. Most hunters eat only the younger 'chucks, and prepare them the same as rabbits.

A third summer shooting activity is breaking clay pigeons with a shotgun or plinking paper targets with a rifle. A hand trap is an inexpensive piece of equipment that will send clay pigeons in any direction for tricky shooting and to improve marksmanship.

Whatever type of shooting fun you try this summer, practice rules of firearm safety. Shooting is fun but accidents aren't!

Fishing Good At Timberlane

Walleye and muskie fishing is currently very good at Pigeon Lake, Ontario, location of Timberlane Acres fishing resort where the grand award winner of the Hartley Newspaper Fishing Derby will spend a week next year. This resort provides all the conveniences of home in prime fishing territory, and is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Maurley Sutton, 155 Binns-blvd.

The Suttons have just returned from Timberlane Acres and report that excellent catches of walleyes (called pickerel up there) and muskies are being made from their resort. Mrs. Sutton observes that best catches are made by fishermen who have fished the lake for several years and know some good locations.

Area fishermen who have recently returned from Timberlane Acres include Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Krouse, 1696 Eddystone-av, Mr. and Mrs. Park Roush, 108 N. Burgess-av, Mrs. Roy B. Bobet and Mrs. Ernestine Carlson, 210 Letchworth-av.

The bass and muskie season opened on Pigeon Lake July 1, and the fishing season has been going "full steam ahead" all month. To sample all the fishing that this famous region offers you should p lan your visit after July 1. Reservations at popular Timberlane Acres, however, are booked solid until the last week of August. Good fishing extends through September.

Outdoor Movies Featured

Color motion pictures on nature, travel and the outdoors are presented weekly on Wednesday evenings at Blacklick Woods Metropolitan Park and on Thursday at Blendon Woods Metropolitan Park. Starting time for the public program is approximately 8:30 p.m. Here are the coming films:

July 22 and 23—"A Date With British Columbia," "Science Looks At Illinois," "Autumn Trip Around the Island of Orleans."

July 29 and 30—"Alaska Holiday, Visit Our 49th State," "Canoe Country, Waterways of the North," "Laurentide Park, Canadian Beauty Spot."

Some park benches are provided but many visitors prefer to bring their folding chairs, or blankets to sit on the ground. In case of rain films are shown indoors.

Greyhound Sells Tickets Ahead For State Fair

Greyhound ticket offices throughout Ohio have been named special agents for the advanced sale of gate admission tickets to the 1959 Ohio State Fair.

The tickets, priced at 50 cents each, will sell for 75 cents during the fair.

Advanced sale tickets are also available through the State Fair box office.

In making the announcement today, State Fair Manager Rowland Bishop said "These tickets give groups who are planning a trip to the State Fair a chance to save a third of the admission price." The special tickets are also available for sale to individuals.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

THIS WEEK SHOP FOR:

Vegetables—sweet corn, tomatoes, green beans, summer squash, cucumbers.

Fruits—peaches, cantaloupe, apples, seedless grapes, frozen lemonade.

Meat and Poultry — fryers, smoked picnics, turkeys, eggs.

IT'S SWEET CORN SEASON

Corn-on-the-cob! You can enjoy this summer favorite to the fullest now. Local farmers are harvesting a good crop and they say it's sweet and tender—in fact, just about as good as corn can grow. Although good sweet corn is available all summer, the peak comes in late July and early August. You may want to can or freeze some during this period when quality is high and price is low.

Growers Are Producing Quality Corn—So that we can have the best sweet corn possible, plant breeders are continually developing new hybrid varieties that have a tender kernel and a high sugar content. Some 30 different hybrids are now raised successfully in Ohio.

While Ohio has ideal climatic conditions for corn, many growers are equipped with irrigation which enables them to produce rapid maturing and tender corn.

Icing and Hydrocooling of sweet corn is the trend. There's no vegetable that loses its sweetness and good quality faster than sweet corn. More effort than ever before is made to keep corn cool from the field to your table. Sweet corn can lose up to half of its sugar content in just 12 to 14 hours of summertime temperature. Careful growers cool corn as soon as it's picked.

Alert food retailers are also striving to keep field freshness in the corn they handle, even though corn is plentiful and prices are low. Many of them buy only corn that has been pre-cooled and kept at low temperatures until it arrives at the store. They are keeping it cool until you buy it.

How to Get Quality—"Put the water on to boil, then go pick the corn," is the saying often heard in regard to sweet corn. But many of us are not located so close to a corn field, so we must settle for next best. And this is to purchase sweet corn from an iced or refrigerated display, and from a source that sells lots of corn.

Hurry fresh corn from the garden or market to the refrigerator or the range. The sooner you use it the sweeter and juicier the corn. If you must hold it, refrigerate the corn. Some folks prefer to husk corn before refrigerating it. If you do this, be sure to wrap it or place the corn in a moisture-proof container to keep the kernels from drying out. Studies made at the University of Wisconsin show that corn wrapped in cellophane bags retained more moisture than that left only in the husks.

OUTDOOR GRILLED CORN

Corn-on-the-cob, roasted on an outdoor grill or in the embers of an outdoor fire, is something to remember.

Husks may be left on the ears or removed. If left on, pull back husks, remove silk, spread corn with softened butter and seasoning. Lay ears on grill or embers and roast 20-30 minutes, turning after 10-12 minutes. Serve piping hot with butter, salt, and pepper.

Indian Goes Wild

Fleetfoot Puts On One-Man Show In Week-End Bouts At Jones Park

HIGH FLYER — Lynn Redman comes out on the wrong end of this hold Saturday night as he finds himself ready to be flung to the canvas by Jerry Reed, young Marion-Franklin High School graduate. Redman later recovered from his mistreatment to combine with Ralph Whaley in knocking Reed senseless. Ray Fleetfoot (not pictured) Reed's partner, eventually took on both Whaley and Redman to win the tag-team match single handed.

Young Ray Fleetfoot, the local Indian from Obetz, put on a one-man show at Jones Park Arena this week in splitting a pair of decisions at the local Groveport-pk sports emporium.

Fleetfoot, in only his second year of professional wrestling, went wild in Friday night's tag-team event — knocking out the referee and raising havoc with both fans and opponents before being disqualified by Jones promoter Bob Rogers.

Saturday, in a complete reversal of form, the young Indian swayed the rain-soaked crowd to near bedlam as he single-handedly took on the rough team of Ralph Whaley and Lynn Redman in the night's final event.

Fleetfoot teamed young Marion-Franklin High School Wonder Jerry Reed, brought the crowd to its feet by trouncing both Whaley and Redman to bring victory from almost certain defeat.

Reed was eliminated early in the bout when Whaley and Redman combined to batter the young strong-man with a series of four straight pile-drivers. Reed, visually dazed after the first driver, was rendered unconscious following the fourth and was taken from the ring into the dressing room before regaining consciousness.

Faced with the almost impossible feat of pulling victory from the hands of his two opponents, Fleetfoot reversed his style of the night before and put into action a combination of scientific tactics and a cool head to win the final fall and the match.

In other action Saturday, Redman pinned Reed in a one-fall, 30-minute time limit event. The loss, first for the Marion area grappler, was widely protested by fans and Reed alike on the grounds that Redman used the ring ropes in applying leverage to his pin.

The usually calm and gentlemanly Whaley turned tiger in the evening's other preliminary against Fleetfoot and was disqualified for employing "unconventional tactics."

In Friday's bouts, Fleetfoot defeated Randy Birchem following a severe gash inflicted on Dandy Randy's neck in a fall from the ring. The cut, which bled profusely, forced forfeiture of the bout to the Indian when Birchem was unable to continue.

Chuck Stanley won the night's second preliminary by decisioning the Dark Secret.

The featured tag-team event between Gentleman Rocky Mingo and Birchem and the team of Stanley and Fleetfoot saw both teams turn villain in a wild and wooly contest which nearly brought the crowd into the ring.

Following pins by each team, Mingo and Birchem ganged up on Fleetfoot and beat the Indian unmercifully about the ring. Fleetfoot, dazed and rubber-legged, suddenly seemed to go out of his head following the beating and tore about the squared circle in a frightening fashion.

Fans and opponents alike, realizing the apparent mental state of the young warrior, tried to subdue Fleetfoot, only to find him beyond reproach.

Referee Lynn Redman finally attempted to stop the crazed native of Obetz, only to get knocked cold with a savage judo punch to the neck.

Fleetfoot, apparently realizing what he had done, suddenly came out of his combined crazed and dazed condition and apologized to Redman, his opponents and the fans.

The popular Indian's sorryness did not affect his team's decision in the match however, as Park Promoter Bob Roger's ruled Fleetfoot disqualified and awarded the verdict in favor of Mingo and Birchem.

This week-end's card will offer Jones' fans two new faces this season in the persons of Silent Montenaro and Poncho Villa, popular television performers.

Montenaro, 23-year-old deaf mute, will face Villa in Saturday's first one-fall preliminary event, with Jerry Reed taking on Ken Kelsey in the second.

A tag event between the team of Reed and Montenaro against Villa and Kelsey will highlight the night's card.

Friday's program will pit Mingo against Fleetfoot and Birchem against Stanley in the tfo 30-minute warm-ups, with Mingo and Birchem facing the Indian and Stanley in the tag event.

Girls Sparked

The Livingston intermediate girls' softball team defeated Fornoff 26-13 this week. Joyce Brown and Evelyn James homered for Livingston. The junior boys defeated Mohawk 9-7, Blackburn 12-8, and lost to Palsgrove 14-15. The intermediate Boys downed Karns on a last inning homer by Mike Duncan 11-10.

Jim Parker homered for the seniors and drove in six runs but it wasn't enough as Smith Road downed the seniors 15-16.

Micky Simmons, Paul Pate, Eugene Harper, Charles Shirley, Roger Harper, Stan Shepard and Kelly Richards were outstanding for Livingston. Don Brown won the free-throw shooting for senior boys and Joe Hayes likewise for the junior boys.

Livingston's Tigers Pace Park Jr. Jet League Race

The mighty Tigers have raced to the front of the pack with a 7-0 record in Livingston Little Junior Jet League play this week. The Tigers, behind the pitching of Charles Barton and Lloyd McClendon, and the hitting of Jerry Brown, Ralph Baker, Joe Hays, Robert Vinson and Robert Welch, have developed a well-rounded club. They are coached by Micky Simmons and Joe Cook.

The Dodgers, paced by pitcher Stan Shepard, are in second place with a 4-2 record.

The Indians occupy third place with a 5-3 record. Roger Harper has been the mainstay of the Indians as he has recorded all of their wins and leads the club in hitting with five home runs..

Kelly Richards, Gary Cooper, Robert Mors and Tom Edwards have all turned in outstanding performances. Matthew Reeves, Charles James, James Wright, Barry Brakey and Jim McGrady have been the most consistent players for the Pirates, who are considered a very good club despite a 4-3 record.

The Yankees are sparked by the Nallie brothers, Ronnie and Robert, Simpkins, Mike Starks, Mike Davis and Billy Brown. Just like their namesakes, the Yanks are having an off year, with a 1-5 record.

In softball action the Senior Boys racked up two out of three wins. Livingston defeated Deshler, 7-1, behind the three-hit pitching and a three-run homer by Bill Richards. Richards also had seven assists. Donald Brown, Jim Parker, Lyn Herd, Gene Harper, Mike Jennings and Smoky Haslett helped Livingston to an 18-7 win over Sunshine. Doug White was the winning pitcher.

Junior Boys blasted Fairwood 17-5 and Beatty Center 25-13, behind Roger Harper, Jerry Brown, Robert Vinson, Ronnie Nallie, Charles James and Carl Couser, who were the hitting stars. The Intermediate boys were bested by Blackburn, 8-18, and downed by Palsgrove 8-9.

Paul Pate, Robert White, Harold Winton and Joe Cook were outstanding for Livingston.

The Intermediate girls led the league with three wins after victories over Fornoff, 26-13, Deshler, 19-18, and Smith Road, 7-0. Charlotte Vinson, Mary Cook, Eloise and Evelyn James paced the team.

Visiting a war-time buddy was one of the high spots in the vacation plans of "Mickey" Skobrak, 1593 Oakwood-av, this summer. Mickey, Lillian and Betty utilized the trip to and from Cleveland to visit Ohio points of interest on the way.

Our sympathy to Audrey Carter and Marguerite Watson, who lost their mother, Mrs. Boring, last week.

Lots of comings and goings on South 6th-st; more "goings" however, to be truthful. Ron and Marie Cook, with Steve, Linda and Brenda set forth for Maries home state, Alabama, recently.

The residents of 1413 S. 6th-st were home last week. Down at the Hinson household, S. 6th-st, Darlene and young daughter, Kathy, travelled by train to Arkansas, to visit Darlene's grandparents. The visit enabled the Southwesterners to meet Kathy, whom they'd never Travelling with young Mrs. Hinson were her mother, Mrs. Chester Metzler, 18 W. Markison-av, and the younger Metzlers, Kevin and Melinda.

A family reunion, July 12, brought Imogene, Art and Sandy Brown to Columbus from Michigan. The Browns were the guests of Imogene's folks, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Wilson, 1395 S. 6th-st. Imogene got more sight-seeing into her Ohio trip than usual, so was able to show Michigan-native Art some of the Hocking County landmarks.

Paul and Priscilla Lenox, also of S. 6th-st, took off for a few days vacation. One objective was Lake Superior, so that the largest Great Lake could be photographed and compared with the four smaller Lakes.

We just learned that Emma Wilkerson, 291 Barthman-av, had been hospitalized quite a while ago, and now another member of the South Unit League of Women Voters, is a hospital patient. Vivian Smith, 1072 Berkeley-rd, chairman of the Unit, was admitted to White Cross Hospital on July 12.

Bachelor Father

Jim Haney, former Columbusite, had a "batching" period in Oklahoma, while Wanda and the three Haney boys were Columbus visitors for a month. The Haneys lived on Lockbourne prior to their "Westward Ho" migration. The family should be safely home by now.

The last full week of July finds birthdays being celebrated by these kiddos . . . Paul Holbrook, 75 Jenkins, July 29; Keith Young, 350 Barthman-av, July 25; Peggy Young, 139 Hinman-av, July 27; Michael Merchant, 1679 S. High-st, July 28; Joy Evans, July 26; Jerry Mason, 44 Jenkins, July 25; Diane Carter, 1408 S. 5th-st, July 29; Stephen Zwilling, 41 W. Markison, July 28; Peggy Cook, 1377 S. High-st, July 23; Linda Clark, 1461 S. Wall-st, July 23; Diana Coy, 28 W. Neff-st, July 28; Ilona Massie, 305 Southwood, July 23; Judith Nichols, 322 E. Hanford-st, July 25; Donna Coy, 28 W. Neff-st, July 28; Pamela Wolford, 1311 Parsons-av, July 23 and Roberta Coslett, 261 E. Welch-av, July 25.

What a rushed feeling Mary Barnhart, 185 Frebis-av, must have these days! The gracious Southway American Legion Auxiliary president was scarcely unpacked from her Florida trip when she had a convention to attend in Cleveland, July 17-19. A recent postal from Walton and Mary's daughter, Rosemary, was postmarked Armond Beach, Fla., and told us that the trio planned to go to St. Petersburg for that week.

The next news we got about our vivacious neighbor was that she was to be one of the delegates to the Legion Auxiliary Convention that took place in Cleveland last weekend.

Other delegates were Mrs. Ollie F. Goodall, Mrs. Aaron Schirtzinger, Mrs. Charles Kaiser, Mrs. Henry Butler, Mrs. Harold Backus, Mrs. Robert Schmitt and Mrs. Murl Poetker. Alternates were Miss Dorothy Gatterdam, Mrs. Oscar Wohlfarth, Mrs. Simpson Newport, Mrs. Blanche Klein, Mrs. Mary Santer, Mrs. Esther Furniss, Mrs. Mildred Miller and Mrs. Earl Crozier.

Post Cards

Perhaps Eleanor Jones, 317 Moler-st, was able to work in a little more sight-seeing while she was in Philadelphia, Pa., but a postal from her indicated that she was busy most of the time she was in the historic city. Miss Jones was attending a convention in the City of Brotherly Love. Another postal, from Mrs. David Hamilton, 1522 Wager-st, was merely signed "From Hamiltons" but we suspect, since it was a scene at Blue Hole, that she and her spouse were visiting their son in northern Ohio.

Adult birthdays that come in "roastin' ear and watermelon season" . . . Evelyn Clark, July 26; Jerri Hampton and Gus Weber, July 28; Willa Davis, July 29 and Evelyn Cramer, July 26.

Robert Westrich will be the conductor upon the podium for the July 26 Band Concert at Schiller Park.

The DiGoia household, 3216 Parsons-av, was enchanted by the young "exchange" student who was their guest July 11 and 12. Kaaren Randen, from Finland, was one of the foreign students who studied in American schools for the past year and stopped in Columbus enroute to Washington, D.C., and New York, then on to their widely-scattered homes. Miss Randen is a Finnish exchange student, who spent her year in California.

A combined business and pleasure trip took Donna Bornshine, 1623 Oakwood-av, to Florida last week.

Watching our nation's currency being made was only one of the many fascinating things that four South Siders now have as memories of the nation's capital city.

The tourists were Mrs. Charlotte McGhee and her daughter, Shirley, 18 E. Stimmel-st, Miss Eliza Griffith and niece Linda Elkins. According to our informant, the foursome made a thorough tour of the city.

Our ailing list . . . Mrs. Richard Hegenberger, who was hospitalized in Grant Hospital, as was John West. Roy Decker, who has been ill, a resident of 239 E. Jenkins-av. Bob Ross, one of the nicest people we've ever met, is also on the ailing list. Bob will soon be making the trip to Texas, object, matrimony! The very best to the personality-plus Bob.

Couple Weds

Another wedding ceremony, this past Monday, July 20, united Edna Ann Baughman and Walter Smith at Southwood Church of Christ. Both young folks are students of Kentucky Christian College.

Fishing in Lake Erie was the lure for the Craggs family, 514 Cline-st, last week. We're anxiously waiting to see if Dorothy comes up with some tall tales, a'la'Lana Rakin!

An active South Sider, Mrs. Distelzweig, had the misfortune of taking a nasty fall that hospitalized her on July 7. Mrs. Distelzweig resides at 53 E. Gates-st, but is temporarily at the home of her son Paul, 4175 Wright-rd.

All's quiet on the Stewart-av front, as far as Mr. and Mrs. John Keller, 307 Stewart-av, are concerned. Dennis Spragg, a grandson, flew from Miami, and arrived in our town on June 15. The next day he celebrated his birthday with his grandparents. Dennis' parents and brother Tommy arrived in Columbus on July 3, and mama Georgine celebrated her birthday on July 4.

Georgine and her two sons visited with the Keller's a month, before travelling on to Toledo, where they will be staying for the remainder of the summer, while Leonard is working there.

The Kellers will be hosts to their daughter and her family when they head south once again

Cheery cards would be so thoughtful to send to former Gates-st resident, Mrs. I. H. Ruppersburg, who is now in St. Anthony Rest Home.

Officer Candidate School Graduate Is Commissioned

Robert W. White, whose wife, Carol, lives at 969 Sheridan-av, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army, June 24 upon graduation from the Infantry Officer Candidate School, Fort Benning, Ga.

Lt. White received 23 weeks of intensive training in map reading, infantry tactics, leadership, logistics, administration and physical conditioning.

The 21-year-old officer, son of Wilbert W. White, 81 E. Hanford-st, is a 1954 graduate of St. Mary's High School and was employed by Cotton Lumber Co., before entering the Army. His mother, Mrs. Omah J. Nelson lives at 1132 Lawrence-dr.

Golden Agers Treated To Trip At Coca Cola

The Schiller Park Golden Age Club were guests of the Coca Cola Bottling Company, Tuesday, July 21. They were treated to "cokes" with their picnic lunches; shown a movie, and then taken on a conducted tour through the bottling plant.

This is one of the several planned trips arranged by the City Recreation Department to take the Club's members on sight-seeing tours this summer.

The club's next business meeting will be held on Aug. 4, at 1:30 at Schiller Recreation Center.

Fifteen hundred miles were covered by Marge and Bill Hoptry, 280 Southwood-av, on their Canadian fishing trip just completed. An unusual occurrence for the fishermen was hearing a Jet baseball radio broadcast 750 miles away, which Joe Hill, sportscaster, made mention about on a later broadcast.

The Karches, also of Southwood-av, (272), found the famed five-mile Michigan bridge one of the highlights of their vacation trip.

Playground

to fit with the overall jungle theme. Their hard work paid off, as Southview Playground was tied with Schiller Park for third place as the best executed lanterns.

Those who participated in the lantern parade were: Roger Evans, John Evans, Donald Wolford, John Wells, Sue Saul, Vicki Saul, Gerald Smith, Ed Rigs, Bill Herbert, and Jane Slavens.

The Southview softball teams were both victorious this past week and one game had to be rescheduled. The boys intermediate softball team were victorious over Lincoln by a score of 8-3. The victory was highlighted by the hitting of Bob Davis, who hit two home runs and two doubles.

The girls junior softball team won their game from Karns by a score of 22-4.

The boys junior game with Mohawk had to be rescheduled for Monday July 20, at 2:30 p.m.

Physical Fitness awards were given this past week to the following participants: Bill Baker, Jim Baker, Dave Baker, Mike Baker, Donald Gore, Randy Lowe, Steve Saul, Jimmy Dixon, Ronnie Gossett, Bill Yeager, Allen Ferrel, and Danny Wilhelm.

Another record dance was held at the Southview shelter house last Friday, July 17, and a good time was had by all. A "freeze" dance contest was held and it was won by Betty Slavens and Roger Jacobs. Another dance is being planned for Friday, July 24 at 7:00 p.m. at the Southview shelter house and all children over 11 years of age are invited to attend.

Lincoln Park

The Jet League players have been "sporting" around in new shirts and hats since July 15. The Southeast Lions Club purchased shirts and hats for all players in the Lincoln Junior Jet Leagues.

The Recreation Department, players, coaches and parents wish to sincerely thank the Southeast Lions Club for this wonderful deed.

Lincoln Park children are very interested in their crafts program. John Galligher, and several of the other younger children are supplying their mothers with pot holders. Rosemary Sanko and some of the older girls are trying their hand at sketching some of the familiar South Side views.

The girls from 10 to 18 are planning a cook-out tonight. We are all looking forward to the good food and the games we will have afterwards. Rosemary and Beatrice Sanko, Nancy Finck and Marguerite Rose are doing the planning for the event.

Smith Road

The children from Smith Road proudly carried home a second prize from the lantern parade last week. The theme, "Around the World in 80 Days," included a giant globe and many individual lanterns.

The traveling zoo paid its first visit to Smith Road last week. Many excited children attended the event.

The senior boys' softball team played Fairmoor last Friday. Smith Road won by a score of 9 to 7.

Plans for the following weeks include the sectional drama festival and the Junior Olympics.

S.E. Lions

The boys and girls from the S.E. Lions were very excited about preparing for the lantern parade.

Our theme was "Birds." Inspiration for our theme was gained through stories, pictures and watching the great flocks of birds in their journey southward.

Those people participating were: La Donna Jennings, Sue Jennings, Tony and Steve Jennings, Jimmie and Jerry Latham, Darlene Castle, Pamela and Laverne Reid.

We had a very good time at the dance held Friday at our park. Some of our advisory council members helped chaperone. Some of the fellows who helped organize the dance were: George Devlin, Gaylord Hicks, Robert Goodwin and Steve Jackson. We had such an enjoyable time we know there will be more dances. We are looking forward next week to the drama festival.

Fairwood

Fairwood Playground won second place for having the most original lanterns in the lantern parade. Our theme was lanterns depicting the various holidays of the year which the children enjoy.

Fairwood softball teams have only two games scheduled for the week of July 20, following the five game schedule for the three teams last week.

So far this week, Team I lost to Livingston Park 7-16 on Tuesday and Team III won 16-11 from Krumm on Monday.

Members of Team III are: Bob Noll, Jim Dobbs, John Morris, Tom Spires, Joe Connors, Bill Foley, Bob Pinkerman, Jim Turner, John Zizek, and Richard Bricker.

Fairwood Playground leaders this year are Elmer Smith and Helen Egan.

Fornof

The Junior Jet team at Fornof played three games this week—two losses and one win. The girls' intermediate team lost in a very close game with Karnes. The intermediate boys have been victorious in all their games to date.

A dance was held Friday evening in the school gym. Refreshments were served, and there were several dance contests.

Winners of the contest were Rodney Crabtree and Billy Dickus for the freeze contest, and Brenda Thomas and Kay Brown for the jitterbug contest.

Plans are under way for a family picnic to be held at Fornof. A definite date has not yet been decided upon, but will be announced soon. There will be a father-son baseball game, relay races, a mother-daughter volleyball game, and many other games and contests.

The traveling zoo visited Fornof Thursday with great success. The turnout was excellent and all the children greatly enjoyed the visit.

We are beginning work on a skit for the drama festival to be held July 31 at Schiller Park. Anyone interested in participating, please contact Jane.

Palsgrove

In the basketball free throw contest we have several new champs. Tom Blakely made 10 out of 20 free throws in the 13-15-year-old group. W. Dandy and R. Drew hold the record with 11 out of 20.

In the 16-18-year-old group Jerry Champion made 12 out of 20 this week. R. Graves holds this record for 16 out of 20. Wesley Franklin in the 19 years and over group made 14 out of 20. He has made the most in his group this year.

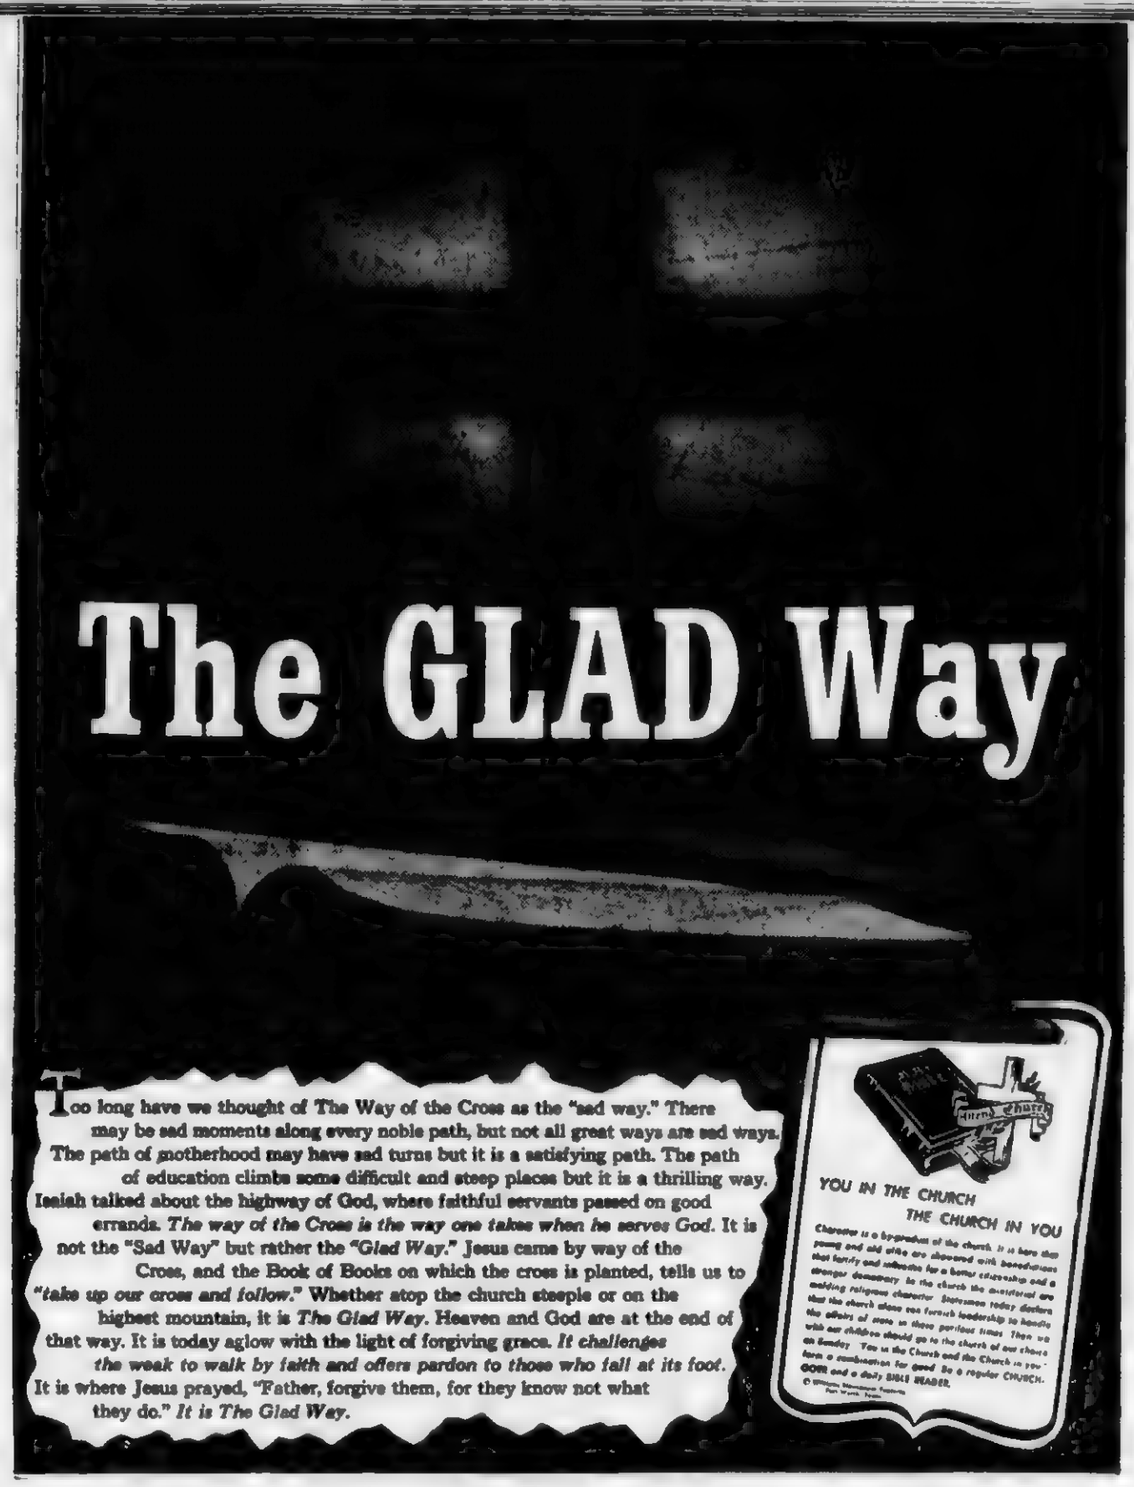
The junior boys' softball team is, to date, undefeated. The team has played three games. Next week the opposing team will be Livingston. The intermediate boys lost to Mohawk by a score of 13-15, but won in a game against Livingston 9-8. Their next opponent will be Karns I.

Physical fitness tests are proving very popular on our playground. Approximately 30 girls and boys will complete their tests this week. Four boys have already passed all the requirements. They are Cecil Newkirk, Ronnie Sellers, Philip Hartway and Eddie Anderson. These tests are set up by the National Amateur Athletic Union.

The undefeated intermediate girls play Deshler and Fornof in their next two games.

Karns

Those who participated in the Lantern Parade Thursday, July 16, were Pat, Rodney and Debbie Parker, Barbara and Jeanne Epperson, Linda Smith, Joey and Nancy Hunter, David Davies, Patricia Mowery, Patty Green, Phyllis McCloud, Marilyn Roberts.



Linda Jamison, Sharon Smith, Herb Klopfer and Antoinnette Hunter helped with the parade. Mr. Hunter and Mrs. Parker helped take the children to the parade.

The intermediate girls' softball team won over Fornof 17-13. Joan Hennis and Ruth Emrich pitched the team to victory while Pat McCoy connected with two home runs. The girls play Livingston next week.

Mr. Parker coached his Junior Jet team to its third straight victory. Pat Parker was the winning pitcher. Mr. Sestito's team in the 8-9 year league won its last game to make 3-0 for the season.

Karns started its own newspaper, "The Karns Special," edited by Sharon Smith and Barb Epperson. It will contain news of coming events, jokes, interviews, sports and other items.

Coming events include a wiener roast and dance to be held at the end of the month. Plans for the pageant held at Central High at the end of August have been started. Karns will work with Deshler in a circus scene called "Pop Goes the Peanut."

Mayoralty Race Poll Planned By Hartley Newspapers

M. E. Sensenbrenner

W. Ralston Westlake

By Bill Rush

Scrape up some money and you can probably find someone willing to bet on who is going to be Columbus' next mayor.

That is just about how divided opinions are now with outspoken supporters for both sides claiming their candidate can't be beaten this fall.

With the battle lines already drawn by the May primary, Democratic candidate incumbent M.E. Sensenbrenner and Republican opponent Council President W. Ralston Westlake are starting their final three months of campaigning for the city's top position.

And who are you betting on?

That is the question Hartley Newspapers will be trying to find out during the next three-month span with an intensive opinion survey in an effort to catch the pulse of the public before it goes to the polls Nov. 3.

Beginning this week, interviewers from Hartley Newspapers will be contacting citizens throughout Columbus asking their opinions. No record will be kept of individual answers. Individual opinions will be added to the total tabulation with no attention paid to the particular person interviewed.

Four questions will be asked during the survey:

1. If the election were held today, would you vote for Sensenbrenner or Westlake?
2. Why would you vote for him?
3. Did you vote in the last election for mayor? If so, who did you vote for?
4. What would you call yourself, a Republican, Democrat or Independent?

Each area of political importance in the city will be equally represented in the poll. Opinions in these areas as compared with actual votes cast in the 1955 maroralty election will be compared from time to time.

Since the survey is starting well in advance of the November election, any change in the attitude of the public between now and when ballots are cast will also be noted.

By contacting a large segment of the city's residents, Hartley Newspapers hope to print a picture which will be closely reflected in the November voting.

Weekly stories relaying to readers the current trend will begin appearing in next week's edition of the Hilltop Record, West Side News, South Side Leader and Eastern Review.

It is not the intent of Hartley Newspapers to help or hinder either candidate's efforts to win the city's mayoralty. Purpose of the survey is to gain some indication of voter feeling before the election.

No contributions to the survey will be accepted. All persons whose opinions are to be counted will be contacted by representatives of Hartley Newspapers. Contacts have been selected at random from every area of the city.

It is the hope of Hartley Newspapers that everyone reached during the poll will cooperate with the interviewers to keep the survey as accurate as possible.

NEW SCHILLER EXPERIMENT

TURF-TREAD SPREAD—The City Recreation Department recently chose Schiller Park as the site of a new experiment—"Turf-Tread." The new turf-like material, shown being poured from a city truck, is hoped to keep down dust and absorb water, thus allowing children to play on it after a hard rain. Special feature of the new material is its absorbing quality which will soften a fall from play apparatus. Schiller will be the only city playground using the new process this year. If results of the experiment meet with approval, all the city playgrounds will be equipped with the new playground surface in 1960. Watching as the truck spills the first supply of Turf-Tread on Schiller are happy youngsters who, undoubtedly will benefit by the new safety feature.

New Events Slated For Fair

Parisian Hell Drivers, Rodeo Added To Program This Year

Franklin County's Annual Fair unfolds Aug. 19 for four big days of activities and fun at the fairgrounds located at Hilliard.

Promising to surpass peaks of entertainment and education of former years, this summer's event actually gets underway a day earlier with a Western Rodeo in front of the grandstand Tuesday night, Aug. 18.

Still maintaining the good old country atmosphere blended with the industrial influx, the fair will bring together thousands of Franklin Countians out to learn something and having a lot of fun doing it.

Three special days are on the program with Thursday designated "Franklin County Fair Day," Friday set aside for "Farm Machinery Day," and the traditional Saturday "Youth Day."

Included as always on the bill are four rich harness racing programs with all but Saturday afternoon races slated under the lights. The Franklin County oval is regarded as one of the best fair tracks in the nation, used by the Hilliard Raceway each year for harness racing meets.

Replacing the races Saturday evening will be the Parisian Hell Drivers, the original imported car thrill show. Thirteen 1959 Simca cars will be used by the daredevils, marking the first time that these little foreign cars will be seen in dangerous stunts in this area.

The Fair is always the high of the year for hundreds of Franklin County 4-H members who bring their projects for grading with hopes of continuing to the Ohio State Fair.

Directing activities of the Franklin County Agricultural Society is Ray Dellinger, Brown Township farmer, serving his first term as the organization's president.

Co-ordinating activities will be Fair Secretary Findley DeWolfe. Last year's president A. E. Bogen is the society's vice president while Zail Kemp is treasurer.

Hoermle Gets Main Federal Director Post

William P. Hoermle

William P. Hoermle, 2434 Beverly-pl, has been elected to the Board of Directors of Main Federal Savings and Loan Association, president Harold Esper announced this week.

Hoermle is a member of Columbus City Council. He has been proprietor of Hoermle's Appliances at 1894 Parsons-av for 33 years and is treasurer of Redi-Foods, Inc., 3776 E. Fifth-av.

He is a member of Christ the King Parish and has been chairman of Selective Service Board No. 39 since its formation. Hoermle's numerous activities of the South Side includes a past presidency of Southeast Lions and a present trusteeship at Mercy Hospital.

Local Lad's Contest Title Gets Mention

Marshall Martin, 976 South Champion-av, won honorable mention recently in the Big Brother Association contest to re-name the Association's camp in Hocking County. Marshall, a Little Brother in the association, won $5 toward his camping fee.

The winning name was "Oty' Okwa" which, in the language of the Mohawk Indian, means "brotherhood."

R. Patrick West, president of the Association, a United Appeal agency, said: "The meaning of this name is in keeping with the philosophy of Big Brother work and exemplifies our new policy."

The decision to re-name the camp, which has been in operation since 1943 as the Big Brother Camp, was reached by the Association's board of directors following a policy change this spring.

The camp is available for scheduled youth groups by the week and for weekend retreats and conferences. A program is being designed to make the camp available during the months of April, May and October for school camping.

Individuals and youth groups interested in using the camp facilities should contact W. E. Richardson, Executive Secretary of the Big Brother Association, CA. 8-5696 or address an inquiry to him at 137 E. [illegible].

Police Promise Crackdown On South Teenage Hangouts

Columbus Police have promised a crackdown on South Side business establishments doubling as teenage hangouts.

The crackdown threat came Friday following the arrest of 18 South area boys, aged 15 to 17, who allegedly form part of an auto theft ring.

The youths are accused of stealing 150 cars during the past three months. Police said autos were taken for "joy rides" for periods ranging from a few hours to a few days.

Pat Montenaro, city juvenile officer, blasted local business places for failing to cooperate with the police.

"Businessmen where those boys hung out knew what was going on and failed to notify police," Montenaro said.

"If they don't want to cooperate with the police, we'll put a couple of officers in their place of business every night and see how they like that," he added.

The business establishments accused of harboring the gangs were identified only as a drive-in and a confectionery.

Police were tipped off about the gang by a boy who was angry with one of the gang members. When questioned by police, the gang member said he wasn't the only one stealing autos.

He promptly named 17 other accomplices.

Many of the youths involved had family cars available, according to Carl Burns, city juvenile officer.

The boys apparently stole the autos just for "kicks," Burns added.

He said the youths would meet at a drive-in on High-st and a confectionery on S. Fourth-st, and would brag about the cars they stole.

Southway Post Schedules Picnic

Schulze Park will be the scene of the annual Family Picnic this Sunday for the Southway Post American Legion.

Basket lunches will be in style with sandwiches and the Ox Roast available. The cost will be $1, which will take care of the refreshments. All members of the Post are invited.

One-Man Revolutions Are Needed Now

. . . Man Needs Independent Mind . . .

A bronze tablet in Indianapolis records one of the wise and relevant remarks of a statesman and prophet:

"Here February 11, 1861, Abraham Lincoln, on his way to Washington to assume the Presidency, in an address said. "I appeal to you constantly bear in mind that not with the politicians, not with the Presidents, not with the office seekers, but with you is the question: Shall the union and shall the liberties of this country be preserved to the latest generation?"

This timely warning calls each responsible person to assess the nature of the present American predicament with an appraising eye and a clear head.

Three massive facts appear. The state is already enormous and is continuing to grow. The individual is very small and growing smaller. Only a revolutionary action can recover the autonomy of the individual person and the values of private enterprise.

War multiples the size and power of the state. National survival demands a dictatorship in a time of enemy attack or a time of international warfare. The two recent world wars have given most of us experience in totalitarian citizenship.

The wake of World War II has continued the apparent necessity for powerful central authority to withstand the external threat of hostile communist powers. Consequently, the American state has taken on colossal proportions.

Approximately four fifths of the enormous federal tax revenue goes to pay for wars past, present, and future. The Kremlin helps to enhance the size and power of the American Government.

Internal American strife has created larger and larger bureaus with more and more personnel spending more and more money. Big labor and big business require big government to serve as referee and arbitrator.

Each time a labor union cries out for federal help, as in the Wagner Act, a new bureau is formed with its retinue of vested interest career people and its bureaucratic needs. Each time an industry seeks special advantage through subsidy or legislation to improve its position for survival, or additional consideration in protection or profit from the various commissions, or seeks for regulation to avoid competition, new government agencies appear.

As expenses mount, an army of tax collectors must be put in the field to divert funds from private to state use in order to meet the insatiable demands of Leviathan.

The state grows because it is committed "to promote the general welfare." This concept has come to mean a welfare state with social security for the aged, unemployment compensation for the jobless, support and services for the indigent, and health services for the many.

The needs of man outrun his supply, no matter how vast the provision. Pressure for more social security, more unemployment compensation, more pensions, more health services, and more secure and easy government jobs builds up until the Leviathan grows apace, whether his strange head resembles a pachyderm or a jackass.

Politicians must gain office and stay in office, or they are not politicians. The most inviting and the most venerable means of getting elected is to make promises. The exclusive formula for retaining office is either to keep the promises or to make bigger promises to obscure the failure of performance with reference to those already made.

Since giveaway promises appear to get quick results, they occur to parties and candidates alike. The state grows in proportion to its programs of expenditure. With the colossal greed of military demands and the insatiable pressure for welfare programs, the state must arrogate to itself more and more functions, power, and proportions. Parties and persons who aspire to office out-promise each other in a race to feed the Leviathan.

Inflationary pressures encourage the growth of the state. Everybody wants inflation for himself, but not for anybody else. As pressure builds up for more and more wages, prices must go up. The same pressures build up with respect to profits.

The parties pinched by builds up with respect to proinflation cry out for government help, and the sensitive politicians respond with the creation of new administrations, which involve more taxes, which require higher prices, which demand more wages; and the round repeats itself. The net result is more and more government.

Alexis de Tocqueville, noted French political scientist of the last century, described individualism as "a mature and calm feeling, which disposes each member of the community to sever himself from the mass of his fellow creatures; and to draw apart from his family and his friends, so that, after he has thus formed a circle of his own, he willingly leaves society at large to itself. Individualists owe nothing to any man, they expect nothing from any man; they acquire the habit of always considering themselves as standing alone, and they are apt to imagine that their whole destiny is in their own hands. Individualism is of democratic origin and threatens to spread in the same ratio as the quality of conditions." This creature of early American origin is little more than a museum piece. The individual features have become blurred in a collectivist world.

With "security" as a major aim for the earning motive and conformity as the principal consideration for the consuming motive, there is precious little individualism left. The virtues of Puritan America—honesty, industry, and frugality—are widely ignored as irrelevant.

People who can attain security by belonging to the association, the union, or the party are not likely to knock themselves out by working and planning for it. Even wild birds prefer the feeder to the tent caterpillars in the forest.

The responsibility to save for a rainy day has been turned over to Uncle Sam. "Honesty," which once included payment of debts, has been delegated to posterity. The conditions of contemporary society do not encourage individual responsibility.

Keeping up with the Joneses has taken a new turn under the spell of mass media. It may be "keeping down with the Joneses," or "up," as the case may be, but it must be like the Joneses. Consequently, coeds move their waistlines up or down, and our cars get bigger and "finnier," or small and foreign. Our homes grow more automatic and our children grow more nervous in an effort to belong to the crowd.

Deferred payments enable the newlyweds to conform to the pattern of their parents. Our music tastes level out to match our preferences in architecture, drama, and literature. We have variety without great difference. We prefer the organization man to the individualist. The dissenter, or the private thinker, is an inconvenience.

The individual is powerless against the political organization. Consequently the voter tends to join the consumer quest for the candidate who fits the norms of sincerity and federal generosity.

Only the conformist can belong to the machine, and only the machine can elect. The responsible citizen is obscured. The campaign oratory becomes perfunctory and dull, since it has little bearing on the election returns.

The private enterpriser in learning has become lost in the crowd on the campus. The Benjamin Franklin formula of a lifetime of learning has been replaced with the "four years and a degree" formula, with as little learning as possible.

Individual thought on crucial issues is hard to come by. Executives read a few cult papers and a few mystery thrillers with very little else to stir up the neurons.

Even the last citadel of man—his religion—has become socialized. Instead of a vertical answer to God, man tends to give horizontal answers to the well-dressed and highly respectable congregation that has status. Private prayer has become beautifully professionalized. The multitudes huddle together in Jerusalem without much recollection of the lonely vigil on a mountain top at midnight or the silent walk by the shores of Galilee.

As the state grows big, the individual becomes small. People huddle together to dispel their loneliness and increase their share in security and advantage. The family becomes weak as a social unit. The peer group outranks the parents in prestige for the young. The conditions that beget autonomous people have given way to conditions that encourage the mass society.

The recovery of private enterprise begins with religion. No person is an individual until he can say: "I must obey God rather than men." This is the moral basis for all private judgment.

The individual human mind that operates in a divine influence that transcends all society. This is no invitation to fanaticism or anti-social attitudes. It is rather the basis for autonomous self-realization and private enterprise in acts and letters, as well as in money management and citizenship. Robert Frost has a wise old Yankee farmer say: "I call you to a one-man revolution; the only revolution that is going to come."

The right to be wise is posited on the assumption that a person thinks privately. Education must be restored. Invention, creative art, new developments in the social order and new ideas are the result of individual thought rather than educational conformity. The quest for wisdom is a highly individual matter. The appetite for learning is antecedent to intellectual achievement.

A one-man revolution in the economy begins when a laborer stands up against his union or an industrialist stands up against his association in behalf of some worthy moral principle. The man who resourcefully develops his business without running to Uncle Sam is a one-man revolution. The young man who earns what he can by hard work and spends what he can afford is a private individual. The young wife who buys what is practical and beautiful rather than what is popular is a true person. The executive or statesman who decides on the basis of his best insight into the will of God rather than expediency has found himself.

The problem of the ever-growing state must be met if any sphere for individual initiative is to be maintained. There are two massive social forces that resist the encroachment of government. These are resentment against high taxes and resentment against the loss of individual liberties.

The man of independent mind can encourage these forces by intelligent conversation and astute action. The employer has responsibility to make employees acutely aware of the tax that is diverted from his pay check. He is responsible to dramatize the loss of liberty that comes with the overwhelming state. The intellectual, the clergyman, the worker, the homemaker, the common man in any vocation is involved in the struggle to recover the cherished concept of individual responsibility that is essential to personal fulfillment and the good society under God.

BIBLE COMMENT

Complacency Noted Today

The Bible, both in the Old Testament and the New, has a great deal to say about trials and temptations and also a great deal concerning enemies. But the religious outlook and literature of today, there is comparatively little concerning trials and temptations, and almost nothing concerning enemies.

A rather complacent attitude is taken toward life, and if there is much concern it is chiefly about such matters as inner peace and strength.

Why is there such a discrepancy between the comparative complacency of present-day religious life and the tense situations of trial, trouble and temptation so common in the Bibil cal records, or so strongly indicated in the reference to them"

We have been living in deeply troubled times. Not only have enemies in the mass been as almost never before, but almost numberless individuals have been subjected to persecution, torture and death on a scale and in a manner that would have been inconceivable in anticipations of the 20th century.

If this is so, why should there be such comparative religious complacency? Political writers have noted an utterly unaccustomed apathy on the part of the public. They attribute this apathy to a comparative ease and prosperity on the part of people who don't want to be disturbed.

The religious compeacency is to be explained in much the same way, but is unrealistic and false to the actual situations and stresses of the world and of life.

The Bible is a book of crisis and of crises, of trials and temptations; of souls often in what might have been desperation, if it had not been for a commanding faith.

FFA, 4-H Members Busily Rehearsing For County Fair

Franklin County's 1,100 4-H members are among Ohio's busiest people.

With the county fair opening in less than a month, all possible time must be spent making last minute tabulations on the Holstein's milk production or getting the contrariest one of your six shorthorns to lead properly or the pleats in your skirt project won't hang right and the advisor must be called in. And you must take time out from the garden to repeat the safety speech in front of a mirror.

Such are the activities of members of the county's 68 4-H clubs. To receive credits for each project, an individual must ready an exhibit for the county fair, plus preparing a project book and being graded by an advisor.

Among 21 trophies to be presented in various events, awards will go to the winner of the FFA swine division, donated by the Russell Grain Company; 4-H poultry, Alton Grange; FFA chapter participation trophy, Kroger Company; and 4-H boy and girl health improvement winner, Gray Drugs.

Freshman Camp At Ohio State Begins Oct. 2

This year's OSU Freshman Camp will again be sponsored by the YMCA-YWCA and is scheduled for the first weekend of classes from Friday, Oct. 2 through Sunday noon, Oct. 4, at Camp Mary Orton, Worthington, O.

The purpose of camp is to introduce freshmen to a personal perspective of college life, and to introduce them to a "whole" college life and the part the "Y" plays in it. This will be done through discussions with other freshmen, upperclassmen, and faculty.

Discussion will be guided by the following topics.

1) Academic side of college.
2) Social side of college.
3) Religious side of college.

Advisor to Freshman Camp is Frank Wantanabe, executive secretary of the YMCA-YWCA. There will also be three students from this area counselling for the camp.

Commissioner Lifts Cooler Assessment

Ohio farmers pushed forward in their battle to free themselves from state sales tax levies on bulk milk coolers today with a concession from State Tax Commissioner Stanley Bowers.

Three representatives from the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, meeting with Bowers in his office, heard the commissioner state for the record that "no more assessments will be made on bulk milk coolers until the test case is closed."

Morris E. Allton, director of Public Affairs for the farm organization, said Farm Bureau representatives told Bowers that the organization was prepared to take their test case to the Ohio Supreme Court, if necessary.

"Bowers also said that anyone already assessed may file petition promptly for reassessment and object to paying the tax in that manner," Allton quoted the Tax Commissioner. "Such petition will be held in abeyance until the determination of the test case."

Allton said farmers were "riled up" over being billed for state sales taxes on bulk milk coolers purchased any time in the last four years.

"Bulk coolers are part of the production line for dairy products," Allton declared. "Being used directly in production, bulk milk coolers are exempt by state law from state sales tax."

Next step for the issue, Allton said, is a hearing before the State Board of Tax Appeals.

General Leaves Hospital Friday

Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, former commander of the 37th Division, will be released from Lockbourne Air Force Base Hospital tomorrow.

Heart Group To Seek Study Of Fund Appeal By Hospital

The American Heart Association announced today that it would seek the appointment of "an impartial group of physicians, scientists and community leaders" to study the problems arising from the increasing number of fund appeals by health agencies.

George Morrice, Jr., M.D., president of the Central Ohio Heart Association, said his group wholly endorses the action as a practical approach to an ultimate solution of the problem.

The intent of the proposed study, he said, would be "to create better understanding of the primary health needs of the nation, and at the same time to provide a yardstick for adequate and intelligent support of those health causes which are of greatest concern to the greatest number of people."

Dr. Morrice said that approval had been given by the AHA's Board of Directors to a resolution calling for the appointment of the study group. According to the resolution, the proposed committee would: (1) define the major areas of chronic disease that threaten the nation's health and well-being; (2) set up standards by which potential contributors and volunteers could evaluate the health causes which seek their support.

Public confusion resulting from the increasing number of health appeals has "diverted attention," the resolution declared, "from the urgent goal of conquering the major chronic diseases which constitute the greatest threat to the health of the nation."

It pointed out, "United Funds and federated campaigns have not provided satisfactory solutions to the problem of multiple health appeal." Furthermore, they are not constituted to provide the leadership and support for the research and other programs essential to the reduction of disability and death caused by the major chronic diseases."

The action by the American Heart Association's Board of Directors was taken, the resolution stated, because "the public interest urgently requires that the utmost support be given to the voluntary health agencies dedicated to the conquest of these major chronic diseases."

Hot Putter Forges Newcomer Into Norwood Tourney Lead

A hot putter has guided Charles Kisson, 1502 Argus-rd, into the lead for the honor of representing Columbus in the International Miniature Golf Tournament.

Tournament officials stressed this week that there is still plenty of time for interested persons to enter the local qualifications being held at Norwood's Amusement Park, 2025 E. Main-st.

Since the winner will be determined by the low average score of 12 rounds of golf, new entries will have ample time to complete the required rounds before the champion is picked.

The winner of the senior division, for those 16 and over, will receive an expense paid trip to Asbury Park, N.J., to compete in the International Miniature Golf Tournament Sept. 12 and 13. The Columbus contestant will have a shot at the grand prize imported Fiat 500 auto.

Close behind Kisson in the race for this honor are Don Jagerski, 685 Jenkins-av, Charles Kiefer, 684 S. Champion-av, and Bill Turner, 867 Fairwood-av.

In the junior division Fergus Theibert, 2668 Columbus-av, now leads in the chase for a Schwinn bicycle top prize and transistor radio second prize.

He is being pressed by Larry Franz, 1585 Kent-st, Jerry Dolph 707 Linwood-av, Jack Spiers, 601 Rhoads-pl, and Bill Newcomb, 1555 Argus-rd.

Visitors to the specially designed Norwood's championship course may also enjoy 19 rides and amusements for all ages, including the famous Norwood's kiddie train.

Harbor Hills Polo Squad Returns Home Sunday

Harbor Hills Polo Club will return to the home field Sunday, Aug. 2, in an effort to get back on the winning road when they meet the Louisville team.

Harbor Hills, after winning three home games, dropped two games on the road; one of the games being to Louisville.

The starting lineup for the "Hillsmen" will be Dick Smith at the No. 1 position, Frank Harris at No. 2, Johnny Clark at No. 3 and Bo Baker playing the No. 4 slot.

Game time will be 4 p.m. The field is located one mile east and one mile south of Hebron.

Small Firms May Bid On SAC Projects

Small business firms throughout the United States and its possessions will soon be given the opportunity to submit bids on many construction, maintenance and repair projects at 44 Strategic Air Command bases in the U.S., Guam and Puerto Rico.

These projects, estimated to cost $29,779,633, will be bid on exclusively by small business firms employing 500 or less people.

The announcement was made today by L. S. MacKenzie, Omaha branch manager of the Small Business Administration Office, and William T. Haneline, chief, Procurement Division at SAC Headquarters, Offutt AFB, Neb.

Contracts let by SAC under the Small Business Administration "set-aside" policy include: new minor construction, such as parking areas and fuel storage tanks, re-roofing buildings and repairing of runways — all necessary in the accomplishment of the SAC mission.

Further information concerning these contracts may be obtained from the procurement officer at Lockbourne AFB.

NEW COLONEL

PERMANENT GRADE—United States Air Force Headquarters announced this week the promotion of Clyde B. Kelsay to the permanent grade of colonel in the Regular Air Force. Kelsay is 801st Air Division (SAC) director of operations at Lockbourne AFB.

New Fish Stock Ratio Used In County Ponds

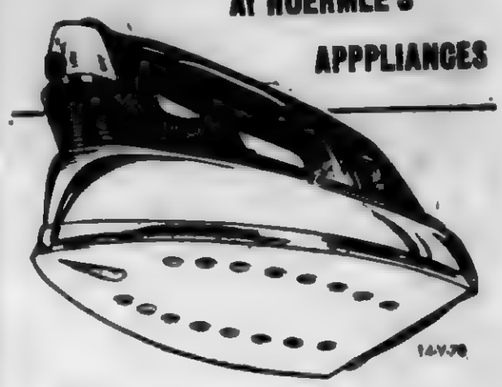
Farm pond owners in Franklin Soil Conservation District have recently received fish for stocking their ponds. These fish are supplied by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Seven ponds in the county have been stocked this year on District cooperator's farms. The new stocking ratio is 1,000 bluegills and 200 bass per acre, according to David C. Brooks, Soil Conservation.

This new stocking ratio has been adopted as a result of research and field work of Dr. George Morgan of Denison University and Paul Handwerk of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, according to Granville Smith, Field Biologist.

It involves more bass and bluegills than were previously used and will provide better odds for maintaining proper fish balance than any ratio used so far, Smith states.

According to Brooks, there are many reasons why pond fish populations get "out of balance." These include summer and winter fish kills, excessive aquatic weed growth, excessive water turbidity caused by clay and silt due to soil erosion.



Brooks stated that farm ponds are an important source of water for farm use and benefit to wildlife as well. "Ponds can be used for fishing and other recreation without interfering with their primary use for livestock water."

Manganese deficiency in soybeans shows up as light green mottling on the leaves. As the plants continue to grow, the light-colored patches become yellow and more noticeable, say OSU extension agronomists.

A permit has been issued to James Montgomery, 397 Jenkins-av, to build a fire-room and 1½ bath frame and brick veneer dwelling and two-car garage at 4636 Canal Winchester-pk.

'Hi-Yo Silver' To Be Heard This Saturday

All the kids who are Lone Ranger fans have their day Saturday, at the WBNS-TV studios, 770 Twin Rivers-dr, when the eliminations for the Lone Ranger contest get under way.

The contest is open to any youngster under 16, and all the entrant has to do to win is yell "Hi-Yo Silver!" the most like the Lone Ranger. Judges for the eliminations, to be held at 10 a.m. are Jim Shumaker, assistant promotion director; Bob Harman, producer of the "Flippo" show; and Bob Whitacre, of the Channel 10 continuity department.

Locally, the winner will receive a full set of the Encyclopedia Britannica Junior, a gas model plane that really flies, and a chance to demonstrate his vocal ability on the "Flippo" program.

The local winner's yell will be recorded and entered in the national contest, where the prize will be an all expense paid vacation for two via air to Disneyland for three days and nights. A room at the Disneyland Hotel is included, too.

For this coming Saturday, at least, the famous cry of "the masked rider of the plains" perhaps should be altered to "Hi-Yo Silver, away . . . to Disneyland, that is."

Hocking Hills Site Attended By Over 400

Some 400 campers and counselors from Canal Winchester, Grove City, Groveport and Obetz are half-way through the outdoor season at Camp Indianola in Hocking Hills under the sponsorship of the Columbus District Methodist Church.

Campers range in age from 9 through 14. Each week is filled with a specific age group. The program is scaled for their limitations and abilites.

The camp in session this week is an unusual one — Family Camp.

Fifteen families, which include children of all ages are living in cabins, doing cookouts, hiking the trails, playing games, trying crafts, singing and worshipping as families and as a total group. Their Friday Night Party will include an Ice-Cream Freeze — using the camp's three ice-cream freezers and turning cranks by hand.

There are five more weeks of program scheduled which will run the camp's program until Aug. 28.

Camping Rule: Don't Be a 'Strewball'

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors

By ROD COCHRAN

Going camping this summer? Remember, the mark of a good camper is to leave a clean campsite.

Debris, such as tins, paper and bottles, don't belong in parks or in the wilderness and should not be left to clutter up the area when the camping period is over. Don't be strewball.

The fellow who leaves a clean camp sets an example for the next camper, and even though the two never met, the outgoer will unknowingly win the respect of the incomer.

There are many state or federal-owned camping places throughout the country in many beautiful areas—the state Division of Parks provides campsites at 28 parks in Ohio. These are for the public's enjoyment. They are to give everyone who wants to and can take advantage of them, the opportunity to spend a few days and nights in the open away from the busy bustle of the city life.

Treat these areas as though they belonged to you, for you are part owner of all public areas. Even though the state or federal government handles the upkeep, you pay the bill. Treat the area you camp in as if it were your own front yard at home. Leave it certainly as clean as you found it, and cleaner if possible.

Burn Debris First

Put tin cans and other cast-offs in one place. When you are ready to break camp, throw everything but glass into the fire. Paper and feed remnants will burn. Even the cans will lose their rust-proof tin and their lacquer and labels. When the cans cool, mash them flat and bundle them up in your packs to take out to the main road for disposal in trash containers. These empty, burned cans weigh very little, but they are unsightly around a campsite. If it is not possible for you to pack out the cans, bury them or hide them in rock crevices away from the trail and out of sight.

Smash bottles and jars into a deep narrow hole. Fill with earth, stamp down firmly and cover with leaves or brush.

Burying Not Always Best

The burying of camp debris that has not been burned is an unsatisfactory practice. Wild animals have a habit of digging it out and scattering it in all directions. Then, too, the soil is disturbed, the grass or vegetation killed, and erosion will uncover the pits.

At developed campsites in parks there are numerous trash containers for all kinds of debris. These are usualy emptied daily, but it will improve the atmosphere if you will burn as much material as possible before it is placed in the cans.

Above all things, watch your fire. Never take a chance on starting a forest fire. There is an old saying that park managers and forest rangers like to quote, "One tree will make a million matches, but it takes only one match to burn a million trees." Soak your campfire thoroughly—and then check it again for the final faint ember.

Have fun, enjoy yourself in the great outdoors, but think of the other fellow. Leave him a clean campsite that he, too, can enjoy.

Free Hair Styles, Cuts Available To Fair Visitors

For the price of admission to the 1958 Ohio State Fair hundreds of women will receive the full beauty shop treatment, everything from permanent wave to manicure.

The work will be done at a model beauty school, part of the State Fair Apprentice Exhibit set up by the Ohio Department of Industrial Relations. The exhibit will be staffed by trainees and instructors of the Capital School of Beauty Culture. Some work on mannequins, but the majority of the students will be available to offer Fair visitors a free selection of hair stylings and other beauty aids.

According to Ralph J. Kuntz, State Fair coordinator for the department of Industrial Relations, the exhibit will demonstrate the actual training of beauticians and the opportunity available in the profession. Counselors will be on hand to answer questions.

Another Industrial Relations Department exhibit offering "live demonstrations" will be a barbering exhibit under the supervision of the Ohio State Board of Barber Examiners. Two of the three chairs in this exhibit will be manned by students in training, the other by a certified instructor.

Motion picture films used in the training of beauticians and barbers will also be shown at these exhibits.

A GRIM WARNING

Despite repeated warnings, children still die by suffocation when playing with plastic bags or plastic film. The material easily generates a static charge and clings to the face. Children die before they can claw the clinging stuff free. Keep plastic film and plastic bags out of the hands of children.

We will not reveal our skit until that time as it is to be a surprise. In the way of dramatics we are preparing a short scene on a circus theme which is to be part of the city-wide pageant.

We are continuing our work on baskets and pot holders. We are doing some painting of the stormy skies.

The traveling zoo will visit Lincoln on Thursday, Aug. 6, from 3 to 5 p.m.

The Southview intermediate team beat Karns No. 2, 20-4, while the junior team beat Mohawk, 41-15. Two games were rained out and are rescheduled for next week. They pit the junior boys against Fairwood No. 2 and the Junior Girls against Fornof.

A bubble gum contest was held on Tuesday and there was a wiener roast Wednesday.

On last Wednesday evening, July 22, from 7 to 9 p.m. another successful record dance was held. Jeanette and Mary Knight won the "freeze" dance contest and were awarded free cokes.

The supervisors would like to thank all the children for helping to make the dances successful, but would like to especially thank Mike Glick and Bill Yeager for their management of the refreshments.

Smith Road

A villainous duke, a brave hero, and a beautiful young princess are only a few of the characters to be portrayed in "A Melodrama," a play in which 12 children from Smith Road Playground will appear. Starring roles are held by Jim Klineline, Pam Gardine and George Tuvell.

The play will be one of many presented at the annual Drama Festival to be held this year at Deshler Playground, Friday, July 31, at 2:30 p.m.

Puppet making was the chief project in the arts and crafts program last week. The children used paper mache to make puppets of all sizes and shapes.

Boys and girls alike are eagerly awaiting the swim meet to be held Aug. 5 at Maryland Park Pool. Fifteen from Smith Road plan to compete in this city wide event.

Deshler

Sixty-two dolls were entered in Deshler Playground's Doll Show. Among the winners were Pam Miller, Elaine Wichouski, Debbie Griffith, Valerie Fleshman, Sibyl McCualsky, Linda Pemberton, Darlene Jacobs, Peggy Hensley, Sally Farmer, Claudia Yuasko, Kathy France, Shelly Miller, Kathy Jacobs.

Everyone is invited to attend the Drama Festival to be held at Deshler tomorrow at 2:30. Smith Road, Karns, Palsgrove, Fairwood and Deshler will participate. Those working on Deshler's skit, "The Three Bops," are Barbara Cencl, Sharon McKitrick and Barbara Moore.

Anyone wishing to compete in the AAU Swim Meet Aug. 5 may register at the playground before Aug. 3. Diana Lamp will be a Teen Queen at the meet and help give out the awards.

A playground horseshoe tournament is being played this week. The winners will go to the sectional playoffs at Schiller.

Religious Unity

The restoration preachers pleaded for the unity of the Lord's people through the return to the practice and principles of the New Testament. Since creeds of men had proved so divisive, they advocated the elimination of all human creeds and the restoration of the word of God alone as a complete and adequate rule of faith and practice. Unity in the religious world was not to be achieved by compromise around the conference table, but through obedience to the word of God.

The teaching, organization and worship of the church of Christ was not to be determined by tradition or the legislation of men in synods and councils, but by the "apostles' doctrine" which is found in the New Testament. Conduct in life it found was not to be measured by the teaching and example of medieval mystics and aesthetics, but the teaching of Jesus Christ.
